THE WEATHER
Cloudy, lowest tonight 10, little temperature change; Friday, cloudy, cooler.

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

Only Pittsburgh Newspaper Printing International News Service Dispatches.

VOL. 13—NO. 147 26 PAGES THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1933 THREE CENTS

NIGHT WALL ST. CLOSING PRICES

MALONE JOB FEUD SPLITS DEMOCRATS

New Cold Wave Expected Tonight

BOARD DEFENDS LIQUOR PRICES

Today

Men Can Do It.
A Baby's Long Flight.
He Retires Too Young, Only 81.
Taking Funerals Seriously.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

WHAT MEN can imagine they can do. Jules Verne imagined a trip around the world in eighty days. Now it can be made by air in one-tenth of eighty days.

The same Frenchman invented a trip to the moon by rocket. In Cleveland, O., Ernest Loebell, German engineer, is building a rocket that will travel, not to the moon as yet, but fifteen miles up into the stratosphere.

Power will be produced by the explosions of gasoline and oxygen. No man will go up with the rocket. It will carry scientific instruments that will make records automatically.

TED HANNA, son of Carl H. Hanna, of a well-known Cleveland family, is interested in the rocket construction with the German inventor.

A rocket to reach the moon would not be impossible. It would only require enough power to escape from earth's gravitation. Coming back would be the problem.

But one foolish person forfeited his life, after burning the great temple at Ephesus, merely that his name might be remembered. Another jumped into a volcano, to die dramatically.

Many probably would be willing to risk a one-way trip to the moon for the sake of the glory.

THE DOCTOR said Susan Trammell, five months old, might live if she could have a brain operation almost immediately at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md.

Susan was in Texas, far from Baltimore. James R. Wedell, air pilot, with the world's speed record for a land plane, attended to that. He borrowed a plane, started with the baby from the Houston (Tex.) airport.

The father and mother went with their only baby on the trip through the sky. Now the baby is safe in the hospital, after flying 1,400 miles in eleven hours.

Interesting young man is Jimmy Wedell. He wanted to fight in the big war, bought for almost nothing a second-class plane that had crashed, put it together, flew to Army headquarters, demanding a flying job, and was told that he couldn't fly because he had one weak eye.

He is one of the best three or four fliers in the world now, which shows that the weakness of an eye doesn't make much difference if you have will power and courage back of the other eye.

ED HOWE has discontinued publication of his monthly magazine called his personal journal of "Indignation and Information."

Mr. Howe, now 81 years old, started the magazine 22 years ago, when he stopped editing the Atchison (Kan.) Daily Globe, organized by him in 1877. He believes that at 81 a man should "enjoy leisure" and winter sunshine.

Mr. Howe's theory is that "everyone is born a radical and has to be spanked, whipped and yelled at until he learns the necessity of conservatism. If he never learns it he is locked up or hanged."

ED HOWE has never learned or practiced conservatism, in the usual sense of the word. Neither has anybody that ever amounted to anything.

Also, eighty-one is too young to retire. At that age Leo was a great pope, Von Moltke was a great general, and at eighty-seven a famous Frenchman, writing the life of St. Louis, established a new standard of French prose.

Perhaps Ed Howe will start a weekly, now, and gradually go back to a daily.

FRENCHMEN take funerals seriously. When a hearse passes all Frenchmen stop and remove their hats.

They were amazed, visiting here, to see horses pulling an American hearse at a trot. There are no words to express what they think about an automobile hearse going thirty miles an hour.

AT THE funeral in a railroad station of more than 200 victims of a French railroad accident, the President, Prime Minister and entire cabinet of France, with leaders from all parties in Parliament, joined the bereaved families.

The Minister of Public Works delivered the funeral oration.

SOMEBODY STOLE $380 from Policeman Barber, of Portland, Ore., and he announced that the robber had left fingerprints which would be compared with those of various suspects. The money came back hidden in a potted plant. Intelligence is the best detective.

The late Nathan Straus told of a man from whom an important sum was stolen. The man robbed said nothing about his loss, waited. Months later another said to him:

"By the way, did you ever get back that money you lost?"

The man replied:

"No, and I never told anybody about it, either, so you stole it."

He got it back.

There is also the ancient story of a robbery victim who got up in church, a hatchet in his hand, saying he knew who stole his money and would throw the hatchet at him. He raised his arm, one dodged, and the money was taken from him.

An even safer plan is to put the money in a savings bank.

MIAMI POLICE identified an automatic pistol taken by Jack Whyte from three holdup men.

(Continued on Page Two, Col. Three.)

COUNCILMEN PLAN FIGHT ON RULE BY BENEDUM

Confirmation Refusal Hinted If McNair Follows 'Orders'

The break between Democratic Councilmen-elect, David L. Lawrence and Joseph F. Guffey, on the one side, and M. L. Benedum and Mayor-elect William N. McNair on the other, over the selection of a safety director for the McNair cabinet, reached its peak of bitterness today.

If Benedum persists in his demand that James F. Malone be named, and if McNair yields to the demand, there were rumblings among the Councilmen today that Malone might be refused confirmation. The entire quartet is vigorously opposed to Malone, not so much because of Malone himself, but as notice to Benedum that he cannot run the Democratic party.

FIGHT DOMINATION

One of the four is understood to have spoken plainly to Benedum when the latter said "Malone or else," and there will be no more conferences involving the oil millionaire with the councilmanic bloc. One who participated in the last meeting with Benedum said today:

"This last election had as one of its purposes getting rid of the domination of the city by W. L. Mellon. We're not going to stand for a similar domination from another source through our party."

Guffey and Lawrence feel as strongly against the Malone appointment as do the Councilmen, and the relations between the party heads and Benedum, cordial since shortly before the Chicago convention of 1932, have perceptibly cooled.

SUGGESTIONS REBUFFED

McNair asked the Councilmen for cabinet suggestions, but it is the sentiment of the quartet that so far all of their recommendations have been sidetracked in favor of whatever Benedum had to say. They have been anxious that George E. Evans, who retired from the councilmanic race to

(Continued on Page Six, Col. Four)

U. S. ATTORNEYS SCAN WEIR SUIT

United States Attorney H. S. Dumbauld conferred for more than an hour today with J. Lawrence Fly, special assistant attorney general, sent here from Washington to conduct the government's case against the Weirton Steel Company for its alleged abrogation of an agreement with the National Labor Board.

After the conference neither Dumbauld nor Fly would discuss the government's plan in the expected prosecution of E. T. Weir, intimated recently in statements of NRA officials. Fly declined to say whether he will interview Weir while in Western Pennsylvania.

Fixes Wing

(OTHER PICTURES: PAGE 3)

HELEN RICHEY

Miss Richey, McKeesport girl flier who climbed out onto a wing, repaired a fabric tear the more to assure the establishment late this afternoon at Miami of hers and Mrs. Francis Marsalis' new women's endurance and refueling flight record.

WOMEN FLIERS NEARING GOAL

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Frances Marsalis and Helen Richey battled new foes today—raw nerves and trouble fraught imaginations—as the minutes that separated them from a new women's refueling endurance record were clipped off by their whirling propeller.

Their "flying boudoir," if all went well, was to cross the old mark of eight days four hours and five minutes at 5:08 p. m. today, and a new record was to be officially established one hour later.

Members of the refueling crew and other pilots, who visited with the women—by hand signals from planes drawn alongside the endurance plane—found them plainly showing extreme mental stress, they said.

Mrs. Marsalis and Miss Richey have expressed in notes dropped from the plane their desire to continue the flight past the mark—"till the motor falls apart."

Phi Delta Phi Gives Key to Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—President Roosevelt today was presented a jeweled key of the International Legal Fraternity, Phi Delta Phi, of which he is a member.

M'NAIR TO FORECLOSE ON DENNYS

Mayor-Elect Promises To Seize Properties For Back Taxes

Mayor-elect William N. McNair said today that on his second day in office—next Tuesday—he will foreclose for delinquent taxes on the Denny estate, one of whose heirs is Harmar D. Denny, Jr., public safety director. McNair pointed out that no notice, beyond that given when the delinquent tax lists are published each February, is necessary. He asserted:

"I'm not going to foreclose on any poor home owner. Take the Denny estate. They've owed $100,000 taxes for two years. I'm going to step in and sell their property for taxes. I know three or four good factories that would like to move in here if they could get land at a reasonable cost. Look at that list published last February. Every politician in town was on it."

One legal authority said McNair could not sell the property immediately, but would have to go to court and serve notice—a process requiring at least 15 days. A real estate operator added that of 1,200 houses owned by the Denny Estate, 600 were occupied by needy families, unable to pay rent, 300 occupied by paying tenants and 300 empty.

As to the shortage of cash in the city treasury, McNair explained:

"It is not the fault of the graded tax system. Probably the reason is we haven't foreclosed on properties that didn't pay taxes, although the Legislature passed a bill making it mandatory."

McNair said that he himself would accept a due bill against delinquent taxes for his salary and would ask police and firemen to do the same. If the firemen refuse, volunteer firemen will be used, he warned.

Penna. Woman Weds Kansas G. A. R. Head

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 28.—(INS.)—A romance that blossomed a year ago at a G. A. R. convention had culminated today in the wedding of Mrs. Catherine Caufman Reitling, 70, Carlisle, Pa., and Col. Richard H. McWhorter, 89-year-old commander-in-chief-elect of the Kansas G. A. R.

Lang Seeks to Paint All City's Buildings

City-owned buildings will have bright new faces if the Civil Works Administration approves the application made today by Edward G. Lang, Director of Public Works, for 350 painters to paint all city buildings. The work would require several months.

CITY IN PATH OF ANOTHER COLD WAVE

Mercury May Drop to 5 Degrees; 4 Boys Hurt Coasting

At an hour least expected winter's worst grip on the Pittsburgh district was broken temporarily early today and the mercury, signaling a welcome break in the cold snap, started to rise.

A return of the cold wave, however, with temperatures between 5 and 10, was predicted for tonight.

The temperature dropped to 8 at 1 a. m. today from which point it started its upward march.

At 3 p. m. it was 22 degrees.

The unofficial temperatures this morning ranged from zero in Mt. Lebanon to 16 degrees in the downtown section. Duquesne had a low of 4 while the coldest point in the city was at the West Penn Hospital where the thermometer registered 6 above.

SNOW PREDICTED

Snow was anticipated today in the forecast for this district by the Washington Weather Bureau.

As the frigid blasts continued, widespread suffering increased. Deaths likewise mounted, the toll going to three with the death of a 4-month-old infant due to exposure. Two other persons, a woman, 79, and a girl, 12, suffered fatal burns in fires.

Mrs. Rose Coulter, 79, of 1672 Perrysville avenue, died in Presbyterian Hospital. Her clothing caught fire from an open stove. The other victim was Blanche Kowalski, 12, fatally burned in her home at 4722 Blair street.

Raymond Ditar, aged 4 months, of New Kensington, died of exposure soon after being admitted to Roselia Maternity Hospital late last night, according to a report to the morgue. The child had evidently been chilled in making

(Continued on Page Two, Col. Eight.)

SCORES ROUTED BY HOTEL FIRE

VANDERGRIFT, Dec. 28.—Six firemen were overcome by smoke and eight families in an adjoining apartment building and more than 50 hotel guests were forced into the street here today by a fire caused by an overheated flue in the basement of the Penn-Grand Hotel. The blaze was brought under control after hours of fighting by 75 firemen.

The fire swept from the basement into the walls separating the hotel from the Vandergrift Postoffice Building in which are 50 rooms of the hotel annex. An area 20 feet square in the ceiling of the postoffice was the only damage there as employes sacked all mail and hurried it to safety across the street.

The fire started after residents in the apartment house adjoining the postoffice and guests in the hotel had arisen hence none was forced to flee into the wintry cold without clothing. None of the firemen suffered serious injury from the smoke.

Subway Repealer Vetoed by Herron

Mayor John S. Herron today returned to City Council without his signature, the ordinance which would repeal the 6 million dollar subway bond issue. In vetoing the ordinance, Mayor Herron stated that inasmuch as the people had voted on the bond issue, he did not think it advisable for Council to use their own judgment on the matter.

Helen Frick Here, Mansion Reopened

The doors of the Frick mansion at 7200 Penn avenue were open today. Helen Clay Frick, who spends much of her time in New York, returned to Pittsburg for a holiday visit with a niece, Adelaid Frick.

The daughter of Henry Frick is expected to introduce her niece to friends at a debut at the Pittsburgh Club Saturday.

Mencken's Relatives Here Escape Fire by Leaping Out Window

MISS VIRGINIA MENCKEN H. L. MENCKEN

Miss Mencken, last spring's Peabody High School graduate with her family driven from their Crafton home by fire this morning. She's a niece of H. L. Mencken, the editor and man of letters.

Flames Sweep Other Homes; Ill Woman Carried to Safety

Trapped by flames in their fashionable home in Crafton, Charles E. Mencken, his wife and attractive daughter and two others jumped from a window to safety at 4 a. m. today.

Mencken, a brother of Henry L. Mencken, the famed bad-boy of literature, and his wife were awakened by what might have been an explosion in the home at 44 Steuben street.

When he opened a bedroom door Mencken was singed by flames that shot through.

He rushed upstairs to the third floor and awakened his daughter, Virginia, and her house guest, Dorothea Porter, of Rosewood avenue, East End. Then he aroused the maid, Angeline Frankok.

His daughter and Miss Porter, both home from school for the

(Continued on Page Two, Col. Two.)

In Today's Sun-Telegraph

	Page
"Operator 13" (serial)	24
Bugs Baer	3, 25
Bridge Lessons	8
Arthur Brisbane	1
Comics	24, 25
Dr. Copeland	8
Correct Manners	8
Cross-Word Puzzle	25
Editorial	26
Fashion	12
Finance	21, 22, 23
B. C. Forbes	22
Mark Hellinger	11
Junior Patrol	9
O. O. McIntyre	26
Magazine, Fiction	8
Mark Shields	17
Pattern	7
Pictorial Education	24
Quilt Pattern	9
Radio	14
Ripley	20
Will Rogers	17
Society, Clubs	12, 13
Sports	19, 20
Stage and Screen	10, 11
Walter Winchell	10

'NEW ERA HERE' —ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—President Roosevelt expressed the view today that "we enter the new year with a realization that we have crossed the threshold of a new era."

This was contained in a letter he wrote to Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The letter said:

"We enter upon the new year with a realization that we have crossed the threshold of a new era. We have the opportunity of improving conditions and making our country a better home, materially and spiritually, for more than 120 million people.

"To do this will require the concerted aid and continued efforts of many forces—of government, federal, state and local; of social, spiritual, industrial and financial agencies.

"I ask that we, men and women of the present and the new generations, continue to work together. With such united effort, we can attain strength and force necessary to cure existing ills and give us a new national health and prosperity."

Roosevelt Pet Dog Bites Woman Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Mrs. Roosevelt was called upon yesterday to take one of her newspaper interviewers to a first aid ward for treatment after a pet dog of the First Lady snapped at the writer, Miss Boss Furman, of the Associated Press staff.

The wound, of superficial nature, was treated and Mrs. Roosevelt motored Miss Furman to her home.

Governor of Kansas Father of New Son

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Gov. and Mrs. Alf M. Landon became parents of an 8-pound son today.

STATE SHOPS UNDERSELL CANADA

Some Brands Lower Than in Ontario, Gawthrop Says

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Several standard brands of liquor will be available in state stores January 2 at prices lower than those charged for the same brands in Canada, Robert S. Gawthrop, State Control Board chairman, said today.

Replying to criticism of the Liquor Control Board because of high prices it planned to charge, Gawthrop today disclosed that the Pennsylvania stores will undersell Canada. He said:

"For example, Teacher's High Grade Cream, a Scotch whisky, is listed by the Liquor Control Board of Ontario in its price list of November 16, 1933, at $3.60 a bottle, while our price is $3.35 for the same article.

"For White Horse, Ontario's price is $3.85, while our price is $3.65.

"For Old Bush Mill's Irish whisky, Ontario's price is $3.85, while our price is $3.75.

"For Hennessy Three-Star brandy, Ontario's price is $4.75, while our price is $4.

BONDED GOODS SLASHED

Gawthrop also revealed that the tentative price of "pre-war, bottled-in-bond" whiskies has been cut a dollar per bottle—from $6.50, ranging up to $8, to $6.50, ranging up to $7.

He said the state stores will handle an uncut Canadian rye whisky — Seagram's "83," which will sell for $3.25 a 26-ounce bottle. The Ontario list price for this whisky is $2.80 a bottle and Gawthrop pointed out that "our price is but 45 cents more, notwithstanding tariffs, duties and transportation costs."

He denied that Pennsylvania prices will be out of line with those charged in Canada, asserting that the best grades of liquor in state stores average from "13 to 17 years old; there is a very small quantity of it in the country and it commands a higher price than Canadian whisky because of its age and scarcity."

ANSWERS CRITICS

The board chairman charged that those who had criticized the Pennsylvania price list had been "grossly misinformed."

He said:

"I am satisfied that a comparison of our prices with the prices charged for similar liquors by present sellers will show that our prices are fair and reasonable when one takes into consideration all of the factors which enter into the cost and the selling price."

He declared there is no "genuine, pre-war bottled-in-bond American rye whisky" that can be obtained for the same price as "high grade uncut Canadian rye," because the genuine American article is an older and better product than that produced in Canada.

He pointed out that low-priced whisky will be available as the state stores will handle "a good blended whisky" as low as $1.85 a bottle.

Pastors Balk Rum Store On North Side Site

Plans for a state liquor store at 708 Arch street, North Side, have been abandoned following complaints of ministers that the proposed site would be within a block and a half of seven churches and the Allegheny High School, it was announced today.

Meanwhile, state employes in Pittsburgh were busy storing several carloads of the first state-owned whisky to arrive in the Try street warehouse.

The Board of Liquor Control turned down 47 more applicants for liquor licenses, bringing the total to 492. Rejected were Aljean Hotel, R. D. 1, Conneaut Lake; First National Ukranian-Ruthenian Society, Pittsburgh; Little Dutch Garden Restaurant, Greentree; Russian Community Society of Ambridge; Rainbow Restaurant, McDonald; American House, Duquesne.

There were 6,000 cases of wine, whisky and gin in the Try street warehouse today. The whiskies were Old Overholt rye and these blended ryes — Spring Garden, Belle of Nelson, Mellwood, Shenandoah, Green River, Red Top; the gins—Fleischmann's dry gin and Silver Wedding; wines—Wilen Brothers port, muscatel, sherry.

English Bids Public Payroll Goodby

Defends Salary Cut Return—'Saved City Plenty,' He Says

Councilman W. Y. English, who quits the public payroll Saturday after a 20-year stay, said goodby today—a sentimental, forgiving farewell of 3,000 words in which he pointed out how much the City of Pittsburgh had saved by hiring him.

The Sheraden municipal statesman rose at his desk in Council chamber, glanced at his colleagues, who were all ears, addressed President Harry A. Little, who is seldom caught napping, and proceeded to quote Shakespeare, Lincoln and Kipling.

In defense of his successful demand that the $1,333.33 salary cut taken by all other members of Council for 1933 be returned to him, Councilman English reviewed his 20 years in public service. And he cited "one of the fond recollections of my life"—a meeting in June, 1932, when "all the other members of Council agreed with me" that the rate of interest on certain bonds be reduced from 4¾ per cent interest to 4¼ per cent.

Statesman English pointed out that this reduction saved the taxpayers $142,000. Then he confessed:

"My total salary for 20 years is $136,000. Hence the city is ahead $6,000, as a result of Council adopting my motions to pay 4¼ per cent interest rather than the 4¾ per cent. Shakespeare says the 'evil that men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones.' In this case, for 30 years the taxpayers of Pittsburgh will continue to enjoy some benefit from my having been a member of Council in the year of 1932."

Statesman English thinks that those who want him to return the salary paid him while he was recovering from illness in Texas for four and one-half months overlook his hospital bills and other expenses.

The statesman, as he described himself, recalled how he fought for legislation to protect the city bank deposits until he was successful because "the fourth Mayor with whom I labored gave his support."

He also recalled how, when old Allegheny was annexed, he fought to abolish the separate debt tax across the river. In this respect he observed with becoming modesty:

"Shakespeare is right about the evil men do living after them, but the good I helped to accomplish for North Side property owners has lived for 18 years with me also living to see it. No matter when I die, there are 24 years of good still coming to the taxpayers of the former City of Allegheny."

Council 'All Ears' As Retiring Member Quotes Classics

The statesman cited some of the big public improvements he supported, but finally decided they were too numerous to mention.

And well does he remember the time when he and John S. Herron, now Mayor, were branded as anarchists and bolsheviks "because he wanted to provide a couple of swimming pools."

However, all's well that ends well, and Mr. English in closing extends a willing hand. He began his oration with a phrase from Kipling ("Lest we forget") and he closed with a touch of Honest Abe:

"If I have insulted or offended any member I herewith ask his pardon, as I did not do it deliberately. Lincoln well expressed my feeling—'Charity toward all, and malice toward none.'"

U. S. SUES 20 NEW YORK BANKS OVER HARRIMAN FAILURE

CLEARING HOUSE GUARANTEES CITED

Government Acts for Depositors; RFC Loan Involved

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The federal government has filed suit against the 20 banks of the New York Clearing House Association and individuals who served on the clearing house committee during the last two years to compel payment in full to depositors of the closed Harriman National Bank and Trust Company.

The government contends the clearing house committee, in behalf of all the banks, gave written guarantees of payment of deposits late in 1932 and early in 1933 when the committee arranged with the Controller of the Currency not to close the Harriman Bank lest it precipitate a crisis for all.

FAILED TO OPEN

The Harriman Bank failed to open after the bank holiday last March. Approximately half the claims of the depositors were paid in July through an RFC loan, and it is estimated the sum of $9,275,000 would be required to pay all depositors in full with interest.

The banks are understood to have taken the position that the guarantees were given "in a crisis and without extended consideration of the technical formalities involved," and do not now constitute a legal obligation.

The government, in its complaint filed yesterday, asks the State Supreme Court to compel the banks of the Clearing House to recognize that they made a binding agreement to protect the depositors of the Harriman bank and "thereafter breached and repudiated it."

The government's suit was said to be without precedent.

11,000 ACCOUNTS

The Comptroller and receiver assert that when the bank closed in accordance with President Roosevelt's proclamation inaugurating the bank holiday and subsequently failed to reopen, there were more than 11,000 deposit accounts totaling in excess of $24,670,000 in the bank and that, while the assets were insufficient to pay depositors in full "the deficiency would not have exceeded a small fraction of the surplus of any of the defendant banks."

Since the bank closed a long federal investigation into the affairs of the bank has resulted in the indictment of Joseph W. Harriman, former president and chairman of the board of the bank, and Albert Murray Austin, former vice president, on charges of falsifying the bank's accounts. Harriman, founder of the bank, also was indicted for making false entries involving $1,661,170 of depositors moneys.

SANITY HEARING

On January 5 Harriman is to have a hearing in Federal Court to determine if he is physically able to appear there for a sanity hearing which, in turn, will be held to determine whether he must stand trial on the indictments.

A New York newspaper said today that before filing the suit the government had attempted for nine months to persuade the 20 Clearing House banks to carry out their alleged agreement to take care of the depositors.

The failure of the Harriman bank to reopen after the national moratorium of last March was declared in the Government's complaint to be "a consequence of the failure and refusal of the banks of the Clearing House to perform their agreement by advancing funds on collateral or against depositors' claims, by effecting a merger of the Harriman bank with another Clearing House bank or by various other lawful and practical means."

In the discussions preliminary to the filing of the suit, the newspaper says, 15 of the 20 Clearing House banks indicated a willingness to accept the results of an arbitration which had been negotiated for months; but five insisted on a court determination.

Morgenthau Backs Suit Against Banks

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Acting Secretary Morgenthau said today the suit to compel members of the New York Clearing House Association to pay in full depositors of the bankrupt Harriman National Bank and Trust Company had received his full approval.

He told newspapermen that before the action was filed by the federal government in the New York State Supreme Court he had indorsed that course. He declined further comment.

A Chance to Be a Hero -:- By QUIN HALL

MENCKEN'S KIN ESCAPES FIRE

(Continued From Page One.)

holidays, jumped from a second-floor bedroom window. The maid leaped from the third floor, Mencken said:

"Then I thought of that blooming pup (Tiny, a Boston terrier). I yelled to Mrs. Mencken and she groped her way through the hallway that was filled with smoke and got the pup."

GIRL CATCHES PUP

Mrs. Mencken then dropped the pup out a window into the arms of Virginia, on the rear lawn.

The Menckens followed. None was hurt.

The first floor of the house was badly damaged. Mencken said he believes the door of a clothes closet on a landing above a log fireplace, in which the fire originated, was blown loose.

Mencken's daughter, Virginia, is home from Sweetbriar College in Virginia. She was graduated last summer from Peabody High School, a graduation that inspired a visit from her uncle, Henry. Miss Porter is a student at Westminster College. Mencken is a construction engineer with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

ILL WOMAN RESCUED

Mrs. William H. Turner, 2604 Magnet street, North Side, was carried from her sickbed, and her husband and daughter were aided in an escape from their burning home last night.

Turner discovered the flames. He ran upstairs and was carrying his wife down when he slipped and fell.

Peter H. and William J. Miller, brothers, of 4 Pioneer avenue, Ross Township, who were visiting neighbors of the Turners, went to the rescue, carried Mrs. Turner to safety and helped Turner and his 7-year-old daughter, Mary, out of the house. Turner's step-daughter, Helen Holliday, 12, fled unaided. Firemen estimated the damage at $1,000.

The families of Walter E. Michaels and Robert A. Morrison were driven into the cold when their duplex homes at 822 Taylor avenue, Avalon, were destroyed by fire.

A fire that police attributed to an attempt to thaw frozen water pipes damaged the home of Mrs. Minnie Friel, 18 Maytide street, Carrick. Damage was estimated by firemen at $1,700.

Today

(Continued From Page One.)

as one of "twelve guns purchased for Al Capone in 1928."

The same pistol was captured by police, previously, in a spectacular shooting in 1928. How such interesting weapons come to be redistributed among criminals after the police once get them is a puzzle.

This incident reminds you of the very American fact that Mr. Capone is in a federal prison, not because of any interesting gangster performances or shooting, but because he didn't pay his income tax.

In America, murder, direct or by proxy, isn't taken very seriously, but if you don't pay your income tax the government will get you.

HAVE YOU ever complained about receiving "so many letters that you can hardly attend to them?"

Consider President Roosevelt. Since his inauguration he has received 1,620,000 letters and parcels, and 20,000 telegrams.

During this month alone he has received 540,000 letters, an average of 18,000 a day. Apparently the people are taking an interest in their government and their President.

BUSINESS NEWS. Heaven be praised, is becoming good news. Automobile sales in November were 74 per cent above 1932.

In thirty-seven states, east of the Rocky Mountains, contracts for new buildings during the first two weeks of December were 50 per cent above the building for the entire month of last December.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

PHILA. CLERKS MAY STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—A new strike of 1,200 employes of meat and provision stores today threatened Philadelphia businesses, already muddled by strikes of milk wagon drivers and dairy employes.

M. Herbert Syme, attorney for three of four labor organizations which would be involved in the event of the new strike, said the employes are demanding higher pay and union recognition. Meanwhile, the milkmen and dairy employes pushed their claims before the Labor Board. The milk drivers are seeking a 36-hour week, union recognition and a contract.

Counsel for a number of milk companies was reported to have told the board his clients are ready to settle reasonable and specific complaints.

A general transportation and delivery strike called last week as a move in sympathy with the strike of taxicab drivers was called off Sunday night.

NRA Board Scans Secret Ford Charges

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—The national compliance division of the NRA, supplied with secret reports made to the National Labor Board by mediators sent to the scene of strikes at Ford Motor Company assembly plants, today began its investigation of formal charges that Ford is a violator of the automobile code.

LABOR BOARD ENDS BAKERY ROW HERE

Union Protected, But Vacations on Pay Denied

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The National Labor Board today announced its settlement of the disputed points in an agreement between the Ward and Baur bakeries of Pittsburgh and their employes.

A strike of the bakers and the bakery truck drivers was called off more than a month ago when both sides agreed to submit any disputed points to the board. The decision said that for outside workers the companies should use no discrimination against union members in filling vacancies, that the employes' proposal for one-week vacation with pay would be disallowed, that the existing practice in individual bakeries regarding delivery of bakery goods to trucks should be continued, and that salesmen, drivers and chauffeurs should be paid for all holidays.

WAGES FIXED

Wholesale salesmen, drivers and chauffeurs, $20 for the first $100 of business, no matter from what source received, and five per cent commission on all sales, with a guaranteed minimum of $27. a week.

Truck drivers, $27 a week.

Hospitals, restaurants and amusement parks shall be delivered by extra bread drivers. Salesmen, drivers or chauffeurs shall receive commission for those places.

A representative of the union shall be allowed admission to the shop during working hours, provided he submits his name to the plant manager if requested to do so.

ONE-YEAR PACT

The agreement shall be in force for a year after signing.

For inside workers, the general provisions for outside workers were repeated.

All work over 44 hours shall be considered overtime pending the completion of the baking industry's permanent code.

Overtime pay rates were provided.

The minimum hourly rates were: Mixers, 60 cents; oven men, 60 cents; bench hands, machine hands, 55 cents; helpers, 47½ cents; girls, 40 cents; checkers, 47½ cents, and packers and wrappers 45 cents.

The decision said:

"Employes now receiving more than the minimum schedule shall suffer no reduction.

"Any disputes arising out of this decision which has not been adjusted satisfactorily in negotiations between representatives of the two parties shall be referred to the Pittsburgh Regional Labor Board. There shall be no strike or lockouts pending the decision by that board."

Aldrich, Bank Head, Sees Trade Growing

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—A gradual improvement in the general situation was reported to President Roosevelt today by Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National Bank in New York. Aldrich said his talk with the President was general in nature.

Shantytown Blaze Destroys 2 Shacks

Two shacks in Father James R. Cox's shantytown in Liberty avenue, near Seventeenth street, were destroyed by fire caused by an overheated stove last night.

Defective flue was blamed for a fire that did $100 damage to the home of Walter Schatzman at 810 East street, North Side last night.

PINCHOT SIGNS 'AUTHORITY' MEASURE

Einstein Bill Enables County to Borrow U. S. Funds

Gov. Gifford Pinchot today signed the Einstein bill creating an Allegheny County Public Works Authority.

Plains, awaiting the signature, are being rushed to get upwards of 31 million dollars from the federal government.

County Commissioners are expected to have the authority set up within a few days, naming its members. Mayor John S. Herron was reported to have been in mind for one of the jobs.

Included in the projects, many of which will be self-liquidating, are a new bridge to Homestead from Brown's Hill, purchase and renovation of the Wabash tunnel to make it usable for automobile traffic, and other improvements.

Approval of any project must be obtained from federal engineers. The authority was made necessary due to the county's limited bororwing power. The authority will borrow the money from the government and tolls from the bridges and other revenue will be set aside to repay the federal government.

MOTHER DEAD, SHOW GOES ON

Universal Service.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—Mlle. Mistinguette, the girl with the million-dollar legs, had an international audience at the Folies Bergere cheering here last night.

As the star of the show, she laughed and smiled, but took her bows with a tear, because her mother died today.

Mme. Marianne Bourgeois, Mistinguette's mother, the widow of a former innkeeper, was 78. She had been ill for some time, but her life was always brightened by the new fame which accrued to her dancing daughter.

Mistinguette, former partner of Maurice Chevalier on the stage here, attained great prominence when her legs were selected as the most beautiful of any Parisienne. She quickly capitalized on this and became one of the highest paid performers in Paris.

Though there are stories that Mistinguette is 60 years old, the star of the Folies Bergere recently produced a birth certificate giving her age as only 50.

BUILDINGS BURN IN SUTERVILLE

SUTERVILLE, Pa., Dec. 28.—Fire swept the heart of the business district here early today, levelling four buildings and causing damage estimated at $15,000.

The blaze, of unknown origin, started in the basement of the Kelly Hall, a two-story frame landmark, shortly after last midnight, and spread to the other structures. Volunteer firemen from Industry, Buena Vista and West Newton aided Suterville firemen in battling the blaze.

Buildings destroyed were occupied by Joseph Lufbabe's beer garden, Joseph Messner's garage and barber shop, John Bonini's shoe repair shop, Harrison D'Happert's jewelry establishment. The home of John Arthur and a vacant structure also burned.

Arthur's 11-year-old daughter lost her Christmas presents when the family fled their home.

Kelly Hall was the meeting place for all Suterville lodges.

Tells of Kiss

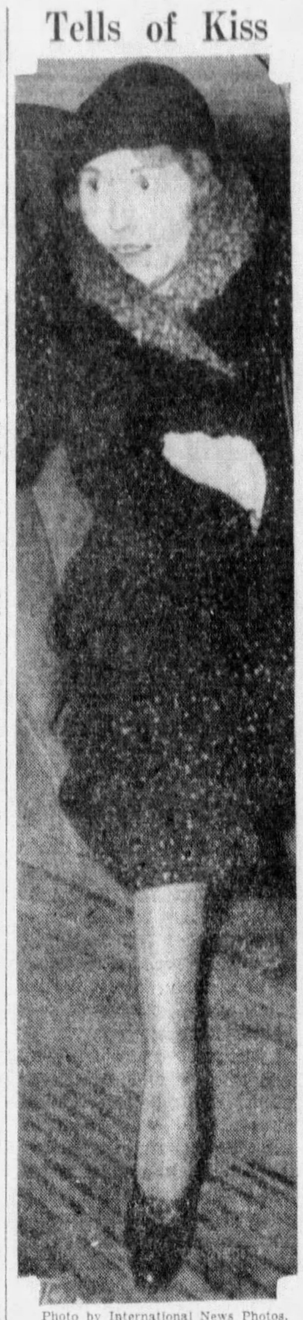

Photo by International News Photos.

MRS. MARY ROCKWELL

ADMITS KISSING SLAIN DENTIST

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—An attractive Hollywood matron, Mrs. Mary Rockwell, told a district attorney's investigator today that she had kissed Dr. Leonard Siever "in jest" just a few hours before the Pasadena dentist was shot to death mysteriously 15 days ago.

The investigator, Blayney Matthews, reported Mrs Rockwell said she was unable to throw any light upon the slaying.

Mrs. Rockwell described her kiss, Matthews said, as one given in the "spirit of fun and Christmas and without any significance." She said she looked upon the dentist as a "professional friend."

Mrs. Rockwell was one of six persons questioned by Matthews and Pasadena police, working in co-operation in an attempt to solve the killing. Matthews said that, from a maze of statements and correspondence found in the dentist's office, he had been able to fashion two "important theories."

NATION HONORS WILSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—With President Roosevelt taking a leading part, nation-wide commemorations of the 77th birthday anniversary of Woodrow Wilson today were centered in the national capital.

As a prelude to an address tonight by the President, associates and friends of the war-time chief executive arranged to place a wreath upon his tomb in the Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington Cathedral during the afternoon.

Meanwhile, throughout the country, other observances were planned by members of the 124 Woodrow Wilson clubs.

Mr. Roosevelt will deliver an address to be broadcast by the two principal radio chains beginning at 10:30, eastern standard time, tonight. With Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt tonight will be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson as guest of honor. Present also will be the war President's son-in-law, Francis B. Sayre, assistant Secretary of State.

15th City to Be Named for Stalin

MOSCOW, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—Another city is to be named after Josef Stalin, according to a decree issued today, bringing the total of communities named in honor of the Soviet dictator to 15.

Bobriki, near Moscow, will be called Stalinogorsk upon completion of the Soviet government's greatest chemical works, now under construction there.

RETURN OF COLD SEEN TONIGHT; THREE DEAD

Mercury May Drop to 5 Degrees; 4 Boys Hurt Coasting

(Continued From Page One.)

the trip to Pittsburgh from New Kensington, it was reported.

COASTERS INJURED

Several boys were injured in coasting accidents on slippery streets last night.

Charles Montgomery, 13, of 908 Butler street, Tarentum, was taken to Allegheny Valley Hospital, Tarentum, after his sled struck a parked truck in East Tenth avenue, Tarentum.

Charles Reedout, 12, of 705 Anaheim street, may have suffered internal injuries, Montefiore Hospital attaches said, when his sled collided with a truck at Anaheim streeet and Bryn Mawr road. Police said the truck was driven by Jack Schwartz, of 2919 Bedford avenue.

Colliding with a parked automobile while coasting near his home, Charles Anger, 12, of 1505 Beechview avenue, was taken to West Penn Hospital.

Tony Arrigo, 15, of 1314 North Murtland avenue, coasting in Upland street, suffered a fractured leg when his sled ran into an automobile. He was taken to Pittsburgh Hospital.

Cold Wave Eases Up, Death List Passes 100

Associated Press.

The fury of winter's onslaught had subsided considerably today over much of the United States, but intense cold still prevailed in many sections.

More than 100 persons have died, according to unofficial estimates, as a result of blizzards, ice, snow and cold.

In New York City, 34,000 men struggled beneath a leaden sky and in far-below freezing cold today to complete the task of removing a 10.7-inch snowfall from the streets.

Chicago alone counted 18 dead yesterday as the mercury fell to 10 below. Wisconsin had a total of 21.

New England was worried over 29 men missing in fishing craft off Maine's coast.

White River, Ont., was the coldest spot yesterday, with mercury slithering down to 56 below.

Denies Firing Mail To Warm His Hands

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Robert B. Smith, substitute mail carrier, today faced prosecution on charges of making a bonfire of 200 letters to warm his hands during the cold wave.

Arraigned before a United States commissioner, Smith denied the charge, but was held in bond of $1,000.

Fishing Tug Missing With Three Aboard

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—The fishing tug Seagull, with three men aboard, was missing today after venturing out on Lake Michigan to empty nets off Wilmette.

3 Die as Snowplow Breaks Through Ice

SUPERIOR, Wis., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Three street department employes drowned in St. Louis Bay today when a heavy snowplow broke through the ice.

Hope for Recovery Of Mrs. Hitchcock

AIKEN, S. C., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Sr., 68, of New York, injured in a fall from a horse here Tuesday, remained in bed at her home today. Attending physicians declined to comment upon her condition. Her daughter, Mrs. J. Averill Clark, of New York, said:

"Mrs. Hitchcock received a very severe fall, but is resting comfortably. We have all hopes for her recovery."

State Auto Plates Pass Million Mark

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The total of 1934 automobile license tags passed the million mark today as the Bureau of Motor Vehicles finished the greatest volume of applications it ever has handled in six consecutive working days.

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph,
Volume XIII—No. 147

Thursday, December 28, 1933.

Published evening and Sunday at the office of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Telegraph Square, Pittsburgh, Pa. Price: Daily, 3 cents; Sunday, 10 cents.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Pittsburgh, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Mrs. Hall at Washington Seeking Symphony Funds

CONGRESSMAN HENRY ELLENBOGEN JULIUS F. STONE, JR. EDWARD SPECTER MRS. WILLIAM MACLAY HALL

Mrs. Hall, society woman and president of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society, and Mr. Specter, manager, guided by Pittsburgh's Congressman Ellenbogen as they contacted Deputy Administrator Stone of the Federal Relief Board to negotiate for U. S. funds to increase the activity of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. This is an International News Photograph Service picture.

Job Insurance Project Studied by Roosevelt

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Indicating the administration's determination to end the evils of widespread unemployment, President Roosevelt gave two hours yesterday to consideration of a definite plan for nationwide job insurance.

The plan, which would be accompanied by an emergency issue of credit to expand purchasing power immediately, was presented by its sponsor, A. L. Deane of New York, president of the General Motors Holding Corporation.

The President summoned to the White House conference on the projected job insurance system Recovery Administrator Johnson, Relief Administrator Hopkins, Budget Director Douglas, and John J. Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee and General Motors officials. Secretary of Labor Perkins also was invited, but was detained in New York.

Deane said his plan was a method of eliminating un-employment and maintaining the consuming power of the masses, its purpose being to iron out the peaks and valleys of economic life. He added:

"The plan would have to be carried out by industry, but implemented by the government. It is simply a plan to use a central insurance fund to build up in good times for use in bad times, to supplement the mass consuming power. It would be a revolving fund which industry would create through a premium."

Russian-Jap Relations Grave, Stalin Says

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Joseph Stalin, head of the Communist party in Russia, says the Soviet government desires friendly relations with Japan, but he sees a "grave danger, and we cannot but prepare to meet it."

Stalin said that if the more "reasonable" elements and more "prudent" counsels prevail in Japan, the two countries can live in amity, but he added that Russia "feared that the militant faction may push the saner policies into the background."

Of Soviet-American trade, the Communist leader said the "volume of our trade with America for the time being must be measured by the degree of confidence America puts in us—and this by the volume of credit."

Stalin said he believed business is beginning to improve and that the lowest point in the depression is already past.

LINKING U. S. COUPLES IN BIG SPY RING ATTEMPTED

POISON PLOTS BLAMED ON SYNDICATE

Espionage Denied by 'Mata Hari;' French Trace Money

Associated Press.

Two American couples, husbands and wives, were under arrest in widely separated countries today while police apparently were attempting to connect them as members of a great international spy organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, he 29, she 22, of East Orange, N. J., are held in Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Arvid W. Jacobson, he 29, she younger, of Northville, Mich., are in custody in Helsingfors, Finland.

French police said the prisoners they hold — and Mr. and Mrs. Switzare only two of ten—received money from foreign sources in exchange for French military secrets. They indicated that the trail of this money went back through Finland and hinted of Russian and German origin.

LINK POISON PLOTS

Simultaneously, in Helsingfors, the government announced it had definite evidence that spies had killed one army official by poison and had poisoned three others who recovered.

The Americans concerned in espionage charges have similar educational backgrounds. Back in Northville, where he taught mathematics three years in the high school, Jacobson was known as a quiet, studious man. Detroit police said he was a Communist but that his activities had never run counter to the law. His wife, Sally, formerly taught in the grade schools of Monroe, Mich. Both were born in Baraga County, Michigan, and Jacobson is a University of Michigan graduate.

Switz, whose age is the same as that of Jacobson, is the son of a Russian who came to the United States before the World War. He attended Cartaret and Mercersburg academies. Mrs. Switz, the former Miss Marjorie Tilley, was described by her husband as a graduate of Vassar College. She, he said, spoke six languages while he himself spoke three.

Mr. and Mrs. Switz are being held in separate cells in Paris and Mrs. Switz has complained of her accommodations. She protested through her lawyer that the cell was cold and damp and that she had to sleep in an overcoat.

DENIES SPYING

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson, incarcerated in icy Finland, have made nop ublic statements.

Meanwhile, in Paris, the mysterious Mme. Lidia Tchekaloff Stahl, middle - aged Russian scholar, whom policec harge with being the brains of the huge international band of spies, coolly denied to an examining magistrate today that seh was connected with espionage activities in Finland.

In the course of her examination by the magistrate, Mme. Stahl sketched the story of her life. Apparently she had wandered over much of the world, in the course of her travels picking up a master of arts degree from Columbia University, New York.

Use of Black Ink Gets Play as Big News of the Year

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Biggest news events of the year compiled by the Independent Barbed Wire Service:

Repeal of the eighteenth prescription for poison.

Taking off the skull and bones. But no changing the contents.

American bank picnic. Depositors welcome if they brought their own sandwiches.

War of the alphabet. N. R. A. recognized U. S. S. R. Which made the D. A. R. very indignant.

Certified public accountant startled business world by ordering and using a bottle of black ink. First since 1929.

Finland paid war debt. Out of all the hands across the sea all we got was onc fin.

Lindbergh travels 29,000 miles without meeting one thumber.

(Copyright, 1933, Distributed by Universal Service, Inc.)

Ladies of the Air Nearing a World Record in the 'Outdoor Girl'

MISS HELEN RICHEY . . . SHE'D BEAT MRS. LOUISE THADEN

Miss Richey, McKeesport's school superintendent's daughter, today with Mrs. Marsalis over Miami nearing a new world refueling endurance flight record, now held by Mrs. Marsalis and Mrs. Louise Thaden, a former Pittsburgher. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

MRS. FRANCES MARSALIS IN THE 'OUTDOOR GIRL,' THE PLANE DRONING OVER MIAMI TODAY

ICEBERGS PERIL BYRD, CREW

International News Service.

ABOARD S. S. JACOB RUPPERT, Exploring Off Antarctica, Dec. 28.—Members of the Byrd Antarctic expedition congratulated themselves today on a narrow escape from disaster in a stormy sea filled with icebergs.

At a crucial moment, when every ounce of steam was needed to pull the ship out of the way of two giant bergs which suddenly loomed ahead, the fires under the boilers went out due to an accidental seeping of water into the fuel oil.

The ship made little headway against high winds. The boiler fires were started with fuel from the port tank, and finally, after several hours of virtual drifting among perilous chunks of ice, the Ruppert was brought to safety. Admiral Byrd told his crew:

"Your lives were in the hands of God and the engine room. If either had failed you all would be dead men tonight."

The encounter with the ice was a stormy aftermath to a hazardous Christmas spent fog-bound on the vast, trackless edge of the Antarctic ice pack.

Russ Doom Driver After Auto Kills 4

MOSCOW, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Although Soviet Russia's criminal codes provide a maximum sentence of 10 years' imprisonment in such cases, the Moscow City Court today decreed death for Valentine Ivanov, a chauffeur convicted of reckless driving in an accident which resulted in four deaths.

The 28-year-old chauffeur was found guilty of driving a speeding automobile into a marching column of Red Army soldiers on the Leningrad highway on the outskirts of Moscow December 3.

Red Grange Now Night Club Boss

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Red Grange of football fame has put on a tuxedo to open up a night club of which he is the proprietor and which he has named "77" after the numeral he wore while starring on the University of Illinois gridiron.

WIFE ACCUSED IN OUIJA KILLING

ST. JOHNS, Ariz., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The death of Ernest J. Turley, 47-year-old retired naval petty officer, at the hands of 15-year-old daughter, will be charged by authorities to his attractive wife, who, they declared, influenced the girl to shoot her father so that "mother could marry a young cowboy."

J. Smith Gibbons, county attorney, prepared a murder complaint against Mrs. Turley and said it would be filed today.

He said a charge of first degree murder also may be filed against the daughter, Mattie, who said she acted on command of an Ouija board.

Turley, shot twice as he stood near a corral on his ranch Thursday, died at San Diego Tuesday night.

CAR KILLS MAN WED 45 YEARS

On the eve of his forty-fifth wedding anniversary, Thomas A. Jackson, 73, of 827 Southern avenue, Mt. Washington, was killed last night at Soffel street and Southern avenue by a street car, police reported. He was pronounced dead at South Side Hospital.

Plans had been completed for the observance of the anniversary today. Jackson, en route downtown, was struck by a car operated by Albert Huntermark, of 90 Carnival way, North Side. Huntermark told police he applied the brakes when he saw the man on the tracks, but it was too late to avoid striking him.

Jackson had been a resident of the Pittsburgh district for nearly a score of years. He was a former resident of Uniontown and was a member of the Mt. Washington Methodist Episcopal Church, the Knights of Pythias of Monongahela, the I. O. O. F. of Canonsburg, and Sons of St. George. He was born in England.

His wife, Ella M. Jackson, and one daughter, Miss Margaret E. Jackson, survive.

Teachers to Strike For Overdue Pay

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Thirty teachers of Mayfield's public school go on strike January 2 to force payment of six and a half months' back salary.

On Christmas vacation now, the teachers decided yesterday they would not resume their class work until paid. The strike will affect 800 pupils.

Roosevelt Speech Held Best English In America

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Americans who want to speak good English would do well to follow President Roosevelt. His speech is an example of the best "American English" spoken in this country.

So says Prof. Lee Emerson Bassett, of Stanford University, president of the National Association of Teachers of Speech, which opened its annual convention yesterday.

He described the President's speech as a standard form of English, yet lively and varied and with excellent pronunciation and enunciation.

WIFE OF MOVIE MAN SHOT, CUT

International News Service.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28.—Shot and stabbed by a holdup man, Mrs. Gloria Craig, 23, beautiful brunette wife of John Craig, producer of sea and stunt movies, was in critical condition today, according to reports to Hollywood police.

Mrs. Craig told police she was walking near Hollywood boulevard toward her home when a tall man grabbed her and attempted to take her purse. She screamed. He put a hand over her mouth. Her struggles caused him to shoot and stab her before her screams attracted passersby.

The robber fled with Mrs. Craig's purse, but was unable to tear a diamond ring from her finger.

RED TAPE HALTS PHONE WEDDING

ELDORADO, Ark., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Unexpected difficulties arose in far-off Czecho-Slovakia today to cause a postponement of the trans-Atlantic telephone wedding of Banjamin Labowitz and Miss Weisz Hermina, which had been set for this morning.

With all arrangements completed for the cermony uniting the couple—the bride at Prague and Labowitz here—information came that some legal steps were necessary before the wedding could take place.

Proof that one of the parties was a citizen of the United States was required by authorities in Czecho-Slovakia. Labowitz is a naturalized citizen but proof of it was necessary.

It was believed the difficulties could be ironed out within 10 days or two weeks to permit the telephone wedding.

BOY SHOELESS, BEGGAR FINED

CINCINNATI, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—A father was fined $100 and costs today for making his five-year old son dance bare-footed in a snow-covered street for what the court called "a few lousy dollars!" he could beg.

After police had removed Raymond, Jr., his legs blue and numb from the near-zero cold, to a hospital, police found the child's shoes and stockings in the father's pocket, as well as $6.21.

The boy's mother later took charge of him.

She said that Miller, who lives in Newport, Ky., "doesn't seem to want to work." She added:

"I told him time and again to try the relief work, but he wouldn't do it. He spends all his money for liquor."

THE WEATHER

Local Forecast.

Cloudy and not much change in temperature tonight. Friday, cloudy and slightly colder. Lowest temperature tonight about 10 degrees.

Hourly Temperatures.

12 midnight	8	9 a. m.	12
1 a. m.	8	10 a. m.	14
2 a. m.	9	11 a. m.	15
3 a. m.	9	12 noon	16
4 a. m.	9	1 p. m.	18
5 a. m.	10	2 p. m.	20
6 a. m.	10	3 p. m.	21
7 a. m.	11
8 a. m.	12

Sunrise today .. 7:45 Sunset today ... 4:59

Observations for the 24 hours ended at 8 o'clock this morning:

Time.	Temp.	Hum.	Wind.	Weather.
8 a. m.	12	68	W-6	Clear

Temperature and Precipitation.

	1932	1931	1930	1929	1928	1927	1926	1925
High..	44	46	30	39	42	49	40	12
Low..	33	36	27	33	34	28	32	3
Mean.	38	41	28	36	38	38	36	8
Precip	.00	.00	.00	.00	.00	.00	.03	.02

Bulletin.

Observations taken by the United States Weather Bureau. The morning temperature readings were taken at 8 o'clock. The lowest temperature is for 12 hours ended at 8 o'clock this morning. Precipitation is for 24 hours ended at 8 o'clock this morning.

Station.	Temp. 8 am.	Temp. L.	Pre-cip.	Station.	Temp. 8 am.	Temp. L.	Pre-cip.
Atlanta.	32	30	.00	Louisville	10	10	.00
Atl City	18	14	.00	Lynchbg.	24	20	.00
Bismarck	-12	-18	.00	Memphis.	22	22	.00
Boise ..	36	34	.00	Miami ..	64	64	.00
Boston .	10	4	.00	Minapolis	-16	-16	.00
Bwnsville	52	52	.04	Montgmy	38	36	.00
Buffalo..	14	4	.32	Nashville	20	20	.00
Chnoga..	28	26	.00	New Orl.	50	50	.00
Chicago.	6	4	.00	New York	12	10	.00
Cincinn..	12	10	.00	Oklahoma	30	28	.00
Cleveld..	8	8	.01	Omaha .	16	16	.00
Cimbus..	14	10	.00	Pkrsburg	14	12	.00
Denver..	38	32	.00	Parry Sd.	2	-4	.30
Des Mes	14	12	.00	Pdelphia.	14	14	.00
Detroit..	4	4	.00	PITTSBG	12	8	.00
Duluth .	-28	-28	.00	St Louis.	16	12	.00
Elkins .	14	4	.00	S L City.	38	32	.00
Harrisbg	10	8	.00	San Ant.	58	36	.10
Helena .	18	16	.00	San Fran	48	46	.00
Hupron .	-8	-6	.00	Seattle ..	44	44	.16
Indapolis	14	10	.00	Tampa ..	60	56	.00
Jsonville	58	50	.00	Washgtn.	18	16	.00
Kan City	22	22	.00	Winnipeg.	-40	-40	.00
Little Rk	22	22	.00	YstonePk	28	26	.00
Los Ang	52	52	.00

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling. The Allegheny is frozen over from Warren up and there is light ice running in the Allegheny River pools. Stage at Franklin is 4.0 feet. Lock No. 7 (Mon. 1, 12.8, Pittsburgh, 13.6, Dam No. 4, 9.6; No. 6, 11.0; No. 10, 11.8, and No. 12, 12.9. Th dams are down. The Ohio River dams will be raised today.

TWIN SONS HELD HALF-BROTHERS BY COURT

One Child 'Natural' Judge Rules in Divorce Suit

YANKTON, S. D., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The twin sons of Mrs. Edwald Paddie today had the status of half-brothers as result of a court's action in recognizing the claim of the woman's husband that he was the father of but one of them.

Peddie, a farmer living near Freeman, was given the divorce by default yesterday when his wife failed to contest it. He charged her with infidelity.

The former told Judge R. B. Tripp, presiding, that he believed one of the twins was his son, but that the other, who, he said, bore no resemblance to himself, was the son of another man. Peddie was awarded custody of the twin he claimed as his son and of another of the five children born to his wife during their 10 years of married life. The other three were given to their mother's care.

Similar cases have rarely been known before, and a statement by Prof. Noth Broman, of the University of Lund, in Sweden, a noted student of genetics, that "from a scientific point of view it is possible for twins to have different fathers," was once made in a court case.

Biological questions concerning the paternity of the twins were not passed upon in granting the decree, Judge Tripp declared today in explaining his decision in the case.

WORLD PEACE HELD 'MIRACLE'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The first universal, scientific war curve, plotting 902 major wars since 500 years before Christ, shows the late World War eight times bigger than all the others rolled into one.

All of ancient Greece, of Rome and 10 centuries of Europe's eight foremost fighting nations dwindle before the statistics and implications of 1914 to 1919 as presented to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today b Prof. Pitirim A. Sorokin, Harvard sociologist, and Lieut. Gen. N. N. Golovin.

Their curve, showing nearly the whole historical rise and falls in warlike spirit among men, points to universal peace, in their own words, as only a "miracle." It shows wars steadily worse in modern times; their apex nearly always at the peak of "cultural" and commercial influence.

BORDER BATTLE FATAL TO 2

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—A deadly exchange of shots between United States border patrolmen and Mexican smugglers in the slums of South El Paso—near the Rio Grande—brought death to Patrolman Bert G. Walthall and a smuggler identified by local police as Jose Estrada, of El Paso. Another patrolman, Louis A. Smith, was wounded slightly.

In the ensuing search for smugglers, who fled after the fight late last night, officers captured three other Mexicans—two of them wounded. Officers also arrested an elderly man who lives in the house where the three were hiding.

Wynekoop Murder Witness Vanishes

CHICAGO, Dec. 28. — (INS.)—Whereabouts of John Van Pelt, 69, designated as a witness in the coming trial of Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop for the murder of her pretty daughter-in-law, Rheta, became a mystery today.

Van Pelt, a handy man at the Wynekoop mansion where Rheta was slain on an operating table, has been missing for 10 days, it was revealed.

HUMAN BEINGS POISON DEPOTS, DOCTOR FINDS

Each Cell in Body Holds Peril for Neighbor, Expert Asserts

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Every living man is a walking storehouse of poison, and every cell in every living creature, even the healthiest, carries deadly danger for some other cell, Dr. John Jacob Abel told the American Association for the Advancement of Science yesterday.

At the same time he announced evidence supporting a new theory about lockjaw, or tetanus poisoning that results from infected wounds, showing that the arteries carry the deadly lockjaw poison to the brain where it causes death.

Dr. Abel, famous for his development of pure insulin and noted professor at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, spoke as retiring president of the association. His subject was "Poisons and Disease."

'CAPSULE OF POISON

Latest medical discoveries show, he said, that each of the millions of cells that constitute the human body is really a capsule of potential poison waiting only for the right condition to release it. He stated:

"I incline to the belief, that no living cell exists whose contents or metabolites (products of its life process) are not toxic to some other living cell; in other words all cells are in reality cryptotoxic systems (containers of potential poison).

"Every living cell contains material that, under the right circumstances may even be injurious to itself, and there is much truth in the old saying that 'the healthy are really invalids unaware of their illness."

"We ourselves are walking drug stores, and an experienced chemist or pharmacist would have no difficulty in preparing arrow poisons from some of our own organs that would have delighted the heart of primitive man."

ESSENTIAL TO LIFE

Many of the "poisons" in the human body, however, are highly beneficial and even indispensable to life in the quantities in which they usually are produced by the body, Dr. Abel went on to explain.

Among them is insulin. Too little of it in the body causes diabetes, but a man starved for two days so that his blood sugar was greatly reduced could probably be killed by a large dose of 20 to 30 milligrams of insulin. The body normally needs only about eight milligrams per day. The hormones, essential to many life processes, and the vitamins, usually thought of as beneficial to health, also may cause serious "poisoning" or disease when the body receives too large quantities of them.

Dr. Abel said physicians are beginning to believe that all germ infections really are nothing but cases of poisoning resulting from poisons or toxins produced in the body by bacteria.

Held in Stabbing Of Wife at Banquet

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—While nearly 100 guests looked on, a woman employe of a Charleston wholesale concern was stabbed six times with a pocket knife at a banquet table in a downtown hotel last night.

Mrs. Angela B. Starnes, 25, is in serious condition at a hospital. Police arrested her husband, George Starnes, who, they said, rushed into the dining room, overturned his wife's chair and stabbed her as she lay on the floor.

Coffee 'Chaser' Held Antidote For Rum

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—Alcohol and coffee are enimies, and an over indulgence of alcohol can be offset by drinking coffee.

Thus did the generally accepted belief receive the support of science when Dr. A. L. Winsor and E. I. Strongin of Cornell University read a paper to the ninety-third meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in which it was stated.

"Unsteadiness caused by alcohol almost disappeared when sufficient dosage of coffee was taken immediately afterwards."

Liquor in the State Warehouse

HARRY L. FRYE JOHN W. CARROLL

Mr. Frye, general manager of the Try Street Terminal Company, and Checker Carroll inspecting liquor among the 6,000 cases stored in a downtown warehouse by the state to supply the state liquor stores of Allegheny and 11 surrounding counties. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

Chinese Girls' Curls Shaved by Soldiers

TSINAN, China, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—A firm military man is Gen. Han Fu-Chu, a man notably unsusceptible to the blandishments of Shantung women who wear their hair in foreign-fashion curls.

Many Chinese girls and women of modern tendencies, whose freshly-shaved heads today were bald and shining as so many eggs, offered evidence of the general's old-fashioned ideas on the subject.

Han Fu-Chu is governor of Shantung province. The modern fashion of wearing the hair in curls was especially displeasing to him. Chinese hair is traditionally straight, not curly.

(Now almost any dermatologist will tell you that the hair of a Chinese is not elliptical in shape, like an American's or a European's. It is round, and perfect, and does not curl naturally. Shantung hair is especially faultless in this respect and is in wide demand for hairnets, which are exported at considerable profit.)

Imbued with an intense nationalism, Gov. Han Fu-Chu decided that women of Shantung should no longer wear their hair in curls, and he forthwith ordered the arrest of feminine curly-locks.

The wailing protests of the arrestees were quite in vain. Han's special bodyguard was assigned to the task of teaching femininity a lesson. Armed with sharp razors and following strictly the Governor's orders, they shaved off the heads of the prisoners and sent them forth with bald pates.

Deadly Droughts Peril Earth, Says Expert

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—A "warm and dry" weather forecast for the rest of the twentieth century and warning of a coming period of disastrous droughts were issued by a weather specialist today before the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Playing a role much like the Biblical Joseph who warned the Egyptians of "lean years" to come, H. W. Clough of Arcade, N. Y., told the scientists that along about the turn of the century "there are likely to be prolonged and disastrous droughts, possibly causing extensive migrations of people now inhabiting regions that border upon deserts."

These great droughts will result, he said, from the fact that four great weather cycles controlled by the sun will synchronize somewhere around the year 2,000.

At that period the hot, dry phases of each of the four cycles all will strike the earth at about the same time. The cycles are 37, 83, 300, and 1,400 years.

The United States now is having exceptionally warm, dry weather because the warm, dry phases of a 37-year and 83-year cycle are now roughly coinciding, Clough said. He added:

"Around 1950 or 1955, the weather will be considerably cooler and wetter than at present. However, it is probable that the present century as a whole will prove to be exceptionally warm and dry as compared with the past two centuries."

The United States and foreign countries have been growing warmer in general since the 1860s, Clough said, culminating in January, 1932, which was the warmest January in 155 years in at least one section.

NORRIS URGES INHERITANCE CURB TAX

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—A new progressive inheritance tax, large enough in the higher brackets to prevent the handing of swollen fortunes from one generation to another, was advocated today by Senator George W. Norris, veteran leader of Senate Progressives.

Norris urged adoption of such an inheritance tax at the coming session of Congress as a means of redistributing the wealth of the nation. He asserted such a law was necessary to insure permanent agricultural prosperity. He said:

"One thing I think necessary is the redistribution of property in this country. That can be obtained by a progressive inheritance tax. That law should be permanent. A man should be permitted to retain enough property to provide for his family for the rest of their lives, but the remainder ought to be taxed progressively to a point where the entailing of fortunes from one generation to another will become impossible."

Norris confessed his recommendation was not a new one. The idea first was written into the Napoleonic code a century ago in France. It was advocated by the late Theodore Roosevelt, who, while President, said:

"We shall have to adopt some progessive tax on all fortunes so as to put it out of the power of one to hand down more than a certain amount."

U. S. Urged to Back Group Dealing in Farm Surplus

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Creation of a government-financed private corporation to buy and sell for cash or credit large supplies of domestic surplus farm products and industrial machinery for export, principally to Russia, was proposed to the administration today by Senator Norris.

The veteran Nebraskan put the proposition up to former Senator Brookhart, farm administration foreign trade advisor, at a time when a conference was announced at the White House probably bearing on the same general subject.

Secretary Wallace, Assistant Secretaries Phillips of the State Department and Dickson of Commerce, and George N. Peek, New chief of the administration's export trade division, were called to the Roosevelt parley.

Norris said Russia was ready to take large amounts of American foodstuffs, meats, cotton, lard, auto trucks, electrical machinery aand tools, but wanted four or five years in which to pay for such goods, and also desired to send the United States in exchange woodpulp, furs, manganese and other products.

Norris believed there was a good chance for reviving, enlarging and passing an old bill of his providing for a corporation to buy and sell surplus farm products to all foreign countries.

DISCUSS U.S. TAX ON CHURCHES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Federal taxation of church and other non-profit institution incomes was the object of a silent drive today as members gathered for the second session of the Seventy-third Congress.

Increased revenue through revision of present income tax laws will be one of the chief objects of the Congress, with steps toward this goal already under way in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Religious organizations, foundations, community trusts and public trusts, it was noted from the last report of the Federal Trade Commission of 1926, have a security investment of well over 1,000 million dollars.

Pittsburgh Key City For Business Census

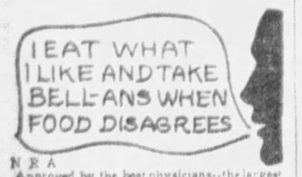
Pittsburgh has been selected as one of 40 key cities from which field supervisors of the Department of Commerce will direct the department's census of American business, according to Associated Press dispatches from Washington today.

District supervisors will report to the field directors in Pittsburgh in all lines of activity throughout Western Pennsylvania.

Chrysler to Erect $125,000 Building

The Chrysler Pittsburgh Corporation will construct a three-story brick automobile sales and service building at 5625 Baum boulevard, East End, at a cost of $125,000.

The land was leased from Mrs. Emma D. Leitch through the Porter and MacDowell Company, real estate brokers. The Zoning Board of Appeals has approved the plans and construction is to start at once.



NRA
Approved by the best physicians—the largest selling digestive tablet in America—Bell-ans is perfectly harmless yet gives prompt relief even in severe cases. Six Bell-ans. Hot water. Sure Relief. Since 1892. Trial is proof—25c.
BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

The End of an Air Race With Death

FIVE-MONTH-OLD SUE TRAMMELL'S PELL-MELL ARRIVAL AT BALTIMORE BY AIRPLANE

Nurse Anne Swinson, followed by the child's parents, godmother and uncle, leaving Flier Jimmy Wedell's fast monoplane after its landing in the snow at Baltimore after a speed flight from New Orleans to get tiny Sue to brain specialists expected to be able to save her life.

BABY CHEERFUL AFTER AIR RACE

BALTIMORE, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The operation on little Sue Trammell, the 5-month-old sick baby rushed by airplane from Houston, Tex., to Baltimore, was set for tomorrow at the Johns Hopkins Hospital by Dr. Walter E. Dandy, noted surgeon, today.

The blue-eyed baby, cooing in her crib at the hospital, was described by attendants as appearing bright and showing no indications of pain or suffering. Another child of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Trammel, her parents, died several months ago of the same ailment.

Little Sue, accompanied by her parents, nurse and other relatives, was brought to Baltimore Tuesday night by Jimmy Wedell, famed speed aviator, who flew the 1,400-mile course in 11 hours.

DOGS IN GALE OUTRUN STORK

WONALANCET, N. H., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Holly, a former lead dog for Admiral Byrd, played the role of Balto today, to bring aid to an expectant mother.

Fighting a northeast gale and heavy drifts, Holly and his 10 companions, carried a district nurse 11 miles from Wonalancet to the shadow of Mt. Chocorua, after the woman, Mrs. Milton Ames, had appealed for medical care.

When the necessary attention had been given Mrs. Ames, the dog team returned the nurse to her headquarters here.

The nurse is Miss Beatrice Coots, who came from New York City. The dogs were part of the Chinook Kennels and were driven by Mrs. Eva Seeley.

Despondent Youth Takes Own Life

Wounded in the head by a .22 calibre rifle bullet which police said he had fired himself, Joseph Bozan, 23, of 325 Renova street, died last night in Montefiore Hospital. He was found by his brother, John Bozan, who broke into the young man's locked bedroom after hearing the shot.

Relatives told police Bozan had been ill and despondent.

Porto Rico Autos Halt in Gas Strike

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Motor-driven traffic ceased at noon today throughout the island in a general consumers' strike against the price of gasoline.

WIFE DIES, MAN HURT IN CRASH

An automobile wreck near Zelienople today caused the death of Mrs. Nelle Bish, 51, while her husband, Norman P. Bish, instructor at Westinghouse High School, suffered a possible fracture of the spine.

Mrs. Bish, her husband and their son and daughter, who live at 4480 Rodenbaugh avenue, were en route to Erie and Niagara Falls for a pleasure trip. The car skidded on the icy road and overturned.

Bish has been a history teacher at Westinghouse for the last 14 years. His son, Glenn, 28, the driver, and daughter, Janice, 24, a substitute teacher in the Pittsburgh schools, suffered minor injuries.

Bish was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital here.

ECONOMY URGED BY T. R., JR.

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—Economy—on the part of the nation and the individual citizen as well—spells the secret for permanent happiness in America, in the opinion of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., former Governor General of the Phillipine Islands.

Speaking before the Manufacturers' and Bankers' Club here today, he vigorously advocated the cutting down of huge government expenditures and, declaring that "the silk shirt days are over," urged the individual citizen to pare his expenses down accordingly.

Hungarian Actress Studies Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Sari Fedak, noted Hungarian actress and former wife of Franz Molnar, playwright, arrived here yesterday to "learn about American motion pictures." She said she probably would produce films in Hungary later.

VARNEY'S 'SON' HUNTED HERE

County detectives today were notified over the state police teletype to arrest a man claiming to be a son of the late Senator Varney, of Virginia, wanted in Bloomsburg, Pa., for passing worthless checks.

Under the name of Ralph B. Varney and bearing letters of introduction from the Lieutenant Governor of Virginia and a high official of Pennsylvania, this man is reported to have told Bloomsburg County officials he was searching old county records for material for a book.

After gaining their confidence, he then asked them to cash his checks, according to the report.

Girl, 16, Faces Trial For Kidnap 'Story'

BELAIR, Md., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Formally charged with perjury for her accusations that two Negroes abducted her, Marie Ball, 16, is at liberty under bond of $500 to await the action of the grand jury.

Miss Ball, who later admitted her story was made up to explain why she had been out late, is a sister of the four Ball brothers, noted steeplechase jockeys.

FRANCE OFFERS TO DESTROY BOMBERS

PARIS, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—With a proposal to destroy half of her bombing planes, France offered proof today of the government's determination to push a policy of disarmament within the League of Nations as now constituted.

Provided other nations would agree to do likewise, it was learned on high authority last night, the aircraft would be destroyed immediately upon signing of a disarmament convention now being drafted in consultation with France's allies for submission at Geneva.

Broadly, the proposed disarmament program was described as based upon one formulated at Paris last September in conversations between French and British statesmen.

(Approximately 175 bombers, or about 16 squadrons, would be left in active service should France's present strength of such planes be cut in half, according to available figures.)

Previously the French government had announced formally its decision to refuse to enter into direct talks with Chancellor Hitler regarding Germany's rearmament proposals. Also the cabinet has put its stamp of formal approval upon the stand against Premier Benito Mussolini's proposals for reforming the league.

Britain Ready to Back France On Planes

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—Despite the fact that the recent tendency in Britain's national defense policy is toward a larger air force, the government probably would support a French proposal for scrapping some of the nation's bombing planes.

Such support, however, would be made dependent upon a supervision of civil aviation to prevent a misuse of commercial ships for military purposes.

This was stated in semi-official circles today following reports France would suggest such a step if other nations followed suit and if Germany conformed to the disarmament outline suggested at the recent Anglo-British arms talks in Paris.

Navy Drafts Program For Treaty Fleet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The Navy today shaped plans to win congressional sanction for constructing 102 ships that would bring the fleet to treaty strength by 1939

In their present stage the plans call for requests to Congress to authorize this building and to permit maintaining the fleet at the strength allowed by the London naval agreement or any arms pact to which this country might adhere.

They contemplate for next year two heavy destroyers or destroyer leaders, an eight-inch gun cruiser, two six-inch gun cruisers, 12 destroyers and six submarines. The program would be filled out with an aircraft carrier, three more six-inch gun cruisers, 51 destroyers and 24 submarines.

SHIFT TO SALES TAX CITED BY LEAGUE HEAD

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Discussing radical changes forced upon state governments by the depression, Mabel L. Walker, executive secretary of the General Welfare Tax League, says "perhaps the most spectacular development in state finance has been the impetuous swing to general sales taxes."

In an address for delivery before the annual convention of the American Political Science Association, one of 15 national groups studying the ills of the world, at a joint socio-economic conference, she said the striking changes now taking place in the state governments are "the result of a number of very powerful forces acting upon the legislatures." She added:

"Such forces are the revolt of the taxpayers, particularly of real estate groups; financial distress of municipalities; diminishing state revenues; pressure of the Federal Government for recognition by the states of their responsibility in relieving unemployment, and the pressure of public opinion to the same end.

"Underlying the entire situation, there seems to be an unmistakable trend toward greater centralization of local areas and a greater state control of local units. At the same time the local governments are being drawn closer to Washington.

"It may well be that such local and state centralization as is taking place is an intermediate step that will accelerate rather than prevent a closer relationship between federal and local governments."

Survival of Gold Standard Menaced, Professor Says

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Prof. George F. Warren said today before the American Economic Association meeting that "the gold standard might be unable to survive another unsuccessful world attempt to re-establish it."

The statement was from a paper by Prof. Warren and F. A. Peason, of Cornell University, monetary advisers to the Roosevelt administration. Prof. Warren said:

"Some Americans think that being on gold regardless of the rate is all that is required. They seem to have forgotten our experience from 1929 to February, 1933.

"To set any figure that is to hold for a generation certainly involves a considerable element of risk, both to our prosperity and to the future of the gold standard.

"A proposal to provide some method for making future changes in the price of gold without the necessity of long years of economic distress and political agitation would seem to be a conservative proposal.

"If the gold standard is to have a fair chance for survival, it requires some kind of a safety valve.

"The world gold situation resulted from a change in the world price level in gold compared with the world gold supply.

"It might be expressed as 'too much price' rather than 'too little gold.'

"The only possible corrections are to reduce the whole price and debt structure or reduce the gold content of the gold currencies.

"Apparently the gold-using world must follow the latter procedure."

SURTAX BOOST OPPOSED

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Opposition to further boosts in surtaxes and any taxes that impose further burdens on industry, was voiced last night by Senator Pat Harrison (Dem.), of Mississippi, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

He gave assurances to business that in framing revenue legislation at the next session "every effort will be made to prevent undue hardship."

Richman Brothers
Clothes Makers Since 1879

TUXEDOS
• WITH DRESS VESTS •
$22.50

Richman Brothers Tuxedos are absolutely the last word in fine quality, smart style, perfect fit and sensible economy.

They are made of high grade dress worsted. They are tailored in our own shops by the world's most famous family of needle workers.

They are absolutely authentic in style, and are trimmed with genuine Skinner's Satin. Here is proof conclusive that you get more quality, more style and more value by buying your clothes direct from the people who make them.

Models and sizes for every build ... all $22.50

DRESS OVERCOATS . . $22.50
FULL DRESS COATS . . . $22.50
DRESS TROUSERS $6.00
FULL DRESS VESTS $4.50

Richman Brothers
221-225 Fifth Avenue — Between Wood and Market Streets
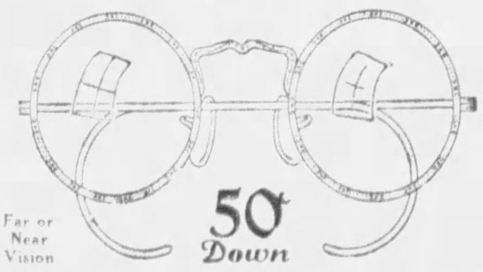
Open Saturday Evenings Until 9 O'Clock
New Castle Store—131 E. Washington Street — Johnstown Store — 538 Main Street
Wheeling Store — 1217-1219 Market Street — Washington Store — Beau and Main Street
Steubenville Store—Fourth and Market Streets

GLASSES on KREDIT

Eye Examinations Our Specialty
Registered Optometrists in Attendance

POPULAR WHITE GOLD FILLED GLASSES



50¢ Down

At All 3 Stores Tomorrow

50¢ Weekly

A sturdy, practical pair of glasses that harmonize with many types of faces. Complete with spherical toric lenses as low as .....

$6.50 COMPLETE WITH LENSES
EXAMINATION INCLUDED

East Liberty Store Open Every Eve. Others Mon., Wed. and Sat. Eves.

KAPPELS
109-107 SIXTH STREET NEXT TO ALVIN
EAST LIBERTY STORE 6103 Penn Avenue (at Highland)
NORTH SIDE STORE 405 Federal Street (Near Sandusky)

DRUG STORES Dow's A B C Sale

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Every Item a big bargain, every item alphabetically arranged for easy selection, every item high quality. Hundreds of other values not included in this Sale. Buy and save at Dow's this week-end.
We Reserve the Right to Limit Quantities

Absorbine, Jr. $1.25 Size 89c
35c Amolin Powder 27c
49c Aspirin 29c
Dow's 5 gr. 100's 29c
$1.50 Agarol Compound 98c
$1.25 Alarm Clock 89c
Lux Model 89c

Bayer's Aspirin 5 gr. 100's 59c
Barbasol 65c Shave Cream 42c
Baume Bengue 75c Size 49c
Beecham 25c Pills 17c

Cutex 35c Nail Polish 31c
Carter's 25c Liver Pills 19c
Cascarets 50c Size 37c
Colgate's 25c Tooth Paste 19c

Danderine $1.00 Hair Tonic 79c
De Witt's 50c Kidney Pills 34c
Djer-Kiss 60c Face Powder 34c

Epsom Salts 65c 5 Pounds 2 for 65c
Edwards 30c Olive Tabs 19c
Eno Salts 75c Size 59c
Exans 60c Depilatory 39c
25c Vanilla Extract 2 ounces 14c

Feenamints 25c Size 19c
Forhan's 60c Tooth Paste 39c
Father John's $1.20 Medicine 83c
Flaxseed, Pound 16c
Flowers Sulphur 10c Size 16c
Fountain Syringe, 2 qts. 43c

Glazo Nail Polish 23c
Glostora 60c Size 39c
Glover's 75c Size 59c

Hill's Cascara Quinine 19c
Hinds' H. & A. Cream 37c
Hinkle Pills 35c Size, 100's 13c

Iodent Tooth Paste 3 for $1.00 34c
Ipana 50c Tooth Paste 34c
Ironized Yeast $1.00 Tablets 69c

Jad Salts 85c Size 49c
Jergen's 50c Lotion 37c
Jock Strops 59c Nuform 39c

Kolynos 50c Tooth Paste 34c
Kleenex 25c Tissues 18c

Listerine $1.00 Antiseptic 59c
Lactogen $2.50 Size $2.29
Lavoris $1.00 Antiseptic 73c

Mellin's Food 90c Size 63c
Marmola $1.00 Tablets 69c
Mello-Glo Face Powder 63c
Midol 50c Tablets 39c

Natures 25c Remedy 19c
Noxzema Boudoir Size 49c
Nujol $1.00 Size 63c

Odorono 60c Deodorant 53c
Ovaltine $1.00 Size 67c

Pond's 35c Creams 23c
Palmolive 50c Shampoo 24c

Rubber Gloves Poinsettia 19c
Renault's Wine Tonic 98c
Rem $1.00 Size 79c

Sal Hepatica 60c Size 39c
Scholl's Zino Pads 32c
Scott's $1.20 Emulsion 79c

Thine Hand Cream 49c
Thoxine 60c Size 43c
Toilet Tissue—Seminole 4 for 25c
25c Tasty-Lax Laxative 17c

Vick's 35c Salve 27c
Vaseline 75c Hair Tonic 63c
$1.25 Veracolate Tablets 98c

Wildroot 50c Shampoo 31c
West 25c Tooth Paste 2 for 35c

Zymole 25c Trokeys 19c
Zonite $1.00 Antiseptic 79c

THE AMERICAN WEEKLY IS ON THE AIR
TUNE IN ON THESE STATIONS:

STATION	LOCATION	DAY	HOUR
WTBG	ALTOONA, PA	TODAY	3:00 P. M.
WKBN	YOUNGSTOWN, O	TODAY	8:15 P. M.
WLBW	ERIE, PA	FRIDAY	9:00 P. M.
WJAC	JOHNSTOWN, PA	FRIDAY	5:15 P. M.
WADC	AKRON, OHIO	FRIDAY	7:45 P. M.
WHBC	CANTON, OHIO	FRIDAY	2:00 P. M.
WAIU	COLUMBUS, OHIO	FRIDAY	7:15 P. M.
WALR	ZANESVILLE, OHIO	FRIDAY	8:00 P. M.
WOBU	CHARLESTON, W. VA.	FRIDAY	5:15 P. M.
WMMN	FAIRMONT, W. VA	SATURDAY	7:00 P. M.
WSAZ	HUNTINGTON, W. VA.	FRIDAY	1:30 P. M.
WWVA	WHEELING, W. VA.	SATURDAY	5:45 P. M.
WCAE	PITTSBURGH, PA.	SATURDAY	7:45 P. M.

"The Broken Coin"

A gripping human drama of the brave sacrifice of a woman of Montmartre who gave up at the very moment of its realization a happiness she had dreamed of for years.
Featuring
FLORENCE MALONE
Radio's Foremost Dramatic Actress
Based on an Article in the
AMERICAN WEEKLY MAGAZINE
Distributed With the
SUNDAY SUN-TELEGRAPH
NEXT SUNDAY

LIABILITY LAW AFFECTS NEW RESIDENTS

The new financial responsibility law for automobile owners and drivers will be effective January 1 in Pennsylvania. The Sun-Telegraph has obtained a resume of the law from the State Department of Revenue and the Pittsburgh Motor Club.

The following is a continuation of a series of questions and answers designed to clarify re requirements:

Q—A person recently moved into Pennsylvania. Prior to his coming here, it was necessary for him to furnish proof of financial responsibility in another state. Would he have to furnish proof of financial responsibility in Pennsylvania before obtaining a license?

A—He would not have to furnish proof in Pennsylvania because of having to do so in another state, but because of an accident and subsequent damages he may come under the provision of Section 8. This section requires proof of financial responsibility due to two or more accidents in twelve months, exceeding $200 in amount of damages. Accidents occurring not only in Pennsylvania but anywhere have to be counted in making up this aggregate of more than $200.

Q—A person has to furnish proof in the case of a certain accident record. Does it make any difference whether or not such person is responsible for accidents for them to be included in his operating record?

A—For the purposes of this Act, an accident record includes only those accidents for which the individual is wholly or partially negligent.

Q—How is this negligence determined?

A—For the purposes of this Act, participation in an accident is prima facie evidence of total or partial negligence.

Q—Is there no way by which an individual can prove that he is not negligent in an accident in which he is involved?

A—An individual may request the Secretary of Revenue to conduct a hearing for the purpose of inquiring into the circumstances surrounding any accident. At such hearing, the Secretary or his representative may find that the operator concerned is not negligent and in that way remove any particular accident from an accident record which would bring him under the provisions of this act.

Q—Can the department question the amount of damages listed on accident reports?

A—The department will be very much interested in reports made concerning damages resulting from accidents and will feel privileged to inquire into any statement concerning extent of the damage. The law provides a penalty of two years' revocation of any operator who knowingly fails to give correct information on accidents. This suspension is mandatory and cannot be lifted at the discretion of the Secretary.

Q—If a judgment is obtained after January 1, 1934, for an accident occurring prior to this date, will that come under the provisions of this act?

A—No, the accident must occur on or subsequent to January 1, 1934.

Q—If a judgment is obtained prior to January 1, 1934, and is not paid within 15 days, this period running into the calendar year of 1934, will the person be affected by this law?

A—No.

Q—If a licensed operator is driving the car of a friend and is involved in an accident, and judgment is obtained against such owner and not against the operator, is the owner required to furnish proof of financial responsibility even though the operator was at fault?

A—Yes, if he wants to enjoy the driving privilege and to continue registration of his car.

Q—If a person has had his operator's license and vehicle registrations suspended as a result of an accident which resulted in a judgment, is it necessary that such judgment be completely satisfied and financial responsibility furnished before these privileges are restored?

A—Yes, within the limits set forth in the Act.

(Continued Tomorrow.)

Furlong Lectures In Carnegie Hall

"The Cold Land of Fire" is the title of the illustrated lecture to be given by Col. Charles Wellington Furlong in the Carnegie Museum Lecture Hall tonight at 8:15. The lecture is free to the public.

Pet Not Returned Girl, 4, Loses Faith in Santa

With Christmas here and gone, 4-year-old Betty Gloeckner's faith in the powers of Santa Claus has been shaken. Betty, the daughter of Mrs. Mary Gloeckner, of 117 Hemlock street, North Side, had hoped St. Nick would present her with the police dog, a family pet, that disappeared on December 12.

The dog is a black and grey female, and answers to the name "Bera." If Betty's pet is returned to her, she won't complain about Santy's delay in answering her request.

WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE

Goldie F. Hilborn, 1401 Grandin avenue, Dormont, granted a divorce by Judge Samuel H Gardner, testified she bought her husband two automobiles and paid for gasoline and tires.

Mrs. Hilborn told the court her husband, Boyd R. Hilborn, quit his jobs and spent much of his time drinking. She conducted a beauty parlor for six years of her married life, she said. Before they separated, he chased her with a revolver, she asserted, and once struck her in the face, knocking her against a refrigerator.

They were married in 1915 when Mrs. Hilborn was 18.

Divorce suits were filed by Hilda Baker against Edward W. Baker, Josephine Palermo against Samuel Palermo and by Florence I. Bush against Ray W. Bush.

ACCUSES WIFE OF 'FRAMING'

Edward M. Woleslagle, Clark street, Wilkinsburg, today had on file in Common Pleas Court an answer to the divorce suit of his wife, Emma G. Woleslagle, Westinghouse avenue, Wilmerding, alleging he was "framed" in a prosecution charging misconduct.

Woleslagle said he was convicted of the charge but that the verdict was set aside by the court. He averred he was "framed" by his wife and a detective, adding:

"I have always conducted myself as a dutiful husband and at no time gave the libelant cause or even suspicion to make such absurd charges as contained in the bill."

He also denied calling his wife vile names, striking, kicking, choking or threatening her. They were married March 31, 1896.

CALLS FOR TOYS FOR NEXT YEAR

R. L. Ehrmann, of the Santa Fellow Workshop, 2966 Espy avenue, said today more than 5,000 toys were collected before Christmas in the South Hills for the Toy Mission. He made further appeal for broken toys, explaining the organization would collect them if notified, and repair them for next Christmas. He said:

"The toys mean a lot to poor children. We wish to thank the children in the Dormont and Mt. Lebanon schools for their many donations."

Do You Walk In Your Sleep?

If You Do, Read What Science Says About These Weird Actions.

Investigations Show That Ordinarily Harmless People Can Commit Murders, Write Scurrilous Letters or Make Long and Dangerous Journeys While Fast Asleep—But Many Other Popular Notions About Somnambulists Are Exploded,

In the

American Weekly Magazine

Distributed With the

SUNDAY SUN-TELEGRAPH

NEXT SUNDAY

Escape from Winter!

GO SOUTH— AMAZING LOW FARES!

18-DAY ROUND TRIP FARES TO

MIAMI $58.35

PALM BEACH . $56.00

NEW ORLEANS $46.10

Proportionally low fares to other resorts

Never in history could you go by train to the sunshine resorts of the South for such low fares. Full season, 30-day and 18-day limit round trip excursions sensationally reduced. TAKE THE TRAIN for Speed—Comfort—Economy.

For full information ask ticket agents

Your automobile can ride on a Railroad Ticket plus two tickets for accompanying passengers.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

SAVE on CLOTHES in the AFTER-CHRISTMAS clearance

1/4 OFF 1/3 OFF 1/2 OFF

Sorry—No Mail or Phone Orders Filled on Any Clearance Item

DRESSES

1/4 OFF

Misses' Wool Dresses. Originally 17.50. Now 13.13

Misses' Wools. Originally 29.75 to 39.75. Now . . . . . 22.32 to 29.82

Women's Crepes, Satins, Velvets. Originally 8.95 to 49.75. Now reduced to . . . . . 6.72 to 37.32

Misses' Formal Evening Gowns. Originally 10.95 to 29.75. Now reduced to . . . . . 8.22 to 22.32

1/3 OFF

Misses' Afternoon Dresses. Orig. $25 to 49.75. Now . . 16.67 to 33.17

Misses' Formal Evening Gowns. Originally 39.75 to 59.75. Now reduced to . . . . . 26.50 to 39.84

Misses' Velvet Dinner Gowns. Orig. 39.75 to 49.75. Now 26.50 to 33.17

Women's Dinner and Formal Gowns. Originally 29.75 to 59.75. Now . . . . . 19.84 to 39.84

1/2 OFF

Misses' Afternoon Dress. Originally 49.75. Now 24.88

Misses' Formal Evening Gowns. Originally 49.75 to 79.75. Now reduced to . . . . . 24.88 to 39.88

FURS

1/4 OFF

Lapin Trotteur Coat. Originally 47.50. Now 35.63

Lapin Swagger Coats. Originally 49.75. Now 37.32

Black Kidskin Coats. Originally $110. Now 82.50

American Broadtail Coats. Originally $110. Now 82.50

American Broadtails. Orig. 129.50 to $169. Now . . . . 97.12 to 126.75

Broadtail Caracul Coat. Originally $495. Now 371.50

1/3 OFF

Somali Leopard trimmed with Fitch. Originally $395. Now 263.35

Plain Leopard. Originally $295. Now 196.67

Leopard trimmed with Fitch. Originally $295. Now 196.67

Leopard Cat trimmed with Beaver. Originally $195. Now $130

Leopard trimmed with Beaver. Originally $295. Now 196.67

Mole Cape. Originally 69.75. Now priced 46.50

Galyak Cape. Originally 79.75. Now 59.87

Entire Stock Muffs 1/4 Off

COATS

1/4 OFF

Trimmed with Kolinsky or Squirrel. Orig. 59.95. Now 44.97

Trimmed with Squirrel. Originally 49.75. Now 37.32

Fitch and Persian Lamb Collars. Originally 89.75. Now 67.32

Luxurious White Badger trimming. Originally 98.50. Now 73.88

Trimmed with Caracul and Fitch. Originally 39.75. Now 29.82

1/3 OFF

Trimmed with Squirrel and Fitch. Originally 39.75. Now 26.50

Trimmed with White Badger. Originally 59.75. Now 39.97

Trimmed with Badger and Natural Squirrel. Orig. 89.75. Now . . . 59.84

1/2 OFF

Plain and trimmed Sports Coats. Originally 19.75. Now 9.88

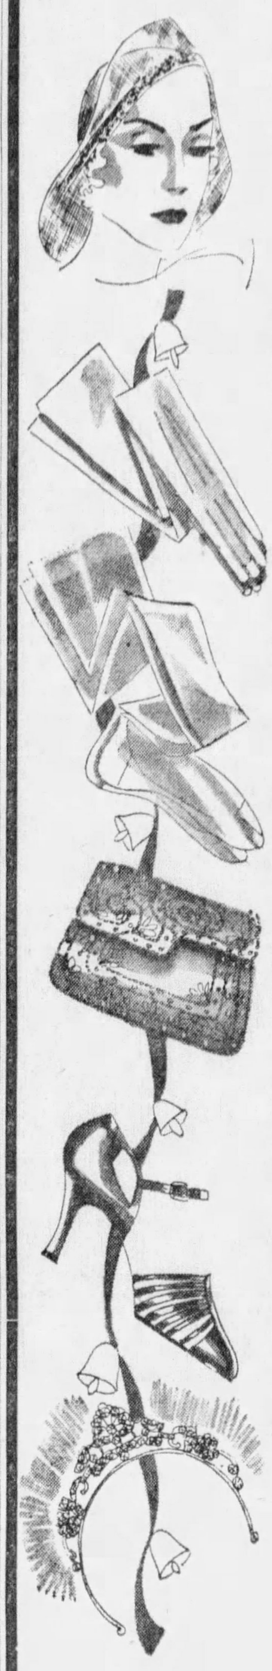
Sports Coats with Raccoon and Beaver. Orig. 39.75. Now 19.88

Trimmed with Fitch. Originally 59.75. Now 29.88

Rabbit's Angora trimmed with Polar Wolf. Orig. 98.50. Now 49.25

GIMBELS . . . FASHION FLOOR . . . THE THIRD

ACCESSORIES TO YOUR NEW YEAR'S EVE CELEBRATION



A Bit of a Hat

To make you ever so much more desirable, Maline—as sheer as nothing at all—with a flung back brim and gleaming sequins 8.50

SECOND FLOOR

Kid Gloves

Elegant 16-button imported white kids, the classic gloves for evening wear. They complement your gowns and fit your hands to perfection 4.98

STREET FLOOR

Dainty, Yet Durable

That's this Finery Chiffon Hose with the pretty jacquard lace top. All-silk from toe to top. Evening shades. 8½ to 10½ . . 1.00

STREET FLOOR

An Evening Bag

An exquisite little pouch of imported faille silk. Embroidered in silver and gold threads and inlaid rhinestones. It's handmade 7.98

Other Evening Bags, $1 up

STREET FLOOR

Gold Slippers

For merry, dancing feet. Dainty sandals with flattering openwork design. Grand with rich purple, red, green, blue or flame gowns 8.75

SECOND FLOOR

Wear a Tiara

A diadem for your hair. This one's immensely flattering, with its glittering rhinestones creating a queenly design. You'll love it! 3.98

Other Tiaras, $1 and up

STREET FLOOR

You know these men!
They're some of the Gimbel salesmen that sell Pittsburgh 23,000 suits a year. You respect their opinion: they know FINE clothes. Read what they say about this unparalleled event
Sensational Gimbel Sale
HYDE PARK MEN'S SUITS
23.75
BEGINS TOMORROW!
$30, $35 and $40 VALUES
Hyde Park Clothes
FOR SMART DRESSERS
1500 SUITS TO SELECT FROM ALL WITH THIS FAMOUS LABEL
THESE MODELS
Two Button Sack
Two Button Peak
Conservative Model's
College Models
English Drape
Double Breasted Sacks
THESE PATTERNS
Pin Checks
Overplaids
Herringbone
Block Stripes
Chalk Stripes
Hounds Tooth Checks
Diagonals
Heather Mixtures
Plaid Materials
THESE FABRICS
Worsteds
Unfinished Worsteds
Worsted Cheviots
Tweeds
Twists
Serges
Every cloth has been rigidly tested for wearing qualities, color, and tensile strength, and guaranteed "EXCELLENT."
THESE COLORS
Grays
Blues
Tans
Browns
Blue Grays
Oxfords
SUITS FOR REGULARS, SHORTS, STOUTS AND LONGS. IN FACT PITTSBURGH'S GREATEST SELECTION
No man is more critical of clothing than the man on the floor . . . the salesman who sells the suits to his friends and customers. When a salesman gets enthusiastic over clothing, and asks you to come in HE MEANS HE HAS SOMETHING SENSATIONAL!
We asked our men to look over these suits before they were tagged. "Guess what they're to sell for," said our buyer. The men examined the suits closely. One said, "At least 42.50." "Suits like these for $42.50? Not on your life," said another. "You mean $40." Not one estimate was less than $40.00. Naturally the buyer was pleased, but not surprised. Hyde Park clothing is usually sold at such prices.
Here's why Pittsburgh can buy these wearing remarkably now at 23.75. This was one of the largest suit orders of the year. Makers all over the country put a bid in on their effort to clinch this deal they clothed named and in their effort to clinch this deal they clothed named prices right and left. When the HYDE PARK people came through with an offer that made possible this value-giving event, we accepted immediately. We know Hyde Park clothing is at four at suits can possibly be made to sell at anywhere near this price.
So if saving money means anything to you . . . a Sensational suit at the price of ordinary clothing, you'll be at Gimbels tomorrow for this event. THE GREATEST VALUE WE HAVE OFFERED YOU IN MEN'S CLOTHING
EXPRESS ELEVATOR DIRECT TO OUR FAMOUS MEN'S SHOP—FIFTH FLOOR
GIMBELS
SHOPPING SERVICE, GRANT 8400

Still going strong

23.75 for $30, $35 and $40

HYDE PARK MEN'S SUITS

This is the ad that started the excitement. Eight Gimbel salesmen certified this clothing as the best values they've seen in years. These men are in the clothing business. They cannot venture their prestige by endorsing clothing unless they're SURE it merits their testimonials. When Fred Kahn, a Gimbel salesman, said, "I've sold hundreds of suits like these for over $40," he meant it. There's no ballyhoo behind this sale. Just cold facts, straight from the shoulder testimonials, and FINE CLOTHING.

Here's more to consider. Only a sensational clothing deal could make such a low price possible on HYDE PARK CLOTHING. We put that deal over. It is our honest opinion . . . judging from our knowledge of what's going on in the clothing market . . . that the next several months will not see a suit sale to compare with this!

MEN'S CLOTHING . . . FIFTH FLOOR

NRA

GIMBELS

SIXTH AVE. AT SMITHFIELD ST. SHOPPING SERVICE GR. 8400—OTHER CALLS AT. 4400

EDITOR NAMED BY CATHOLIC HISTORIANS

History and philosophy were discussed today by leading educators, clergy and laymen attending the opening sessions of two-day conventions of the American Catholic Historical Association and the American Catholic Philosophical Association.

The historical group, holding public sessions in the Hotel William Penn, elected Dr. Michael Williams, former newspaperman and editor of the Commonweal, its president. Dr. Jeremiah C. M. Ford, of Harvard University and editor of Speculum, was named first vice president, and the Rev. Dr. John La Farge, associate editor of America, second vice president.

WOMAN ELECTED

To the executive council were named Mrs. Mary Young Moore, of Los Angeles; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Michael J. Splaine, Boston; Dr. Leo Francis Stock, Washington, Dr. George Hermann Derry, Detroit, and the Rev. Dr. John Hugh O'Donnell, Austin, Tex. Reelected were: Secretary, the Rev. Dr. Peter Guilday; assistant-secretary, the Rev. Dr. George B. Stratemeier, and treasurer, the Rev. Dr. John K. Cartwright, all of Washington.

Dante was disclosed as having anticipated the modern ideas of human perfectibility and historical evolution by the Rev. Gerald Walsh, of Woodstock College. Further discussion of Catholic philosophy of history was given by the Rev. Moorhouse F. X. Millar, of Fordham University, and the Rev. Dr. Patrick J. Barry, Huntington, L. I.

The Rev. Dr. Francis A. Walsh, of the Catholic University, was scheduled to be elected president of the philosophical group, meeting in the Fort Pitt Hotel, at its business session tomorrow.

CALLAHAN TO SPEAK

The general subject, "Philosophy of Society," was discussed at today's opening session of the group. Citing the development of capitalism, the Rev. Dr. John A. Ryan, of Washington, declared leaders today preferred not to accept the principles of economic liberalism. While the principles hold that unlimited production would automatically provide unlimited markets and constant employment, opponents believe that conditions can adjust themselves without the governmental application, he said.

Round-table discussion on social values will be attended by the historical group late today.

A joint annual dinner will be addressed tonight by the Very Rev. J. J. Callahan, president of Duquesne University, who will discuss the philosophy of history and government. Dr. Constantine E. McGuire, of Washington, president of the historical group, will discuss the relation of Christian thought and economic policy. The scope of a real philosophy of society will be the subject of the Rev. Dr. Charles C. Miltner, president of the philosophical group.

INAUGURAL TALK OF M'NAIR ON AIR

Mayor-elect William N. McNair will be sworn in at noon next Monday in the first-floor lobby of the City-County Building. There will be seats for the first-comers, but none will be reserved.

Judge Ambrose B. Reid will administer the oath.

McNair will make a speech, which will be broadcast. He then will move to Council chambers, where he will present for confirmation the names of his cabinet, board of assessors, police magistrates and assistant secretary. If the appointees are confirmed McNair will give them the oath in his own office.

The ceremonies will be simple. John Heinz plans to arrange for the presence of a drum and bugle corps.

CHAIN GROCERY STORE HELD UP

Locking the manager in a cellar, two armed robbers escaped with $139 in cash, a ring valued at $265 and $25 worth of cigarets from a chain grocery store at 401 Forty-fourth street last night.

The bandits threatened Earl Conklin, of 1605 Worthington street, the manager, as he was closing the store. He was compelled to reveal the place where the day's receipts were hidden and then was locked in the cellar. He escaped after being imprisoned an hour.

Permit to Rebuild Dance Hall Denied

A permit for rebuilding of the Palm Garden dance hall at 479 Boggs avenue, Mt. Washington, destroyed by fire in October, 1932, has been denied by the Zoning Board of Appeals. The district is residential and the law provides that where a structure is not replaced within a year after a fire, the property loses any special rights which it may have held from a time prior to the passage of the zoning ordinance.

Socialists to Hear Attorney Margolis

The Socialist and Workmen's Circle Open Forum will meet tomorrow night at 8:30 in the Socialist Center, 1862 Center avenue. Attorney Jacob Margolis will speak on "Is There Danger of Official Anti-Semitism in America."

Here's Mary's New Beau

MARY McCORMIC BERTRAM FRIEDLOB II

Miss McCormic, the opera singer, with her new suitor, 34-year-old retired New York broker who as herself is awaiting a final divorce decree. They'll go to England, be married there later, they plan. This is an International News Photograyh Service picture.

Pittsburgh Declared 'City of Prize Cooks'

Many Women Make Books of Recipes Submitted

Pittsburgh, Prudence Penny believes, should be called "The City of Prize Cooks."

For almost four months housewives have been sending in their favorite recipes to her and in return many have received well-deserved prizes. Through the recipes published daily, many women have been able to compile a cook book such as they could not buy for any sum. Recipes from all nations and for all kinds of dishes have appeared in the prize lists.

Place your name on the roster of Pittsburgh's best cooks by sending in your recipes to Prudence Penny, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. One prize of $5 and 10 prizes of $1 are awarded daily. No recipes will be returned.

Five-Dollar Prize Winner

MRS. C. D. CORP,
Box 5, Rennerdale.
NEW ENGLAND CRACKER PLUM PUDDING

One-half pound common crackers.
One-half box raisins.
One quart milk.
Four eggs.
Three tablespoons molasses.

Alternate crackers and raisins in baking dish. Pour over custard made of milk, eggs and molasses. Bake in a slow oven all day, adding milk at intervals as needed.

In New England we get a small, round cracker that splits in two that we call a common cracker. Butter each half before putting in dish.

Ten $1 Prize Winners

MRS. A. F. WESTON,
1046 Biltmore Avenue, Dormont.
MOCK FRIED OYSTERS

One can codfish cakes.
One tablespoon lemon juice.
One tablespoon melted butter.
One egg.
Corn flakes rolled fine.

Add lemon juice and melted butter to the codfish, pat into shape. Dip in egg, roll in corn flakes and fry in deep fat.

MRS. J. M. McELROY,
1201 Vermon avenue.
FRUIT JUMBLES

Two eggs.
Two cups powdered sugar.
One scant cup butter.
One-half cup milk.
Three and one-half cups flour.
One cup chopped walnuts.
One cup currants.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One teaspoon vanilla.

Cream powdered sugar and butter together, add eggs and beat. Add milk and flour alternately, then add walnuts, currants and vanilla. Lastly add the two teaspoons of baking powder. Drop from spoon and bake in a moderate oven. Remove jumbles from pan and sprinkle a little powdered sugar over top while they are still warm. This makes five or six dozen.

MISS J. SIMPSON,
5112 Rosetta street.

Two cups shelled fresh or drained canned peas.
One cup shelled fresh or drained canned lima beans.
Two pounds neck of lamb.
Four quarts cold water.
One cup pearl barley.
Four small onions, chopped fine.
Two celery stalks, diced.
Few green celery tops or one-half teaspoon celery seed.
Two white turnips, diced.
Four teaspoons salt.
One-half teaspoon pepper.

Save out half of the peas and beans. Combine all other ingredients in a kettle, cover and bring to the boiling point. Simmer gently for two and one-half hours. Then remove all bones and pieces of fat and add the rest of the peas and beans. Cook one-half hour longer. If you want to be truly Scotch, you may add before the cooking starts a small cauliflower shredded, two sliced leeks and one tablespoon minced parsley. Two cupfuls of canned tomatoes may be used in place of two cups of the water, if desired. An equal quantity of oatmeal may also be substituted for the barley. Serves six to eight.

MRS. CAROLINE RIBBEN,
7540 Roslyn street, Swissvale.
CAULIFLOWER SALAD IN RED-PEPPER CASES

Boil a cauliflower until tender, or use one boiled the day before. Separate the flowerets without breaking them too small. Take medium-sized round red peppers, cut a slice from the stem end and scoop out the inside; arrange them on leaves of crisp pale green lettuce, leaves to form a nest around the peppers. Fill the cavity with the cauliflower, stems downward and put on top of each a spoonful of thick mayonnaise. Keep on ice till ready to serve. It is a good plan to put a spoonful of dressing inside the peppers before you put in the cauliflower, then there will be sufficient without putting enough on top to hide the pretty effect of the combination of color in the cauliflower and pepper.

MRS. C. M. KNAPP,
417 Lorenz avenue.
BUTTERSCOTCH TAPIOCA

One quart milk.
Four tablespoons minute tapioca.
Four tablespoons dark brown sugar.
Two eggs.
One teaspoon vanilla.
One pinch salt.
Three tablespoons butter.

Boil the milk, stir in tapioca. Boil slowly for 10 minutes. Beat eggs, add sugar, add the boiled tapioca. Boil two minutes. Brown butter until very dark, stir to prevent burning. Stir into custard and serve cold, plain or with whipped cream. The pudding may be served hot or cold. This makes eight large portions.

MRS. ELLIE BELL,
821 Parkman road, N. W., Warren, O.
LIVER PASTE SANDWICHES

Mock pate de foie gras sandwiches, you can call them if you like, for the paste is made with calf's liver instead of goose livers. To make it, boil or bake until tender one pound liver with three slices onions, two cloves, bit of bay leaf, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and stock or water to cover. Cool the liver in the liquid, drain, put twice through a food chopper, using the fine knife, then rub through a sieve. Mix until very smooth, adding one-third cup butter, stock to moisten, and if you have it one tablespoon or more chopped truffle. (The addition of the truffle makes the paste look and taste more like the imported pate de foie gras.)

Cut the bread in small fancy shapes, spread with creamed butter and with liver paste and garnish with bits of pimiento and green pepper. This paste may be kept in the refrigerator covered with melted butter.

MISS BETTY MACK,
Homestead Valve Manufacturing Company,
P. O. Box H, Coraopolis.
PRUNE DESSERT

One pound prunes.
Two eggs (whites).

Cook prunes till thoroughly done. Remove stones. Add sugar according to taste. Put in baking dish. Beat whites of two eggs to stiff froth, and spread on top of prunes. Bake in oven till brown. Serve with thin cream sauce.

CREAM SAUCE

One pint milk.
Two eggs (yolks).
One teaspoon vanilla.
Two tablespoons sugar.
Two tablespoons cornstarch.

Beat eggs and sugar. Bring milk to boiling point and add egg and sugar mixture. Add cornstarch. Remove from fire and add vanilla. Cool and serve over prunes.

MARY LOUISE BARNES
468 Lincoln avenue, Bellevue
MACARONI TUNA SALAD

One-half pound macaroni.
One can tuna fish.
One-half cup mayonnaise.
One can sifted peas.
One-half cup chopped celery.
One tablespoon lemon juice.

Cook macaroni until tender; drain and chill. Add remaining ingredients; serve on lettuce with French dressing, chopped pimento. Serves four.

MRS. GEORGE H. HERSHBERGER
531 Clearview avenue, Crafton
"A HUNTER'S DELIGHT"
VENISON SPICED POT ROAST

Take five or six pounds from loin, chuck or boned and rolled roast. Soak meat in one part vinegar and about three parts water; enough to cover it well, and leave lay in this for three hours or a little longer does not matter. Then drain off the liquid (but do not rinse) and wipe thoroughly dry with a clean dry cloth. Rub meat all over well with flour. Render three or four pieces of bacon in a heavy cooking kettle, large enough to hold the meat, and slowly brown on all sides of the meat. Place lid on kettle, but be slipping a toothpick between lid and kettle will be just right to leave out a little of the moisture and will keep the meat juicy and outside still will be nice and brown. Cook for two hours on low flame then add one bay leaf, two whole cloves, three small onions, salt to taste and about one cup hot water. Keep on cooking slowly for two hours or until tender. To thicken gravy blend flour with water and add to liquor in the kettle. Serve with a tart jelly as currant or grape, and uncooked cranberry sauce is delicious with venison.

MRS. ELSIE OVER,
489 Biddle Avenue, Wilkinsburg.
LORD BALTIMORE CAKE

Five-eighths cup shortening (part butter for flavor).
One and one-fourth cups sugar.
Six egg yolks.
Two and one-fourth cups cake flour.
Two and one-half teaspoons baking powder.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Three-fourths cup milk.
One teaspoon lemon extract.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.

Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add very well-beaten egg yolks. They should be thick and lemon-colored. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add alternately with the milk. Blend in lemon extract and vanilla. Bake in well-greased and floured layer cake pans for 25 minutes (350 degrees F., moderate oven). Use two round eight-inch layer pans.

ICING AND FILLING

Two and one-half cup sugar.
One teaspoon light corn syrup.
Three-fourths cup water.
One-fourth cup maraschino cherry juice.
Three egg whites.
One-half teaspoon lemon extract.
One-half teaspoon grated orange rind.
One-fourth cup dry macaroon crumbs (four macaroons).
One-fourth cup pecans, toasted and broken.
One-fourth cup almonds, blanched, toasted and broken.
One-fourth cup maraschino cherries, chopped (12 cherries).

Mix together sugar, corn syrup, water and cherry juice. Boil this mixture slowly without stirring until it spins an eight-inch thread, 240 to 242 degrees F. keeping pan covered for first three minutes of cooking to prevent crystals forming on sides of pan. Pour hot syrup slowly over stiffly-beaten egg whites, beating with rotary beater until icing begins to stiffen. Then use spoon or wire whip until mixture is fluffy and will hold its shape. Stir in the lemon extract. Take out about one-third of icing and add to it the grated orange rind, macaroons, pecans, almonds and cherries. Spread as a first filling on each layer of cake. Then cover with some of the plain icing. Put the two layers together and spread remaining plain icing over top and sides of cake.

Man Badly Slashed In Fight in Shanty

Slashed on the face, chest and right hand during a fight in a shanty beneath the north end of the Point Bridge last night, Frank Walker, 30, was reported in serious condition in South Side Hospital today.

Police were searching for Edward Morgan, 33, who lived in the shanty with Walker. He fled after slashing Walker with a butcher knife, police said.

DEMOCRATS SPLIT BY FEUD OVER JOB FOR MALONE

(Continued From Page One.)

pave the way for a dual nomination for William A. Magee, should be head of the Department of Public Works. That suggestion has received no sympathy from the Mayor-elect.

At other points they have received similar rebuffs.

So sharp was the feeling that there was a chance today that no more conferences between McNair and the whole councilmanic bloc would be held. These have been daily and nightly affairs, but sentiment today was that no useful purpose would be served if McNair would not recede from what one participant described as "a dictatorial attitude."

Discussion of Col. William R. Dunlap, present director of the Department of Supplies, as safety director, has not been taken seriously by Guffey or the councilmen-elect. Dunlap's name came into the picture through the suggestion of only one of the clergymen McNair asked to advise with him. The ministerial group continues divided between Malone and John D. Pennington, former prohibition administrator, with the majority favoring the latter.

PRAISED BY M'NAIR

McNair today said he was favorably impressed with Dunlap, years ago. The Mayor-elect complained that people wouldn't take him seriously on the Dnulap subject, and added:

"Why not Dunlap? He is one of the finest men in the city."

Democratic leaders and the councilmen-elect felt that Dunlap's name was something of a smoke screen behind which the drive for Malone would be pushed. They were insistent that the new Democratic administration should not absorb in its higher circles any cabinet men who had been affiliated with the Kline-Herron regime.

Attorney B. B. McGinniss, never in the picture at his own instance, today was reported definitely out as a possibility for Safety Director.

FEW SELECTIONS MADE

Until this place is settled nothing will be done about a head of the Department of Public Works. H. H. Temple, now with the Federal Railroad Co-Ordination Bureau, is a new suggestion for this place.

It is only known definitely now—subject to change at any time—that Cornelius D. Scully has been selected as City Solicitor, Percy Williams as head of the Tax Board and secretary to the Mayor, a temporary arrangement in which he will receive only one salary; James P. Kirk heads the list for City Treasurer, and Dr. Ray P. Moyer has the inside track selected as City Solicitor; Southard Hay as Welfare Director; Percy for Health Director. Scully, Kirk and Hay are regarded as cabinet certainties.

Meanwhile, it developed that First Assistant City Solicitor Thomas M. Benner is likely to be continued in his Law Department post, as assistant to Scully. The Benner holdover will probably be a temporary proposition to provide continuity in the office.

The Rev. Dr. George W. Shelton, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, today explained his opposition to Fred W. Weir for the job of Safety Director.

SEES TROUBLES

Dr. Shelton yesterday predicted that if McNair appointed Weir, Weir's troubles would have just begun. He explained:

"My point is that if a man as inexperienced in police affairs as Mr. Weir enters the Department of Safety, he is going to have great trouble mastering the job. And also, of course, we do want a man with no political debts to pay or machine to serve. Pennington fills both qualifications."

Attorney Harold Obernauer, who had been urged on McNair for consideration as judge of the Morals Court, today said he would be unable to accept the place. He added that he had talked with McNair, and the tender had been made, but that his private business was too pressing, wherefore he declined.

As to the presidency of Council, an impending fight may be averted by slating Councilman-elect Huston for the important chairmanship of the Finance Committee.

Attorney Theodore L. Moritz is expected to be named assistant secretary to McNair.

Orders for Puritan turkeys taken until Saturday Noon

Fish for Friday
Fresh Fillets Haddock, lb. 18c

Only the freshest of fresh fish could look as nice as these thick, meaty fillets and they taste just as good as they look.

Fresh Roe Shad, lb. 39c

Ready to serve
Fried Baby Whitefish, lb. 29c

You can serve a fish dinner without the bother of frying it and smelling up the house. Just heat this Baby Whitefish and it's ready to serve.

Tartar Sauce, 8-oz. jar 19c

Rich Mild Cheese, lb. 19c

If you like your cheese mildly flavored come to McCanns for this rich cream cheese. And look at the low price.

Freshly roasted and freshly ground
Favorite Coffee
3-lb. pkg. 50c

Your nose will tell you Favorite is fresh when you open the package. And boy, what your taste will tell you. A very good coffee value.

lb. 27c

freshly dressed for New Years

Why not enjoy another Puritan Turkey on New Years? You know how delicious that one was you had for Christmas and now is the time to eat turkey. The season's short and even now turkeys are not plentiful. We have a nice lot, freshly dressed for New Year Dinners. Let us duplicate your Christmas order. Telephone NOW and we'll lay aside just the size turkey you want. No waiting when you call for it. No disappointments. And a New Year's dinner the equal of Christmas.

PURITAN TURKEYS ARE GUARANTEED
Ducks, Geese and Stewing Chickens . . . lb. 25c
Roasting Chickens . . . lb. 28c

For Sunday's breakfast take a
Pecan Roll
with orange blossom honey and lots of pecans
ea. 35c

The breakfast roll deluxe—six big portions and no skimping on honey or pecans. Preferred for breakfast but some folk like them as a dessert with a cup of good coffee.

Dignity Brand Whole peeled
Apricots
5 No. 2½ cans $1

The canned fruit deluxe—these whole, peeled apricots. Center them in a salad or serve icy cold just as they come from the can.

McCanns Butter
still selling at this low December price . . .
3 lbs. 73c

Don't skimp on McCanns butter these days. It's rich in the sunshine vitamin and the price is an extraordinary one for December.

Fresh Eggs, 3 doz. $1

Small, lean and tender
Pork Loins
Buy a whole or half pound 13c

If it's a tradition in your family to serve pork on New Year's Day you'll want one of these little six to eight-pound pork loins cut from young pigs. The meat will be exceptionally tender—fall away from the bones at the touch of a fork.

Skinned Hams . lb. 15c

That famous Super Brand noted for its mild flavor. Boil a whole or half and make cold cuts for the New Year's Eve party.

Shopping List of New Year Needs

Reymers Chocolates 2-lb. box $1
Packed in attractive tin box.
Queen Olives . . . . . pt. 20c
From the original cask. Meaty ones.
Fresh Dates . . . . . pkg. 29c
Desert Gold from California.
Fancy Swiss Cheese lb. 35c
From Wisconsin. Sliced, pound 39c.
Alpinette Gruyere . 2 pkgs. 49c
Six portions. Keep indefinitely.
Blue Cheese . . . . . lb. 49c
From Denmark. Similar to Roquefort.
Fresh Shrimp Meat. . . . lb. 45c
Ready to serve. Boiled fresh.
Fresh Lobster Meat. . . lb. 75c
Lumps. For salads and cocktails.
Assorted Cold Cuts. . . lb. 48c
Ten favorite varieties. No waste.
Braunschweiger . . . . . lb. 35c
From Milwaukee. Creamy . . . delicious.
Frankfurters . . . . . lb. 25c
Nice plump ones. For New Year's.
New Year Pretzels. . . . ea. 25c
A huge coffee-cake Pretzel for New Year's breakfast.
Pumpkin Pies . . . . . ea. 29c
Big, custardy ones. Cut six pieces.
Layer Cakes. . . . . ea. 45c
Caramel, Betty Crocker and cocoanut.
Rye Bread . . . . . loaf 12c
Bohemian style with or without seeds.

Broccoli
2 large bunches 29c

If you like cabbage you'll like Broccoli better. It has a mild cabbage flavor and it's very tender. Season with butter or serve with Hollandaise Sauce.

Iceberg Lettuce . . 2 hds. 23c
Extra large heads and good all the way through.
Celery Hearts . . 2 bnchs. 25c
Washed clean and chilled. No waste.
Fresh Spinach . . 2 lbs. 15c
Washed and chilled. Extra nice.
Hot House Rhubarb, 3 bnchs. 29c
Won't rhubarb sauce be a treat!
Jersey Sweets . . 4 lbs. 19c
Serve them with roast pork.

Court 5100 McCANNS Hiland 8400

Make This at Home

Perfect for Printed Cottons

Pattern 1670

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

This delightful frock is trim enough to wear all through your busy day—comfortable while doing the "chores"—attractive to wear when you receive guests informally. The clever neckline is new—with ruffling to outline the double drop shoulder effect, and a crisp tab of contrast held in place with a large colored button. A center pleat lends animation and freedom to the skirt. Cottons, that tub and wear forever, are just the thing. Choose a gay flowered print, a check, dot or stripe, with white for contrast—and you'll have a dream of a frock.

Pattern 1670 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3⅛ yards 36-inch fabric and ⅝ yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send 15 CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

THE CURRENT EDITION OF THE PATTERN BOOK WILL HELP YOU SAVE MONEY. ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY! PRICE OF CATALOG 15 CENTS. CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER, 25 CENTS.

Address orders to Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

1.—Enclose 15 cents in coins.
2.—Write clearly NUMBERS of patterns and SIZE wanted.
3.—Write or print your NAME and ADDRESS plainly.
4.—If you want SUN-TELEGRAPH Style Book send 10c extra.
5.—Address your request to the PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH PATTERN DEPARTMENT, 243 West 17th St. New York City.

STREET LIGHT CONTRACT LET

Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang announced today that the incandescent gas street lighting contract for 1934 has been awarded to the Sunlight Illuminating Company for $52,000. Under the terms of the contract the contractor will replace 25 per cent of the lights every three months with electric lamps. By the end of the year, therefore, all of the city's gas lights, approximately 3,100, will have been eliminated.

The Building Owners' and Managers' Association urged during the recent budget sessions that the change be made for efficiency and economy.

Settlement Sets Arabian Nights Tale

The wonderful lamp of Aladdin will perform its feats of magic on the stage of the Children's Theater at the Irene Kaufmann Settlement on Sunday night. With Simon Gerson playing the part of Aladdin, the dramatization of the Arabian Nights tale will be presented for the second time this season.

The drama, with 40 children from the settlement in the cast, will be presented in seven scenes. It is under the direction of Miss Ruth Grafman and Miss Esther Nighbert.

Sunday Benefit Show Planned by Group

The Men's Club of Congregation Chofetz Chaim will give a benefit movie at the Schenley Theater Sunday night, January 7. In addition there will be a stage show featuring Mamie Barth and her troupe, a 14-piece orchestra and other entertainers. Milton Steinsapir is general chairman of the affair.

How Students Are Working Their Way Through College!

Young Hager's Cow "Diana" Is Paying His Tuition at McPherson College, Miss Doris Allsup's Preserved Pickles Pay the Costs at Texas Women's College, and the Reed Girls Shine Shoes for Their Higher Education.

Read This Article in the American Weekly Magazine

Distributed With the SUNDAY

Sun-Telegraph

NEXT SUNDAY

The GULF COAST and NEW ORLEANS

"The Riviera of America", long one of the world's most charming winter vacation lands, embracing western Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, and eastern Louisiana, affords every attraction to the winter holiday seeker. Fishing, boating, hunting, world famed creole cooking, golf at its finest on splendid grass-green courses, all coupled with historic sights and scenes to be found in no other section of our country. A land of history, of mystery and of romance, it is easily, quickly, comfortably and economically reached by the splendid through trains of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to which have been recently added on The Pan-American, the newest type of comfortable, revolving adjustable-seat chair cars in which there is no extra charge.

Plan to Visit New Orleans

Enjoy roaming through the quaint old French quarter with its historic and beautiful monuments, buildings and other things of interest, and just across the street from the modern city, America's second port where hustle and bustle are in such contrast with the atmosphere below Canal Street. Fine hotels at moderate prices and a long season of high class thoroughbred racing. You will enjoy your stay in New Orleans, and the historic Mardi Gras celebration Feb. 8-13.

The Sun Route to California

Shake hands with the sun the day after you start your trip and follow its trail through the historically interesting South and the gateway of New Orleans to California. Liberal stopover privileges on the Gulf Coast and in New Orleans.

Let us help you plan your winter holiday. Ask us for booklets about the Gulf Coast, New Orleans and California.

The Pan-American
NO EXTRA FARE

An all-steel train with the added comforts of club lounge car, large observation room and radio, has most convenient departure times from Cincinnati or Louisville with arrival in the land of sunshine early the next morning.

G. U. YAGER, Traveling Passenger Agent, 527 Henry W. Oliver Bldg., Phone Atlantic 2605, Pittsburgh, Pa. G33 1C

Special round trip fares now in effect; attractive cruises from New Orleans to the golden Caribbean, Central and South America. Ask about all-expense tours to the Gulf Coast and New Orleans.

Drastic Reduction in rail fares this winter.

L&N

Louisville & Nashville R. R.

JOSEPH HORNE CO

REGULAR STORE HOURS—9 A. M. TO 5:30 P. M.

Festive Accessories

FOR NEW YEAR FESTIVITIES . . .

TEA-TIME HATS

New Year's teas . . . ankle-length frocks . . . tiny hats with veils topping the picture. Caps and turbans of dull uncut velvet, belting ribbon or straw cloth, youthful models and styles for women who aim to "keep young and beautiful."

In rhinestone-clipped or metal-beaded black; perfect with the new demure-sophisticated black-and-white frocks; also to be had in shades of green, brown and rust. $5.00

. . . Horne's, Millinery Salons, Fourth Floor . . .

Have You—

Christmas-Gift Money to Invest?

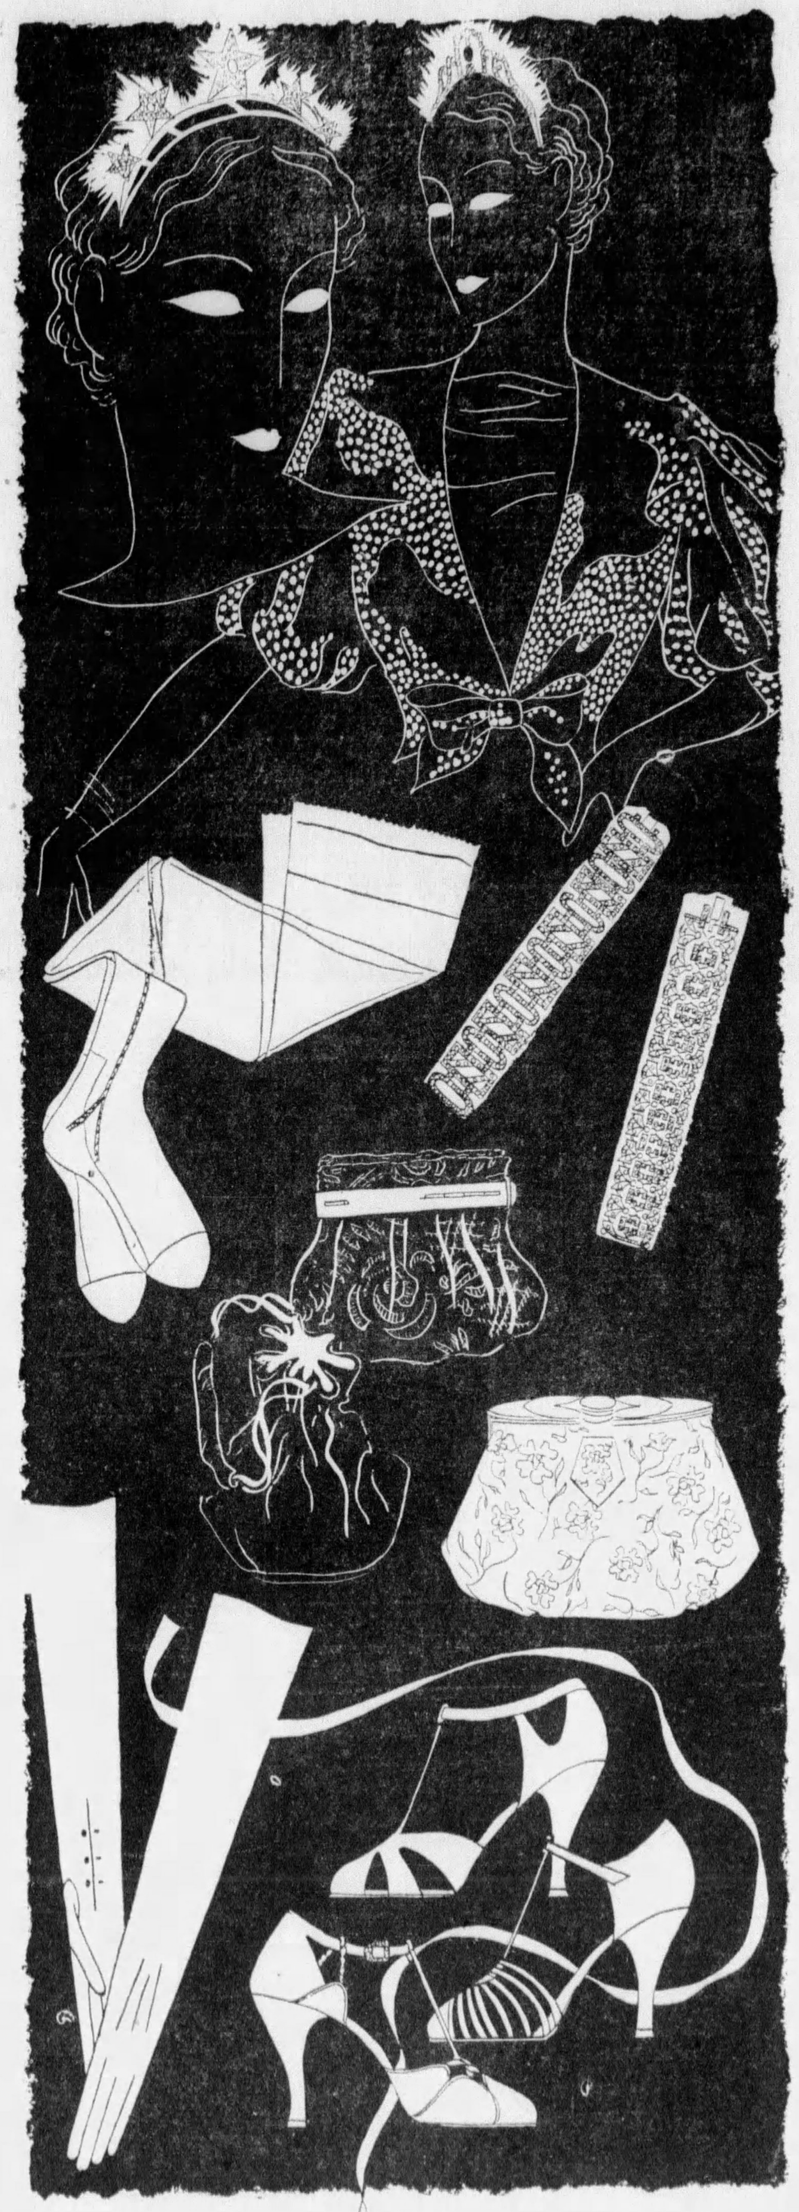
Been Promised a Fur Coat to Take Back to College?

Ever Expected to Find a Handsome Fur Coat for so Little?

Lapin Swaggers, $38

This is the second encore for the "smoothies"—fine, silky lapin coats, which have been a sell-out on two previous occasions . . . In the chic model sketched, with smart swirl collar, extremely full sweep, and full forty-one-inch length. Lustrous black or nutria shade . . . Sizes 14 to 20.

. . . Horne's, Fur Salon, Second Floor . . .



JEWELS FOR YOUR HAIR

Tiaras to add still more gleam to lovely curls . . . rhinestones, colored stones, etc.—set in metals or compositions—with an air as demure, or as regal as a maid may prefer. $1.00 to $20

SEQUIN JACKETS

Give your gowns an entirely new aspect with little jackets or capes of "spangles"—silver on black, gold on white, and silver on white, and white net. $5.50 to $22

Stunning new lame' and metal cloth jackets, buttoned high at the neck, are $7 to $13.50

RHINESTONE BRACELETS

Wide "cuffs" of light—these beautiful link bracelets of hundreds of sparkling rhinestones set in non-tarnishing metal. Wear several on each arm. $5.00

PARTY BAGS

From charming little velvet draw-string "money bags" to elegant affairs of cloth-of-gold with handsome metal frames . . . a variety that includes sequins, beads, lame', metal brocades to suit your gowns. $3.00

SANDALS ALL! ! ! !

It's a sandal season! From a Grecian grouping of braided bands to an almost-built-up model any matron can wear, evening shoes follow the sandal formula.

Satin and pebble crepe sandal with rhinestone-studded buckle. $7.50

Faille silk with a delicate tracery of silver threads. $10.50

Satin with wide overlapping petals and gold-and-silver kid braided strap. $14.50

All these sandals in white, which may be tinted any desired shade.

. . . Horne's, Fourth Floor . . .

PROPPER STOCKINGS

Are as sheer as cobwebs . . . 57-gauge, 2-thread ingrain chiffons to wear with this season's beautiful slippers. In afternoon and evening shades, $2.95. With lace clocks, $2.50

LONG KID GLOVES

Always the classic evening gloves—these lovely 12 and 16-button length white kid gloves that have such an air of grace and dignity. $5.00

. . . The Floor of Smart Accessories, Main Floor . . .

TELL IT TO ELSIE

Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Flirtatious Men Will Be Doubtful Husbands

How about flirts—male or female?

Would you marry one?

Is flirting just a harmless amusement—something Peg should cheerfully overlook in the Boy Friend—or is it cheap and vulgar, and has she a right to be disgusted with him when he does it?

Maybe you married a Big Boy like Joe, yourself.

If so, what happened?

Dear Elsie Robinson—

I am coming to you because I feel that you have seen enough of life to put me right on something that is causing arguments between me and the boy I have promised to marry.

He is pretty good-looking, and has a "way" with girls. They give him the glad eye a good deal of the time, and that seems to flatter him. I didn't pay a great deal of attention to that before I was engaged to him. We all went around in a crowd, and for a long time I really didn't take him seriously. Maybe that was why he paid me so much attention then, and didn't notice the other girls so much.

Well, anyway, I guess I felt flattered, too, when so popular a fellow singled me out for most of his notice. So I finally began to go steady with him—and so long as we weren't engaged I really didn't feel like I had strings on him, so I didn't get mad when a lot of girls flocked around him and he kidded them, or when he "went for" some new girl for the evening.

But now it is different. I have begun to think about it all seriously. And the habit of flirting seems to be growing on him.

IS HUMILIATED

He is getting so that when we walk down the street he will notice some pretty girl, catch her eye and give her a big smile. And if we go out in the evening, he just practically parks me and circulates around, kidding this one and that one, and even kissing them sometimes, if he thinks I am not where I can see him.

I have tried to talk to him about this, and to tell him how it humiliates me. But he won't pay any attention to me. He just gives me one of his big, sweet smiles, and says, "Why, honey, you're just being ridiculous! I am just amusing myself. I don't mean anything by it. You know I love you. Kidding the other girls is just harmless fun. You know you can always depend on me to be true to you."

But that is just what I don't know.

If he really did love me, would he act like that?

And supposing he does love me, and still acts that way, how about the way I feel? Am I silly to be humiliated and hurt? To feel that he is being cheap and vulgar? Would you marry him, if you were in my place, when he treats me that way?

PEG.

FUTURE DOUBTFUL

Would I marry him? No, youngster, I wouldn't.

He may be as "innocent" as he claims to be. He might never be actually unfaithful, and his flirtations may be simply a "harmless" gratification of his silliness and conceit.

But if he's like that, what sort of a lifelong companion would he make?

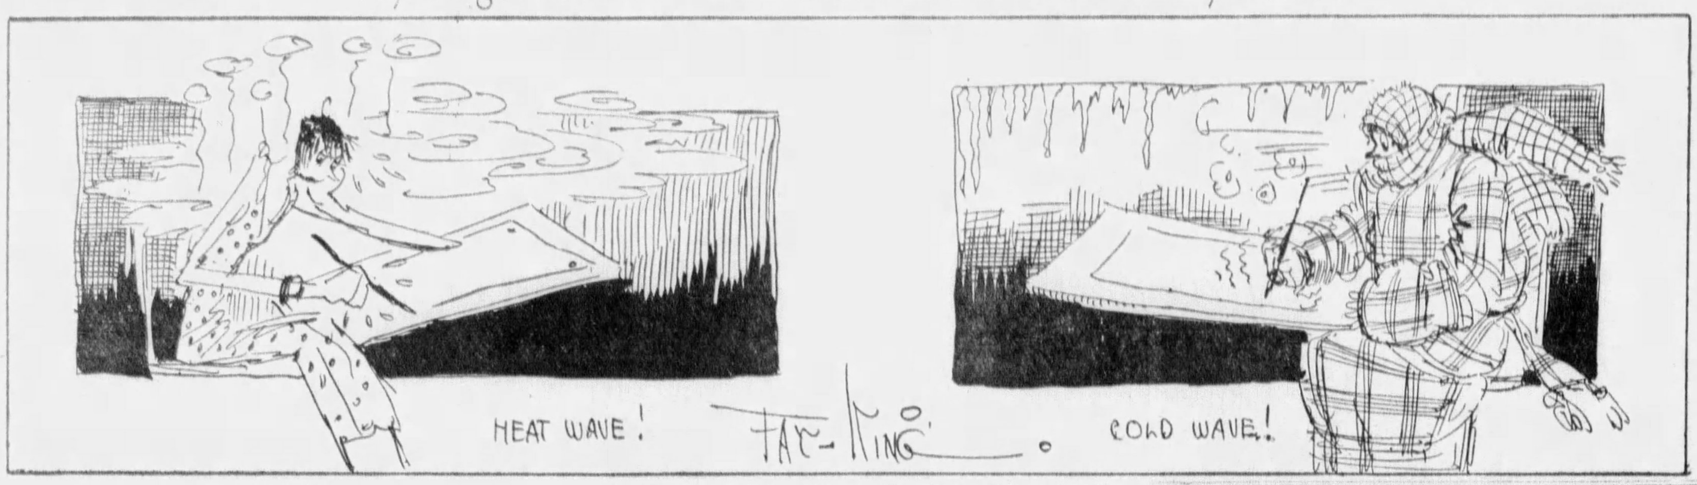
If such are his ideas of "amusement," how much could you depend on him when the inevitable hard times come—or when the children arrive?

No, Peg, if you've got to go in for nitwit live stock, don't marry it—buy a parrot or a monkey instead. A husband must be a man, not just a perambulating grin.

So sit down and talk turkey. Show him this article. Ask him if he can or can't snap out of it; if he has or hasn't any more mature ideas of good sport than Smiling Pretty for the Ladies.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Fay King Finds Weather Waves Hard to Ride in Any Season



By FAY KING

Heat waves! Cold waves!

And what a wretched sailor am I on these waves of weather!

In summer when the high heat waves come, I'm all in a heap; limp, wilted and melted. My damp hand stuck to my drawing paper, I fall asleep at the board. The ink doesn't dry and I smudge my work erasing the pencil lines too soon.

Comes winter, and the cold waves! Bundled up like an Egyptian mummy I can't bend a frozen finger. My drawing paper seems like the great ice barrier in the Ross Sea of the Antarctic. Every line is like a dash for the pole.

In the summer I long for a nice cold wave, and now I long for the heat waves!

(Copyright, 1933, by Daily Mirror.)

Given in Marriage

A Sequel to Heart Of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

'Army' Takes the Field as Avis Arrives

I was watching Avis Arlen so closely that I was able to catch the look of chagrin—of angry frustration, rather—that swept across her face when I told her that she would dress where she was going to sleep—in my room.

"Jim already has taken your bags upstairs," I told her, for I had seen Jim appear around the corner of the house as the car drew up, and had heard Dicky's directions to him. "I have cleared off the right side of my dressing table for you, and there are plenty of extra hangers in the closet on the right side. I'll be up in a minute."

"Oh, please don't bother," she pleaded. "I know I shall be so comfortable, except that I'm miserable at putting you out so. I'd much rather you'd hang me up on a nail somewhere."

"Sorry," I said, smiling, "but I really haven't one handy. It is much less trouble to share my room with you. I am sure we shall get along famously. Run along now, and I'll see that there's something hot for you to eat and drink when you come down."

She paused on the bottom step of the staircase and looked into the living room.

"I don't see No-el—and Mary," she said plaintively.

"Did you expect to see them?" Marion asked lightly. "If you did, I'm going to hand you a medal for being an incurable optimist. There's only one way we ever get a glimpse of them, and that is to appoint a committee to drag them out of whatever secluded nook they've chosen at that particular moment."

AVIS CALM

"They're just hopeless saps," Carolyn contributed, and I thought I detected in her voice a mischievous gloating over the probable effect upon Avis of her graphic comment. "They're sunk without a trace. When we want 'em for anything, we just go and get 'em and move 'em around as if they were pawns upon a chessboard. They spend all their time holding hands and looking into each other's eyes when they're not in a clinch. It's my private opinion, they won't know it's time for the ceremony unless somebody grabs 'em and gets 'em into their wedding garments."

But Avis was proof against that sort of thing.

"Oh, lovely fun!" she gurgled.

The voices of the girls died away on the upper landing, and as I turned to go to the kitchen I saw Ronald and Bob going through a burlesqued ceremony of bidding each other goodby, as if they were undertaking some dangerous venture. As they saw me, they wheeled, clicked their heels together and flung up their right hands.

"We, who are about to go absolutely haywire, salute you," they paraphrased, and with a smile at their nonsense I went out to the kitchen to give directions to Katie for preparing a hurried supper for Avis.

SWEETHEARTS APPEAR

There was a knowing smirk upon my little maid's face, which was explained a second later when Noel and Mary emerged from the screened-off alcove in which Katie and Jim eat their meals.

"Katie's a life-saver," Noel said, with a grateful look at the queen of our kitchen. "This is the only place in the house where Mary and I can have two minutes to ourselves without being interrupted."

"Yah!" Katie agreed largely. "Me, I vas young too, vunce, already yet, und I know vat young tings vant."

"You bet you do, Katie, dear," Mary said, giving her a careless hug as she came up to me. "How goes it, Auntie Madge? Has the blonde menace arrived yet?"

She punctuated the words with a coquettish glance at Noel, and he rose to the bait.

"Where do you get that stuff, menace?" he asked, and Mary beamed delightedly.

"But she thinks she is, you know, darling," she said, "and doesn't the Bible say something about 'as a woman thinketh, so is she'? Isn't that so, Auntie Madge?"

(Continued Tomorrow)

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Second-Hand 'Invitations'

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1—A young man has invited me to the wedding dinner and reception of his brother. I do not know the groom or his bride. Would it be proper for me to send a gift, even though I do not know them? They are to be married in a priest's home and no one will be invited to the marriage ceremony and no formal invitations for the dinner are to be sent out.

2—If it is proper to send a gift, what would you suggest. You see, the gift will be from me alone. The boy who has invited me is an old schoolmate, and though I have gone out several times with him, there is absolutely nothing serious between us—just friends. S.

1—This seems like a too-casual invitation for you to accept, that is, an invitation for such an important and intimate party given to you in such an off-hand way. You really should; if you are considering going to this wedding dinner, suggest to your friend that you would feel much happier and more comfortable if he asked the hosts of the party (the mother and father of his brother's fiancee) to write you or telephone you that they would like to have you come to the dinner. You should definitely be invited by the hosts. This would be true even if you were engaged to this young man, and certainly would be true in the circumstances of the friendship as you describe it. I am sure that these people would be surprised to have you accept such an indirect invitation, and they will (you may be sure of this) admire you for insisting on a direct invitation. The fact that "no formal invitations are to be sent out" doesn't change this suggestion . . . it is the fact of the direct invitation, whether formal or informal.

2—Something in linen would be a good gift . . . a luncheon or breakfast or tea set, preferably monogrammed. Or a set of salad plates or dessert plates. Or a vase, of crystal or silver or pottery. Or a good-looking cigaret box.

Don't Take Her Arm

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Will you please tell me if it is proper for a gentleman to take a lady's arm while crossing a street, or if he should assist her only while stepping off and on to the curb? C.

It's correct, and helpful, for the man to put his hand gently but firmly, under the lady's elbow, and so to guide her in crossing the street and through crowds. It isn't permissible, ever, for a man to take a woman's arm.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Contract Bridge

HOW TO PLAY and HOW TO WIN

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

The Play of the Hand

It is not enough in Contract Bridge to bid your hands with precision and accuracy. Many hands not only require precision in the bidding, but, to assure the fulfillment of the contract undertaken, equally require precision in play. When the Declarer who has undertaken a Grand Slam contract is faced with the lead of a suit bid by his partner, which is obviously marked as a singleton, he at least has the satisfaction of knowing that the leader of the singleton must possess one or more trumps, as otherwise a singleton would be worse than useless as an effort to defeat the contract. This information, while it may not assist in the making of the contract, should at least be of value in determining partially the distribution of the adverse trumps. When the Declarer has a total of eight trumps, four of which are in each hand, there remain five, of course, outstanding. These may be distributed either 5-0, 4-1 or 3-2, with either adversary holding the lion's share. Naturally, if it is a Grand Slam contract and one opponent holds five trumps while neither the Declarer nor his partner holds more than four, the occasions would be rare, indeed, when the opponents could be prevented from winning one trump-trick, but with any other distribution of the trump suit and sufficient top cards, the efforts of adversaries to win a trick with a trump may be forestalled.

In the hand below, Mr. Ray Duggan, of Jackson Heights, L. I., N. Y., with his partner reached a Grand Slam contract in hearts.

North, Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ — ♡ A J 10 8 ◇ 8 7 ♣ A K J 8 6 4 3
♠ K Q 10 9 4 ♡ 9 4 3 2 ◇ Q J 3 ♣ 2	West	♠ J 6 5 3 2 ♡ 5 ◇ K 10 2 ♣ Q 10 7 5
	South
	♠ A 8 7 ♡ K Q 7 6 ◇ A 9 6 5 4 ♣ 9

The bidding is not very material. North opened with a bid of one club, to which South responded with one diamond, and when North rebid the clubs, South then bid hearts and the bidding continued until a Grand Slam was reached, which West upon the the basis of the King-Queen of spades and his honors in diamonds, as well as his four trumps, rather unwisely doubled, and North redoubled.

West chose as his Opening lead the club deuce. This trick was won in Dummy with the Ace, and Mr. Duggan then prepared his plan of play. The Double, as well as the lead, indicated some trump strength in the West hand, and the club lead disclosed that some work was necessary to assure the winning of all the tricks.

A small club was returned and ruffed with the King. The Dummy was now re-entered with the lead of the six of trumps, which was won with an honor. The second small club was then led and ruffed with the remaining honor in the Declarer's hand. Mr. Duggan could see the certainty of fulfilling his contract if, as he felt sure, West held the heart nine. The heart finesse was now taken, and when it held, West's two hearts were picked up, the remaining clubs cashed, and the last two tricks won with the diamond and spade Ace in the Declarer's hand.

The hand illustrates another point, and that is the unwisdom of doubling high contracts with doubtful holdings. It is extremely questionable as to whether South would have adopted the line of play actually followed were it not for West's illuminating Double. While it was by no means certain that he held the nine of trumps, it did appear a reasonable assumption that he held at least four in addition to the spade King-Queen to cause him to think that the Grand Slam Double was worthwhile. When East played on the first round of hearts the five, the Declarer must have had some qualms about continuing the line of play he had decided upon when the Opening lead was made, but fortunately for him his deductions as to distribution proved accurate and his plan of play succeeded.

Today's Question

♤ A 8 6 5 4

	North
West		East
	South

♤ K J 9 7

South is playing notrump. Dummy has no re-entry card and is in the lead. How should the diamond suit be played?

Answer: Lead the Ace to prevent the Queen single making in West's hand and on it play the nine from South to unblock the suit. If both adversaries follow and the Queen does not fall, lead the four and play the King from South.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Regularity in Habits Healthy

Failure of elimination is one of the penalties of modern civilization. We are constantly pointing out that lack of exercise, high pressure living, faulty posture, improper food and lack of personal hygiene, are factors that lead to constipation. The cause must not be overlooked in looking to treatment and prevention.

Dr. Copeland

In most instances the cause of this common disorder can be traced to neglect of proper personal habits. Regardless of age or the circumstances under which we live, constipation will ultimately result if nature's call is persistently disregarded. It has been shown repeatedly that children who are taught regular habits at an early age do not suffer from this trouble. But it is easy to acquire faulty habits and always difficult to correct them. Once faulty elimination has become the rule, it is exceedingly difficult to overcome.

It is only by strong effort that this stubborn disease becomes curable. I call it a "disease," because those who suffer from chronic failure of elimination are subject to infections and constitutional disturbances that are not found in individuals who are normal in their habit. No one will deny that constipation is a stumbling block to good health.

The victim of this common disorder complains of lack of "pep." He suffers from mental disturbances as well. Many an individual who is constantly "cranky," easily irritated and hard to please, is a sufferer from the effects of constipation. Faulty digestion, high blood pressure, liver and gall bladder disturbances, are often traced to this cause.

Do not overlook diet, exercise, proper chewing of food and the rules of hygienic living. They are vital and necessary for the promotion of proper elimination. These are important factors. Haste, neglect and indifference lead to difficulties that are avoidable.

May I warn my readers against the uses of so-called "constipation medicines." These medicines are disguised laxatives. They serve their purpose for a short time, but eventually they do harm and fail to produce the desired effect. Certainly, they never cure the disturbance.

The diet should include an abundant supply of fresh fruits and vegetables. Foods that have a natural laxative action, such as prunes, apricots, figs and bran, are beneficial. It is often advisable to substitute bran rye and whole wheat bread for white bread. Yeast plays its helpful part.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

LAST TIMES TODAY and TOMORROW

A musical extravaganza of rhythm and romance with the screen's loveliest, liveliest comedienne and radio's ace of melody—crooning—clowning and capturing your heart

Marion DAVIES

GOING HOLLYWOOD

Bing CROSBY

FIFI D'ORSAY - STUART ERWIN
NED SPARKS - PATSY KELLY
3 RADIO ROGUES
Directed by RAOUL WALSH
Produced by WALTER WANGER

LOEW'S United Artists

PENN

6 Great Melody Hits by NACIO BROWN and ARTHUR FREED

A Cosmopolitan Production

A METRO-Goldwyn-MAYER Picture

DOWNSTAIRS at HORNE'S

SALE!

Jackson Shoes for Children

$1.58

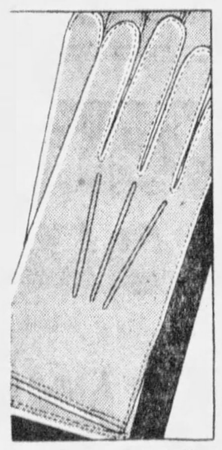
A splendid shoe for school or play, which mothers will like because of their dependability and serviceability. And those who watch their budgets will be delighted with the low price! Of fine quality Tan Elk, Black Calf and Patent Colt, with long-wearing leather soles.

Sizes 8½ to 2

Joseph Horne Co., DOWNSTAIRS

Warmly-lined Men's Gloves

$1.68



A timely presentation of men's lined Brown Capeskin Gloves of a finer grade than you would ordinarily expect at this low price. Some wool-knit lined, Some fur-lined, some lamb's wool lined. Sizes 7½ to 10½.

Boys' Gloves, 78c

Fleece lined Brown Capeskin Gloves for Boys 6 to 16 years. Priced unusually low.

Joseph Horne Co., DOWNSTAIRS

Keep Warm With Flannelette Gowns

58c

Offered to you now when you need them most. Choose from plain white, pink, peach or pink-and-blue stripes. Sizes 16 and 17.

Flannelette Pajamas, $1

Amoskeag Flannelette Pajamas in regular and extra sizes. Pastel shades of Pink, Peach, Blue. Sizes 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20.

Cotton Underwear, 58c

Cotton Bloomers, Panties and Vests in regular and extra sizes—made with Rayon stripe.

Children's Underwear, 78c

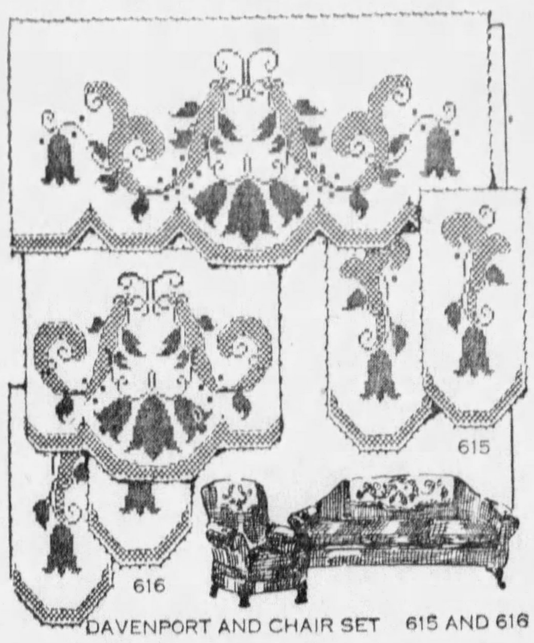
One-piece Cotton Union Suits with half sleeves or sleeveless. Broken size range 2 to 12.

Children's Union Suits, $1

Part-wool Union Suits in sizes 4 to 18. Have drop seats and French leg.

Joseph Horne Co., DOWNSTAIRS

LAURA WHEELER DESIGNS



DAVENPORT AND CHAIR SET 615 AND 616

Matching Chair and Davenport Set

Dressing up the house is a pleasure that the housewife looks forward to as soon as the holidays are over. And what could make a living room more attractive than a davenport and chairback set that match? These sets are to be done in cross-stitch and running-stitch, and are most attractive in two or three shades of one color or in different colors. If desired, the chair-backs could be used on a large davenport together with the davenport set.

In pattern 615, the davenport set, you will find a transfer pattern of a piece 14x28 inches and two arm rests 6x12½ inches, and detailed directions for making the set.

In pattern 616, the chair-back set, you will find a transfer pattern of a chair-back 12½x15½ inches and two arm rests 6x12½ inches, and detailed directions.

Send 10 cents for each pattern (20 cents for both) to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Needlecraft Department, 82 Eighth avenue, New York City.

Junior Patrol Mail Box

Learn your arithmetic and figures well, fellows!

We know that this is still a holiday, but while we have time before school starts again, we want to ask you if you are interested in your arithmetic?

There's a subject that seems dry and hard to learn for many students, we're sure. What do you think about it? Do you like to multiply, divide, add, and subtract? In the books we used to study in school, the figures were a series of problems and it was hard to have any fun with them.

A long list of figures always looks hard even if it isn't—and usually it isn't at all. But there are ways to make arithmetic more interesting and really lots of fun if you want to. Make your arithmetic work for you right away! For instance, find out how many square feet there are in your bedroom. Just measure the length and measure the width and multiply them together.

Figures are something the whole world has to use for a thousand things, and every bright boy or girl ought to know how they work very well. For instance, the ships at sea, when they can't see land and there is nothing but the empty ocean and the sky above them can tell where they are by using mathematics. They look at the sun and the stars, and calculate their position on the world.

Here's a letter from Evelyn Snyder, of Laurel Gardens Junior Patrol. She writes:

"I'm writing to let you know we have another new member, making 25 members altogether. Our club is coming along real nice. We are having a Christmas entertainment as you have heard."

Evelyn also says that their club is the New Deal Chapter now, and that is a progressive, swell name for a club. Write and tell us more news, Evelyn, because we are always plenty interested.

Don't forget to help others. The weather yesterday was bitter cold and many people suffered because of it. They need warm clothing.

NRA
ROSENBAUM'S
Sixth, Liberty and Penn

Circusland Barber Shop

Announces

demonstration of Permanent Waving for Children

FRIDAY, 2 P. M.

Bring the children, let them see the lovely curls the little girl has, and how little trouble it is to get them.

—SEVENTH FLOOR

LIMITED TIME ONLY

75¢ Jar NOXZEMA 49¢

at ALL DRUG AND DEPARTMENT STORES
May-Liggett Drug Stores — Dow Drug Stores
Kaufmann's — Rosenbaum's
Gimbels — Mayflower, Sun and Economy Drug Stores
Joseph Horne Co. — Walgreen's

No more pimples, blackheads large pores, oily skin

DRESS smartly! Make yourself as attractive as you can! But what's the use if a blemished skin ruins your charm for men?

But don't despair—your skin can be made clear, lovely, alluring... But not with ordinary creams. They remove only top dirt. Doctors, nurses and over 6,000,000 women who have already discovered this priceless beauty secret say: Use Noxzema, the medicated cream that actually corrects. Quickly ends pimples, blackheads, large pores or oiliness.

Noxzema's medicines penetrate—purge away clogged, blemish-causing pore-poisons. Its soothing balms then soften and refine the coarsened skin texture.

Noxzema is greaseless—will not stain. Apply nightly and as a corrective base for powder. Your first application will do wonders. Morning will show blemishes far less noticeable—skin definitely improved.

Special Anniversary Offer

For a limited time only you can get an economical 75¢ jar of Noxzema at a big saving. For this limited time, the price is reduced to only 49¢! What a marvelous opportunity to gain a clearer, lovelier skin—and smoother whiter hands as well—for exceptionally low cost!

SAVE 26¢

Clip this now as a reminder to get your jar of Noxzema while this Anniversary Offer lasts! A large 75c jar for only 49c—double value compared to small size jars! Get your jar at all Drug and Department Stores.

NRA

NRA

1933's Last Old Fashioned Bargain Friday

ROSENBAUM'S

SIXTH, LIBERTY AND PENN — ATLANTIC 4500

Looking for a bargain? Here are 48 startlers—things you need right now—at a worthwhile saving. These low prices for One Day Only—1933's last Old-Fashioned Bargain Friday.

Hudson Seal* Coats
Newest collar and sleeve treatments. Sizes 14 to 42.
*Dyed Muskrat
FIFTH FLOOR $139

$1.55 Faille Silks
Black and smart colors. Soft supple quality. 39-inch ....yd.
4TH FLOOR $1.15

Men's $5.95 Robes
Smart, warm flannel robes, stripes, checks, etc. All sizes.
2ND FLOOR $3.85

$19.75 Easy Chair
Big, luxurious build, a chair to live with. Tapestry covers.
10TH FLOOR $14.50

$3.95 Dinner Set
32-piece sets in attractive patterns. Service for six. Big value....
8TH FLOOR $2.55

$1 Bridge Tables
Substantially built. Good colors. Double-braced tops. Special....
EIGHTH FLOOR 69c

$100 Muskrat Coat
For misses. Beautifully matched skins. What a saving! Just 14.
FIFTH FLOOR $78

$1.69 Patch Quilts
Colorful prints; white cotton filling. 72x84 inches.....
4TH FLOOR $1.24

$3.40 Saucepan Sets
"Wear-Ever" Aluminum in five useful sizes. Set....
8TH FLOOR $1.79

$2.50 Iron Table
Wrought iron with marbleized top. Square shapes.....
NINTH FLOOR $1.88

Cleansing Tissues
Dorothy Dean's . . . 300-sheet box, white and colors. Large.....
STREET FLOOR 45c

$1.25 Black Silks
Two most popular weaves, Satin and Canton crepe. 39-inch...yard.
FOURTH FLOOR 95c

59c Underwear
Women's 'Gordon' bloomers, panties and vests. Rayon. 34 to 42
THIRD FLOOR 45c

25c Turkish Towels
Heavy double thread. Colored borders. Size 22x44 inches...
4TH FLOOR 20c

Men's $3.98 Jackets
'Buckskein' Jackets with two handy pockets. A bargain.....
ST. FLOOR $2.49

$1.95 Radio Bench
Colored velour tops, iron frame. Good height. Smart colors..
NINTH FLOOR $1.47

59c Wash Cloths
Six assorted colors. Cellophane wrapped. Heavy knit.....6 for STREET FLOOR 48c

Boys' Zip Jackets
$3.95 Buckskein Jackets, with Talon front. 6 to 18 years....
2ND FLOOR $2.85

Buster Brown Shoes
Children's regular $3.50 shoes; calf and patents. Sizes 8½ to 2
3RD FLOOR $2.95

'Kerchiefs, 6 for 75c
Regular 6 for $1 Sport Prints linen, hand-rolled hems.....6 for
STREET FLOOR 75c

$59.75 Radio
Freed-Eisemann 9-tube console model, complete. Special.....
BALCONY $49.75

25c Stationery
Cellophane wrapped. Letter or note size. White and tints.....
STREET FLOOR 19c

$1.25 Gloves
Women's sturdy capes for school, driving, business. Slipons.....
ST. FLOOR $1.00

18c Wall Papers
30-inch. Basket weaves, plaids & plastics. 10 patterns. Single bolt
8TH FLOOR 12½c

Crepe Dresses
Regularly $1.29. Of cotton crepe. Checks, plaids. Sizes 14 to 20..
THIRD FLOOR 88c

9x12 Room Rugs
$39.75 American Orientals, Royal Wiltons, Axminsters....
9TH FLOOR $28.75

Pleated Curtains
New purchase Spanish Net; 4 group pleats at top, ready to hang. Pr.
NINTH FLOOR 79c

Salts and Peppers
$1.00 shakers, in several styles. Neatly designed. Boxed. Pair.....
STREET FLOOR 78c

Pleated Drapes
Homespun effects. 4-pleat top, tie-backs. 36 in. x 2½ yds. Pair.....
2-day delivery
9TH FLOOR $1.98

Toilet Tissues
Regular 10c size roll. Tinted tissue 22 rolls.....
8TH FLOOR $1.00

$5 Opera Pumps
Women's; leather and fabrics; choice of buckles. 4½ to 8....
3RD FLOOR $3.90

Boys' $2.98 Slacks
Brown corduroy. 20-inch bottoms. Sizes for boys 10 to 20 yrs...
2ND FLOOR $1.88

Service Hosiery
Light-weight, with picot top. Complete size and color range.....
STREET FLOOR 65c

$8.75 Duroleun Rug
9x12 and 9x10.6, in tile, carpet, broken stone designs.....
NINTH FLOOR $4.69

$1.00 Necklaces
Pearls* in graduated styles. Single, double, triple.....
*Simulated
STREET FLOOR 69c

Step-on Cans
For garbage. In green, ivory or white. 16-qt. size. Galvanized insert.
EIGHTH FLOOR 89c

ROSENBAUM'S . . . Downstairs Store—Bargain Friday

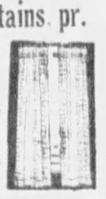
$5.95 Leather Coats
$2.98
BOYS'. Just 18 coats at this low price. Sizes 8 to 16 years. Sold "as is."
—DOWNSTAIRS

Boys' Play Suits
48c
Sport collar, button front, drop seat. 2 to 8 yrs. Name embroidered.
—DOWNSTAIRS

Tots' Panty Dresses
89c
3-6 yrs. Crisp new prints for children; all with panties. $1 value.
—DOWNSTAIRS

Men! "Spaide" Shirts
$1.49
Wool flannel, 2 flap pockets, lined collar, expertly tailored. 14 to 17.
—DOWNSTAIRS

Mesh Curtains, pr.
89c
Ecru coarse mesh, with 2-inch hem, ideal for living room or dining room.
—DOWNSTAIRS



Wool Dresses
$1.79
For business, office street and sports wear. Misses', 14 to 20.
—DOWNSTAIRS

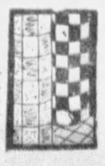
Men's Lumberjacks
$2.19
"Cherval" corduroy with Talon fastener, elastic bottom. Sizes 34 to 46
—DOWNSTAIRS

Tots' Wool Sweaters
49c
Smart wool models, slipovers in 2 to 4 years. A real value.
—DOWNSTAIRS

Children's Stockings
15c
Fancy ribbed and plain knit, tan shades. Sizes 6½ to 9½.
—DOWNSTAIRS

Boys' 4-Pc Suits
$4.80
2-Pants Knicker Suits with coat and vest. Sizes 8 to 16 years.
—DOWNSTAIRS

Floor Covering
27c sq. yd.
Heavy felt base in many attractive new patterns, regular 35c value
—DOWNSTAIRS



Children's Shoes
$1.29
Oxfords and strap models in sturdy-built shoes. Sizes 8½ to 2.
—DOWNSTAIRS

Walter Winchell
+ ON BROADWAY +

The Private Papers of a Reporter

Manuel Komroff, who has enjoyed success since "Two Thieves," cannot forget the lean and hungry years. That is why he dodges all attempts of society women to make of him a literary lion. And this is how he does it. He had some inexpensive mimeographed letters prepared and he inserts the name of the would-be hostess in returning his regrets. The letter explains that he was very badly brought up—and that his table manners are atrocious. Therefore, says the letter, he must be excused.

There is a P. S. He realizes, it says, that the hostess is broad-minded and could probably overlook his style of eating; nevertheless, he won't come just the same, for fear of offending the servants!

As you probably know, the Admiral Byrd expedition to Little America depends for its support on enterprising merchants and others who, of course, put up the necessary backing for advertising. A beer maker's name replaced the previous name on the ship and they even have a pair of electric fans aboard! The fans are necessary for the circulating air needed in the printing of the films taken down there.

But few of us knew this. That Byrd also has on board — two coffins! So, don't be startled if, one night, you hear the Admiral in his broadcasting from near the South Pole say: "I regret to tell you that Joe Zilch died on us yesterday—but we sure gave him a nifty funeral with a lovely coffin by the courtesy of the National Casket Co."

The jewelry auctioning racket has its own set of slang, which is used right out loud during auctions — for the benefit of shills and other employes, without the chumps getting hep.

When the value of an article is to be made more impressive for the prospective buyers, the auctioneer confers with an assistant, and they refer to the trinket at double its worth—and add the word "line." Thus, a $20 ring is 40 line and a two-bit fountain pen is 50 line.

Here's the rest of the lingo. A shill (a stooge bidding for the house) is a "stick" or an "eslot" . . . "Claimish" is a fake sale when the article offered is sold to no one . . . "D" stands for diamond . . . "B. L." is a box lot, when a number of items are grouped and sold together.

When an auctioneer says "W. S." after a sale—it means that the cashier is to try and switch the customer into buying goods that will bring the house more profit, by telling the sap how "inferior" his purchase is and that better bargains are coming up later.

"B. O." is the signal for the shill to back out and stop bidding . . . A watch is a "lumpie" or a "scout," and a crowd is a "tip." Anyone with whiskers is an "Airedale," and distress merchandise is a dead horse. "B. C." is the tipoff for the shill to be quiet and not to bid. The boss is referred to as "Mr. Goss" (rhyming slang), and anyone in the crowd who is a heckler or belittles goods is a "hammer."

If there is trouble, the getaway word isn't "scram." It is "o-blay" (pig-latin for blow), or "46"—twice 23, double skiddoo!"

Of course, I haven't been in Hollywood since August first—and so I wouldn't know about these facts if it weren't for people who go to the bother. But they are offered by a renowned newspaperman, now a star scenarist. He titles it "The Year in Hollywood," and to his amazement and mine—it came back with a rejection slip from a movie magazine. Movie magazines depend on great advertising from producers, you see.

At any rate, here is the rejected, but most informative listing of the Hollywood Who's Who Cares? . . . John Barrymore took more money out of Hollywood in 1933 than any other star. Katharine Hepburn got less than any other star—although she is one of three stars described as making the most sensational progress. Mae West and Margaret Sullavan were the others. Garbo and Norma Shearer, usually the contenders for the biggest drawing cards, had no entries. Garbo's "Christina" isn't considered 1933.

The most pictures were directed by Wm. Wellman and Mervyn LeRoy. Irving Thalberg, usually the leading contender, made none. The worst productions were made by a Fox and a Paramount man. The best by David Selznick and Darryl Zanuck. The greatest loss suffered—was by Constance Bennett and Janet Gaynor. And M. Chevalier. The direction considered tops was by George Cukor, Ernst Lubitsch and W. S. Van Dyke. The highest paid director was Rouben Mamoulian. The leading creative artist was Walt Disney. Francis Marion the top paid scenarist. The ace camera work was Lee Garmes. The surprise marriage was Gary Cooper's. The big talk was Lee Tracy's balcony scene, and the alleged best lover, off the screen, was Gilbert Roland.

(Copyright, 1933, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

THEATERS -:- Melancholy Dane Sees Ghost — Hollywood Scribe Reports -:- PICTURES

There Is Life In 'Hamlet' Even Now

By GEORGE SEIBEL

If anybody imagines that Shakespeare is dead, the audience at the Nixon Theater last night laid the silly rumor. His death, like Mark Twain's, is much exaggerated. That play about "Hamlet," also, has undreamed vitality. Before the best crowd of any evening so far, Walter Hampden showed that walking ghosts and jocular grave-diggers are not yet out of date—that the great tragedy is still a magnet to draw and hold the public, though icy winds blow along Sixth avenue and the ramparts of Elsinore.

Mr. Seibel

Hampden's Hamlet may be best described as a rapid-fire characterization. He has the nervous tension of a modern man—and probably Shakespeare intended Hamlet to be a modern man. Everything is held in a natural key, in harmony with Hamlet's own advice to the Players. But there are eloquent outbursts of noble passion, especially in the Mousetrap scene and in the scene with his mother.

Hampden's sonorous voice makes the poetry sound like poetry and the philosophy like philosophy. There is less sardonic humor than some have put into the part, also less of the moody and introspective element. In short, it is a Hamlet thoroughly human rather than stagy and stilted.

Erna Rowan made a charming Ophelia, lovely to look upon and appealing in her sweet simplicity. Mabel Moore gave fine dignity to the Queen - Mother, reaching pathos and poignancy in the closet scene.

John D. Seymour as Laertes showed exceptionally fine mettle, while Ernest Rowan infused the King with sinister melodramatic menace under a Viking makeup. The Polonius of P. J. Kelly was very good, but the Grave-digger of Hannan Clark seemed too weary to be amusing.

It was the first performance of "Hamlet" on this tour, but a smooth and even performance in spite of all. And in spite of anything, the audience appreciated it like old-timers raised up from the gallery gods, or brought down from the gallery gods. Shakespeare certainly is not dead, and "Hamlet" is still a good drama.

Bulwer's "Richelieu" is Hampden's bill for tonight.

Mr. Roosevelt On Screen

THE GLOBE TROTTER

President Roosevelt is seen and heard delivering his inspiring New Years message to the nation in the current issue of Hearst Metrotone News. Speaking from Sherman square in the capital Christmas celebration, President Roosevelt declares that 1934 looms as a year for better times to all.

Thrilling pictures of a modern cavalry unit combined with armored trucks and aeroplane scouts in battling array come from Fort Bliss, Tex., and there is a graphic description by the Globe Trotter.

Fearless Frakes, the man who crashes old aeroplanes just for a thrill, gets an unexpected surprise crash at Jackson, Miss., but is only slightly injured.

To help fight forest fires, civilian conservation employes begin to cut an 800-mile path through the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

The first bathing styles for 1934 come from Miami.

An intimate picture of a revolutionary leader at home comes from Havana, where Col. Batista poses exclusively for Hearst Metrotone News with his family.

Gov. Pinchot, ill in a New York hospital, signs the child labor amendment to the Constitution. He also makes a talk praising the proposed law.

Note — Because of the necessity upon theater managers to arrange programs in time schedules, it is possible that some of the subjects in the above issue of Hearst Metrotone News may not be shown in your theater.

Warner Houses Arrange New Years Eve Shows

Midnight shows will be held in all Warner Brothers theaters New Years Eve, Sunday. Performances will begin at one minute past midnight. The theaters are the Stanley, Warner, Davis, Enright, Sheridan Square, Cameraphone, Regent, Schenley, Manor, Kenyon, Ambridge, Etna-Harris, Arsenal, Belmar, South Hills, Rowland, Plaza, William Penn and Ritz, also the Memorial and Victor theaters in McKeesport.

THEATER CLOCK

NIXON: Walter Hampden in drama, "Richelieu." Tonight at 8 o'clock.

PITT: Teddy Joyce in musical presentation, "Bottoms Up." Also feature film. Continuous from noon until 11:30 p. m.

PENN: Marion Davies, Bing Crosby in film, "Going Hollywood." Daily at 10:30 a. m., 12:22, 2:14, 4:14, 6:14, 8:14 and 10:16 p. m.

STANLEY: Kay Francis, Ricardo Cortez in film, "The House on 56th Street." Daily at 11:39 a. m., 1:29, 3:19, 5:09, 6:59, 8:49 and 10:39 p. m.

FULTON: Will Rogers, Zasu Pitts in film, "Mr. Skitch." Daily at 12:18, 2:17, 4:16, 6:15, 8:14 and 10:13 p. m.

WARNER: Joe E. Brown, Thelma Todd in film, "Son of A Sailor." Daily at 11:30 a. m., 1:22, 3:14, 5:06, 6:58, 8:50 and 10:42 p. m.

SHERIDAN SQUARE: Margaret Sullavan, John Boles in film, "Only Yesterday." Daily at 12:41, 3:02, 5:23, 7:44 and 10:05 p. m.

DAVIS: Charlotte Henry in film, "Alice In Wonderland." Daily at 12:20, 2:17, 4:14, 6:11, 8:08 and 10:05 p. m.

ENRIGHT: Ann Harding, Nils Asther in film, "The Right to Romance." Daily at 12:48, 2:46, 4:44, 6:33, 8:31 and 10:29 p. m.

FAMILY: Janet Gaynor, Warner Baxter in film, "Paddy, the Next Best Thing." Daily at 12, 1:42, 3:31, 5:20, 7:09, 8:58 and 10:48 p. m.

VARIETY: Burlesque, "Holiday Frolics." Daily at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m.

At the Premiere

Photo by International News Photograph Service.

Glorious Gloria Stuart, who plays opposite Eddie Cantor in the new Samuel Goldwyn production, "Roman Scandals," as seen at the Hollywood premiere of the comedy.

Middle Aisle for Cortez Awaits Honeymoon Time

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28.—A desire for a Honolulu honeymoon is what holds up the marriage of Christine Lee and Ricardo Cortez, who were expected to take the vows in Hollywood on Christmas Day.

The actor is trying to negotiate a three weeks' leave of absence from Warner Brothers and, if he is successful, he and the beautiful young divorcee probably will be married on the day they sail for the Hawaiian Islands.

The new house they have been furnishing for several weeks will be all ready to move into by the time they return.

But if everything moves smoothly with his romance, Ric is having plenty of trouble on the set. Along with the rest of the "Wonder Bar" company, he has been giving Al Jolson icy glances. Now he also is on strained relations with Dick Powell.

It came about over a portable dressing room. The studio gave it to Powell, and he had his clothes moved in. Through a misunderstanding, Ric thought the dressing room was his and ordered the clothes back out again.

There were words, and the two stars are still on the outs.

* * *

What with all those reports of her engagement to Stephen Ames, Raquel Torres gave the gossips quite a thrill the other night when she showed up at a Hollywood late spot with one gay party, but finally left the place with her ex-beau, Charles Feldman.

* * *

The round of parties on Christmas Eve was something to talk about. Colleen Moore invited about 300 guests to come to her Bel Air home from "4 to 6." The 300 came, plus many others, but they didn't leave at 6. Incidentally, the various ex-spouses were very friendly. Marion Nixon and Eddie Hillman wishing each other Merry Christmas and Gloria Swanson and the Marquis de la Falaise chatting for some time.

Some of the same crowd went on to Carole Lombard's housewarming, which didn't begin until 11 p. m., and which lasted until all hours. Carole's home is another Bill Haines decorating job. You should see the barroom decorations in plaids and the huge bed in Carole's room. Bill Powell was on hand

South Hills Players In Sherwood Work

Robert E. Sherwood's comedy-drama, "The Queen's Husband," inspired, no doubt, by the visit of Queen Marie to America, was given a vigorous presentation in Washington School, Mt. Lebanon, last night, and will be repeated throughout the remainder of the week. Director Edward W. Blaine was good in the title role. Others in the cast include Alice Mossman, Mrs. Edward L. Boetticher, Carl C. Pribek and Howard R. Eulenstein. The setting by Gordon Arnold was well done.

FILMLAND FILMLAND

Midnite Show Sunday (New Year's Eve)
STANLEY — WARNER — DAVIS

"OH, HOW I LOVE MY MAN— both of them!"
"When I'm with George—my arms ache for Tom— When I'm with Tom—I ache for George's arms..."

Noel Coward's "DESIGN FOR LIVING" Deliciously daring
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE DIRECTED BY Ernst Lubitsch

★ FREDRIC MARCH
★ GARY COOPER
★ MIRIAM HOPKINS
★ EDWARD EVERETT HORTON

Attend the gala midnight show New Year's Eve.

STARTS TOMORROW STANLEY

"Boy, oh Boy, is THIS A CONVENTION!" 9 stars to make you roar away the hours! Even your Aunt Agatha from Oshkosh will do a fan dance in the aisles when the boys and girls get going! Who cares? It's all in the best and rowdiest of fun!

"CONVENTION CITY"
A FIRST NATIONAL HIT WITH
DICK POWELL · JOAN BLONDELL · ADOLPHE MENJOU · MARY ASTOR
GUY KIBBEE · PATRICIA ELLIS · FRANK McHUGH · RUTH DONNELLY · HUGH HERBERT

Attend the gala midnight show New Year's Eve!

TOMORROW WARNER

PLAN FOR A GALA PARTY
NEW YEAR'S EVE
Sunday, Dec. 31st,
AT THE UNION GRILL
CONCERT & SQUAB CHICKEN SUPPER
10 P. M. to Midnight
DANCING AND ENTERTAINMENT
Commencing at Midnight
TWO DOLLARS FIFTY CENTS PER PLATE
Make Your Reservations Now — ATlantic 6970

The Smithfield Grill
Announces
New Year's Eve Frolic
Sunday, Dec. 31st
Concert and Supper de luxe 10 P. M. to Midnight
Dancing commencing Midnight until closing
Favors—Noise Makers—Horns
$2.00 PER PERSON
Make Reservation now—ATlantic 1865

New Year's Eve Midnite Shows All Warner Theatres Sunday

STANLEY LAST DAY KAY FRANCIS
'House on 56th Street'

WARNER LAST DAY! JOE E. BROWN in "SON OF A SAILOR"
LAST 3 DAYS DAVIS "ALICE IN WONDERLAND" Sun., New Year's Eve Midnite Show "GIRL WITHOUT A ROOM"
LAST DAY SHERIDAN SQ. "ONLY YESTERDAY" Sun., New Year's Eve Midnite Show "CHRISTOPHER BEAN"
ENRIGHT ANN HARDING—NILS ASTHER "RIGHT TO ROMANCE" Sun., New Year's Eve Midnite Show 8 Acts Vaudeville—New Picture!

FILMLAND FILMLAND

30th Loew's ANNIVERSARY
LOEW'S & UNITED ARTISTS PENN
Starts Tomorrow 10 A. M.
dinner at 8
FIRST TIME AT POPULAR PRICES

Exactly the same as presented for record runs at advance priced road show engagements! More stars than ever in one picture!
★ Marie DRESSLER
★ John BARRYMORE
★ Wallace BEERY
★ Jean HARLOW
★ Lionel BARRYMORE
★ Lee TRACY
★ Edmund LOWE
★ Billie BURKE
★ Madge Evans ★ Karen Morley
★ Jean Hersholt ★ Phillips Holmes

EXTRA MIDNITE SHOW (SUNDAY) NEW YEAR'S EVE

LAST DAY! MARION DAVIES IN 'Going Hollywood'

RUDY'S TALK OF THE TOWN 604 LIBERTY AVENUE
Liquor Special
A blend of Pure Rye Whiskey
PER QT. $2.60 FRIDAY ONLY
Court 7776
The largest assortment of Whiskey in Pittsburgh

FILMLAND

FULTON TODAY AND ALL WEEK
A Hilarious Frolic of Uproarious Laughter
WILL ROGERS in "MR. SKITCH" with Zasu Pitts

PITT
Special Xmas Week Treat
On Stage TEDDY JOYCE and His Original STAGE BAND
Season's First Musical Unit 'BOTTOMS UP' 35 Singers Dancers Comedians 35 16 Chester Hale Dancing Girls 16
On Screen FURY Of The JUNGLE Star Cast
NEW YEAR'S EVE MIDNITE JAMBOREE
Reserved Seats Now On Sale

NEW YEAR'S EVE SUNDAY MIDNITE SHOW —IN— ALL WARNER BROS. THEATRES Except Palace

KENYON	Margaret Sullavan John Boles in 'ONLY YESTERDAY'
ROWLAND	DICK POWELL in "COLLEGE COACH"
MANOR	"INVISIBLE MAN"
ETNA	4 MARX BROS. —IN— "DUCK SOUP"
SCHENLEY	Max Baer & Myrna Loy in "PRIZEFIGHTER and the LADY"
PLAZA	LEE TRACY in "TURN BACK THE CLOCK"
BELMAR	"FOOTLIGHT PARADE"
SO. HILLS	PAUL MUNI in "WORLD CHANGES"
ARSENAL	NO MARRIAGE TIES Also "SHANGHAI MADNESS"
CAMERA-PHONE	CONSTANCE BENNETT in "AFTER TONIGHT"
WM. PENN	Katharine Hepburn in "LITTLE WOMEN"
RITZ
AMBRIDGE
PALACE
REGENT
MEMORIAL McKEESPORT

AMUSEMENTS.

NIXON TONIGHT 8:30 Mat. Sat. 2:15
LEADING ACTOR OF AMERICAN STAGE
WALTER HAMPDEN
PRESENTS
Tonight and Saturday Evening
RICHELIEU
TOMORROW EVENING
SERVANT IN THE HOUSE
Saturday Matinee—MACBETH

NEW LOCATION
Sander's CLUB GAIETY
New—Beautiful—Modern (3 floors)
The Ultra-Smart Night Spot
DANCING—SHOW NIGHTLY
Featuring Mickey Sabel, Eloise Rutter, Sally Sarraff, Tiel Blake, Betty & Billy.
COVER
Weekdays, 50c New Year's Eve, $1.50
Directions: Thru Liberty Tubes, left on Saw Mill Run Blvd., Route 51, ten minutes from downtown. CArrick 1065

NEW YEAR'S CELEBRATION
Sunday Night—Plenty of Pep and Fun
HOTEL MAYFAIR
10 P. M. until Closing: Full course Chicken Dinner, Stupendous Floor Show, Dancing on two Orchestras, Favors, Noisemakers, Surprises. ROOF GARDEN, $3; CRYSTAL ROOM, $2.50 per person. Make reservations now for choice tables. Phone Atlantic 6060. Mayfair Hotel.

VARIETY BURLESK 2:15-8:15
BURLESK'S BIGGEST & BEST SHOW
"HOLIDAY FROLICS"
It's Sizzling Hot with Entire New Cast
22 PRINCIPALS—CHORUS OF 30

TODAY'S NEIGHBORHOOD THEATERS

HILAND (Homewood) Marian March in "NOTORIOUS BUT NICE" Richard Dix in "ACE OF ACES"
HIPPODROME (N. S.) Jean Harlow in "BOMBSHELL" Walt Disney's "LULLABY LAND"
RIALTO (Mt. Oliver) Irene Dunne in "ANN VICKERS" Fredric March in "THE EAGLE AND THE HAWK"
HARRIS FAMILY (E. E.) Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter in "PADDY, THE NEXT BEST THING"
HARRIS (Mt. Oliver) Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter in "PADDY, THE NEXT BEST THING"
HARRIS, BEECHVIEW Mae West in "I'M NO ANGEL"
BELLEVUE Claude Rains and Gloria Stuart in "THE INVISIBLE MAN"
GARDEN (N. S.) Myrna Loy and Max Baer in "THE PRIZEFIGHTER & THE LADY"
TRIANGLE (E. E.) Richard Arlen in "GOLDEN HARVEST" Robert Young in "SATURDAY'S MILLIONS"
BRUSHTON Benita Hume and Adolphe Menjou in "WORST WOMAN IN PARIS" Bill Boyd in "LUCKY DEVILS"
DOME (Lawrenceville) "F. P. 1"
ROXIAN (McKees Rocks) Richard Dix in "ACE OF ACES" Free Parking Lot to Patrons
ARCADE (S. S.) Paul Muni and Mary Astor in "THE WORLD CHANGES"
LIBERTY (E. E.) Sinclair Lewis' "ANN VICKERS" With Irene Dunne Alexander Kirkland in "BLACK BEAUTY"
PENN (Ambridge) Katharine Hepburn in "LITTLE WOMEN"
RIALTO (Uptown—1600 Fifth Ave.) Max Baer and Myrna Loy in "THE PRIZEFIGHTER & THE LADY"
BRIGHTON (N. S.) Warren William in "LADY FOR A DAY" Ken Maynard in "TRAIL DRIVE" Ch. 3 of "GORDON OF GHOST CITY"
MELROSE "CHARLIE CHAN'S GREATEST CASE" Tom Mix in "FLAMING GUNS"

"Dutch Henry"

DUTCH HENRY SAYS:
I thank all my patrons and friends for the great confidence shown in me during the past year and will continue to merit this confidence and good will in all time to come. I wish you all a happy and prosperous New Year and firmly believe that with the superior leadership of our great President we will have it.

OUR WINE LIST
For the benefit of my patrons I reduced my prices as far as possible.

DRY WHITE WINES		SWEET WINES
Reisling	$1.60	Very Old Port	$1.80
DRY RED WINES		Very Old Sherry	1.80
Claret	$1.60	Tokay	1.80
Burgundy	1.60	Muscatel	1.80
HAUTE SAUTERNES		SPARKLING WINES—White—CHAMPAGNE
Dry Sauterne	$1.60	Moselle	$3.50
Haute Sauterne	2.10	Moselle	2.00
SELECT OLD VINTAGES		SPARKLING WINES—Red
Muscatel de Forontiginan	$2.25	Burgundy	$3.50
Chauteau Yquem	2.00	Burgundy	2.00

WHISKIES

	QTS.	PTS.
Golden Wedding Rye (95%)	$3.25	$1.65
Old Mendville Rye	3.25
Shenandoah	3.00
Belle of Nelson		1.50
Paul Jones Rye		1.65
Old Oscar Pepper		1.50
Old English Dry Gin		1.00
1915 Bonded Old Bridgeport		3.00
Imported French XXX Hennessy Brandy	Fifths 6.25

IF IT COMES FROM
DUTCH HENRY
IT MUST BE GOOD

at the BRASS RAIL
We serve the Three Famous Pittsburgh Beers
FORT PITT PILSNER
Duquesne Old Nut Brown Ale
IRON CITY LAGER BEER
We serve nothing less than 5% beer and 7% ale
LARGE 10c GLASS
Sold at all Brass Rail Restaurants

WANTS THAT HAVE BEEN SATISFIED

As man has advanced through the ages his progress is but the history of his gratified desires. Institutions that filled man's wants survived—or, failing to do so, crumbled into dust.

Newer and more urgent needs created better methods—system—service—classification. System and Classification in this newspaper have been combined for your welfare

All in a Day

By Mark Hellinger

Gift

ON A MUGGY morning a few days before Christmas, Jim Nelson was one of four prisoners released from a large eastern penitentiary. All four took different paths. We'll follow Jim.

Only 24, Jim has already completed his second stretch. He had been a pretty tough bird. He admitted it himself. But on this particular morning he wasn't feeling so tough.

Perhaps it was the holiday season. Perhaps it was the fact that he had been away for more than a year on this occasion. Or it may have been because he was so anxious to see his mother again.

Neither his mother nor his sister knew what had happened to Jim. He had simply disappeared. They'd be surprised to see him—and he wondered if they would be glad.

Ma would, of course. Jim felt ashamed when he thought of Ma. He hadn't written to her once, and she'd always done so much for him. He wished now that he had a swell Christmas present to give her; something she would enjoy and love just because it had come from him. He was still thinking along these lines when he arrived in the city, and took the subway downtown.

He got out in one of his favorite neighborhoods and began to walk. He was below the deadline, and he knew he had no right to be where he was. But he was thinking only of Ma—and the present. He knew what he'd buy her if he got his hands on enough dough. He'd get her a radio.

Ma had always loved music. She'd like a radio all right—and there wasn't a chance that she already had one. They had only Mamie's meager salary to support them with the absolute necessities. There would be no money left over for luxuries . . .

Jim glanced nervously about. He was fully aware that he was taking a long chance. Released only that morning, and already walking below the deadline. Why, it was—

He snapped to attention. For the moment, his fears vanished. A very foolish gentleman, stopping to buy a magazine on the corner, had exhibited a fascinating bankroll. Jim's eyes glistened. Here was a soft touch!

The ex-convict pressed closer. He followed along through the crowd of shoppers. He stumbled against the folish gentleman as his hands moved deftly. He apologized. And when he rounded the corner by himself, the bankroll was nestling comfortably in his pocket.

Across the street there was a radio store. Jim hurried over and picked a machine priced at $100.

"You got the address. And it's gotta be there tonight sure, see? It's a Christmas present for my Ma" . . .

Jim stepped from the store. He was on his way home now. But he hadn't walked more than a few yards when a heavy hand fell on his shoulder. He looked up, and he groaned. The hand belonged to Donlin, the detective.

"Okay, Jim," said the all-too-familiar voice. "Below the deadline again, are you? You know what it means. You're going in. Come on. Walk."

"Listen, Donlin." Jim was pleading now. "I only got out this morning, and I ain't even seen my mother yet. I ain't got a gat, and I ain't done nothin' wrong. But if you gotta take me in, it's okay with me.

"But gimme one break, willya? Lemme go over an' see my Ma, and I'll go right along with you. Please, Donlin, willya?"

The detective hesitated. Then he nodded.

"All right. Seeing as how it's so near Christmas, I'll give you a break. I'll go along with you. It's tough, Jim, but you know the orders."

The two men turned and walked west. To himself, Jim was cursing his luck. Once in his life, he had done a decent thing—and here he was, nailed for it. It was all pretty tough;

But suddenly he smiled. He had, at least, accomplished his aim. They'd never be able to take that swell radio away from Ma. And even if he had to go away again, she'd always have that to remember him by . . .

The old flat looked just the same. Mamie, his sister, looked just the same. Only Ma looked a little older; or maybe a little more tired. There were tears in her eyes when she kissed him.

"Oh, son," she said. "I'm so glad you're home for Christmas. Somehow, I knew you would."

Jim looked uncomfortable.

"Listen, Ma. I can't stay. I—I only come in to town for a coupla hours on business. This is Mr. Donlin, a business partner of mine."

His mother said nothing. She merely smiled brightly.

There was an opened package lying on the table. Red paper and tinsel string had been torn away from a small, black box. Jim glanced down curiously at the object in the box.

"What's that funny lookin' thing?" he demanded.

Mamie stepped forward.

"That's my Christmas present to Ma," she replied defensively. "Maybe it's funny to you, but it's just what she needs."

"Yeah?" murmured Jim. "Well, I still don't get it. What is it?"

"It's an ear phone," Mamie explained. "Deaf people use 'em to hear with. I guess you don't know that since Ma went deaf during her sickness last year she hasn't been able to hear a single thing." . . .

(Copyright, 1933, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Bohemian

Grace Bradley will be seen, along with Charles Farrell, Marguerite Churchill and Charlie Ruggles in "Girl Without a Room," next feature in the Davis.

Gala Month For Penn

During January Loew's theaters will observe "Thirtieth Anniversary Month." Marcus Loew opened his first theater in January, 1904. It was one of the first movie houses in the country. Since 1904 the Loew theater organization has grown to a coast-to-coast chain.

Loew's Penn is planning an especially pretentious program of activities for anniversary month. By special arrangement with the producers an unusual number of outstanding Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and United Artists pictures are available for selection during the four-week celebration period. Included in these films are "Dinner at Eight," with John and Lionel Barrymore, Marie Dressler, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery; Eddie Cantor in "Roman Scandals," Ann Harding in "Gallant Lady" and Johnny Weissmuller in "Tarzan and His Mate."

HATS Cleaned & Blocked 75 The ROSSEN WAY

Called For & Del. Downtown. Devoted Exclusively to Renovating of Men's Hats

L. C. ROSSEN CO. 332 FOURTH AVE. COurt 2828

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

Needs No Cooking! Big Saving!

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It's no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water for a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a pint bottle, and fill up with your sugar syrup. The pint thus made gives you four times as much cough remedy for your money, yet it is far more effective than ready-made medicine. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and clears the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, famous as a healing agent for throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Rx FOURTH DEGREE

SCOPOLAMIN

—the startling new development in modern crime detection—will discover the murderer.

Limited Quantities...All Merchandise Subject to Prior Sale...Be Early!

McCREERY'S

WOOD ST. AT SIXTH AVE. ATLANTIC 4600

TWO DAY— YEAR END CLEARANCE

NRA WE DO OUR PART

No Mail or Phone Orders, No Exchanges, Credits or Returns . . . All Sales Final!

Women's Coats, Suits

Three groups of women's and misses' coats at a fraction of their original prices. Beautifully fur-trimmed. Plenty of blacks, $35, $45 and $55

10—$25 and $29.75 3-pc. tweed suits. Jacket, skirt and swagger coat $15

(Third Floor)

Sportswear

41 Women's and misses' knit suits and dresses, $10.75 to $39.75.....½ off

$2.95 to $5.95 crepe and satin blouses .....½ off

(Third Floor)

Jr. Miss' Apparel, Furs

19 Jr. Miss Coats and Suits, $19.75 to $59.75. Sizes 11 to 17..½ off

57 Jr. Miss dresses, $7.95 to $2.95.....½ off

7—$35 Black, grey and tan Lapin jackets $25

(Third Floor)

Misses', Women's, Half Size Dresses

Dinner, evening and daytime dresses .....⅓ off

37 Women's and half-size $29.75 to $59.75 better dinner and daytime dresses .....¼ off

29 Misses' $29.75 to $89.75 dresses for all occasions .....⅓ off

93 Misses' $10.95 to $39.75 dresses for all occasions .....⅓ off

(Third Floor)

Handkerchiefs

Women's all-linen initial hankies 10c

Women's 25c 'kerchiefs with initial and shadow hem.....6 for $1

Women's 35c all-linen initialed sport 'kerchiefs.....5 for $1

Men's 25c sheer linen cord 'kerchiefs, now.....4 for 85c

(Street Floor)

Linens, Bedding

Homespun weave luncheon cloths, 54x54 inches $1.35

$1 Peasant cloths in fine quality colored linen, 54x54 inches.....79c

$1.50 All-linen fringed luncheon cloths, 54x54 inches.....95c

Crash luncheon sets, 54x70-inch cloth with six napkins.....$1.25

66x80-inch All-Wool blankets. Blue and green. Originally $6.95 pair. .....pair $4.95

$3.50 India print quilts. Attractive patterns, 72x90 inches.....$1.95

(Second Floor)

Girls' Wear

50 Girls' $1.95 Wash dresses. Sizes 7 to 14.....95c

40 Girls' $1.95 to $3.95 Plaid hip skirts, felt hats and berets, ea. $1

75 Girls' $1.95 pastel silk and knitted dresses $1

50 Girls' $1.50 to $4 Felt hats. Now .....¼ off

75 $2.75 to $7.50 Girls' wool crepe dresses. Sizes 7 to 16. Now reduced to.....¼ off

(Fifth Floor)

Umbrellas, Toiletries

50 Women's $4 to $6.50 umbrellas. 16 rib. Silk. Black, blue, brown. $2.95

88c Hollywood soap. Packed 4 dozen cakes to a box.....box 69c

(Street Floor)

Women's Gloves

640 Prs. Women's 75c novelty and slip-on fabric gloves. Black, brown and beige. Sizes 6 to 8.....50c

$3.50 Novelty slip-on and one-button kid gloves. Brown, beige and white. Sizes 6¾, 7 and 7¼. $1.75

260 Prs. Women's $2 and $2.50 fabric gloves. Beige, black and brown 95c

(Street Floor)

Men's Clothing

93 Men's $2 White duck coats. For professional men .....½ off

31 Men's $5 to $7.50 Tuxedo Vests.....½ off

9 Men's $35 Tuxedo suits (coats and trousers), $25

7 Men's $27.50 Tuxedo suits (coats and trousers), now $17.50

2 Men's $50 full dress suits (coats and trousers), $25

2 Men's $395 Raccoon Coats $125

No Alterations . . . No Approvals . . . No Returns

(Seventh Floor)

Boys' Clothing

Boys' $1 to $1.25 Broadcloth shirts and blouses. Plain and fancy patterns. Broken sizes. Junior, youth and button-on sizes....65c

Boys' $1.65 to $1.95 fine count pajamas. Middy and coat styles. Broken sizes 95c

Boys' $1 Plain and fancy pattern one-piece pajamas. Sizes 4 to 10. .....55c—2 for $1

Boys' 50c Tie and handkerchief sets. 25c

Boys' $1.25 Knickers. All wool, fully lined. Tweeds and mixtures. Broken sizes. Sizes 8 to 15...95c

Boys' to $2.95 knickers. Fully lined, separate waist band. Broken sizes. $1.45

(Fifth Floor)

Children's Shoes

Health Builder Jrs. Playall and Children's Arch Preserver shoes. .....Pair $1.55

Children's rubber boots 67c

Children's slippers .....¼ off

(Fifth Floor)

Notions

Ticking wardrobe bags. Snap closing with side opening, 60 inches long. Pastel colors. Orig. $1.50....95c

Modess. Originally 25c box..... .....5 boxes 95c

12-Pocket shoe bags.....25c ea.

(Street Floor)

608 Pairs Women's Gloves

....Originally $1

Novelty slip-on and button fabric gloves. Black, brown, beige and white. Sizes 5½ to 7½.

(McCreery's—Street Floor)

68c

1211 Pairs Women's Hose

....Originally 85c and $1

All-silk chiffon and semi-service weight in complete range of color. Sizes 8½, 9, 10 and 10½ only.

(McCreery's—Street Floor)

55c

95 Women's, ½ Size Dresses

....Originally $17.50 to $29.75

Dresses for all occasions, but principally styles for daytime wear. Blacks, browns and colors in wools and silks.

(McCreery's—Fashion Salons—Third Floor)

1/2 off

407 Women's Hats

....Originally $5 to $10

Velvets, suedes, felts, wool fabrics, crepes and bagheeras in turbans, brims and off-the-face models. Blacks, browns and colors.

(McCreery's—Fourth Floor)

$1 and $3

Jewelry, Handbags

To 75c Novelty costume jewelry 25c

To $1 Match King lighters..45c

To $1 Novelty costume jewelry 55c

To $2.95 Sample jewelry....85c

Novelty fabric and wool hand bags, now.....79c

Imported Beauvaise reproductions of $5 and $10 hand bags $1.29

Genuine calf and rough grained leather hand bags.....$1.29

$3 Silk crepe hand bags...$1.95

(Street Floor)

Stationery

Steel cash boxes with lock and key .....88c ea.

Tallies and place cards. Originally 35c and 50c dozen, now priced.....10c and 15c doz.

(Street Floor)

Wom. Accessories $1

Originally $1.65 to $2

Includes corduroy and wool ponchos, taffeta jackets, silk crepe scarfs, satin and bengaline neckwear, rabbits' hair and wool hats.

$1.75 Silk blouses.....$1.29

$3 Velveteen blouses.....$1.65

$1 Silk velvet neckwear.....50c

$1 Silk-and-wool scarfs.....50c

$1.55 Wool, crepe and satin hats 50c

(Street Floor)

Foundations

247 Foundations and girdles. Imported girdles in all-elastic as well as many American-made garments. Broken sizes. Orig. $2.45 to $6.50...½ off

(Fourth Floor)

Men's Furnishings

740 Prs. Men's socks. Plain and fancy patterns. Sizes 10 to 11½...Pair 27c—4 Pairs $1

Men's $1.65 broadcloth pajamas. Plain and fancy patterns. Contrasting trim. Sizes A, B, C and D $1.25

Men's $1 to $3.95 athletic shirts, silk shorts, rayon shirts and shorts, union suits, broadcloth and athletic union suits, ½ off

Men's $1.95 all-wool coat sweaters, now $1.65

Men's $1.95 deer skin gloves. Slip-on and clasp styles. Broken sizes $1.65

Men's $6.95 Silk foulard robes. Broken sizes $3.95

Men's all-wool flannel robes. Small and medium sizes, $4.65

208 Pieces Silk Lingerie

....Originally $2.95 and $3.95

Silk nightgowns, chemises, panties, slips and dance sets in satin and crepe. Slightly soiled, but every piece a value.

McCreery's—Fourth Floor)

$1.55

212 Budget Dresses

....Originally to $8.95

Misses' sizes in silks and wools. Women's sizes in silk only. Styles for street, business and afternoon wear.

(McCreery's—10th Floor Budget Shops)

$3

Women's "Rosalyn" Shoes

....507 Pairs in the Group

Street, afternoon and evening shoes in suede, kid combinations, fabrics and satins. Black, brown and a few blues.

WOMEN'S SLIPPERS, ½ AND ⅓ OFF

(McCreery's—Fourth Floor)

$4.85

308 Men's Broadcloth Shirts

....Originally $1.95

Plain and fancy patterns in collar attached and neckband styles. Broken sizes. Slightly soiled.

(McCreery's—Men's Shop—Street Floor)

95c

838 Pairs 95c Curtains

....Tailored and Priscilla Styles

In ivory and ecru colors. Tailored curtains with 3-inch hems, Priscilla styles with extra full ruffles.

(McCreery's—Draperies—Sixth Floor)

49c

Curtains, Draperies

100 Prs. $3.95 Damask draperies. Lined throughout and ready to hang. Pinch pleated tops. 2½ yards long. .....Pair $2.95

6 Screens. Originally $12.50 to $20. .....¼ off

23 Cedar chests. Originally $8.45 to $21.75 .....¼ off

75—85c to $2.50 Damask and satin pillows. Kapok filled. Slightly soiled from handling .....½ off

9 Taffeta Bedspreads and draperies. Originally $7.95 .....Each $2.95

750 Yards drapery damask. 95c to $2.45. Practically all colors. Ten to thirty-yard lengths.....½ off

125—Full size voile bed spreads. Originally $1 to $1.95..Each 49c

Group of remnants...25c, 50c, 75c

(Sixth Floor)

Lamps and Shades

35—$3.95 to $20 Table lamps, complete with shades .....½ off

25—$6.95 and $10 Adjustable and other floor bases, some with onyx. .....$2 and $2.95

12—$7.50 Hand etched indirect lamp bases, some with onyx.....$3.95

100—$1 to $3 Parchment shades. 25c

75—Silk boudoir shades, slightly soiled. Originally up to $2..... .....15c to 75c

(Second Floor)

For Tots

$1 to $2.95 Blocks, dolls, animals, steel toys .....½ off

$1 to $1.95 Toys. Police patrols, coupes, street cars.....¼ off

$1 to $1.95 Tots' Winter hats and berets .....¼ off

Tots' $5.95 to $18.50 2 and 3-pc. Winter coat sets. Sizes 2 to 6.... .....¼ off

50c to $5.95 Tots' and infants' wear. Wool and sheer dresses, shawls, Sweater sets and snow suits, ⅓ off

$25.95 Chifforobe $15

$10.95 Mother's chart $7.50

$27.50 Junior bed $22.50

$9.50 Toy chest $5.95

$22.50 Chest of drawers $15

(Fifth Floor)

Furniture

$9.75 Solid walnut drop leaf coffee tables. Butt walnut top.....$6.95

$4.95 Solid walnut smoking stands with handle for carrying...$2.95

$8.95 Smoking cabinet. Walnut finish with metal lined interior.... ..... $4.95

$3.95 Two-tray servette. Convenient handle for carrying $1.95

$1.95 Walnut finished magazine racks. Four compartments ...$1

$5 Duncan Phyfe coffee table. Gallery top $2.95

$2.95 Bookcases. Walnut finish. Three compartments $1.95

$1.95 Solid walnut end table. Three leg console style $1

$10 Pull up chairs. Walnut finish frames. Rust or green tapestry upholstery $6.95

$6.95 Priscilla style sewing cabinets. Solid walnut with interior tray. $3.95

$5.95 Tapestry covered footstools and ottomans $3.95

$5.95 Bridge sets. Table and four chairs. Walnut and green finishes. $3.95

$16.75 Martha Washington sewing cabinet. Solid mahogany...$9.75

$32 Bar wagons. Fully equipped with ice bucket, shaker and glasses $24.75

(Eighth Floor)

RUGS

63—$1 Non-skid chenille bath rugs. Blue and green. 18x36 inches. 40c

97 Reversible cotton chenille rugs. Sunfast and tubfast. 24x48 in. 85c

15—$10.75 M. J. Whittall Royal worsted Edgeworth rugs. 27x54 inches $4.95

11—$47.50 Royal Wilton rugs. Room size. 8.3x10.6 ft.....$27.50

4—$150 18th century Bigelow rugs. 9x15 ft.....$79.50

1—$220 Rug. Bigelow weavers 18th century design $110

(Sixth Floor)

Wool Frocks

237 Natural angora and rabbit's wool frocks. Green, brown, black, navy, wine. Not all styles in every size. Sizes 14 to 44. Originally $3.95 to $7.95.....½ off

(Fourth Floor)

Art Needlework

35—$3.50 to $18 tapestry pieces for footstools, chairs, benches, etc.... .....½ off

300—10c to $5 Art Needlework samples as pillows, novelties, dolls, waste baskets stamped pieces, etc. .....½ off

(Second Floor)

Budget Shops

$1.95 Sweater sets. Sizes 34 to 40 .....$1.25

25—$16.95 Sport coats. Tweed mixtures. Sizes 14 to 20 .....$8.95

18—$15 Suits. Tweed mixtures. Sizes 14 to 20, now $8.95

$3.75 Budget hats. Hats from regular stock. Some have just been in stock a few days.....$1.85

$2.75 Budget hats. Smart hats, Turbans, off-the-face and brim styles. Fabrics and felts.....$1.35

Gay scarf sets. Hat and matching scarf.....75c

Budget Shoes arranged on tables for easy selection. Kids and suedes. Oxfords, straps and pumps. Now .....Pr. $2.95

200 prs. Utility cloth and leather shoes.....$1.35

200 prs. Black crepe boudoir slippers 64c

Galoshes. Black and brown. Pair $1.15

(10th Floor)

Silverware

1847 Rogers flatware in 36 and 48-pc. sets. Originally $41 to $54.50. Choice of Her Majesty, Ancestral, Ambassador, Legacy and Silhouette patterns .....⅓ off

1847 Rogers Ancestral and Anniversary flatware .....½ off

288—29c Copper Bud vases, 2 for 25c

$1.95 Double decker tidbit dishes, $1

72 prs. $1 Automatic salt and pepper shakers 50c

(Street Floor)

In Mayfair

-With-

Patricia Pitt

The holiday entertainments this afternoon and evening for the debutante set will start, as usual, this Yuletide, with a tea-dance, but there'll be one variation. Besides a dinner party before the ball, for Mary Gordon tonight, there'll be a cocktail party, which the George C. Burgwins will give in their home for deb Gwendolen Holmes.

And there'll be a small tea late this afternoon which the Albert G. Wellses will give in their home honoring Gwendolen and New York visiting deb Adelaide Frick.

Mrs. Clinton L. Childs is giving a dinner tonight in the Pittsburgh Golf Club for Alice Brown, a Sewickley deb.

One of the most subtle, yet youthful debut gowns this season is being worn by tall, slender blonde Peggy Griffths for her debut at a tea-dance this afternoon in the Edgeworth Club. She is the daughter of the Paul Griffithses, of Sewickley, who are giving the entertainment.

Bud's Subtle Gown Cut Princess Style

Champagne is the color Peggy and her mother chose for her dress. The material is velvet, and it is princess in style. The gown has brief sleeves, and the bodice is cut high in front, buttoned at the top in back and left unfastened to the waist-line. Her hat is one of the new off-the-face models, made of dark brown velvet. Her slippers are of the same shade.

Colorful, yet blending with the gown, is her bouquet of Talisman roses with a touch of blue given by blue iris. The bouquet is tied with a dark brown streamer.

Her mother is wearing wood-brown velvet with sleeves of gold lace and a brown velvet hat, and has a corsage of orchids.

Peggy has asked Marnie Hodge, Evelyn Freeman, Betsy Liggett, Dorothy Clark, Annette Chester, Louise Collier, Barbara Verner Analana Beeson and Ann Brown, all sister debs, and Hester Lyon to be her aides.

Aiding Deb's Mother At Tea Dance Debut

Assisting Mrs. Griffiths are Mrs. James H. Austin, Mrs. Richmond Ball, Mrs. Frank Dravo, Mrs. Edward Gilmore, Mrs. Margaret Morgan, Mrs. William McBride, Mrs. Donald Thompson, Mrs. Charles C. McKallip and Mrs. Van Lear Perry Shriver, Jr.

Silver and green and red are the colors in the decorations of the stately, gracious clubhouse.

Mrs. Griffiths and her daughter are receiving before a background of balsam trees placed beside a fireplace. At the tea table, roses and snapdragons are used. And Christmas trees—balsams—decorate the stage where the orchestra is playing.

Olivers Give Dinner for Debutante Daughter

The A. K. Olivers gave a small dinner in their home last night for their debutante daughter, Margaretta, one of the most charming of the girls of this season.

Margaretta wore a white satin gown, and her mother chose peach satin.

Another notable debut dance of the holiday season was that last night of Constance Drake, the J. Frank Drakes' youngest daughter. The Drakes gave a ball in the Fox Chapel Golf Club, decorated with evergreens and red roses. For the supper, crystal trees were used on the small tables.

Deb Wears Gold Lame Gown Made With Train

The deb chose a gown of gold lame, cut with a train, and having a brilliant sash of coral velvet. The back of the bodice was cut low, the front, draped high.

Instead of a corsage, Constance had a wrist bouquet of African daisies. Her mother was in peach satin, fashioned with a train, and had a corsage of orchids.

Among those from out-of-town for the Drake debut were Mary Alice Amory and Eugene Horton Amory, John Amory and Lawrence Sherwood, of Bronxville, N. Y., and Bertram Ellis, of Montclair, N. J.

There'll be still another entertainment for Constance—Mrs. William Signer Moorhead will give a luncheon New Years Day at the Pittsburgh Golf Club.

Luncheon Tomorrow To Honor Debutantes

There's some more debutante news—news of more parties to come.

Mrs. Welford Tyler will give a luncheon tomorrow afternoon in the Twentieth Century Club honoring two debs named Frances—Frances Gott and Frances Frampton. There'll be Christmas decorations.

There'll be another party honoring Althea Robinson, the William C. Robinsons' debutante daughter. The Alexander Laughlin Robinsons and the junior William Christopher Robinsons will give a supper-dance New Years Day, beginning at 5 o'clock, in the Allegheny Country Club, honoring their sister, Althea.

And the William Christopher Robinsons will honor debutante Frederick Holdship with a New Years Eve party in the same club, New Years Eve, of course.

At the Gordon ball tonight, decorations will hint more strongly of spring—they'll be masses of delicate pink begonias and silver leaves. The Frank B. Gordons are giving the ball, you know, in Fox Chapel Golf Club, to present their daughter, Mary.

The deb will be in red and white—her gown is to be of white satin, over which she'll wear a brief jacket of white crystal beads, and she'll carry a scarlet muff of tulle, decked with white gardenias. Mrs. Gordon's gown will be of black crepe with crystal for trimming, and she'll have orchids.

Patricia Pitt's Comment on Pittsburgh Society Happenings

MISS GOTT AS A DEB AT THE EDGEWORTH CLUB

Photo by Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

MISS FRANCES PINKNEY GOTT, THE ESTEP T. GOTTS' DAUGHTER, AT DEBUT AT HER MOTHER'S SEWICKLEY TEA-DANCE

Charity Ball of Southern Club Sartorially Most Brilliant in Years

Sartorially speaking, the annual charity ball given last night by the Southern Club was quite the most brilliant in many years. Every one of the feminine guests had on a new gown and there was much color, not only from the distinctive shades of the gowning, but in the uniforms worn by several young men who are here on holiday from military and naval academies.

Supper tables were arranged both in the supper room and along the walls of the ballroom, while across the hall others were set up for cards. Japanese lanterns and a tropical scene at one end of the ballroom, together with colored lights set in festoons of greenery, constituted the decorations. An added effect was revolving multi-colored light which played upon the dancers. During the evening Karl Heinrich directed a ballet.

President Wears Gown Of Nile Green Bagheera

Mrs. Duward Belmont Frampton, president of the club, wore Nile green bagheera cloth made with a bustle and train and her debutante daughter, Frances DeLora Frampton, wore a gown of black bagheera with a sable jacket. Mrs. Otto G. Richter's gown was a striking model of Parma violet with looped trimming of velvet in deep purple. Mrs. Richter's niece, beautiful Grey Powell, chose black crepe which was made with silver sequins at neckline and a mirror buckle at the waist. Mrs. John William Rese's gown was a lovely thing of French blue crepe, made with a high neckline and having a shoulder bouquet of flesh colored organdie flowers.

A graceful corsage of gardenias followed the neckline of Mrs. Robert F. Metcalfe's black net and sequin gown. Mrs. Metcalfe, you know, was chairman of the ball. Her attractive young daughter, Nancy, was most becomingly gowned in blackberry taffeta, with odd little patterns of gold buttons here and there on the bodice of the gown. Black moire with several clips was chosen by Mrs. Adolph Hofmann, whose wrap was of white velvet, heavy with white fox. Another member of the committee, Mrs. John L. Perry, in her gown of Chinese red and white charmeuse, made a striking bit of color. Another stunning gown was that worn by Mrs. Arthur B. Lynn—blackberry satin that showed facings of chartreuse as she moved about.

Many Choose White For Dance Dresses

Of course there was much white worn. Pretty petite Jean Kimmell was in white crepe with a jacket matching; Mrs. J. Audley Pierce in white lace, Mrs. W. C. Laughlin, white crepe and crystal, and Peggy Perry, wearing a striking combination of white and violet satin. In her party was Margaret Tonkin, in olive green satin. Red accessories completed Eleanor Ketler's gown of white crepe. Mrs. H. D. Stark was in white crepe, the bodice of which was patterned in small beads. Mrs. William O'Lee's bustle-effect gown was of white, too, and so was Mrs. Walter Close's, which had a red velvet bow at the right back shoulder.

Black showed its usual popularity. It was worn by Mrs. Charles B. Ellis, also by Mrs. Charles M. White, who chose a most unusual model with a bertha-like trimming of ermine, high across the front and pointing to the waistline in the back. Mrs. White entertained a party of 16.

Black Also Popular With Many Women

Mrs. Joseph D. Baldridge's gown was of black net over red flowered crepe. Betty Rankin appeared in black velvet with emerald shoulder clips. Mrs. James McFall wore black, too, and her niece, Mrs. Ralph McDonald, who, with Mr. McDonald came up from Roanoke for the ball, was in red velvet with sequins at the neckline.

Mrs. Newell G. Alford, who, like Mrs. McFall, is a past president of the club, came in black lace. Little Betty Barton, dancing with David McPherson, Massanutten uniformed, was in French blue crepe.

Mrs. Churchill B. Mehard wore a white feather boa over her black gown. Noted also among the guests were Mrs. C. C. Hartman in maroon satin, Mrs. Frank L. Smith in pale blue crepe, sequin-trimmed, and Mrs. Walter K. Long in green taffeta.

Pittsburgh Folk Visit Sunny Southland

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 28.—Before the holidays are over, many northerners are arriving at the Sunshine City for the early season here.

From Pittsburgh are Mrs. J. R. Alexander, Virginia avenue; Mrs. Jesse C. Davis, Woodmont street; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dorr, Bellevue; D. H. Horne, Charles street; John J. S. Sebastian, Carnegie Tech; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Sheets, Rosetta street; Mrs. C. A. West, Miss Jean West, James and Arthur West, of West Lane drive, and Mrs. C. M. Wolff, Beechwood boulevard.

Yachting, swimming and a round of entertainments, from cocktail parties to balls, are a part of the entertainment.

Debs to Usher At Children's Play Jan. 6

A group of debutantes will usher at the Clare Tree Major Children's Theater play at the Nixon Saturday morning, January 6, for then the rush of entertainments for the debs of 1933 will be over.

Those who'll usher are Barbara Verner, Analana Beeson, Louise Collier, Mary Sutton, Gwendolen Holmes, Betsy Liggett and Virginia Evans.

The play on January 6 will be "Curdie, the Princess and the Goblin," a dramatization of George MacDonald's most popular book for boys and girls.

COMPLEXIONS GO GLAMOROUS

The naive maiden sketched left wears a halo band over her simply arranged hair. Below, a regal tiara in the Czarina mood.

By PRUNELLA WOOD

MAKE-UP THIS season is dramatic, glamorous, and even luminous, to get in step with our glittering evening mode. The two faces sketched above are polar opposites, and each needs a special kind of make-up that could not be exchanged between them without ruining the evening for both.

The little miss at the top, who looks as if butter would not melt in her mouth, deliberately builds herself that way, choosing a clear coral rouge which shows off the juvenile natural glow of her skin, and putting it on near her nose in a long patch to balance the roundness of her cheeks.

Her lip rouge is rather heavier at the center, and blended lightly at the corners of her mouth, getting an effect of piquancy rather than worldliness.

She has used the same discretion about her eye make-up, knowing that an almost imperceptible shadow over the lids is enough, and concentrating instead on mascara for her lashes to emphasize her baby stare. She has on but little powder, and it is a pearly, peachbloom tint.

The more candidly sophisticated girl also in the sketch has built her complexion up to the brilliant, regal tiara she wears. Her rouge is carried high up under eyes, away from her nose, and she has on a lot of lipstick in a bright poppy shade, especialy over the upper lip which happens to be not so heavy as her lower lip.

Irridescent green eye shadow is applied to point her eyes in a long line, and it is heavier near the lashes than it is over the rest of the lid. It is in this iridescent eye shadow that complexions go brilliant in a big way, for it is flecked with silver as gowns are flecked with sequins or rhinestones, and it really imparts a look of radiant success to eyes using it artistically.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

McLeods and Miss Frick To Give Dance for Debs

For a time Saturday night was not taken for a debutante entertainment, but now it is decidedly "taken" for one of the most interesting dinner-dances of the season.

The Norman McLeods, who belong to Pittsburgh's most conservative social circle, and Miss Helen Clay Frick, of Pittsburgh and New York, will be hosts at a dinner-dance Saturday night in the Pittsburgh Club, where few deb entertainments have been given this season.

Gwendolen Holmes, daughter of the Joseph Horne Holmeses, members of one of Pittsburgh's oldest families, will share honors with Adelaide Frick, New York debutante, who is the house guest of her aunt, Miss Frick.

Gwendolen's parents, like a few of the parents of her sister debs, will give no formal debut party for her. It is no longer necessary, for that matter—nowadays when a girl is on the debutante list, she's "out."

Gay Miami Beach Parties to Greet New Year

MIAMI BEACH, Dec. 28.—Socialites at Miami Beach will usher in the New Year with a round of festivity. A larger attendance than in any previous season is anticipated at the annual New Years Eve dinner-dance at the Surf Club New Years Eve.

The setting will depict the eighteenth century—a copy of a greeting card with synthetic snow falling over a street of whimsical houses, from the windows of which quaint figures lean to listen to strolling carolers. This picture will be thrown, moving picture fashion, on a gauze screen.

Among the members of the Surf Club from Pittsburgh are Dr. and Mrs. Edward G. Leslie, who are now here.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Pitcairn, of Pittsburgh, are at the Gulf Stream apartments for the winter season. The William McEldowneys, of Pittsburgh, were seen at the first dinner-dance of the season at the Beach Cabana Club.

The Victor H. Ehrharts entertained at the Surf Club at a luncheon recently with their guests including Mr. and Mrs. F. Lowry Wall, Miss Mary Belle Wall and others.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brown, of Allison Park, Pittsburgh, have arrived at the Floridian Hotel to remain throughout January.

Chapel Is Setting For Wedding of Miss Pearson

A Pittsburgh society girl, George Pearson, daughter of Mrs. George Pearson, of Howe street, who has gone in for a career in a New York department store, will be married Saturday.

She will marry Enrique Carlos Zanetti, of New York, Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in Calvary Episcopal Church Chapel. The ceremony will not be largely attended, of course, since it will be in the chapel.

* * *

Mrs. Mary C. Sawders, of Wallingford street, Shadyside, announces today the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ruth Ann Sawders, to Dr. Ray L. Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Allison, of Swissvale, Pa.

Both Dr. Allison and his bride are graduates of the University of Pittsburgh.

DANCE or PARTY NOVELTIES

For Your New Year's Parties

An assortment of Favors to entertain 100 persons; 100 Paper Hats, 100 Balloons, 50 Large Horns, 50 Noisemakers, 1000 rolls Serpentines. All complete for $9.00. Write for catalog

KANT NOVELTY CO.

143 THIRD AVE. PITTSBURGH Phone COurt 7236

William Penn Holiday Events

Saturday Night...

December 30, in The Chatterbox—a gala night—and Ernie Holst's grand music. $2.50 including breakfast.

New Year's Eve...

at the William Penn, the year's supreme climax! A night of splendor and high revelry such as Pittsburgh has not seen for years—and you're invited.

Twin decks of pleasure—groomed for gay merriment—bid you a joyous welcome—The Grand Ballroom on the seventeenth floor and The Chatterbox. In the former, Dancing, Favors and a Dinner you'll remember until 1935 . . . $5.00 per person.

In The Chatterbox you'll have grand music—a 1934 William Penn breakfast and the tariff will be a mere $3.00.

New Year's Day...

Heralding 1934 the Hotel William Penn offers a marvelous New Year's Dinner in the Italian Room and Sandwich Shop.

MAKE RESERVATIONS NOW

Phone Maitre d'Hotel ATlantic 7100

HOTEL WILLIAM PENN

CO-EDS LOVE OUR PASTRY

Tell Why So Many Women Are Getting The THOMPSON Habit

Recently we noted a group of beautiful young women raiding our chocolate eclairs. We made bold to talk to them . . . about the remarkable increase in women customers now so evident at Thompson's.

This is what we learned:

They were amazed at the high quality of our bakery goods at such low prices.

They like our daily array of inexpensive salads . . . our tasty low-priced sandwiches.

It seems, too, that women, as well as men, love coffee and they're finding the reputation of Thompson's famous coffee not at all exaggerated.

They're openly enthusiastic about our variety of fresh fruits and vegetables.

And most emphatically they asked: "Why shouldn't women be discovering Thompson's — especially since they're supposed to be such seekers after value?"

Well, why shouldn't they? So we thought we would tell you about it and offer the obvious suggestion to come in and get acquainted with the modern Thompson's. It's really made to order for the smart value-seeking woman.

407 FOURTH
423 FIFTH
130 SIXTH
220 SEVENTH

Thompson's NRA RESTAURANTS

542 SMITHFIELD

435 MARKET
968 LIBERTY
303 FEDERAL
3708 FORBES

Rx FOURTH DEGREE

SCOPOLAMIN

will disclose who committed the most weird murder of the year.

Latest News of Activities in Busy Lives of Pittsburgh's Club Women

Play Will Be Sponsored By Club

By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

The Pittsburgh Wellesley Club is sponsoring the Golden Triangle Players' production of "Anything Might Happen" at the Twentieth Century Club Saturday morning, January 20. Mrs. Merle T. Hoon and Mrs. F. R. Kleibacker are co-chairmen of the affair. The play is the work of Ray E. Hurd, Pittsburgh playwright.

One hundred and fifteen members of the club gathered at the Duquesne Club yesterday for their annual Christmas breakfast. Miss Frances L. Knapp, dean of freshmen, shared honors with two seniors, Miss Virginia Stevenson and Miss Lucile Flaccus, and later in the afternoon Miss Knapp was speaker at a tea given in the College Club for prospective Wellesley students.

At the luncheon she spoke of the plans for admission which went into effect last spring, a new system which increases the flexibility of the college. She told also of the two co-operative houses where 150 especially chosen girls are sharing the domestic work and are receiving allowances from the college. One-fifth of Wellesley's students are being given scholarship assistance this year, she said. Students (between 14,000 and 15,000 of them) are even more enthusiastic and earnest than in previous years, she added.

If plans now being formulated go into effect, Wellesley will be the first college to organize for peace, Miss Flaccus told the guests in discussing the concerted drive for peace education which is being carried on not only in the college, but throughout the town. Students have been sent out to address audiences on the peace question and a peace parade was held on Armistice Day.

Miss Stevenson's talk had to do largely with the activities of the Barnswallows, the dramatic organization at Wellesley. She spoke especially of the play, "The Dragon's Teeth," which had been the Barnswallows' contribution to the college peace program.

PLANNING ALUMNAE BRIDGE

MRS. EDITH RASCHEN TIBBETTS MRS. JOHN F. COLLINS, JR.

Mrs. Tibbetts, general chairman of the benefit bridge party which the University of Pittsburgh Alumnae Association will give Saturday at the Hotel Schenley. Mrs. Collins is secretary of the alumnae asociation year committee. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

Open House At Congress Of Clubs

Open house on Monday starts the year and the month off at the Congress of Clubs. Listed on the January calendar are the drama program luncheon next Thursday, the home department's program luncheon on Friday, the dinner meeting and program of the evening department on the ninth and meetings of the education and legislative departments on the tenth, with a joint luncheon.

The quarterly meeting is scheduled for the 15th, beginning at 10:30 in the morning. The welfare department's luncheon on the 23d, the current events class and the literature luncheon meeting the following day, are other affairs for which Congress members have marked on their calendars. And in addition there are the usual bowling, contract, choral, dancing, conditioning, parliamentary law and speech classes at their customary hours.

B. P. W. Program on Bank Code and Recovery Laws

The Wilkinsburg Business and Professional Women's Club under the supervision of its legislative committee will hear a program on relief and recovery laws following dinner at the Penn-Lincoln Hotel on Tuesday, January 9.

A talk on "Banking Reforms and the New Banking Code" will be given by Fred G. Loscamp, Jr., chairman of the debating and public speaking committee of Pittsburgh Chapter, American Institute of Banking.

* * *

Mrs. Robert Brennecke, of Gnadenhutten, O., president of the general alumnae association, will be honor guest and speaker at the annual luncheon meeting of Pittsburgh Chapter, Linden Hall Alumnae Association, on Saturday in the College Club.

Miss Dorothy Swan, president of the chapter, and Miss Eleanor Lang comprise the committee on arrangements for Saturday's event.

* * *

The Delta Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta sorority will have a holiday luncheon in the Urban room of the William Penn Hotel this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock for alumnae, active members and pledges. Miss Ruth Ann Agnew is receiving reservations.

'First Lady' to Be Honor Guest At Dinner of Federation's Board on January 12

For the first time in the history of the General Federation of Women's Clubs the board of directors will have as honor guest and speaker a "first lady of the land" when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt attends the dinner to be given by the board on January 12 at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington. Board members, by the way, will be privileged to bring guests that night.

The annual mid-winter meeting, being held January 9 to 13, will again emphasize the theme "These United States," the slogan of the present G. F. W. C. administration, stressing the new significance in the light of developments during the last nine months. Dr. Frederic C. Howe, consumers' counsel for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and Count Rene de Harnoncourt, internationally-known authority on art, who is soon to begin a series of broadcasts on art appreciation under the auspices of the federation's division of art, will be among the speakers.

Also on the program will be the federation's two "scholarship girls," each telling what the scholarship means to her. And there will be music by well-known Washington artists. A brilliant reception will be held at headquarters on Tuesday, with club women from every state having as guests their Senators and Representatives and their wives.

* * *

Mrs. Robert K. Cochrane, a past president, will have charge of the Health Colony's "health day" program on Tuesday in the Congress of Clubs. Dr. Richard J. Beham is to be the speaker and Miss Rosalyn Shearer will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Beulah Taylor Marston.

Club Leader On Air With Kaufman

"Will It Be a Happy New Year for Women's Clubs?" is the subject on which Mrs. O. G. Leichliter will be interviewed by Louis L. Kaufman, Sun-Telegraph Globe Trotter, at 12:15 over WCAE on Tuesday.

Mrs. Leichliter is a past president of the Woman's Club of Wilkinsburg, on the board of which she served for seven years. She is also a member of the Ligonier Woman's Club, the Phoebe Bayard Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the College Club and the Tuesday Musical Club.

Sloan Scholarship Club Benefit Luncheon Jan. 8

A benefit card party and luncheon will be held Monday, January 8, in Spear's by the Sarah Sloan Scholarship Club. The proceeds will, of course, be used for the club's scholarship work.

B'nai B'rith Auxiliary Meeting Date Changed

A change in date has been made for the board meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Pittsburgh Lodge, No. 44, B'nai B'rith. On account of New Year's Day, the meeting has been postponed until January 8 and will be held in Kaufmann's. Installation of officers will take place Tuesday, January 9, in the Y. M. and W. H. A. at the general meeting of the organization.

NASAL CATARRH
...SOOTHING COMFORTING RELIEF.....
VICKS Nose & Throat DROPS
CLEARS HEAD QUICKLY

PIMPLY SKIN
soon improved and blotches cleared away by daily treatment with Resinol

Dolly Springer Giving Bridge for Classmates

The week after Christmas is always a popular time for alumnae and undergraduate reunions.

Miss Dolly Springer, a student at the Pennsylvania College for Women, is entertaining at a bridge-luncheon in Kaufmann's for her classmates this afternoon.

Miss Springer

Community Players to Present Benefit Plays

The Community Players will present three one-act plays at 8 o'clock tonight in the Braddock-Carnegie auditorium for the benefit of the needy. Proceeds will be used to fill New Years baskets. Admission will be one or more articles of food, to be used in the packing of the baskets which will be distributed under the direction of Capt. D. W. Dearen, of the Tri-boro Salvation Army.

The plays are "Demitasse," "The Pot Boilers" and "Diplomatic Bridget."

Through the Spyglass
Viewing the New

To find out the names of the shops whose items are listed in this column . . . CALL GRANT 6500 . . . and ASK FOR THE SPYGLASS. Or . . . send a stamped self-addressed envelope for your reply.

* * *

Such leaping from pillar to post! Such a lot of "viewing"—though mostly it's clearances of importance instead of the "new," these days! And this time . . .

It's a Sample Sale of Jewelry! An assortment of loot to fill the heart of any of you with piratical cravings for "chools!" These being the kind which were as high as $2 . . . and are ALL going for 50c nowadays! And including those nice, big, gobs of gilded junk which you call Romanesque bracelets and hang on your wrist! And pins . . . rings . . . clips . . . necklaces. Lots of those Point de Venice types (gold with rhinestones dingle-dangling on them. And the whole bunch of them enough to make one feel Arabian Nightish!

* * *

We no sooner get our chin whiskers all brushed nice and smooth than we disrupted them by our rooting in and out of the alluring hostess gowns we found in one store . . . reduced ones, now $5.00. (For you can't look at them and not want to get IN them . . . even if you aren't a shop hound!)

SO swellish for sitting on the back of your neck after a tiresome day (or don't you have tiresome days?) And they will be dandy to wear on the porch when spring finally gets here—looking like a snooty dress in reality instead of a GOWN!

Triple crepes . . . sheers . . . figured and plain and combinations . . . pleated, puffed and plain sleeves . . . and hand finishing enough to make your eyes go pop!

* * *

Surrounded with winter . . . and yet one shop is reducing their muffs! We told you about them once . . . but that was when they were $6.00 and $8.00. And seeing as how they're only $4.95 now, we think we should tip you off. Northern Seals at this price . . . and a few Persian Lamb ones lurking in the background for a similarly small sum!

Here' ssomething which will suit you right down to the ground . . . SHOES! (Do pardon us . . . it must be the holidays!)

Anyway . . . there dwells in this town a shop whose daytime shoes are noted far and near for being QUITE SOMETHING. And for being $10 and $12.50 . . . we might add! So that when we say they're having a knock-down-drag-out sale of it these days at $6.85 . . . $7.85 . . . and $8.85—you'll realize our Spyglass is seeing a thing or two! Ties . . . straps . . . and step-in pumps—with plenty of styles for the men, too. (Oh, yes, we couldn't overlook the men!)

* * *

Pre New Year hysteria on our part! Reason: the finding of gorgeous Italian-type dinner cloths (sizes 2x2½ and 2x3) . . . all done up with Roman cut work and filet. Fawncy what a stir you could make with a table covered by one of these bearing the holiday cheer! And they're but $10 . . . which is less than the usual price of plain damask.

* * *

Something to pick up the crumbs and pine needles now that Christmas has passed! Brand new carpet sweepers with a way all their own! Made with a glass peephole in their tops so that you can look in and see what's going on. And better still . . . made with little combs which keep the brushes free from "woolies" and such which clog up most sweepers and leave them more or less out of commission. One side of these is for thick pile rugs . . . one for lower pile . . . and they have all the other more regular features of the carpet sweeper, only better!

—DOROTHY RANDALL.

MEYER JONASSON'S

Dance Frocks

Everybody's dressing formally and here's how to do it for only

7.95

No foolin'! You'll have more "cut-ins" and partners than you can possibly dance with, if you're turned out in such a vision of loveliness. SKETCH comes in white, red, palest pink, blue and black. And there are others, just as glamorous for NEW YEAR'S eve affairs.

THRIFT SHOP
FIFTH FLOOR

for fashions
MEYER JONASSON'S
Liberty at Oliver

—Meyer Jonasson Melodeers WJAS 6:45 P. M.—

FRANK & SEDER BASEMENT

DRASTIC REDUCTIONS
1/4, 1/3, 1/2 OFF

Girls' Jackets, for $1.59
Sizes 8 to 20; suedine. Sub-Basement
Rayon Taffeta Dresses, $1
Girls'; 7 to 14 years. Sub-Basement
Girls' Smart Coats, $3.99
Sizes 7 to 14; hats to match. Sub-Bmt.
Women's Oxfords, Pair 59c
Also straps; hand-turned soles. Bmt.
Boys' and Girls' Shoes, 99c
Straps and oxfords; sturdy soles. Bmt.
Wom.'s Rubber Gaiters 69c
Black and brown; snap fastener. Bmt.
Tots' Smart Dresses, 49c
Rayon flat crepe; 1 to 6. Basement
Baby Flannelette Wear, 15c
Odds and ends; shirts, panties. Bmt.
Tots' Wool Sweaters, 39c
Also jerseys; sizes 1 to 6. Basement
Tots' Warm Coat Sets, $1
"Beacon" chinchilla cloth. Basement
Tots' Flan'l. Sleepers, 29c
Drop seat, with feet. 2 to 6. Bmt.
9 Women's Fur Coats, $24
Higher priced models. Sub-Basement
Reduced! Fur Coats, $38
Sizes 16 to 48 in the lot. Basement
Women's Hosiery, Pair 17c
Rayon, wool and cotton hose. Bmt.
Jacquard Blankets, $1.59
Various color combinations. Sub-Bmt.
70x80 Blankets, pr. $2.29
Part-wool; large size, irreg. Sub-Bmt.
Pastel Towels, 6 for $1
Good size; double-thread. Sub-Bmt.
44x54 Crash Cloths, 59c
Heavy linen; color borders. Sub-Bmt.
Rayon Bedspreads at $2.59
'Cannon'; full size; reversible. Sub-Bt.
Boys' Wool-Mix Pants, 49c
Small sizes; medium shades. Bmt.
Men's Dress Pants, $1.69
Cassimeres, worsteds; 30 to 42. Bmt.
Men's Wool Sw'ters, $1.95
Coat and pullover styles. Basement

Novelty & Arch SHOES
Novelty shoes in pumps, straps and oxfords; sizes 3 to 8. Arch shoes with riveted steel shanks; regular and stout models.
99c
F. & S.—Basement

Just 380 Pairs Go at This Thrilling Price
PART-WOOL BLANKETS
$1.96 Pair
Every Pair First Quality!
Thick, warm and cozy; large plaids, sateen binding; contains not less than 5% wool.
Green, Orchid, Blue, Rose, Gold

Mail and Phone Orders
PROMPTLY FILLED! CALL ATLANTIC 2100
Please send me ( ) Blankets at ($1.96) Pair.
NAME.....COLOR.....
ADDRESS.....2nd Choice.....
Frank & Seder—Sub-Basement

Men's Buckskein JACKETS
Seconds that sold from $2.95 to $5.95! Zipper and button styles; worsted bottoms. Broken sizes. While they last!
$2
F. & S.—Basement

DRASTIC REDUCTIONS
1/4, 1/3, 1/2 OFF

Duplex Window Shades 44c
Green and white; imperfects. Sub-Bt.
Brussels Carpet, Yard 25c
27-in., taupe. For halls, etc. Sub-Bmt.
Auto Seat Covers at 59c
Striped denim; for coupes. Sub-Bmt.
Men's Dress Sox, Pair 10c
Cotton and wool; seconds. Basement
Men's Warm Pajamas, 79c
Flannelette; A, B, C and D. Basement
Men's Union Suits, for $1
10% wool; sizes 36 to 46. Basement
Fleeced Union Suits, $1
Men's; ecru and random. Basement
75 Men's Suits, only $8
All sizes, but not in every style. Bmt.
Women's Rayon Undies 29c
Bloomers, panties, stepins, vests. Bmt.
Women's Blouses, for 39c
Also children's; odd lots. Basement
Women's Sweaters, at 39c
Also children's; odd lots. Basement
Women's Union Suits, 39c
Odd lots; also children's. Basement
To $1.94 Wom.'s Hats, 79c
Brims, turbans; wanted colors. Bmt.
Women's Felt Hats, 49c
Black, brown, navy and rust. Bmt.
Children's Stockings, 10c
Full-length; combed cotton. Bmt.
Women's Handbags, 49c
Envelope styles; smart colors. Bmt.
Children's Gloves, for 29c
Finger gloves; warmly lined. Bmt.
Boys' Juvenile Suits, 49c
Actually worth to 79c each! Bmt.
Boys' Underwear, at 39c
Winter weight; sizes 2 to 12. Bmt.
R'm Lot Wall Paper, $1.29
10 wall, 20 border, 6 ceiling. Sub-Bmt.
One-Coat Enamel, Qt. 49c
White, colors; for wall, etc. Sub-Bmt.
Room Plastic Paper, $1.98
10 wall, 20 border, 6 ceiling. Sub-Bmt.

Drastic After Christmas Sale of WINTER COATS

$11
Tomorrow! Sensational
Savings of 1/4, 1/3, 1/2
A marvelous money-savings opportunity. Lavishly fur-trimmed winter coats that regularly sold for $20 and $25; warmly lined throughout; if we had to replace these coats in today's markets we couldn't buy the materials alone for this price. Sizes 14 to 46
F. & S.—Sub-Basement

Pittsburgh's Original Bargain Basement

PRESIDENT SPEAKS -:- Rudy Vallee Eddie Duchin -:- ON RADIO

Roosevelt Honors Wilson

President Roosevelt pays tribute to Woodrow Wilson in a nation-wide broadcast over the Columbia-WJAS and NBC-KDKA networks tonight at 10:30.

Mr. Roosevelt, who was Wilson's Assistant Secretary of the Navy during the World War, delivers his radio address from the annual Wilson memorial dinner held in Washington on the occasion of the war-time President's birthday.

* * *

THE PICKENS

The Pickens Sisters are guests of Paul Whiteman during his 10 o'clock program on NBC-WCAE.

* * *

Eddie Duchin and his orchestra inaugurate a new series of dance broadcasts over NBC-KDKA at 7:30.

* * *

Bill Hart and Ginger Rogers are guests of Rudy Vallee and his California Connecticut Yankees on WCAE at 8 o'clock.

Hart dramatizes "The Last Roundup;" Ginger sings a number of songs.

* * *

TUNNEY

William Lyon Phelps brings another of his Connecticut neighbors to the "Voice of America" program, introducing Gene Tunney to the CBS-WJAS audience at 8:30.

As a prize fighter, Tunney cultivated the English professor's acquaintance through mutual love of literature and large words.

* * *

Cap'n Henry gives Lanny Ross a sendoff during tonight's Show Boat broadcast, on NBC-WCAE at 9.

Lany leaves for the west coast and the movies, after the show, but is not leaving the air. His voice will be piped from Hollywood during the Thursday night performances.

* * *

BENCHLEY

Bob Benchley gives a humorous dissertation on "Inflation" during the Andre Kostelanetz program, on WJAS at 9:15.

* * *

A musical review of 1933 is played by Glen Gray and his orchestra in the Caravan concert, on the CBS-WJAS network at 10.

* * *

Ernest Schelling's descriptive fantasy, "A Victory Ball," is the Philadelphia Orchestra's offering over CBS-WJAS as 9 o'clock.

* * *

Two flaming youths and two modern maidens air their opinions of the "Dutch Treat" idea, over WWSW at 7:30.

TEN BEST BETS

Thursday, Dec. 28

7:15—KDKA—Lois Miller.
7:30—KDKA—Eddie Duchin
8:00—WCAE—Rudy Vallee.
8:30—WJAS—Voice of America.
9:00—WCAE—Show Boat.
WJAS—Philadelphia Symphony.
10:00—WCAE—Paul Whiteman.
WJAS—Glen Gray.
10:30—WJAS-KDKA—President Roosevelt.
12:05—WCAE—Cab Calloway.

4:15 P. M.
WCAE—Wizard of Oz; organists.
WJAS—Ensemble (cont'd).
KDKA—Pete and Bob.
KQV—Alicia Fuller, pianist.
WWSW—Gertrude Long's Lee Rendezvous Note Hacks.
4:15 P. M.
WJAS—Educational Feature, R. B. Mellon, of Pittsburgh.
KDKA—Thursday Special.
KQV—De Vassie Brothers.
4:30 P. M.
WCAE—Loretta Clemens, pianist.
WJAS—Dorothy Wills, pianist.
KDKA—Business News; Markets.
KQV—The Special.
WWSW—Book Man.
4:45 P. M.
WCAE—Popular Tunes.
WJAS—Artists Recital.
KDKA—Billy Leech, songs.
WWSW—Rudy and I.
5:00 P. M.
WCAE—Green Brothers Orchestra.
WJAS—Patsy Shannon, songs.
KDKA—Uncle Tom and Betty.
WWSW—Radio Rascals.
5:15 P. M.
WJAS—George Hall's Orchestra.
KDKA—Kiddies Klub.
KQV—Mauna Loa Hawaiians.
5:30 P. M.
WCAE—Dancing Discs.
WJAS—Jack Armstrong.
KDKA—The Singing Lady.
KQV—Silent until 7:30.
WWSW—Florence Guy, pianist.
5:45 P. M.
WCAE—Echoes of Erin.
WJAS—Stamp Adventures Club.
KDKA—Little Orphan Annie.
WWSW—News.
5:58 P. M.
WCAE—Program Announcement.
6:00 P. M.
WCAE—Xavier Cugat's Orchestra
WJAS—Buck Rogers.
KDKA—News; Pat Haley.
WWSW—Walt Sickle's Sport Slants.

6:15 P. M.
WJAS—Jeanne Galbreath.
KDKA—Sport Review; Weather.
WWSW—Marie Poilman, soprano.
6:30 P. M.
WCAE-WJAS—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
KDKA—KDKA Salon Orchestra.
WWSW—Ernest Neff, organist; Ted Yearsley, tenor.
6:40 P. M.
WCAE—NRA Program.
WJAS—Modern Melody.
6:45 P. M.
WCAE—Mitzi Green in Happy Landings.
WJAS—Melodeers.
"Songs at Eventide."
KDKA—Lowell Thomas.
7:00 P. M.
WCAE—The Trained Seals of Harry Keck.
WJAS—Myrt and Marge.
KDKA—Amos 'n' Andy.
WWSW—Lee Greenwood and Sally Crum.
7:15 P. M.
WCAE—Opry House Tonight.
WJAS—Just Plain Bill.
KDKA—Lois Miller, organist.
WWSW—Scouting by the Owl Patrol.
7:30 P. M.
WCAE—Lum and Abner.
WJAS—Dance Orchestra.
KDKA—Eddie Duchin's Orchestra.
KQV—Gool Room Concert.
WWSW—Dutch Debate—Charles and William Baltin; Rhea Tenenbaum and Jane Ahleman.
7:45 P. M.
WCAE—The Goldbergs.
WJAS—Boake Carter News.
8:00 P. M.
WCAE—Rudy Vallee's Orchestra.
WJAS—Edith Murray.
"I Can't Say No"
If I Love Again
Smile
Isn't It Sweet to Dream"
Orchestra
I Can't Say No
Melancholy Baby
KDKA—Capt. Diamond's Adventures.
KQV—Dr. Hugh Greer Carruthers.
WWSW—Schenley Trio.
8:15 P. M.
WJAS—Edwin C. Hill.
KQV—Gus and Ray.
'Songs of Today'
WWSW—Uncle Eli's Tamboritza Orchestra.
8:30 P. M.
WJAS—Voice of America.
William Lyon Phelps, Alec Gray, Cal Tunney, Patricia Dorn and Donald Burr, with Nat Shilkret's Orchestra and Gene Tunney, guest speaker.
'Blue Room'
Flying Down to Rio Selections, Orchestra.
End of a Perfect Day
Alexander Gray and Orchestra.
Blue Room
Patricia Dorn and Donald Burr.
Hill Billy Music
Of Thee I Sing
Regimental Song from "White Eagle"
Friml
Alexander Gray and Orchestra.
Chorus of Old Dog Tray
There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight.
KDKA—Adventures in Health.
KQV—Sam Crisanti, violinist; Della Barney, pianist.
WWSW—Joe Schafer's Orchestra.
8:45 P. M.
KDKA—The Sizzlers.
KQV—Charles Gilbert Davis.
"The Wee Philosopher"
9:00 P. M.
WCAE—Capt. Henry's Show Boat.
Charles Winninger; Lanny Ross, tenor; Annette Hanshaw, blues singer; Conrad Thibault, baritone; Kathryn Newman, soprano; Molasses 'n' January; Don Voorhees' Show Boat Band.
WJAS—Philadelphia Symphony—Leopold Stokowski, conducting.
KDKA—Death Valley Days.
KQV—Hawaiian Echoes.
WWSW—Betty McCook, pianist.
9:15 P. M.
WJAS—Andre Kostelanetz Orchestra and Chorus; Howard Marsh, tenor, and Robert Benchley.
"Gypsy Fiddles"
Sweet Madness, from "Murder at the Vanities"
Orchestra and Chorus
Gypsy Fiddles
Howard Marsh and Orchestra and Chorus
Robert Benchley
Are You Making Any Money
Ah, But Is It Love
Moonlight and Pretzels
Riff Song from "Desert Song"
Howard Marsh, Orchestra and Male Chorus
WWSW—Julianne Andrulonis, contralto.
9:30 P. M.
WJAS—California Melodies.
WWSW—Religion in Rhythm.
11:00 P. M.
WCAE—Viola Philo, soprano.
KDKA—Weather; Sports; News.
WWSW—Joe Schafer's Orchestra.
11:15 P. M.
WCAE—Norman Cordan, basso.
WJAS—Phil Regan, tenor.
KDKA—The Poet Prince.
11:30 P. M.
WCAE—Enric Madriguera and His Orchestra.
WJAS—Eddie Peyton's Orchestra.
KDKA—Ernie Holst's Orchestra.
WWSW—Pep Houck's Orchestra.
12:00 Midnight.
WCAE—Ralph Kirbery—The Dream Singer.
WJAS—Ozzie Nelson's Orchestra.
KDKA—Marty Gregor's Orchestra.
WWSW—Good Night.
12:05 A. M.
WCAE—Cab Calloway's Orchestra.
12:15 A. M.
WCAE—Cab Calloway (cont'd).
WJAS—Ozzie Nelson (cont'd).
KDKA—Marty Gregor (cont'd).
12:30 A. M.
WCAE—Jack Denny's Orchestra.
WJAS—Good Night.
KDKA—Jack Bruce's Orchestra.
12:45 A. M.
WCAE—Jack Denny (cont'd).
KDKA—Jack Bruce (cont'd).
1:00 A. M.
WCAE—Weather.
KDKA—Good Night.

Ginger

Ginger Rogers, Broadway actress who rose to stardom in the films, is co-starred with William S. Hart on the Vallee program, heard over WCAE tonight at 8.

Basketball Champs On WCAE Tonight

The Cleveland Celtics, basketball champions of the world, in Pittsburgh to play the McKeesport Willigs tonight, visit the WCAE studios with Harry Keck, sports editor of the Sun-Telegraph, and his Trained Seals, to give the radio audience an earful of basketball. They are on the air at 7 o'clock.

The Globe Trotter, voice of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, broadcasts the day's news over WCAE-WJAS at 12:15 and 2:15 p. m.—over WCAE at 6:30 p. m.

Allen Solves Audience Problem

By AIRCASTER

"Dear Editor" (writes Fred Allen):

"I see the comedians of the air can't agree whether they want studio audiences or not.

"My advice to the funny fellows who don't like audiences is to play in most any of the theaters.

"The reason Lindy and Ann looked so well when they returned is because they missed 'The Last Roundup' and 'The Big Bad Wolf.'

"With the new traffic lights on Fifth avenue, pedestrians now can cross without detouring through Bellevue."

* * *

YOU WYNN!

"Dear Sir:" (writes Jack Berger, one of the punniest of the band leaders) after hearing Ed Wynn, the perfect fool, defend the studio audience system:

"I think he's all fool and a yarn wide."

* * *

"Dear sir" (scribbles George Givot, the 'Greek humbassador'")

"Please deny for me the rumor that the government is trading me and a catcher's mitt for Insull."

* * *

"Kind sir," (typewrites Freddy Rich, the orchestra leader)

"I am the CBS optimist for the moment.

"I have worked on many commerciai programs in the past few years, including those of the makers of razor blades, perfume, toothpaste and a patent medicine.

"Each of those sponsors always kept me supplied with their product. Now I have a job with an auto program. Get it?

* * *

ANOTHER CODE

"Aircaster" (telegraphs studio stooge):

"What's this about Kay Francis not going on last night's show with the Troubadors?

"It was all set, and she steps aside because of 'physical and mental indisposition?'"

A code in the head, perhaps.

* * *

Some time ago I predicted Bob Ripley (Believe-It-Or-Not) as a regular on the B. A. Rolfe program.

Rip and his oddities have been signed for the Saturday night dance series (NBC-WCAE) on January 6 and after.

'The Broken Coin' On Air Today

Florence Malone, radio's foremost dramatic actress, returns to the air by popular request in the week's most absorbing radio drama, "The Broken Coin."

The dramatization, based on a real life story in next Sunday's American Weekly, big feature magazine distributed with the Sunday Sun-Telegraph, reveals the strange experience of a professional entertainer in a low-class Parisian cafe, who drugged a guest to rob him of his wallet, only to learn, through a broken coin in his pocket, that he was her own father.

The drama, broadcast over 150 stations throughout the United States and Canada, is heard on the following stations in the tri-state area:

Today—WFBG, Altoona, 3 p. m., and WKBN, Youngstown, 8:15 p. m.

Friday—WSAZ, Huntington, W. Va., 1:30 p. m.; WHBC, Canton, O., 2 p. m.; WALR, Zanesville, O., 5 p. m.; WJAC, Johnstown, 5:15 p. m.; WOBU, Charleston, W. Va., 5:15 p. m.; WAIU, Columbus, O., 7:15 p. m.; WADC, Akron, O., 7:45 p. m., and WLBW, Erie, 9 p. m.

Local Highlights on WJAS Tonight

Three soloists, Patsy Shannon, Jeanne Galbraith and Paul Gannon continue the holiday spirit with appropriate numbers.

Patsy is on the early evening schedule; Jeanne at 6:15 and Gannon again at 6:45.

Eddie Peyton's entertainers also catch the merry spirit during the 11:30 Frivolities with special medleys.

Globe-Trotting

By LOUIS L. KAUFMAN

Hello, ladies and gentlemen:

Seth Parker has no more ardent admirer than Mrs. Thomas Dent, of Windgap road. She has been puzzled about the origin of his broadcasts, and many others, too, are in doubt whether or not they originated in Jonesport, Maine, or in a New York studio.

The ideas and background originated in Maine, but not the broadcasts themselves. Seth Parker, or Phillips Lord, hails from Jonesport and from his own rich experience with his neighbors and friends sprung the spirit of the "githerin's."

He is married and in the radio presentation his wife is heard as Lizzie.

* * *

In re C. W. A.—Applications for jobs under the Civil Works Administration are filed at the State Employment Office at 108 Smithfield street. Later this week the headquarters will be moved, it has been announced, to the site of the Marine Bank at Third avenue and Smithfield street.

Applications are still being received from both men and women. No age limit has been announced.

Shoe Repair Special
HALF SOLES
Men's, Women's, or Children's Shoes . . . while you wait, or delivered
59c
Rubber Heels 10c Extra
Satisfactory Wear Guaranteed
Phone FAirfax 2600
—Shoe Repair, Basement—
BOGGS & BUHL

Old English Dry Gin
PINTS . . . $1.00
FIFTHS . . . $1.60
AT HOTELS, RESTAURANTS, CLUBS, DRUG STORES
EXTRA DRY. A PERFECT GIN FOR COCKTAILS. EQUAL TO THE FINEST IMPORTED BRANDS
TO LICENSE HOLDERS: Telephone Samuel B. Weller, Sales Manager, Atlantic 4950, State Theater Building, for new low wholesale prices.

"FOR BUDGETS SAKE"
START THE NEW YEAR RIGHT WITH Dimling's
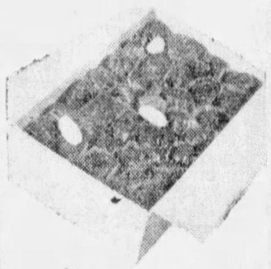
SPECIAL NEW YEAR BOX
(ALL THIS WEEK)
2 lbs. $1
A pound of our finest assorted chocolates, or chocolates and bonbons, and a pound of our famous chocolate Nut Bark, in a New Year wrapping.
Thousands of Pittsburghers have discovered . . . it's folly to pay more for fine fresh candies.


It's Fresher!
DIMLING'S CANDY SHOPS
Wood and Diamond Sts.
Smithfield St. and Oliver Ave.
Seventh St. and Liberty Ave.
201 Stanwix St.
403 Federal St., North Side
6104 Penn Ave., East Liberty
1833 Murray Ave., Sq. Hill
913 Wood St., Wilkinsburg

EARLY FRIDAY PROGRAMS

WCAE

6:45 A. M.—Health Exercises.
8:00 A. M.—Richard Leibert, organist.
8:30 A. M.—Cheerio.
9:00 A. M.—The Golden Bird.
9:15 A. M.—The Market Place — Alice Abbott.
9:30 A. M.—Bradley Kincaid, the Mountain Boy.
9:45 A. M.—Gene Lewellyn and Ruth Johnstone, pianists.
10:00 A. M.—The Masters' Chef.
10:15 A. M.—The Morning Home Circle.
10:30 A. M.—Dr. Wirth.
10:35 A. M.—Sailing the Airwaves.
10:45 A. M.—Betty Crocker.
11:00 A. M.—Symphony Orchestra, direction Frank Black, and Alexander Tcherepnine, pianist.
12:00 Noon.—Gene Arnold and the Commodores.
12:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
12:30 P. M.—Sailing the Airwaves.
12:58 P. M.—Missing Persons.
1:00 P. M.—Pittsburgh Traffic Court Hearings.
1:30 P. M.—Maurice Lees' Orchestra.
1:55 P. M.—Dr. Royal S. Copeland.
2:00 P. M.—Dancing Discs.
2:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
2:30 P. M.—Friday Steeplechase.
3:00 P. M.—Our Ma Perkins.
3:15 P. M.—Popular Airs.
3:30 P. M.—Woman's Radio Review.
4:00 P. M.—Stolen Moments—Phyllis Morton.
4:15 P. M.—Ann Scott, soprano.
4:30 P. M.—Popular Tunes.
4:45 P. M.—Sun-Telegraph Family—Children's program, Jane A. White director.
5:15 P. M.—Norman Cloutier's Orchestra.
5:30 P. M.—Tom Mix and His Straight Shooters.
5:45 P. M.—The "Wizard of Oz."
6:00 P. M.—Sports Talk, James J. Long.

KDKA

7:00 A. M.—The Musical Clock.
8:00 A. M.—Morning Devotions.
8:15 A. M.—Don Hall Trio.
8:30 A. M.—Low White Organist.
8:45 A. M.—Strollin' Tom.
9:00 A. M.—Breakfast Club.
9:30 A. M.—Style Service.
9:45 A. M.—News; Weather.
9:52 A. M.—The Voice of a Violin.
9:55 A. M.—Minute Manners, by Dorothy Duff.
10:00 A. M.—Cowboy Songs—Jules Allen.
10:15 A. M.—Clara, Lu 'n' Em.
10:30 A. M.—Today's Children.
10:45 A. M.—Sammy Fuller.
10:59 A. M.—Chevrolet Announcement.
11:00 A. M.—Symphony Concert of Compositions by Tcherepnine.
12:00 Noon—Schnozz.
12:15 P. M.—Honey Boy and Sassafras.
12:30 P. M.—News.
12:35 P. M.—Business News; Markets.
12:45 P. M.—Ernie Holst's Orchestra.
1:00 P. M.—Farm and Home Hour.
1:30 P. M.—Vic and Sade.
1:45 P. M.—Ernie Holst's Orchestra.
2:00 P. M.—Friday Revue—A Request Program.
2:30 P. M.—Home Forum.
3:00 P. M.—Words and Music.
3:15 P. M.—United States Marine Band.
4:00 P. M.—Betty and Bob.
4:15 P. M.—Ethel's Hall.
4:30 P. M.—Business News; Markets.
4:45 P. M.—Joe Marsico's Band.
5:00 P. M.—Uncle Tom and Betty.
5:15 P. M.—Knothead Ezra.
5:30 P. M.—The Singing Lady.
5:45 P. M.—Little Orphan Annie.
6:00 P. M.—News; Pat Haley.

WJAS

7:30 A. M.—Farm Facts.
8:00 A. M.—Pittsburgh in Review.
8:15 A. M.—Musical Moments.
8:30 A. M.—Cheery Melodies.
9:00 A. M.—Do Re Mi.
9:15 A. M.—Metropolitan Parade.
9:30 A. M.—Edna Tscheragin.
9:45 A. M.—Extase (symphonic).
10:00 A. M.—Grant, Granum and Coughlin.
10:15 A. M.—Hillbilly Gilbert.
10:30 A. M.—Crazy Barkatsos.
10:45 A. M.—Sally Cloutz, songs.
11:00 A. M.—Kitchen Closeups.
11:15 A. M.—Big Freddy Miller.
11:30 A. M.—Tune Weavers.
11:45 A. M.—Dancing Echoes.
12:00 Noon.—Voice of Experience.
12:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
12:30 P. M.—George Hall's Orchestra.
1:00 P. M.—Musicale.
1:30 P. M.—Easy Aces.
1:45 P. M.—Painted Dreams.
2:00 P. M.—Mark Warnow's Orchestra.
2:15 P. M.—The Globe Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News.
2:30 P. M.—Ann Leaf, organist.
3:00 P. M.—The Grab Bag.
3:30 P. M.—Harrisburg Varieties.
4:00 P. M.—Artists Recital.
4:30 P. M.—Naomi Gunst, pianist.
4:45 P. M.—Army Band.
5:00 P. M.—Mickey Bell, songs.
5:15 P. M.—Dad Campe.
5:30 P. M.—Jack Armstrong.
5:45 P. M.—Cowboy Jim.
6:00 P. M.—Fran Eichler's Orchestra.

KQV

7:00 A. M.—Musical Clock.
8:00 A. M.—Alicia Fuller, organist.
8:30 A. M.—Delta Cane Cutters.
9:00 A. M.—Harris Modern Melodies.
9:30 A. M.—Freddy Rose Presentation.
9:45 A. M.—Old Sage "Wayside Gleanings."
10:00 A. M.—The Blues Chasers.
10:15 A. M.—Black and White Rhythm.
11:30 A. M.—Word Pictures.
11:45 A. M.—High Spots of Yesterday.
12:00 Noon.—Lyle Ash's Orchestra.
12:15 P. M.—Gypsy Nina.
12:30 P. M.—Radio Review.
1:00 P. M.—Edgar Morris, tenor.
1:15 P. M.—Playboys.
1:30 P. M.—Ellen Gale "Let's Talk It Over."
1:45 P. M.—Watchtower Program.
2:00 P. M.—Voice of Taxpayer.
2:05 P. M.—Oscar and Eddy.
2:15 P. M.—Matinee Club.
2:45 P. M.—The Mail Bag.
3:00 P. M.—Lee Rivers Orchestra.
3:30 P. M.—Joe and Chuck.
3:45 P. M.—Singing Parson.
4:00 P. M.—Alicia Fuller, pianist.
4:15 P. M.—The Polish Hour.
4:30 P. M.—The 4:30 Special.
5:00 P. M.—The Special (cont'd).
5:15 P. M.—Mauna Loa Hawaiians.
5:30 P. M.—Signature until 7:30.

WWSW

8:00 A. M.—Listener's Corner.
8:30 A. M.—The General Store.
9:00 A. M.—Lest We Forget.
9:30 A. M.—Morning Shoppers.
9:45 A. M.—Slim Sweep.
10:00 A. M.—Vera and Her Cowpunchers.
10:30 A. M.—Jean and Jack.
10:45 A. M.—Babette and Rock-a-Bye Lady.
11:00 A. M.—Popular Recordings.
11:30 A. M.—News.
11:45 A. M.—Gloom Chasers.
12:15 P. M.—WWSW Artists.
12:30 P. M.—Lucky Birthdays.
12:45 P. M.—Hollywood Show Shopper.
1:00 P. M.—Luncheon Ensemble.
1:30 P. M.—Dad Winter's Plow Boys.
2:00 P. M.—Jack and Bertha.
2:15 P. M.—Deeds, Not Words.
2:45 P. M.—Alice Gilliland—vibraphone.
3:00 P. M.—Day Dreams.
3:15 P. M.—Rev. Dr. S. F. Lappin.
3:30 P. M.—Pennsylvania Musicale Institute.
4:00 P. M.—Esther Thomas — soprano. Ken Martin—pianist.
4:15 P. M.—Red Caps Quartet.
4:30 P. M.—Penna. History.
4:45 P. M.—Radio Rascals.
5:15 P. M.—De Malo Bros.
5:45 P. M.—News.
6:00 P. M.—Walt Sickles Sport Slants with Honus Wagner baseball questions.

Don't Court Trouble
Get Your 1934 License Plates
Rushed by Air Express
We solve your auto license troubles in record time—the modern way.
With or Without Application Card
Notary Public Till 10 P. M.
RICE & IRWIN
128 N. Highland Ave., E. E. MO 8300

OUTINGS EVERY SUNDAY
Round Trip
$2.25 CLEVELAND
$1.25 YOUNGSTOWN
$1.25 NEW CASTLE
$1.25 ELLWOOD CITY
Going Sunday Morning — Returning Sunday Evening.
Reduced Round Trip Railroad and Pullman Sleeping Car Fares Each Week-End
From Noon Friday to Noon Sunday. Returning until following Monday night.
P. & L. E. R. R.

GIVES YOU CORRECT TIME
Every 5 minutes! Also Weather Forecasts and Temperature Reports! Start tomorrow morning to get the happy habit of listening to the
"MUSICAL CLOCK"
Every Morning, 7:00 to 8:00
Excepting Sunday
Over KQV

HEARTFELT
1934 . . . how welcome its dawning! "A Happy New Year" was never more heartfelt. • To express that sincerity, telephone your greetings. The sound of your voice adds warmth to your wish. Instantly your friends will respond. Greetings by telephone are like an outstretched hand!
Friends in nearby towns are reached inexpensively by telephone. After 8:30 P. M. the cost of a 3-minute Station to Station call to anywhere within 100 miles is only 35 cents.
THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA
BELL SYSTEM

Rx FOURTH DEGREE
SCOPOLAMIN
may be adopted by all crime detection agencies to bring out hidden revelations.

"CANADIAN CLUB"
"Canadian Club" quality—famous the world over—began with Hiram Walker 75 years ago. That quality, and "Canadian Club" purity, are the products of distilling skill and experience, with the will to produce nothing short of the best. ONLY TIME CAN AGE GOOD WHISKY—and the government guarantees the ripe old age of "Canadian Club" by affixing to every bottle its official stamp which certifies when the contents were distilled.
HIRAM WALKER & SONS
WALKERVILLE, ONTARIO PEORIA, ILLINOIS

BOGGS & BUHL

FREE PARKING STORE HOURS: 9:00 A. M. TO 5:30 P. M. TELEPHONE SHOPPING SERVICE—FAIRFAX 2650

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

Choice—$59.75 to $79.75 Stocks

PERSIAN LAMB TRIM'D CLOTH COATS

$49.75

Nine out of ten want Persian — this After-Christmas sale brings our entire exquisite stocks $59.75 to $79.75 coats—at $49.75!

Coats of elegance — durability—long fashion life. 20 styles, from muffs for "Junior League" girls to the rounded shawl collars for mothers—"Persian at a price!"

—Boggs & Buhl, 2nd Floor—

SALE—to Keep SIZES 11 to 17
Young and Beautiful!

DRESSES

College girls—petite business women—here's a chance to keep that slim figure beautiful . . . dresses that make bridges, teas, classroom more exciting just for their presence—at a "stock-up" price!

Were to $10.95

$5

Wools, velvet and plaid combinations, high color crepes and highly styled Schiaparelli stripes. 11 to 17.

Companion Special: New Year's Frocks —Sizes 14 to 20—Were to $14.95..$7.50

——Boggs & Buhl, Second Floor——

'FORMAL KNITS'

It's a connoisseur's collection—Knits for Spring meets and bridge and cocktail now — less than half price!

Luxurious wool patterned silks with velvet bows. "Park Avenue" Rabbits' Hair three-piece suits; genuine chenilles; lined suede jackets with matching skirts; and Schiaparelli's football stripes! . . . 14 to 20.

Were to $22.50

$10

——Boggs & Buhl, Second Floor——

Men's Finer

SUITS

$24.75

EXTRA TROUSERS, $3.00

Every one lifted from our higher priced stocks. Every garment new—not a job lot or "carry over" suit in the lot. Well tailored of all-wool worsteds that wear like iron. Fancy Blue, Grey and Brown mixtures. Plenty of hand-tailoring. Beautifully lined. Models for men and young men.

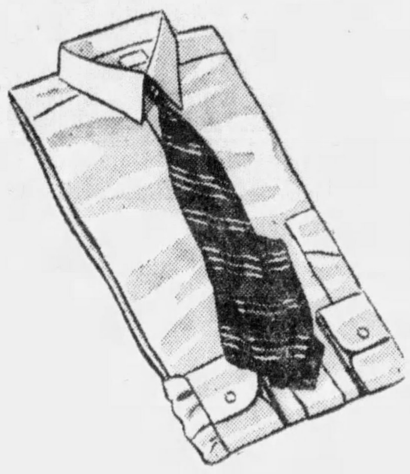
All sizes 36 to 46 for Regulars, Shorts, Stouts and Longs. Come early, men—you won't find suits of this quality at this price again for a long time.

Overcoats - $25

150 Coats that sold at $30.00 and $35.00—some higher. Checks, mixtures and plenty of good looking Oxford and Brown fleeces in the lot.

——Boggs & Buhl, Third Floor——

BROADCLOTH SHIRTS



75c

Here's an exceptional markdown in a fine shirt. All of durable Madras or broadcloth with collar attached and a few in neckband style. Mostly fashionable pin stripe design.

TO $2 TIES . . . 55c

A choice selection of Men's $1.50 and $2.00 value ties now marked at 55c. All the latest patterns and colors included. Fine resilient construction. You'll want a half dozen or so to "tie" yourself over.

Broken lines of $3 and $4 Shirts drastically reduced to $1.55.

——Men's Shop, Boggs & Buhl, First Floor——

$3.85 to $6 OXFORDS

Broken lines but all smart styles—men's Black and Tan Oxfords—regular $3.85 to $6 values, for this clearance sale only $2.85. Mostly small and large sizes.

$2.85

——Boggs & Buhl, First Floor——

Tots' $1.95—$2.95

Wash Frocks

$1.55

200 of them—about as fine frocks as tots and their after-Christmas "bargain-hunting" mothers could wish for—at only $1.55!

Plain and print. Daintily smocked and trimmed. Sizes 1 to 6.

——Boggs & Buhl, Second Floor——

Sale For New Year Hosts!

CRYSTAL STEMWARE

18c Ea.

$1.95 DOZEN

For a toast to the New Year—clear crystal glasses with a sparkle to them, in a plain crystal appropriate for both formal and informal celebrations. 18c each or $1.95 dozen. Buy by the dozen for real economy.

Goblets Champagnes
Clarets Wines
Cocktails Cordials
Sherbets

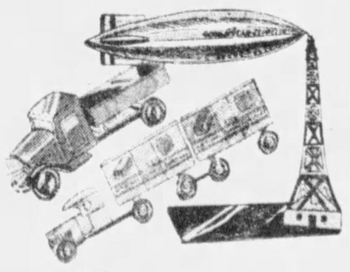
——Boggs & Buhl, Third Floor——

Two More Days To Buy

HOLIDAY GOODS

1/4 - 1/3 - 1/2 OFF

Almost everywhere in the store you can buy bargains, fancy things of holiday nature, and good everyday staples for your house, and yourself, and your family. Look for the special signs in these departments — Housewares, Draperies, Blankets, China, Men's Furnishings, Furniture, Toys, Infants', and others throughout the store.



Clearance!

$1.00 Toys

50c

If the youngsters weren't heart and soul satisfied with the things Santa brought, appease them with some of these bargains:

Circus Wagon Steamboat
Marble Game Pool Table
Goodyear Zeppelin and Mooring Mast
Rubber Doll Wrecking Car
Doll in Suitcase
National Biscuit Truck
Garage Doll House

——Toys, Boggs & Buhl, Basement——

you save 1/4 1/3 and 1/2 if you buy now in KAUFMANN'S great Warehouse Clearance of FURNITURE

starting to-morrow on our EIGHTH FLOOR

$75,000 worth of furniture to go at $37,500

JUST 125

LOUNGE CHAIRS

$24 to $59 Regularly!

14.75 19.50 24.75

Big Easy Lounge Chairs—every type that you can want—all built to Kaufmann specifications of finer quality—and in a wide choice of particularly desirable coverings.

Also other Lounge and Occasional and Boudoir Chairs
10.50 to $75 Regularly

1/4 1/3 and 1/2 off

EIGHTH FLOOR

580 Pieces

GIFT FURNITURE

1.95 to $65 Regularly!

now 1/4 1/3 and 1/2 off

Coffee Tables, Lamp Tables, End Tables—over 50 different types of decorative and useful tables! Smoking Stands—over 75 different styles! Magazine Holders, small Bookcases, Sewing Tables and Wall Shelves.

EIGHTH FLOOR

360 ODD PIECES

for the BEDROOM

24.75 to 49.75 Regularly!

16.75 19.75 24.75

Beds, Dressers, Vanity Tables, Dressing Tables and Chests of Drawers — many of them odd pieces, left from Bedroom Suites — representative of all wanted designs and woods.

Also Living Room Furniture—Odd Sofas and Chairs with a Limited Number of Living Room Suites

1/4 1/3 and 1/2 off

EIGHTH FLOOR

For the

Dining Room

Odd Buffets, China Cabinets, and Tables

Regularly 29.75 to 59.75

16.75 19.75 and 24.75

—Also 100 Odd Serving Tables. Regularly 12.75 to 24.75 ..... 6.75

—Also 275 Odd Dining Chairs. Regularly priced 6.75 to 16.75 4.75

EIGHTH FLOOR

Use KAUFMANN'S C! UP PLAN with Convenient Monthly Payments

And Here Is a Clearaway of

CHINA and GLASS

1/2 off

Highball Glasses, regular dozen $7.50 ..... 3.75
Vases, regularly 10c to $5 ..... 5c to 2.50
Stiegel Glass (reproductions), regularly 1.50 ..... 75c
Odd Bathroom Bottles, regularly 19c to 1.95 ..... 10c to 98c
Hand-decorated Highball Glasses, regularly doz. 18.50 9.25
Flower Bowls, regularly 50c 25c
Cookie Jars, regularly 89c 45c
Roseville Baby Plates, regularly 30c 15c
Blue Willow Lunch Plates, regularly 10c 5c
Blue Willow Bread and Butters, regularly 10c 5c
China Sugar Bowls, regularly 1.00 ..... 50c
China Soup Plates, regular dozen 4.95 ..... 2.48
China Casseroles, regularly 2.00 ..... 1.00
Glass Fruit Bowls, regularly 50c 25c
Glass Vases, regularly 25c to 6.95 ..... 13c to 3.48
Pottery—wide choice, regularly 1.50 to 7.95 ..... 75c to 3.98
Dog Door Stops, regularly 1.00 ..... 50c
China Cigarette Boxes, regularly 50c 25c
Jade green glass salad plates, regularly 29c each 15c
Dresden China Sugar Bowls, regularly 1.50 ..... 75c
Dresden China Creamers, regularly 1.00 ..... 50c
Washington Memorial Service Plates, reg. each, 75c 38c
Glass Oyster Plates, regularly ea. 95c 48c
Salt and Pepper Shakers, regularly each 50c 25c
Glass Salad Plates, regularly 10c each 5c
English Pink Scenic Dinner Plates, reg. each 30c 15c
Bread and Butters to match, regularly each 20c 10c

1/3 off

Green Glass Console Sets, regularly 95c 63c
Pottery Pitchers, regularly 1.15 ..... 77c
Bon Bon Dishes, regularly 39c 26c

1/4 off

Book Ends, regularly 1.25 to $10 ..... 93c to 7.50
Copper Art Ware, reg. 85c to 16.50 ... 63c to 12.37
Chinese Brass Ware, reg. 35c to 2.50 .. 26c to 1.82
Ash Trays, reg. 1.19 to 9.50 ..... 89c to 7.12
Smoking Stands, reg. 1.29 to 19.50 ... 96c to 14.62

SEVENTH FLOOR

JUST 26

Oriental Rugs

9x12 Room Sizes and Larger

1/4 1/3 and 1/2 off

prices which already were considerably below present quotations on Orientals of similar fine quality. Mostly Persian, also Turkish and Chinese Rugs.

NINTH FLOOR

Deliveries When Desired. We'll Hold Your Furniture Until Needed.

CLASSIFIED ADS
BUY, SELL, RENT FOR YOU

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1933

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT NEWS

COUNTY BOARD SPLIT ON BANK TAX EXEMPTION

POLITICS

Mrs. Clark May Stay On Registration Board

By MARK SHIELDS

Mrs J. Wood Clark, one of the Democrats now serving on the four-member Pittsburgh Registration Commission, may be retained as the Democratic member on the new two-member board constituted under the permanent registration act passed at the recent special session of the Legislature.

Mr. Shields

The other Democratic member of the present board, John McCarthy, is not figured in the picture when Gov. Pinchot names the new commissioners, but he probably will be rewarded by a job in the Democratic city administration.

Democratic City Chairman David L. Lawrence is not commiting himself on the recommendation he will make to the Governor respecting the Democratic commissioner. It is known, however, that Mr. Lawrence feels that Mrs. Clark has done an acceptable job as a member of the present commission.

It is understood, further, that Gov. Pinchot heartily approved her original appointment. Furthermore, it is understood that Mrs. Pinchot did also, and that is no idle consideration in these days of the administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

* * *

G. O. P. Member Uncertainty

The Republican member remains somewhat of an uncertainty. The only assurance is that John K. Morrow, chairman of the present commission, will not be reappointed. He will receive another state post. Mrs. Sarah Braun, the second Republican member, has manfully carried out the desires of the Pinchot organization, and is not lightly to be cast aside.

A place must be found for her if she is to cease connection with the Registration Commission, and it is this which is troubling the Pinchot contingent. There is a possibility that she may be given some job with the new commission, below the grade of commissioner, but with a salary somewhat approximating what she receives now.

The best bet for the Republican member of the new commission continues to be Robert Waddell, former coach of the Carnegie Tech football team, and an independent candidate for a Republican councilmanic nomination at the September primary. The $3,000 salary probably holds no great interest for Mr. Waddell, a young man of ability and force.

* * *

Has Yearning For Public Life

But he has something of a yearning for public life. He took one dip in the councilmanic battle, and made a good showing. If he should serve on the new commission—and he would be chairman and boss—and establish a good record in a new and difficult job, his accomplishment would serve as an excellent introduction to a wider field of political activity.

The new job is no soft snap, not one of the usual political sinecures. It is a building job, to break a small man or to make one of real capacity above the ordinary political hack type.

Some Republicans apparently are beginning to realize that victories cannot be won on the strength of old shibboleths or through the medium of time-worn candidates. They see a need for new ideals and some new blood. It is true this sentiment does not predominate as yet, but the fact that some factors of the party are beginning to come to a realization of the new day may be encouraging to the little fellows who travel trustingly along the edges, hope for the best, and take whatever comes—or nothing.

* * *

Discussing G. O. P. Congress Hopes

At the moment this discussion surrounds the candidates the Re-

(Continued on Next Page.)

WASHINGTON'S VOTE BATTLE SETTLED

G.O.P. and Democrats Divide Disputed Offices by Count

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Washington County's long-drawn-out "battle of the ballots" ended today with Republicans and Democrats dividing the two offices over which the bitterest recount dispute raged.

Completing the official count after an all-night computation under pressure, the return board announced that Carl E. Gibson, a Democrat, of Monongahela, had defeated C. L. V. Acheson, Republican, of Washington, by 356 votes in the contest for Judge of Common Pleas Court.

BRADY NEXT SHERIFF

The board's count showed that Fred W. Brady, Republican, of Charleroi, had triumphed over his close friend and neighbor, Edwin W. Patton, Democrat, by 11 votes for Sheriff.

In another contest, Mrs. Lucy W. Biggers, Republican, of Morganza, was declared winner by 195 votes over August S. Devoss, another Republican, of McDonald, for the second place on the Poor Board. First place had been won overwhelmingly by J. Ed Smith, of Amwell Township, Democrat.

After weeks of hearing testimony, the court yesterday ruled that ballot boxes in six of 10 disputed townships had been tampered with between the time of the regular election board count and a recount ordered by the tribunal.

RECOUNT ORDERED

The court ordered that the original count be used as official in the six districts, and directed that the recount figures be accepted as official in the other four.

Scores of witnesses and handwriting experts appeared before the court with testimony that many ballots had been altered apparently after the polls had closed and the figures announced.

Gibson and Patton were announced as winners on the basis of the first unofficial returns. Then came demands for recounts and wide discrepancies were discovered in the vote, with first one candidate leading and then another, the lead in the sheriff fight switching back and forth many times.

Judges James I. Brownson and Howard W. Hughes held that ballots had been tampered with in the First Precinct, Second Ward; First Precinct, Seventh Ward, and the First and Second Precincts, Eighth Ward, of Washington, and Third and Sixth Precincts, Chartiers Township.

Council to Pass Salary Ordinance

City Council tomorrow will pass the amended salary ordinance for 1934. Council yesterday voted to permit funds for a chief clerk in Morals Court and another in Central Police Court to remain in the budget.

At the suggestion of Mrs. R. Templeton Smith, budget representative of Mayor-elect McNair, Council had voted last week to combine the work of both chief clerks in one position.

Week-End Holiday For State Employes

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—State employes will be given another two and a half-day holiday over the New Years weekend, according to a notice from the Governor's office today. Offices will be closed from Friday evening until Tuesday noon.

North Side Wife Collapses After Late Party, Dies

Suffering a heart attack while in the bathroom of her home, Mrs. Emma Mullen, 24, of 227 Marshall avenue, North Side, collapsed and died a short time later, this morning. In falling the woman struck her head on a radiator and was knocked unconscious. Her husband, Robert, 24, found the bathroom door jammed and had to remove the hinges before he could reach the stricken woman.

Dr. E. T. Chatham, of 3902 Perrysville avenue, was called and pronounced the woman dead. Dr. Chatham told police that the woman had suffered a heart ailment for some time. Police said Mrs. Mullen had attended a party last night and did not return home until late. They said they believed the excitement of the party may have brought on the attack.

AID FOR HOBOS PROVIDED HERE

Two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for the establishment in Pennsylvania of 17 centers for the care of transient unemployed. Next week throughout the country approximately 200 such centers will begin operation.

Allegheny County's bureau will be located at 211 Wood street. Another is to be established in Greensburg. In setting up the centers, Eric H. Biddle, director of the State Emergency Relief Board, stated:

"It is not contemplated to create facilities which will serve merely as tourist houses for people who persist in aimless wandering. It is an attempt to meet the transient half way and care for him until arrangements can be made to return him to his own home where he will be able to secure work on a Civil Works Administration project and in other employment, or where he can be placed on the relief rolls."

Gas Fumes Fatal To Merchant's Wife

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Zereffe Betres, 43, wife of Francis Betres, Lyndora merchant, overcome by carbon monoxide in the bathroom of her home, died in Memorial Hospital today.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Dec. 28.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

This is a day and time when everybody gives opinions on something they know nothing about. So today I discuss opera, grand opera.

Will Rogers

The Chicago opera house opened for the first time in two years. It was never a success because it was constructed wrong, it was built so everybody could see the stage, but nobody could see each other.

So now it's remodeled so you can't see the stage, but can see the price mark on every dress in the house. And it's doing fine.

New York opened its season with an American opera for the first time in history. American music has always been considered, by the operagoers, as fit for nothing but the ear. But never looked good through a lorgnette from a box. That's about all the opera news that's fit to print.

Yours, WILL.

(Copyright, 1933, McNaught Synd., Inc.)

CWA WORKERS LAY OFF DUE TO COLD

250 Fail to Report, Replacements Called for

Snow and cold weather have caused 250 workers assigned to Civil Works projects early this week to fail to report for jobs, according to the state-federal employment bureau. Replacements were called for yesterday and new names were chosen from the application files to fill the vacancies.

Work notices were mailed to 121 skilled laborers last night. They will report at the Cathedral of Learning tomorrow morning to swell the ranks of workers now employed there. More than 500 men are expected to be employed on the Pitt tower by the end of the week.

STATE AGENT HERE

Norman J. Harris, special Civil Works agent, is in Pittsburgh today to survey the CWA situation here. Harris will remain in the city the rest of the week, acquainting local officials with the constantly changing regulations governing Civil Works affairs and noting the progress being made in the county.

Harris, who has surveyed 12 counties in the state, said the accomplishments of the CWA here compare favorably with those in other parts of Pennsylvania. He said:

"I believe the administrator is doing splendid work. His abilities are reflected in the various offices where the efficiency and speed with which projects are handled are outstanding."

Approval of eight projects by Harrisburg yesterday increased the number of individual jobs sanctioned to 26,800. Money to be spent on jobs now approved totals $7,085,545.

ARCHITECTS HIRED

Twenty architects and 15 draftsmen will begin work tomorrow with the City Planning Commission. Several hundred assignments have been mailed to various boroughs and townships in the county for new projects also to begin tomorrow.

Work due to start in Crafton today calls for the widening of Ewing road and the construction of a storm sewer on Steuben avenue. The grading of Chartiers street in the borough will begin tomorrow. The three jobs will employ 42 men.

Included in a list of 250 CWA projects given approval yesterday in Harrisburg were 72 in Allegheny County sufficient to furnish employment to 5,783 men.

One to extend, drain and surface unimproved streets in Pittsburgh will employ 1,208 men. Replacement of inadequate water mains in Pittsburgh will employ 1,150 men.

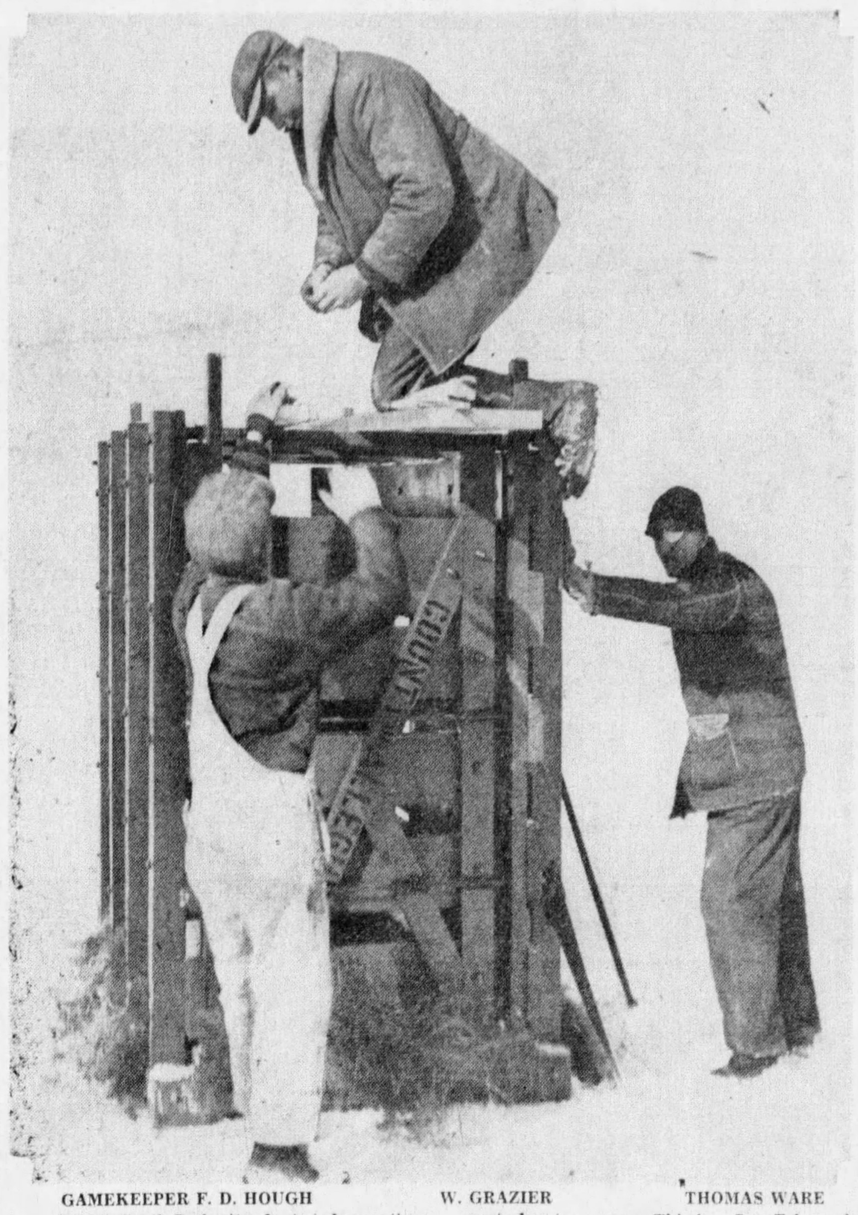
The other projects are miscellaneous improvements.

Farewell Services For Dr. Goldenson

Farewell services for Dr. Samuel H. Goldenson of Rodef Shalom Congregation, who leaves soon for New York City to become rabbi of Temple Emanu-El, will be held in Trinity Cathedral Sunday night.

The Right Rev. Alexander Mann, Episcopal bishop of Pittsburgh, will deliver the farewell address and Dr. Goldenson will speak on "The Art of Living Together." Invitations to the services have been extended civic and religious groups.

Here's a Buffalo in a Crate!



GAMEKEEPER F. D. HOUGH W. GRAZIER THOMAS WARE

County South Park attendants today crating one of the two buffaloes—a heifer and a bull—shipped to a purchaser in Indiana County. The county has too many. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

All CWA Workers Insured by Government

Fifty Injured Here On Project Get Compensation

A near tragedy in Millvale yesterday where the lives of 21 civil works employes were endangered by ice floating in a creek has revealed that all CWA workers are covered by government insurance.

It is estimated by a CWA official that 600 of every 35,000 CWA job holders throughout the country are now receiving compensation for injuries received on civil works jobs.

Herbert E. Callaghan, manager of CWA insurance for Allegheny County, said today that 50 workers have been reported injured here since the employment drive began. The most serious case is that of John Grovic, of 2421 Mulberry way, who suffered a fractured hip on November 23, and is now in the United States Marine Hospital.

Arthur Hopkins, employed on a CWA project in McKeesport, had his back and forearm fractured yesterday while working.

The measure applying to accidents to CWA employes is the Federal Compensation Act of September 7, 1916, according to Mr. Callaghan. He said that by its requirements an employe must lose three working days to be eligible for compensation. He is then paid two-thirds of his regular salary until he has recovered.

The injured men receive complete medical attention and hospitalization as long as necessary. State CWA headquarters have issued a list of doctors in Pennsylvania who are to be called on accidents, and the Marine Hospital and the United States Public Health Service Dispensary in the Postoffice Building are the medical centers for federal workers.

Treatment and compensation will not cease with the end of the CWA job. The patient receives full consideration until his complete recovery.

If death results from the accident, the Government provides $200 for burial expenses, and arranges payments of compensation to dependents.

City Welfare Post Goes to L. J. Shoop

The appointment of Louis J. Shoop as chief examiner in the Department of Public Welfare was announced yesterday by Mrs. Enoch Rauh, director. Shoop succeeds the late Joseph I. McDonough, who served as chief examiner of the department 32 years. McDonough died Sunday. Shoop, formerly employed in the Controller's office, resides on Margaretta street.

COUNTY CRATES BUFFALOES

With a significant look in his eye, Col. C. C. McGovern today decided to tackle the county's budget instead of two buffaloes at South Park.

But the buffaloes, which McGovern had threatened personally to crate and ship today to a purchaser in Indiana County, must have taken the Colonel at his word, because they walked amicably into their crates this morning.

McGovern was ready to corral the two animals last week, but later explained to newspapermen that:

"I wanted to be with my family over Christmas."

A few apples turned the trick today, according to Game Keeper F. D. Hough, who said:

"All we did was to put some apples in the crates and coax the buffaloes in. No trouble at all."

Hough said they have been trying for some time to get the buffaloes in the crates and that they were more lucky than usual today. The two 3-year-old animals, he said, walked right into the crates.

Gas Fumes Overcome Wilmerding Cleaner

Angelo Parazelli, 31, operator of a cleaning shop at 101 Herman street, Wilmerding, was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes while at work shortly before noon today.

He was revived later at McKeesport Hospital, after being found by a customer, the hospital reported.

SAVINGS LEVY CONTEST WILL CONTINUE

Mansfield Against Carrying Fight Into Courts

Despite objections of Commissioner W. D. Mansfield, Allegheny County will contest the constitutionality of state legislation exempting interest-bearing bank accounts from personal property tax.

Commissioners C. C. McGovern and C. M. Barr voted yesterday for the contest. It will attack the legality of a legislative provision passed December 22 exempting interest-bearing money in banks from the 4 mills personal property tax.

Mansfield, who in 1923 introduced a bill for the same purpose as the present provision, voted against the contest. Explaining his belief in the law, he said he did not think the original act of assembly contemplated taxing savings accounts.

EXPLAINS OPPOSITION

He said:

"Only a small percentage of those having savings accounts ever returned them for the tax—at least until last year. And those returning were usually small account holders.

"Taxing such accounts is a penalty on thrift. Four mills on savings accounts drawing three per cent interest represents a heavy levy on its income."

What he believed to be a clear case against the constitutionality of the law was presented by T. Ralph Barr, superintendent of the Personal Property Department of the tax board.

Barr pointed out that the state Constitution lists properties which may be exempted and that interest-bearing money in banks is not included. All laws exempting property not specified in the list are void, the Constitution further states, he said.

CITES DISCRIMINATION

By discriminating against all personal property holders save those with interest-bearing money in banks, the new law also violates a provision of the Constitution that all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, Barr said.

Personal property assessors will advise that Section No. 8, dealing with the interest-bearing money in banks, be filled out by citizens to be taxed. Such return will be recorded, but no tax levied unless a court decision voids the exemption.

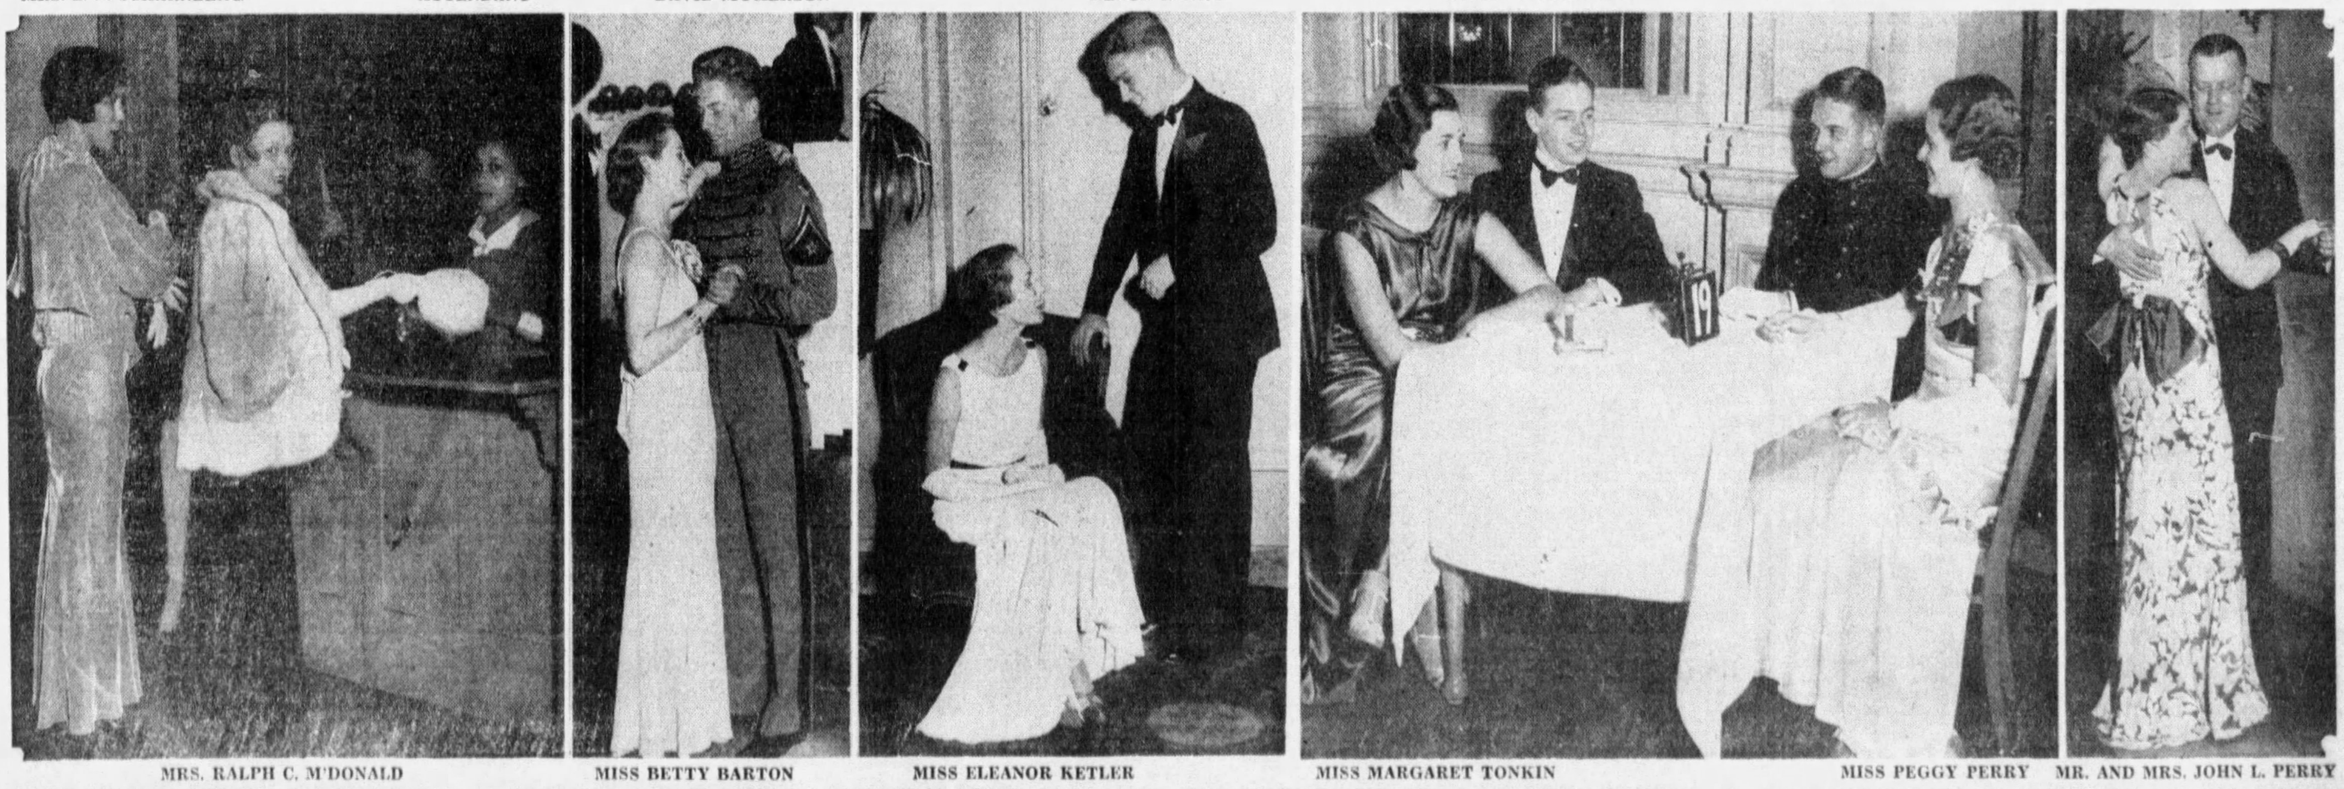
$50 in Prizes Weekly for News Tips

Are you alert? Do you wish to make your alertness pay? The Sun-Telegraph is presenting the opportunity. Every week it is offering a total of $50 in prizes for NEWS TIPS telephoned to the News Tip Editor, Grant 6500.

If you know of any accident, of a business merger, of a big building project—that is NEWS. Watch especially for unusual stories about children and animals and for stories that lend themselves to interesting pictures.

For the best exclusive news tip of the week $15.00 will be given, for the second best, $10.00, and for the next 25 best, $1.00 each.

Dancers at the Southern Club's Annual Ball, Colorful Event Held as a Benefit for Charity



MRS. L. N. SCHARNBERG — ATTENDANT

MRS. RALPH C. M'DONALD

DAVID M'PHERSON — MISS BETTY BARTON

HEATH LARRY — MISS ELEANOR KETLER

WILLIAM CRUMRINE — MISS MARGARET TONKIN

LOUIS M. AYERS — MISS PEGGY PERRY

MR. AND MRS. JOHN L. PERRY

GUESTS ARRIVING, DANCING, DINING AT THE SOUTHERN CLUB OF PITTSBURGH'S ANNUAL BALL, ARRANGED AS A BENEFIT FOR CHARITY, LAST NIGHT AT THE HOTEL SCHENLEY . . . . READ COMPLETE DETAILS IN THE CLUB COLUMNS, PAGE 12

PLEADS FOR BOY DOOMED TO DIE BY FUMES

International News Service.

DENVER, Dec. 28.—A brother's loyalty brought Herbert Reppin, 25, speeding across the country to aid Walter Reppin, 18, in a last-minute fight to escape execution in Colorado's new and untried lethal gas chamber.

Walter is scheduled to die some time next week in the "death box" at Canon City for the murder of Vincent Regan, a taxi driver, in a holdup.

Today Herbert will appear before Gov. Ed C. Johnson here to plead for clemency—clemency that will save his younger brother from a death that the latter describes as a "guinea pig" experiment.

Herbert spent several hours with Walter in the death cell at Canon City. The condemned youth, surprised to see his older brother, broke down and wept. It was the first grief he had shown since entering the prison, Herbert said.

"Walter didn't know I was coming. He didn't want me to come because he thought I would lose my job in Newark, N. J. As a matter of fact, my employer loaned me the money to come here to see what I could do. Walter wants to live the worst way. He is meek and humble, and religious influence is aiding him. He sees the awful wrong he has done and wants to make amends."

GAS CHAMBER PICTURED

CANON CITY, Col., Dec. 28.—(INS.)—The lethal gas chamber in which Walter Reppin, 18-year-old Newark (N. J.) youth, is scheduled to meet his death next week, was described for International News Service today by Warden Roy Best. The warden said:

"The square steel box in which the execution takes place is seven feet wide, eight feet long and nine feet high. It is located on a small hill back of the prison, 40 feet from the old death house. There is a small room outside of the box with an airtight window looking into the chamber. It is here the prison physician, the warden and executioner will stand.

"In one end is a door leading into the chamber. This door is approached by an areaway. The condemned will walk from a cell into the open air, three feet into the chamber and then four feet inside the chamber, where he will be strapped into the middle one of three built-in chairs, each of which faces the door.

BACK TO SPECTATORS

"One end and one side are glass, so that spectators can see the execution, but the chairs face the door so the spectators will only be able to get a back or side view of the condemned.

"The doctor and the warden, however, will get a full view.

"The poison which generates the gas will be contained in a two-gallon earthen jar fastened directly beneath each chair. In the first execution only the center chair will be used. Ten minutes before the condemned is brought in, an attendant will pour three quarts of water into the jar and mix into it three pints of sulphuric acid, which will be boiling up as the condemned is strapped to the chair.

"When this is done the attendant will close the steel door. When the word is given, the executioner will push a lever which will push from a pan under the chair 15 one-ounce cyanide eggs tied in a gauze bag. When these touch the boiling mass in the jar a gas will instantly arise. The first inhalation of it by the condemned will kill him."

Woman Leaves $11,000 Estate

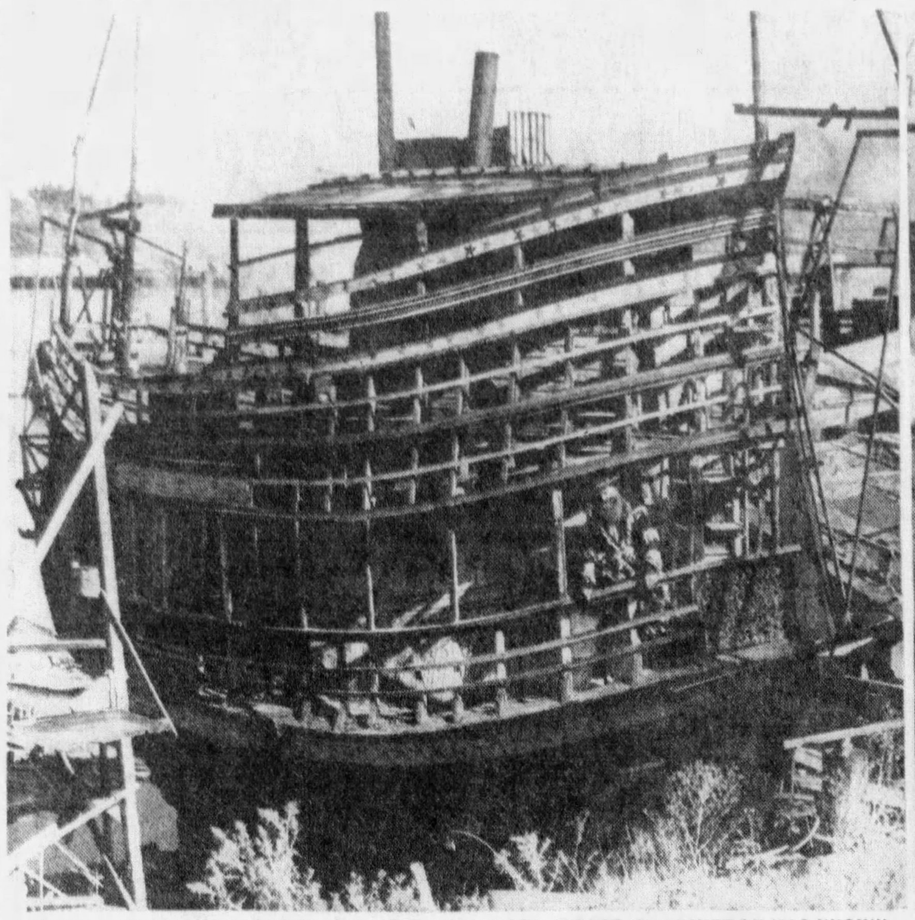
An estate valued at $11,000 was disposed of in the will of Barbara Baker of Glendale, Scott township, probated today. The bulk of the estate was left to her children and grandchildren.

August H. Goldstrohm, of Duquesne, left an estate valued at $6,500 to his wife, Katherine Goldstrohm. William Y. Taylor, of Wilkinsburg, left a $6,000 estate to his wife, Anna R. Taylor.

Two Men Arrested On Swindle Charge

Suspected by police of having taken part in the swindle of Mrs. Barbara Rudman, of 831 Mumford street, of $200, Milton E. Vuletio, 36, of Breesport street, and George Mencoff, 28, of Thirteenth street, North East, Pa., were brought to Pittsburgh last night from Fort Wayne. They were charged by Lieut. Frank Ferris, of the homicide squad of city detectives, with being suspicious persons.

The Modern Noah and His 'Ark II,' Awaiting Another Flood



ARK II . . . IT WAS FLOATED BY THE PRESENT FLOODS, WORST WASHINGTON HAS KNOWN

Ark II on the mudflats of Olympia Harbor, where bearded William Greenwood, the modern Noah, predicts for 1938 the "last great flood." He began several years ago to build his ark, starting with the hull of an abandoned fishing vessel. "Today's floods ain't the real one," he says as he gets ready for it. These are Wide World News Photograph Service pictures.

WILLIAM GREENWOOD READING HIS BIBLE ON HIS ARK

Legal Sterilizations Unchallenged in U. S.

16,066 Cases Recorded In America; Law In Many States

By DIXIE TIGHE

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Protest against the Nazi plan for wholesale sterilization has awakened America's eye to the fact that official records up to January 1, 1933, show that the United States has had 16,066 cases of legal sterilization—an increase of 50 per cent in three years.

While religious and racial wars rage over Hitler's declaration to eliminate the misfit by sterilization, many states in the United States are practicing eugenical vasectomy and salpingectomy (male and female sterilization, respectively) without challenge.

Proceeding on the theory that eugenical sterilization is a force for preventing reproduction of the worst, the experimental evolution laboratory of Carnegie Institute, at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, has gone into thousands of sterilization case histories. Their findings, Dr. Harry H. Laughlin, of that institute, told Universal Service, show:

"Not in one case have we found that a eugenical mistake was made by sterilizing good stock—it is the greatest tool for race improvement. However, this institution is in no wise interested in angles of race or religion in the consideration of sterilization; we offer our findings to the proper authorities. Our work is scientific—we give our findings, not our recommendation."

The cry that sterilization in defeating parenthood spells death to a man or woman's pride, is not supported by Dr. Laughlin, who said:

"In 700 cases that we studied first hand, I found this a negligible aspect."

But pride, race or religion are the factors impending a more general adoption of sterilization. There have been two serious snags. They are, according to Dr. Laughlin:

1—The original wording of the law dealing with sterilization.

2—The danger of sterilization as preformed on a woman.

The first obstruction is being broken down gradually with the eradication of the word "punishment" from the legislation involving sterilization. It is no longer considered in the nature of "a cruel and unusual punishment," which defeated its administration in several states.

The second remains a serious and defying problem.

(Copyright, 1933, Universal Service, Inc.)

Drug Store Theft Suspect Arrested

Edward Paskowski, 19, of 3706 Fleetwood street, was arrested by Oakland police last night on a suspicious person charge. He is believed to have entered the Melwood Pharmacy, December 26, escaping with $15 cash and $105 worth of merchandise, according to police.

GEN. KING RITES AT WEST POINT

Maj. Gen. Edward L. King, former chief of staff of the 28th Division, who died yesterday in Atlanta, Ga., will be buried at West Point, probably Saturday. Maj. Gen. King served as chief of staff of the 28th Division from December, 1917, until August, 1918. He served as chief of staff to Gen. Charles H. Muir, who died only a few weeks ago.

Maj. Gen. King was with the 28th Division in Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., and went overseas with that division. He served during the battles of the Marne and the Vesle. In August, 1918, he was promoted to the rank of brigadier general and left the division. He was a frequent visitor in Pittsburgh, accompanying Gen. Muir here for many Armistice Day celebrations.

The 60-year-old veteran of three campaigns became ill while participating in a draghunt on the reservation at Fort McPherson yesterday and died 35 minutes later at the post hospital.

TUFTS HEADS HOUSING GROUP

Joseph P. Tufts has been named executive director of the Pittsburgh Housing Association, succeeding John Ihlder, who resigned October 1.

The appointment was announced by M. W. Acheson, Jr., president of the association. Ihlder, previous to his resignation, was named secretary of the Washington Committee on Housing which is correlating all federal housing projects in the District of Columbia.

Ihlder also continues his work for the Boston Housing Association.

Tufts is a graduate of Dartmouth College and for the last four years has been assistant director of the Pittsburgh Housing Association.

POLITICS

(Continued from Preceding Page.)

publicans shall put forth for Congress in Allegheny County next year.

In the district now represented by Congressman Twing Brooks, Democrat, there is some talk of asking Ralph Flinn, Republican, to become a candidate. Mr. Flinn is a gentleman farmer and business man. He was a Pinchot candidate for Auditor General in 1932, and received a surprisingly large vote in Allegheny County.

He is a progressive and a liberal, and is being urged as an opponent to Brooks by some Republicans who do not believe that Edmund F. Erk, who Brooks defeated, can make the grade.

In the district now represented by Henry Ellenbogen there is some talk of Councilman-soon-not-to-be George S. Oliver as a Republican congressional candidate. Ellenbogen as a Democrat defeated Harry A. Estep, who had served two terms. Mr. Oliver does not represent liberalism as does Mr. Flinn, having organization affiliations which had something to do with his defeat in the recent general election.

These two incidents are illustrative, however, of some new attitudes on the part of at least some Republicans.

50 HEAR TALKS ON RHEOLOGY

Ten highly technical papers on the plastic flow of metals, alloys and rocks were being read in the Hotel Schenley today.

To the 50 physicists listening at the second day of the fifth annual meeting of the Society of Rheology the discussions provided interesting and valuable scientific data. But to the layman it meant a swimming head.

S. E. Sheppard, research chemist of the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y., was elected president of the society for the coming year at an election held today. F. E. Bartel, of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, was made first vice president, and Melvin Mooney, of the United States Rubber Company, Passaic, N. J., second vice president.

A. Stewart Hunter, of Buffalo, N. Y., was re-elected secretary and treasurer, and Bingham was re-elected editor of the society's publication, the Journal.

The meeting opened yesterday and will close tomorrow with a trip by the delegates to the Mellon Institute and the laboratories of the Aluminum Company of America at New Kensington.

TWO MEXICANS HELD FOR COURT

Two Mexicans today were held for court on charges of carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms by Magistrate Raymond E. Schneider in North Side Police Court. They were Eduardo Malvido, 27, Mexican consulate secretary here, and Armando Robleda, 27, of 116 West Ohio street.

The two were arrested Thanksgiving Day after police received two complaints of pedestrians being annoyed by men with guns in West Diamond street, according to police testimony. Both were severely beaten about the face while being arrested and were sent to the Allegheny General Hospital.

Wealthy Grocer Sued by Actress

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Incorporating love letters containing such phrases as "I kiss you a million times," a $100,000 breach of promise suit was filed here yesterday by Lou Ellen Lofthus, 20-year-old actress, against Narciso Rossi, wealthy San Francisco grocer and importer.

Mystery Attends Man's Leg Injury

Harry Zimmerman, 61, of 623 Bellefonte street, victim of a mysterious attack by two men at Filbert street and Ellsworth avenue, last night, was treated at West Penn Hospital, for a leg injury. Zimmerman told police his assailants made no attempt to rob him.

NEWS—Primary VITAMIN A

The "Anti-Infective" Vitamin is now contained in

SMITH BROTHERS COUGH DROPS

Eminent doctors state that this vitamin is Nature's "Anti-Infective" agent. It is a potent aid in speeding up recovery from coughs and colds. . . No change in the famous taste of Smith Bros. Cough Drops, Black & Menthol—5¢

RUDY'S TALK OF THE TOWN
604 LIBERTY AVENUE
Liquor Special
A blend of Pure Rye Whiskey
PER QT. $2.60 FRIDAY ONLY
Court 7776
The largest assortment of Whiskey in Pittsburgh

Memorial Tablet Group To Hear Nominations

An effort to put 25 of Allegheny County's famous personages of yesteryear in the limelight of today with the aid of federal funds will be launched at a meeting tomorrow.

The Committee on State Memorials for Western Pennsylvania will hold a public meeting at 12:15 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce. Any person desiring to propose the name of a distinguished citizen for the memorial survey may do so.

The County Commissioners requested funds to employ historical research experts from the Civil Works Administration. Bronze memorial tablets would be erected and biographical data compiled.

Noted persons who lived in the old boundaries of the county will be considered. The list will include those outstanding as humane and philanthropic citizens.

The memorials committee is composed of representatives of the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania, the Women's Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania, Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, Veterans of Foreign Wars, several groups of the G. A. R., the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and several other organizations.

The committee hopes to launch the survey January 2.

POLES EXPRESS NEED OF MORE CO-OPERATION

Increased co-operation among Polish students and other Poles was stressed yesterday at the opening session of the fifth convention of the Polish Students' Association now in progress at the Fort Pitt Hotel.

One hundred students representing over 40 colleges, including three delegates from the University of Warsaw, are participating in the three-day meet. Students from Poland attending are Jan Scazighino, president of the National Student Association in Poland; George Poniekowski, student member of the advisory group of the association, and George Grzywaczenski, vice president.

AWARD SCHOLARSHIPS

The association, made up of 50 student groups throughout the country, annually awards a number of scholarships to outstanding students in its membership. Next year it plans to give 10 scholarships for both graduate and undergraduate study at the University of Warsaw.

Today's session includes a business meeting at which committee reports for the year will be made, a tour of the city, and an entertainment tonight at the hotel in honor of the delegates and their friends, given by the Polish Intercollegiate Club of Pittsburgh hosts to the visiting group.

SORORITY INITIATION

Tomorrow's session, the final one of the convention, will close with a dance in the gold room of the Fort Pitt Hotel. In the afternoon nine women members of the Pittsburgh organization will be installed in the Beta Chapter of Upsilon Gamma, National Polish Girls' Sorority, at a tea in the International Institute, 405 Dithridge street.

Tadeusz Trzqna, of Chicago, is national president of the students association. Local officers include Adelbert Bialek, president; Charlesletta Benjeski, vice president; Marian Grochal, secretary, and Joseph Anuskiewiso, treasurer.

Attorneys Honor Gosser's Memory

Attorney Robert T. Houlden representing the Allegheny County Bar Association yesterday announced the death of Attorney Frank I. Gosser to Common Pleas Court. Judge George V. Moore directed the court adjournment for the day, be recorded as to his memory. Attorney Gosser died Monday.

RULE PREDICTS TEACHERS' PAY INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Dr. James N. Rule, state superintendent of public instruction, has coupled with a plea for a "square deal in education" the prediction that all teachers' pay cuts in Pennsylvania will be restored by July 1, 1935.

Dr. Rule spoke yesterday at the opening session of the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. He urged a "new deal" for taxpayers, teachers and pupils, and advocated a larger measure of state financial aid for local schools.

Pointing out that the Wilson Act permitting school districts to put pay cuts into effect will expire on July 1, 1935, Dr. Rule said:

"I do not think the Legislature will pass another such bill."

Dr. Francis B. Haas, president of the association and of the Bloomsburg State Teachers' College, voiced the belief that a happier financial day is in sight for the state school system. Dr. Rule declared:

"The school taxpayers are not getting a square deal in Pennsylvania because of the relatively small share of the cost of public education carried by the state. The result is an excessive tax load on real estate, which in Pennsylvania constitutes probably not more than 25 per cent of the taxable wealth.

"Placing a larger share of the load on the State Treasury means transferring part of the load on realty to intangible sources of wealth or income.

"Pennsylvania carries but 15 per cent of the cost of the public schools, as against 33⅓ per cent carried by the State of New York, and 30 per cent carried by the State of Maryland."

Dr. Rule also expressed the belief that examinations for jobs in state liquor stores "have been the entering wedge for similar examinations for all state positions."

Pinchot Refuses Spann Bill Hearing

Gov. Pinchot has turned down the request of City Council for a hearing on the Spann delinquent tax bill providing for the payment of delinquent city taxes over a five-year period without penalties or extras, according to word received here yesterday by I. Leonard Aronson, president of the Allegheny County Real Estate Owners and Taxpayers League.

The league sponsored the bill. The bill is now before the Governor for signature.

Conviction Upheld For Girl 'Market'

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The conviction of Olive Clark Day, of Hollywood, on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, has been affirmed by the State Supreme Court.

Accused of operating a "market" to supply young girls for parties attended by prominent men, Miss Day was convicted in October, 1932, in her second trial by a Los Angeles jury after the State District Court of Appeals had reversed the outcome of a previous case.

Claimant of Voliva Throne Dead at 73

ZION, Ill., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The Rev. Charles Francis Caldwell, veteran claimant of Wilbur Glenn Voliva's position as ruler of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church here, died yesterday at the age of 73.

Mr. Caldwell claimed to be the overseer of the sect by right of succession.

Out with the old...in with the NEW...

A HAPPY, HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU

WE thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for your splendid patronage during the past year, and we pledge ourselves to a continuance of the highest business ideals, and to the maintenance of the highest quality in all of our products during 1934.

That is why we say with assurance—"DUQUESNE, SILVER TOP and OLD NUT BROWN ALE are the finest beer and ale in town."

DUQUESNE BREWING COMPANY OF PITTSBURG
HEMLOCK 8500

DUQUESNE GRID SQUAD LEAVES FOR FLORIDA GAME

JAMES J. LONG'S SPORTS COMMENT

Fates Still Hitting Chase. Exiled Star Just Drifter. Tiger Drive to Continue. Pact Safeguards Carey. Liberal Floor System. Few Deaths in Hockey.

From the camp of the Columbia University football team in Tucson, Ariz., comes a little side story with a sermon between the lines. Hardly had Lou Little's charges established headquarters at Hotel El Conquistador before a disheveled and broken figure slouched into the gorgeous lobby and told the clerk he would like to see Doc Barrett, veteran trainer of the Lions. Barrett, more than a score of years ago trainer for the New York Highlanders, now the Yankees, found his visitor to be none other than Hal Chase, who played for that club during the same period while at the height of his fame as the king of first basemen. But it was a far different Chase. The once glamorous Prince Hal had become just a bit of driftwood. He told Barrett the fates had not dealt kindly with him, that he had gone steadily down hill until he was just about at the bottom.

Hal Chase

Chase's descent from the pinnacle of fame to the depths of obscurity and want was a rapid one after they sent him out of baseball under a cloud, following his engagement with the Giants in 1919. He tried baseball in San Jose, Cal., but soon wore out his welcome there. He drifted down to the Mexican border and eked out a living for a time playing with Chick Gandil and others in a wildcat copper league. The bottom dropped out of the copper mines and Chase was left stranded. He couldn't return to California, he couldn't go back East, so he remained out on the desert. The last thing of value he possessed went the way of the rest when he pawned, for $35, a silver loving cup the Yankees had presented to him in 1909. Now he lives from hand to mouth. He gets a CWA job now and then, and occasionally works in a Tucson garage washing automobiles at 50 cents per car. With his second wife, he lives in tourist camps. Nearing 51, Hal holds no illusions about the future. Baseball still is his life, only now he must confine himself to reading about it or playing with sandlot teams. A sorry change from the days when he was the toast of the baseball world, the idol of fandom.

RARE FOOTBALL OUTLOOK AT PRINCETON

Looking ahead to the football season of 1934, Eastern pigskin sharps are tipping Princeton to steamroller all rivals. The Tiger outlook is pronounced brighter than that at any other major college in the Atlantic division. Three outstanding individual stars of the undefeated and untied eleven of 1933 will be lost in Charley Ceppi and Arthur Lane, tackles, and Ken Faurman, end, but Princeton can stand such a loss better than other Eastern squads.

With eight regulars holding over, as well as many capable substitutes who are richer in experience, and numerous strong candidates coming up from an undefeated freshman eleven, it is figured that Princeton should have a great chance of winning every game next fall. The big problem centers at the tackles, as no coach gets a pair like Ceppi and Lane every year, but it is said there were three exceptional tackle prospects on the freshman squad, and Fritz Crisler and Ted Weiman appear to be worrying not a bit about the job of filling the holes.

MUST PAY CAREY IN FULL TO FIRE HIM

If the Brooklyn club takes a notion to drop Max Carey as manager any time before the close of the 1934 pennant race, it will have to send him away with a full season's salary. Not that the owners of the Dodgers have any thought at present of making a change in leaders, but to silence a lot of rumors which might give the impression that Carey's job is insecure, Business Manager Bob Quinn comes to the front with the announcement that Max's contract is fireproof.

Max Carey

During the major league meetings it was rumored that Brooklyn might change pilots, and that the contract which Max signed last summer to continue in the driver's seat contained a clause giving the owners the right to release him on 10 days' notice. And it was whispered that even though Max might be allowed to start the season, the club heads would not hesitate to change horses in midstream if the Dodgers failed to click. Quinn has produced Carey's contract to show that it does not contain the 10-day clause that is a part of players' pacts, and that, unless Max resigns, the former Pirate can be released only on payment of his salary in full for the season.

CELTICS RATED EQUAL TO FAMOUS CHAMPS

Meeting the McKeesport Willigs at Motor Square Garden tonight in the first local basketball game in a long time to be played in a cage, the Rosenblum Celtics will present a lineup that is said to be equal to the famous old combination of Lapchick, Dehnert, Barry, Leonard, Holman and Beckman. In Husta, Hickey and Banks, the Celtics have three outstanding passers, and Lapchick, Barry, Dehnert and Herlihy round out a squad that comes close to being the best in the game.

Dehnert and his pivot play hold the spotlight, as usual, but there are other features in the play of the pros, such as Banks, with his sure eye and clever dribbling; Lapchick and his wizardry in ball handling; Barry and his bursts of speed, and Herlihy, second only to Lapchick, seldom missing a set shot and able to jump with the best. Of the newer men, Hickey is pronounced the fastest cutting forward in the court sport, and Husta has few equals in any league as a 40-minute player. Down South, the Celtics are called the "traveling basketball university" and the "educators."

ONE DEATH IN PRO HOCKEY IN 30 YEARS

Ace Bailey's victory in his fight for life after suffering a fractured skull in a hockey game kept clean the National League's remarkable record of having gone through almost a quarter of a century without a fatality. Lester Patrick, veteran manager of the New York Rangers, calls attention to the fact that not a life has been lost in the strenuous games of the major league since it was organized in Canada as the National Hockey Association in 1910.

Lester Patrick

Furthermore, Patrick announces after an investigation, the available records show that only one death has resulted from ice injuries in any division of professional hockey in a period of 30 years. The victim was Eddie (Cannonball) Baker, of the Niagara Falls (Ont.) team in the old Canadian Professional League, who fell against the sideboards after a stiff body check during a game against the Buffalo Bisons and suffered a fracture of the skull, which proved fatal. During 1932 there were two deaths in Canadian amateur play, and none in the United States, Jerry Esdale, of Ottawa, died from head injuries received while practicing before a game as a member of an Ottawa intermediate team, and George Green failed to recover when struck over the heart by a flying puck in a Canadian Bankers' League game at Rose Isle, Manitoba.

This Wrestling Business Gives Matchmaker Headache—Who's the Champ?

LEW RAYMOND TEARS HIS HAIR OVER SUBSTITUTIONS ON ARENA CARD TONIGHT . . . THREE OF THEM

JIM BROWNING . . . SAYS HE'S CHAMPION

Believe It or Not, but Lew Raymond, veteran boxing matchmaker, has been in some tight spots during his long career before the public, but he's just beginning to find out what life's all about, now that he's the wrestling matchmaker as well for the North Side Arena, where he stages his second mat show tonight, with Jim Browning, one of the claimants of the heavyweight championship, meeting Stanley Pinto in the main bout. Yesterday, Raymond went to a lot of trouble to have Bert Rubi, one of the men on his card, reinstated by the Boxing Commission, only to learn later in a telegram from New York that the fellow has a fractured rib and can't wrestle anyway. Imagine Lew's chagrin if Browning happens to discover after he gets here that he left his title in New York. Such a business, eh, Lew? But it's all a part of this existence. These pictures are by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph (left) and International News Photograph Service.

SHOW OF SUBS HEADED BY BROWNING

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor.

It just goes to show what happens to a fellow when he wants to do the right thing in the wrestling game.

Here's Lew Raymond yesterday getting Dr. W. D. McClelland, the boxing commissioner, out of bed to have him call Philadelphia and see if something couldn't be done about having Bert Rubi, the Hungarian grappler, reinstated to permit him to go through with a match at the Arena on the North Side tonight. Rubi's name had appeared on the ill and unavailable list of the commission this week for failure to go through with a bout in Reading on December 19.

So what? So the commissioner does that little favor and a few hours later Raymond takes one on the chin in the form of a telegram from New York saying Rubi is out because of a broken rib. And, what's more, Sammy Stein is ditto for the same reason and Jack Zarnas is out on general principles, whatever they are in the rassling racket.

GINSBERG RETURNS

In their places Promoter Jack Curley is sending in some pretty good names. There's Hans Kampfer, the German, for instance, to sub for Stein against Frank Bronowiecz, and good old Ben Ginsberg, the Laugh of the Century at Motor Square Garden, to bat for Rubi against Sid Nabors, and Vic Christie, a highly-touted Californian, to take the place of Zarnas against Len Macaluso, the Colgate footballer.

Thus only two of the five bouts originally arranged stand up. They are the main event, in which Jim Browning, who disputes the claims of Jim Londos and Ed Don George to the heavyweight title, meets Stanley Pinto, the Bohemian, and the preliminary in which Paul Berlenbach, former light-heavyweight boxing champion, engages Murray Braizin, of New York. Berlenbach was an Olympic champion wrestler before he took up boxing.

Is Matchmaker Raymond embarrassed beyond words over getting a guy with a broken rib reinstated and then not being able to use him? Well, he's just so fussed he can't stand for any "ribbing" about it. It's all very funny unless you happen to be the fellow the joke's on, and in this case it's Lew Raymond.

BETWEEN ROUNDS

Kid Chocolate, knocked out in his last two bouts, but still retaining the featherweight title, meets Johnny Farr (yes, again) at Canton, O., New Year's Day, and, on February 5, defends that 126-pound title against Johnny Pena at San Francisco.

King Levinsky has gone in for some of that psychology with which football coaches win games, and says he'll beat Don McCorkindale with it when they meet in Chicago tomorrow night. Don's wife and the Kingfish's sister, Lena, should be worth watching from the ringside as they lend advice to the men inside the ropes.

Ralph Cerra is back home and anxious to box here. He was in New York as a stablemate of Charley Massera and worked out with Billy Petrolle and Joey La Grey, among others.

News from Miami, Fla., is that the winter resort is not getting steamed up about the Primo Carnera-Tommy Loughran fight for the heavyweight title and something will have to be done about it and right now the best thing appears to be to call it off.

There'll be no boxing show in the Moose Temple New Year's Day because no outstanding match is available, and, besides there's too much competition from the football game broadcasts and the lacrosse game scheduled in Motor Square Garden. Mose Butch will meet either Petey Sarron or Pete De Grasse at the Moose Temple the following Monday.

Bill Tilden Urges Active Davis Cup Net Captain

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—William T. Tilden II said the United States Davis Cup tennis teams should be managed by "a captain abroad" and not by a committee "on this side of the ocean."

In a luncheon address yesterday the former amateur star urged that management of American teams be given to one who will accompany the teams. He said:

"You must scrap the present players and build our future teams around Frankie Parker, Gene Mako and Sidney Wood."

MADDEN GAINS THIRD ROUND

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Frank C. Parker, the 17-year-old Milwaukee boy who now represents the Lawrenceville School in New Jersey, continued to sweep his way through the national junior indoor tennis championship tournament at the 7th Regiment armory yesterday, overwhelming Frank Rericha, of the Peekskill (N. Y.) Military Academy, in straight sets to enter the fourth round.

Parker, who has been recommended for eighth place in the national senior rankings, won, 6-1, 6-0, in only a half hour of play.

William J. Simpson, of Cornell, seeded sixth, was eliminated by Edward J. Milberg, of New York University, 7-5, 6-4. Gilbert A. Hunt, of M. I. T., No. 7 favorite, and Robert Madden, of the University of Pittsburgh, No. 8, won from Wilson Rood, of Brooklyn, and Howard P. Kahn, of the University of Michigan. Hunt won, 6-1, 6-3, but Madden was carried to three sets by Kahn, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

Jackets in Eight Games in 17 Days

Beginning on January 1, when they are to meet the Milwaukee Brewers, at Motor Square Garden at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the Yellow Jackets will play eight lacrosse games within a span of 17 days.

The New Year will find the Jackets putting a new scale of reduced prices into effect, and it also will find them inaugurating a new policy of playing many of their home games on Saturday nights. The schedule for the first half of January:

Jan. 1, Milwaukee, here, 3 p. m.; Jan. 3, at Milwaukee; Jan. 5, at Chicago; Jan. 6, Buffalo here; Jan. 7, at Buffalo; Jan. 12, Buffalo here; Jan. 13, Milwaukee here; Jan. 16, Chicago here.

Lenore Kight Tries For Records Today

MIAMI, Dec. 28.—Miss Lenore Kight, of Homestead, Pa., will attempt to set a new record for 300 meters and 300 yards, now held by Helene Madison, in the national Olympic stars' aquatic meet here today.

Other stars competing are Johanna Gorman, of Homestead; Katharine Rawls, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Ralph Flannagan, of Coral Gables, Fla.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Philadelphia—Benny Bass defeated Eddie Cool, 10 rounds; Al Ettore defeated Popper Stopper, 8 rounds.

At Indianapolis—Young Geno defeated Scatty Scotten, 10 rounds; Meyer Grace defeated Jackie Purvis, 10 rounds; Honeyboy Brown defeated Nate Goldberg, 6 rounds.

At Los Angeles—Fritzie Zivic defeated Rudy Avon, 4 rounds; Eddie Zivic knocked out Pete Cardenas, 3 rounds.

At New York—Lou Salica defeated Pete De Grasse, 6 rounds; Ted Loder defeated Al Santora, 6 rounds.

PITT PASSERS VICTORS OVER MINNESOTA

BRING ON OHIO!

PITT.	G.	F.	Pt.	MINN.	G.	F.	Pt.
WHughes,f-g	1	3	5	Roscoe,f	2	0	4
McCam't,f-g	1	1	3	Hochakl,f	1	4	6
Cribbs,c	3	2	8	Norman,c	2	4	8
Ochsenhirt,g	1	2	4	Kane,g	0	5	5
CHughes,g	0	0	0	Svendsen,g	0	0	0
Roderick,g-f	3	1	7	Wallbloom,f	0	0	0
Wainio,f	0	1	1	Elken,g	0	0	0
Noon,c	0	0	0
Kuno,g	0	0	0
Totals	9	10	28	Totals	5	13	23

Score at half time—Pitt 11, Minnesota 8. Missed fouls—Pitt 5 (W. Hughes, Ochsenhirt 3, C. Hughes); Minnesota 6 (Sochaki, Norman 2, Kane 2, Svendsen).

Personal fouls—Pitt, McCamant 4, Cribbs 4, W. Hughes 2, C. Hughes 3, Roderick 2, Noon; Minnesota, Roscoe 2, Sochaki 2, Norman, Kane 3, Svendsen 2, Elken.

Referee—Hetra.
Umpire—Dalt Williams.
Time of halves—20 minutes.

By JESS CARVER

If getting a very, very bad ball game out of their systems is to be taken as a good omen, Pitt's Golden Panthers are due to make it extremely tough for Ohio State's Western Conference champions when they clash here Saturday night.

The Panthers staggered through a helter-skelter, hit-or-miss (mostly miss) row with Minnesota's Gophers on the Stadium Pavilion floor last night. With three minutes to go, they were behind by four points, but they apparently had saved all their stuff until the very last, for they put on a scoring splurge that netted nine points and the ball game. The final score was 28 to 23.

NOON, RODERICK STAR

Outstanding in the triumph of the Panthers, which gave them a mark of three wins and two defeats in the five games played to date, were a pair of sophomores, Ted Roderick, a forward, and Noon, a center. It was Noon who stepped into the breach when the veteran Claire Cribbs was removed via the four personal foul route and got the jump on rangy Gordon Norman, star Gopher center, and it was Roderick who capitalized on Pitt's having possession of the ball to score five of the nine points recorded during those last thrilling moments of play.

Neither quintet played big league ball. The passing was off, so far off that it might as well have been left in the dressing rooms. The shooting was even worse, the lads missing set-up shots time and again from under the hoop. At times, they even missed the backboard, which borders on the ridiculous for college performers.

Nine times during the struggle the score was tied. In the first half, it was deadlocked on four occasions, but, with less than a minute to go, Cribbs sank a field goal, his third of the period, and added a foul to give Pitt an 11 to 8 advantage at the intermission.

FRESHMEN DEFEATED

In a preliminary tussle, the fast-passing Taylor Allderdice High School quintet, of the City Scholastic League, downed the Pitt freshmen, 22 to 17. The lineup:

Allderdice.	G.	F.	Pt.	Pitt Fr.	G.	F.	Pt.
Milelr,f	2	1	5	Ferguson,f	1	0	2
Lery,f	2	1	5	Loucks,f	0	0	0
Silverman,c	1	1	3	Taylor,c	2	0	4
Greenberg,g	3	2	8	Emerick,g	5	1	11
Cohen,g	1	0	2	Delmay,g	0	1	1
Rutkin,c	0	0	0	Jesko,f	0	0	0
				Garcia,c	1	0	2
Totals	9	5	23	Totals	9	2	20

Referee—Koch.

The Dukes have added another game to their floor card for the season. On January 6 they'll take on the Valparaiso University quintet, of Indiana, in the only Saturday night home contest on the Red and Blue schedule.

On Friday night, January 5, the Valparaiso passers will meet Geneva at Beaver Falls.

Small Star at Garden

DAVY BANKS . . . DIMINUTIVE FORWARD OF THE CELTICS

WILLIGS FACE CELTICS HERE

The crack Cleveland Rosenblum-Celtics, heralded as the greatest basketball machine in the world, appears here tonight, meeting the Willigs, of McKeesport, undefeated leaders in the County League. The game will be played at Motor Square Garden and is scheduled to get under way at 9 o'clock.

The Willigs will present a lineup of former college and scholastic stars against the Celtics. Timmy Lawry, former Pitt star, and Crum, who played sensational ball for Schenley High School, will go at the forwards. Fred Brand, former Penn State luminary, will be at center, with Don Smith, an all-America performer for Pitt last year, and either Minnick, former Grove City star, or Rice, of Westminster, at the guards.

The Celtics will present their usual all-expert lineup. Hickey, Husta and Banks will share the work at the forwards, with Joe Lapchick and Herlihy dividing the center job and Barry and Dutch Dehnert at the guards.

The stellar Downtown Y. M. C. A. Bobcats and the St. Peter's Boys' Club quintet will clash in a preliminary, slated to get under way at 7:45 o'clock. The Willigs defeated Wheeling at Wheeling last night, 48-41. The probable starting lineups for the main clash follow:

CELTICS.		WILLIGS.
Hickey	F	Lawry
Banks	F	Crum
Lapchick	C	Brand
Barry	G	Smith
Dehnert	G	Rice

Celtics on Bill With Our Seals

The Celtics are here—the Cleveland Rosenblum Celtics, professional basketball champions of the world.

Always welcome visitors in Pittsburgh, because of their skillful play, the Celtics meet the Willigs, of McKeesport, a crack independent team, in the cage of Motor Square Garden tonight.

Before they go to the Garden, members of the Celtics will be guests of Harry Keck and his Trained Seals of the Sports Department of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph in their weekly radio program over WCAE at 7 o'clock.

Tune in for an earful of basketball.

LAYDEN LEADS 34 PLAYERS TO MIAMI

Duquesne University's varsity football squad, Coaches Elmer Layden and Joe Bach, Managers Ed. Gallagher and Joe Griffen and Dr. Leo O'Donnell, team physician, set sail at 2:15 this afternoon for the sunny South, a swell spot to set sail for these days, their destination being Miami, Fla., where on New Years Day they'll meet the University of Miami Hurricanes in the second annual Festival of the Palms game.

Hundreds of students and fans were at the Pennsylvania Station to give the squad a rousing send-off. Others are taking advantage of the holiday at the university to attend the game in an "unofficial" capacity. Second-hand cars once thought to have outlived their usefulness are in favor as transportation mediums.

A year ago, Miami defeated Manhattan College, of New York City, in the first Palms Festival tussle.

TO ARRIVE SATURDAY

The Dukes first port of call en route to Florida will be Washington, D. C., where they'll leave their Pennsylvania choo-choo and transfer to the Seaboard for the run down the coast. The arrival in Miami is set for Saturday morning and the party will return January 3.

The contest is the most important intersectional game in which the Dukes ever have taken part. The locals have played two other Southern opponents since the advent here seven years ago of Coach Elmer Layden, the two being Howard College, of Birmingham, Ala., and Oglethorpe U.

Eleven of the 34 players who departed today will be taking part in their final varsity encounter New Years. The squad follows:

Ends—Gerald Baker, John Chappela, Ben Disegi, Andrew Factor, Capt Albert Krankota, Oren Peterson and Ed Powell.

Tackles—Anthony Baron, Clifford Johnson, Armand Niccolai, Steve Sinko, Vic Vidoni and Joe Wiehl.

Guards—John Burns, Pete Karakitsos, George Kakasic, George Rado, John Skarada and Henry Weinberg.

Centers—Ben Ciccone, Donald Eppler and Joe Malkovich.

Quarterbacks—Joe Cutrona, Frank DeCoster and Joe Gates.

Halfbacks—Al DeLucia, Jim Fillingham, Steve Marin, Jim McDonald, Dick Nussbaum and Ed Zaneski.

Fullbacks—Jim Campbell, Art Strutt and Silvio Zaninelli.

The Duquesne squad will make the Alcazar Hotel its headquarters for the five-day stay in Miami. A delegation from the athletic association, the student body, and university officials will greet the local team upon its arrival.

MIAMI IMPROVED

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The University of Miami Hurricanes after several disappointing scrimmage sessions this week returned yesterday to what Coach Tommy McCann termed mid-season form, and he announced the team was ready for the New Years Day game with Duquesne U. of Pittsburgh.

McCann will begin tapering off the team today on dummy scrimmaging, kicking practice and signal drill. Some attention, however, will be paid the backfield fault of fumbling which was noticeable yesterday after a brief scrimmage session.

GRID COACHES TAKE STEPS TO PROTECT JOBS

BIBLE CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Armed with plans and advice for protecting their jobs, members of the American Football Coaches' Association headed for the scenes of all-star games or winter quarters today.

The plan for fighting back at criticism characterized as unfair, which has cost many coaches their places, was suggested by D. O. (Tuss) McLaughry, of Brown University, chairman of the committee on ways and means of making the association more beneficial to the members. The advice on how to make the coach's position more secure was dispensed by H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at the University of Georgia.

BIBLE NEW PREXY

McLaughry suggested that a committee be appointed by the president of the association to investigate any charges of unfair dismissal and to give the cases nationwide publicity. The committee will be named by Dana X. Bible, of the University of Nebraska, who succeeds Daniel E. McGugin, of Vanderbilt, as president.

Stegeman gave six reasons why capable coaches fail to hang onto their jobs. He pointed out that 91 coaches have moved in and out of two Southern Conferences with a total membership of 23 colleges and universities since 1922. The reasons he gave as being partly responsible were:

The coach failed to mix with other members of the faculty; he added nothing to the life of his community except building a football team; he specialized on football to the exclusion of other sports; he failed to place himself at the disposal of the college administration; he developed temperament, becoming unbearable to even his best friends, in his seriousness over games; he was discourteous to newspapermen who, in retaliation, failed to support him.

BEZDEK FOR SIMPLICITY

Hugo Bezdek, director of physical education and athletics at Pennsylvania State College, declared that simplicity is needed to keep football in its present position in the colleges and universities. He pointed out that many other extra curricular activities are growing in importance, and that football must not be made more complicated if the student, with less time, is to continue to be interested in the game.

Bible also appointed a committee composed of Noble Kizer, of Purdue; Lou Little, of Columbia; O. E. Hollingberry, of Washington State College, and W. A. Alexander, of Georgia Tech, to sit with the rules committee at New York in February. The coaches will present suggestions for changes in the rules to the committee.

Hours were devoted yesterday to the discussion of proposed changes in the playing code, but no one had anything to say on what suggestions might receive favorable action. The question will get more attention from a committee of 25 coaches, in time to draw up formal recommendations to the rules committee.

Dr. John B. Sutherland, of Pitt, and Elmer Layden, of Duquesne, were among the 24 chosen to study the suggested changes in the rules.

Layden and Heartley (Hunk) Anderson, whom he will replace as head coach at Notre Dame, exchanged greetings yesterday. Anderson said as he threw his arms about Layden:

"The best of luck, Elmer."

Anderson has three prospective coaching jobs in view for next fall.

The convention, the thirteenth annual affair of the association, broke up last night after the banquet. Other officers elected were: Bernie Bierman, Minnesota, first vice president; Edward L. Casey, of Harvard, second vice president; D. O. McLaughry, of Brown, third vice president. W. H. Cowell, of New Hampshire, was re-elected secretary treasurer, and Alvin (Bo) McMillan, of Kansas State College, replaced Casey on the board of trustees.

Dr. McClelland Sworn Into Office

Dr. W. D. McClelland, recently restored boxing commissioner, was sworn into office today by Judge Ralph H. Smith, of Common Pleas Court.

Lacking confirmation from the Legislature when he was appointed to office in November, Dr. McClelland was reappointed by Gov. Pinchot after the Legislature adjourned. His commission arrived here yesterday and the swearing-in ceremony followed today.

Dr. McClelland has been handling the affairs of the local office of the commission since being named the day before Thanksgiving Day.

Bass Beats Cool, Wins State Title

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—By outpointing Eddie Cool in a sensational 10-round bout here last night, Benny Bass today had not only staved off fistic oblivion, but won himself the lightweight championship of Pennsylvania.

The judges disagreed by a surprising margin, Tom Gordon voting for Bass and Lew Cassady for Cool. Referee Tom O'Keefe voted for Bass.

Kiwanis to Honor Greensburg Gridders

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 28.—Members of the undefeated 1933 Greensburg High School football squad will be tendered a testimonial banquet by the local Kiwanis Club on January 17.

OLD CATCHER DIES

DETROIT, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—Fred Burlow, star catcher on the Detroit Tigers ball team of 30 years ago, was dead here today. His death followed an illness of several months.

Believe It Or Not (Reg. by U. S. Patent Office) By Ripley

(On request, sent with stamped addressed envelope, Ripley will send proofs and details of anything depicted by him in these cartoons.)

A PINE TREE GROWING OUT OF A WILLOW TREE
Vorarlberg, Austria
1890
A PEANUT 43 YEARS OLD AND STILL GOOD IS owned by P. D. GWALTNEY, JR., Smithfield, Va.
SIGNATURE OF P. B. ELDER READS THE SAME UPSIDE DOWN
François Huber
CELEBRATED FOR HIS DISCOVERIES RELATING TO BEES — WAS TOTALLY BLIND
A COW THAT SITS DOWN WHEN RESTING
Owned by H. TAPIO, Naselle, Wash.
12-28
©1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY SELF-EXPLANATORY. TOMORROW: THE FATHER OF ADMIRALS.

ALL-STAR PRO TEAM NAMED

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The champion Chicago Bears and the New York Giants, Eastern division leaders who lost to Chicago in the title playoff, dominate the all-league team selected by votes of the National Professional Football League coaches. The Bears and the Giants each placed three players on the first team. New York also came through with four second-team representatives to the Bears' three.

The teams, with the votes for each player, follow:

FIRST TEAM

Player and Team	Votes	Positions
Hewitt, Chi. Bears	50	End
Hubbard, Green Bay	28	Tackle
Hickman, Brooklyn	24	Guard
Hein, New York	29	Center
Kopcha, Chi. Bears	24	Guard
Edwards, Boston	26	Tackle
Badgro, New York	33	End
Newman, New York	32	Quarterback
Presnell, Portsmouth	26	Halfback
Battles, Boston	35	Halfback
Nagurski, Chi. Bears	38	Fullback

SECOND TEAM

Player and Team	Votes	Positions
Flaherty, New York	14	End
Grant, New York	24	Tackle
Carlson, Chi. Bears	21	Guard
Miller, Chi. Bears	27	Center
Gibson, New York	23	Guard
Musso, Chi. Bears	24	Tackle
Ending, Portsmouth	11	End
Friedman, Brooklyn	14	Quarterback
Strong, New York	24	Halfback
Hansen, Philadelphia	15	Halfback
Musick, Boston	23	Fullback

Fuchs Names Mann Harrisburg Pilot

HARRISBURG, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Robert Fuchs, son of Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston National League Baseball Club, last night was elected president of the Harrisburg club of the New York-Pennsylvania League, and he immediately announced that Leslie Mann, of Springfield, Mass., would supplant Eddie Onslow as manager of the Senators.

Zivic Boys Win Bouts on Coast

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The Zivic boys, of Pittsburgh, star boxers, both turned in victories in bouts in the Pico Arena here last night.

Fritzie Zivic defeated Rudy Avon in a fast four-round scrap at 139 pounds. His brother Eddie knocked out Pete Cardenas, of Los Angeles, in the third round of a scheduled four-rounder.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

COLLEGIATE

Local Game

Pitt	28—Minnesota	20

Other Games

W. Wesleyan	30—Washington, D.	20
Emporia	31—Kansas State	19
Southwestern	34—Arizona	26
Iowa Merch	47—Haskell	23
Brigham Young	43—Denver	38
Ogden Boosters	42—Montana State	28
Denver Pigs	34—Colorado Coll.	18
Golden Bobcats	52—Montana	32
Idaho	43—Idaho S. B.	36
California	37—St. Mary's	27
Multnomah	36—S. Oregon	31
Oregon State	41—Marquette	24

SCHOLASTIC

Allderdice	23—Pitt. Freshmen	20
Findley Voc	34—Alumni	17
Homestead	30—Turtle Creek	16
Scranton Tech	25—Erie East	18
Alumni	44—Mars	27
Charleroi	36—McIvain	17

INDEPENDENT

W. W. Willigs	18—Wheeling I. K. S.	41
Rosens	36—Burkes	12
Kingsley "B"	44—Oakmont	23
St. Mary's Ly.	36—St. Elizabeth	25
Mellon	63—Forbes	28
Penns	26—Basketeers	18
Goodwill	30—Bloomfield	15
Goodwill Jr.	57—Sheraden Arrows	21
Mt. Pisgah	24—Ingram Presbs	10
Red Shields	38—Tecco Jucks	20
I. K. S. "B"	30—Campbells Y	20
North Boroughs	48—Gulf	31
Charleroi	45—Ewing Club	20

CHILLYSAUCE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

It takes more than zero zephyrs to cool off a baseball patient. Bill Benswanger stepped into a barber shop yesterday and was immediately put on the spot by a flock of barbers and fans, whose rapid-fire questions had nothing in common with the coating of snow that covers the Oakland Orchard.

Benswanger submits to a third degree each time he gets his locks trimmed. He answers at least a score of questions regarding the pitching staff, the contemplated second baseman and what not, but he generally has his guard up for the more pertinent queries.

Knute Rockne pursued the same system with much success. Knute's philosophy was that you made fans of the butcher, the baker and candlestick maker is you listened to their remedies for this and that. It didn't follow that you had to put the advice into action, but by lending a willing ear, the fan was made to feel he was helping out in the big situation.

Benswanger, among other things, disclosed that the Ladies' Day plan grew by leaps and bounds in the year ending Sunday. The innovation was begun here last year, but it really didn't click until last summer when the women folks and girls came out in profusion. Said Bill:

"We hope the ladies will come out in greater numbers next season. It is the idea of the Pittsburgh club to continue the practice of having the ladies as guests once a week, and the children's days also will be kept on the program."

Connie Mack apparently intends to run his beloved Athletics until he is carried off the field. Connie is one of nature's noblemen and he is a wise man to remain at a post that brings him one of the greatest things in life—contentment. Quite a few veterans have been able to make pleasant connections after forsaking the diamond, but Mack would not be satisfied if that scorecard were lifted from his grasp after the umpire says, "play ball!"

Billy Murray, former manager of the Phillies and one of the best raconteurs of the sport, is among the few oldtimers who have succeeded in another profession after giving many years to the diamond. Billy is the manager of a successful motion picture theater in Youngstown, but he still loves the flavor of the baseball.

A world series picture is hardly complete without the presence of Murray. He and the late Senator John Harris were among the early arrivals at the big events. Billy and King Kelly were roommates for years and when Murray begins to tell you yarns of this outstanding athlete you are apt to sit up all night.

Billy had experiences with a lot of "Jack Keefes" before Ring Lardner appeared to glorify these refreshing bushers. While he was manager of the Phillies, Billy moved into a small town to scout a phenom. Murray liked his style but when he informed the busher he wanted to take him at once, the hero declared he was sorry, "but I have a date."

President John A. Heydler, of the National League, spent a social hour last night with Bill Benswanger, Pirate president. Heydler was on his way back to New York from Franklin, where he spent a few days at the former home of Mrs. Heydler. The Bucco official and chief executive of the league did not delve into any diamond problems, but both will be on hand at the annual schedule meeting in New York early in February.

AMATEUR FINALS SET

The finals of the Western Pennsylvania amateur boxing tournament have been scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week in Motor Square Garden, it was announced today.

BLUE BEATEN AT PINEHURST

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—George T. Dunlap, Jr., the national amateur titleholder, moved a step nearer his eighth mid-winter golf championship in nine years by defeating F. C. Robertson, Manchester, 5 and 4, in the first round of the annual event yesterday. In his next round, Dunlap will face R. P. Davidson, of Washington, former champion of the Chevy Chase Club.

In a see-saw match which never saw either rival more than one hole ahead until the seventeenth, Eric D. Thomson, St. Andrews, N. B., defeated Halbert J. Blue, Pittsburgh, 2 and 1. Blue was runner-up to Dunlap when the latter won the tournament last year.

HOCKEY RESULTS

COLLEGIATE

McGill	7—Dartmouth		1
Hamilton	4—Williams		2

'Best Wishes, Elmer'

HUNK ANDERSON ELMER LAYDEN

Anderson, deposed football coach of Notre Dame, and Layden, Duquesne University mentor, who succeeds him, meet on friendly basis at coaches' confab in Chicago. Anderson wished his successor well. This is a Wide World News Photograph Service picture.

GIANTS, YANKS, BRAVES, MACKS SET CARDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—The World Champion New York Giants are scheduled to display the lineup which beat Washington in the world series last fall in 20 cities during their spring exhibition tour.

The Giants' training schedule, announced yesterday, lists 40 games, mostly against major league opposition and an itinerary which takes them from their Miami Beach camp all over the southland before they return home by way of Cleveland and West Point.

The Yankees' training plans call for the first squad of pitchers and catchers to reach St. Petersburg, Fla., March 4, and the rest to arrive a week later. The Yanks have scheduled 26 exhibition games, with the annual series against the Boston Braves for the championship of St. Petersburg as the major portion of the program.

The schedules follow:

Giants—March 9, 10, 11, Athletics at Miami Beach; 12, 13, Athletics at Fort Myers; 14, Cardinals at Bradenton; 15, Cincinnati at Tampa; 17, 18, Cardinals at Miami Beach; 21, 22, Browns at West Palm Beach; 23, 24, 25, Browns at Miami Beach; 27, 28, Buffalo at Miami Beach; 29, Brooklyn at Orlando; 30, Nashville at Dothen, Ala.; 31 and April 1, Cleveland at New Orleans; April 1, second team vs. Kansas City at Lafayette, La.; 2, Cleveland at Baton Rouge; 3, Cleveland at Jackson, Miss.; 4, Cleveland at Meridian, Miss.; 5, Cleveland at Montgomery, Ala.; 6, Cleveland at Nashville, Tenn.; 7 and 8, Memphis at Memphis; 9, Cleveland at Huntsville, Ala.; 10, Cleveland at Atlanta; 11, Cleveland at Charlotte, N. C.; 12, Cleveland at Asheville, N. C.; 13, Cleveland at Louisville; 14 and 15, Cleveland at Cleveland; 16, United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

Yankees—March 16, 17, 18, 20, 22, 25, 27, 28, Braves at St. Petersburg, Fla.; 29, Newark at Clearwater, Fla.; 30, Cardinals at Bradenton, Fla.; 31, Newark at St. Petersburg; April 1, Cardinals at St. Petersburg; 2, Baltimore at Jacksonville; 3 and 4, Atlanta at Atlanta; 5 and 6, Birmingham at Birmingham, Ala.; 7 and 8, Nashville at Nashville, Tenn.; 9 and 10; Chattanooga at Chattanooga, Tenn.; 11, Knoxville at Knoxville, Tenn.; 12, Charlotte at Charlotte, N. C.; 13, Richmond at Richmond, Va.; 14 and 15, Brooklyn at Yankee Stadium, New York.

A'S ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Twenty-seven exhibition games are listed for the 1934 edition of the Athletics on the spring schedule released by the office of Manager Connie Mack. The card follows:

March 9, 10, 11, Giants at Miami Beach; 12, 13, Giants at Fort Myers; 19, Cardinals at Fort Myers; 20, Brooklyn at Fort Myers; 22, Detroit at Lakeland; 23, 24, Braves at St. Petersburg; 25, Cincinnati at Tampa; 26, Cardinals at Bradenton; 27, Cincinnati at Fort Myers; 28, House of David at Fort Myers; 29, Detroit at Fort Myers; April 1, 2, Brooklyn at Orlando; 2, Baltimore at Jacksonville; 4, 5, Charlotte at Charlotte, N. C.; 6, Richmond at Richmond, Va.; 7, Phillies at Phillies; 8, Phillies at Shibe Park; 11, Phillies at Shibe Park; 12, Baltimore at Baltimore; 14, Phillies at Shibe Park; 15, Phillies at Phillies.

BRAVES SET PROGRAM

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Boston's new Red Sox and, unless something can be done about it within the next few weeks, old Braves, will play a five-game spring series, according to an announcement from the local National League's office today. The training schedule follows:

March 16, 17, 18, New York Yankees at St. Petersburg; March 19, Cincinnati at St. Petersburg; March 20, Yankees at St. Petersburg; March 21, Cardinals at St. Petersburg; March 22, Yankees at St. Petersburg; March 23, 24, Athletics at St. Petersburg; March 25, Yankees at St. Petersburg; March 26, Red Sox at St. Petersburg; March 27, 28, Yankees at St. Petersburg; March 30, Red Sox at Sarasota, Fla.; April 1, Cincinnati at Tampa, Fla.; April 2, Cardinals at Bradenton, Fla.; April 5, Brooklyn at Orlando, Fla.; April 8, Baltimore at Baltimore; April 10, Washington at Washington; April 13, 14, 15, Red Sox at Boston.

COAST ELEVEN NEAR PEAK

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Stanford will be at full strength when it tackles the Columbia University football team in the Rose Bowl New Years Day.

Coach Claude (Tiny) Thornhill said today Wes Muller, first string center, will start against the Lions. Suffering from influenza for the past several days, Muller was to be discharged from the hospital today and may report for practice tomorrow.

Monk Moscrip, star end of the Indian team, will also be in shape for the start of the game, Thornhill said. Moscrip suffered a pulled leg muscle, but the injury is responding to treatment.

A third member of the squad who has been on the bench, Claude Callaway, a tackle, is suffering from a cold, but will be ready when the whistle blows, the jovial Stanford coach declared.

LIONS FINISH GRIND

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 28.—Columbia University's Lions went through their final hard drill here yesterday for their Tournament of Roses game with Stanford on New Years Day. The players will be permitted to relax until Sunday morning when they move into Pasadena for the battle.

TODAY'S FLOOR CARD

SCHOLASTIC

Fifth Avenue at East Liverpool.
Freedom at Evans City.

INDEPENDENT

W. W. Willigs vs. Rosenblum Celtics, Motor Square.

WEST PENN LEAGUE

Tarentum Y at Y. M. H. A. "B."
Rankin C. C. at Edgewood.
Red Shields at Knapils.
J. H. Becks at Soho Varsity.
Dormont at Coraopolis Artillery.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

Mellon Bank at National Union.
Sun Oil at Forbes National.

METRO LEAGUE

West Homestead at Y. M. H. A. Reserves.
Rankin at Edgewood Reserves.
Lawrence Reserves at Foresters.

POLISH FALCON LEAGUE

Ambridge at Beaver Falls.

GREATER PITTSBURGH LEAGUE

Olympics at Glenshaw.

HOMESTEAD STEEL LEAGUE

Structural at Heat Treating.
Carrie Furnace at Open Hearth.

COUNTY LEAGUE

McCanns at Y. M. H. A.

IRON CITY LEAGUE

Robinson at Owls Lyceum.

RUDY'S TALK OF THE TOWN
604 LIBERTY AVENUE
Liquor Special
A blend of Pure Rye Whiskey
PER QT. $2.60 FRIDAY ONLY
Court 7776
The largest assortment of Whiskey in Pittsburgh

THE LATE TOD SLOAN

Fortune Won as Jockey Dissipated in Generous, Regal Living and Death Finds Once Glamorous Figure Broke

(This is the last of a series of five articles on the late Tod Sloan, greatest jockey of his time and a glamorous figure in sports history, written by his old friend, Hype Igoe.)

By HYPE IGOE
International News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Tod Sloan was the recipient of priceless gifts from sportsmen admirers while he was riding high on Fame's golden steed. One of these presents was a black pearl, given to him by Barney Barnato, famous diamond king.

After winning a king's ransom on one of Sloan's mounts, in sheer appreciation, Barnato handed over the pearl to the tiny jockey. It was as large as Sloan himself, was Tod's way of describing it.

The heart-break of all pearl collectors, it was as well known among the world's treasures as the Hope Diamond. There was a fabulous price set on the famous bauble's "head," and Sloan guarded it with his life. It was characteristic that the noted rider clung to his gifts tenaciously, even after his one-time bankroll of $1,100,000 in cash in 1902 had flitted away in blue smoke.

Sloan lost the Barnato black pearl in a strange way. Returning to this country for a visit, Tod thought it would be safe to place his jewels, including the pearl, in the keeping of a reliable French pawnbroker. Tod accepted the "loan" valuation placed upon his valuation and told himself that he would redeem his swag on his return to Europe.

LOSES GREATEST TREASURE

He rode a few races for W. C. Whitney, went on jaunts here and there, and, after quite a vacation, returned to England, all the time telling himself sooner or later he'd drop over to Paris and reclaim his pearl and other trinkets. He didn't know that the French law permits a jewel broker to sell all articles placed with him unless redeemed within a period of a few weeks!

Tod nearly fainted when he called to gather in his treasures. He was told that they had been sold and that the black pearl had gone with the other pieces.

Then began a black-pearl hunt which lasted for several years and which extended all over the world. Scotland Yard and the French police joined in the quest for the pearl. Sloan hired private detectives, and, though the little man spent most of his fortune in the search, no trace of the pearl was ever found. Sloan was convinced that the broker knew the whereabouts of the gem, its purchaser's identity, whether a firm or a private connoisseur. In the long run, Sloan had to give up the chase.

MARRIES STAGE STAR

Money slipped through Sloan's fingers like quicksilver. He lived the life of Reilly when he had it and died broke.

With the coming of his marriage to beautiful Julia Sanderson, musical comedy star, Sloan was beginning to miss his once huge bankroll. His best riding days were gone. Accumulated wealth had robbed him of the daring which had made him the genius of the race course.

Jack Doyle, the billiard king, now the best-posted Broadwayite in the world, was Sloan's "buddy" when Tod began his courtship of the lovely lady of the stage. Between them they used to compose burning love letters for the fair one. Doyle was a turf sheet-writer at the time. He says now of Sloan:

"Tod wasn't over-schooled. His love for horses at a tender age had precluded real book knowledge. He and I would compose the letters to the light of his eye, digging into the dictionary for grandiloquent words, while I put them into shape with coatings of honey. Those were some of the most exciting hours of my life, composing with Tod Sloan love letters to a famous stage beauty.

BROKE BEFORE DINNER

"I remember how we had to dig to get money for his farewell bachelor dinner at Delmonico's. He confiscated my last $35.

"'What are you going to do with the $35, I asked him.

"'I'll use that for tips, he replied.

"'What about the dinner tab? I asked anxiously.

"'Oh, I'll cuff 'em for that. They wouldn't say no to a fellow on the night before his wedding.'"

Doyle added:

"Sloan was a fine card player, but wasn't a match for the card sharps. His own conceit about his good playing cost him many a bankroll when he was in the money. They took him like Grant took Richmond, because he never was willing to admit that the card sharks could hang it on him."

His great skill in the saddle brought Sloan tremendous retainers. Little wonder that he ran up a bankroll which the great jockeys before and after his day never even approached.

"CHUMP" WITH MONEY

If he was a genius in making money, he was a chump in letting it slip out of his clutches.

He hooked up with Henri Fournier in a plan to place high-priced motor cars on the American market. Sloan arrived with three dazzling models, costing a total of $32,000. He lost $200,000 trying to dominate the trade.

Sloan was generous, always so. He probably could have faced his last crisis "well heeled" had it been possible for him to call in old "touches."

Sloan once walked into a famous furrier in London. "Furrier-to-His-Royal-Highness, Edward, Prince of Wales," said his trademark. Establishing his identity, Tod said:

"His Highness sent me around to take my pick of the skins."

The furrier fell for it. Tod's Persian lamb great-coat later became the envy of all the London "toffs!" It was insured for a large sum. Years later, Tod placed it on top of Doyle's desk in the private office of the billiard parlor at Forty-second and Broadway.

ALWAYS ANIMAL LOVER

It was a bitter cold night. Sloan, on leaving, went into the office for his famous coat. He came out a few minutes later minus the coat. Doyle saw him, about to go out into the storm, turning up the collar of his jacket around his ears and shouted:

"Are you mad, Tod? Don't go out without your overcoat."

Tod replied:

"Can't wear it tonight, Jack, Dixie, the cat, is using it for a bed. She has just had kittens. You must never disturb a cat which has just had kittens."

And Tod Sloan, passionate lover of animals, walked out into the blizzard.

THE END.

Boxing Managers Suggest Aid for Commissions

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—A plan to formulate an advisory board of boxing managers to cooperate with the boxing commissions in the regulation of the sport has been proposed by Sammy Goldman, manager of Tony Canzoneri. It would consist tentatively of Jimmy Bronson, Charley Harvey, Jack Hurley and Goldman and would function along the lines of the football coaches' committee, which makes suggestion to the rules committee. Outlining his plan, Goldman said today:

"Boxing commissions are made up largely of men too far away from details of the business. They're politicians who know about boxing in a general way, but that lets them out. They make a lot of rules thinking they are helping boxing and giving the public a run for their money, but they work out just the opposite.

"They break up a fighter's training five days before a match by hauling him in for examination when any boxing man could tell them it's not important then. They make new rules here every time a foreign fighter appears. They okay substitutes and then suspend managers because the substitutes get knocked out.

"They make dozens of rules, yet they have no hard and fast regulations on such an important thing as the size and kind of gloves various sizes of fighters should use. The rules on fouls are all mixed up. Referees are allowed to take up a lot of time when a fighter is nervous before the opening bell telling him what he can do and what he can't do, which the fighter has been told practically from birth. It's time for a new deal."

I. K. S. Team Wins Over McCanns, 35-33

Featured by the fine work of Singer and Kalson at the forwards, the I. K. S. passers defeated the McCanns in a County League tussle on the Settlement floor last night, 35 to 33.

Singer led in the scoring for both teams with 14 points, with Kalson trailing him with 13. Pfeffer, for McCanns, counted 11 points.

PRE-PROHIBITION LIQUORS
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 30, LAST DAY
RARE OLD WHISKIES, BRANDIES AND CALIFORNIA WINES
PENNSYLVANIA'S BEST WHISKIES BOTTLED IN BOND—PENWICK, ORIGINAL FINCH GOLDEN WEDDING AND BRIDGEPORT PURE RYE
ALSO PENWICK PURE RYE, Nineteen Years in the Wood
No Blends, No Compounds or Imitation Whisky, But Pure, Unadulterated Liquor, of which there is a very limited supply in the United States.
READY FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY
TELEPHONE NO. Penhurst 0411-0415
HARRY I. NEAMAN
7213-15 HAMILTON AVENUE
Established Since 1901. Open 8 A. M. to 11 P. M.

STOCKS POINT UP AS TAX SALES END

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—With year-ending tax-selling out of the way, except on a cash basis, stocks pointed higher again today although the feverish turnover of the previous session was missing.

The "cash-and-carry" transactions which, under the two-day delivery rule, are the only ones now recordable in 1933 income statements, were quite numerous in the first hour. They continued to make up about one-quarter of the activity after the ticker tape had slowed down appecially. Grains and cotton were rather narrow, but most other commodities were fairly firm. The dollar moved a bit higher in relation to leading foreign exchanges as the domestic gold price was again unchanged. Bonds improved in spots.

Despite the generally cheerful demeanor of most traders, and the apparently bright outlook for trade and industry during the early part of next year, some market commentators were advising against the relaxation of caution in extending commitments.

The conservatives poined out that stocks have advanced between Christmas and New Years in six out of the past seven years and that no especial implication should be deduced from the market activities of the moment.

In line with the "be confident but careful" advice, it was felt in some financial quarters that the forthcoming session of Congress might possibly bring a few unpleasant surprises. In others, however, there was a belief that the session would be a brief one and that the President's program would go through without the appearance of too many stumbling blocks.

Commission houses reported that improving trade had resulted in an increase of inquiries from potential investors regarding both stocks and bonds. One analytical service estimated that the dollar volume of retail sales in December would exceed corresponding 1932 levels by about 15 per cent and would represent the best relative showing of the recovery movement. Profit margins, it was said, have on the whole been restored to fair proportions, inventory positions are healthier than for some time past and public buying power seemingly is expanding.

The ruling of the New York Stock Exchange imposing restrictions on the purchase by companies of their own stock, on the granting of options to so-called "pools" and permitting the exchange to control the methods used in distributing large concentrated stock holdings, was the subject of much discussion in brokerage houses. While opinions differed, many exchange members viewed the ruling as highly constructive, especially in view of recently threatened federal regulation.

WHEAT SLIDES AS BUYING LAGS

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Wheat prices showed an early downward trend today. Lack of any aggressive new buying had an evident bearish influence. Opening at ½ cent decline to ⅛ advance, wheat later held near the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to ¼ higher, and subsequently sagged all around.

No particular pressure to sell was in evidence, and rallies at times carried the market to above yesterday's finish.

One well known Chicago speculator was credited with most of the buying that accompanied the wheat market upturn. Corn and oats largely parallelled wheat action, but averaged a little higher, influenced by extreme scantiness of rural offerings of corn.

Provisions advanced as a result of complications over processing taxes.

The following quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by A. E. Masten & Co.:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Yesterday.
WHEAT—
May	86⅛	86⅝	85⅞	86⅛	85⅞
July	85⅛	85⅛	84⅝	84⅞	85⅛
Dec	83	84	83	83½	83½
CORN—
May	51⅞	52⅛	51⅝	51⅞	51⅜
July	53⅞	54⅛	53⅛	53⅜	53⅝
Dec	45½	46	45½	45¾	45⅝
OATS—
May	37½	37⅞	37⅜	37½	37½
July	36	36⅜	35⅞	36	36
Dec	35	35½	34⅞	34⅞	35⅛
RYE—
May	58⅛	58⅞	58⅛	58¾	59
LARD—
May	5 45	5 60	5 45	5 47	5 40

CREDITORS GET LOEW STOCK

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Common stock of Loews, Inc., to the amount of 660,900 shares sold at auction last week, is being distributed among the 17 banks and corporations owning the 20 million dollar notes of Film Securities Corporation, for which the stock was pledged as collateral, it was learned today.

A committee representing the noteholders bought in the stock for $18,604,335. The principal holders are said to include the Chase National Bank and Western Electric Company.

The holdings of Western Electric, manufacturing subsidiary of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, are believed to be the largest, and the company is understood to have received 130,000 shares of the Loew's stock.

The Western Electric management has made it known that the company will not maintain a permanent interest in the Loew's company.

Dividend News

Same as 'Big Gas'

Consolidated Gas Company (New York) declared a dividend of 75 cents on the common stock, payable March 15 to record February 2. A similar payment was made October 26.

* * *

DIVIDENDS UNCHANGED

N. J. Zinc Co 50c q	Feb. 10—Jan. 20
W. P. Pow Co 7s pfd $1.50	Feb. 1—Jan. 15
W. P. Pow Co 6s pfd $1.50	Feb. 1—Jan. 15
W. P. El Co 7s pfd $1.75	Feb. 15—Jan. 31
W. P. El Co 6s pfd $1.50	Feb. 15—Jan. 31
Ohio Leather 25c q	Dec. 9—Dec. 20

NEW YORK CLOSE WITH NET CHANGES

‡Indicates actual number of shares sold. All other sales figures are in hundreds of shares (00 omitted). Closing prices in this table Year's high and low corrected to the previous close (Volume of sales computed to 2:00 p. m.).

Ticker reported "close" at 3:06 P. M.

1933 High	1933 Low	Stocks and Rate	Sales	High	Low	Close	Net Chge
—A A A—
40	13¼	Abra & Strs 1.20	1	32	32	32	.....
13⅜	3	Adams Express	40	7⅛	6¾	7	+ ⅜
21⅝	8	Adams Mills 1..	1	17¼	17¼	17¼	+1
9⅜	1⅜	Advance Rumely	1	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	+ ⅜
112	47½	Air Reduction 3	6	100½	97¼	100	+1
4	½	Air Way Elec Ap	1	1¾	1¾	1	+ ½
33	11½	Alaska Juneau	18	21⅜	20¼	21⅛	+ ⅛
8¼	⅞	Allegheny Corp	22	3¼	2⅛	3¼	+ ⅛
21⅜	1	Alleg'y C pf ww	5	8¼	5½	6¼	+1
21	1⅛	Alleg'y C pf wwsi	2	5½	5⅛	5½	+ ⅛
112	70¾	Allied Ch & D 6	15	148	145	147½	+4
26⅝	6	Allis Chalmers	9	17⅞	17	17⅛	+ ⅛
47⅝	18½	Amerada Corp 2	3	42½	40¾	42½	+1
35	7¼	Am Ag Chem Del	1	26⅝	26	26	+ ⅛
28½	8	Am Bank Note	4	15⅞	15	15⅞	+ ⅛
16⅜	2	Am Beet Sugar	1	8⅛	8	8⅛	+ ⅛
42⅛	9¼	Am Brake Sh 50	1	28	28	28	+1
100⅛	49½	Am Can 4	27	99	97¾	98¾	+1
134	112	Am Can pf 7	2	125	125	125	0
39⅜	6¼	Am Car & Fdy	8	25½	24⅜	25⅛	+1⅜
59⅜	15	Am Car&Fdy pf	1	38	38	38	+ ⅛
14	1⅜	Am Chain	6	7	5⅞	7	+2
6⅛	2	Am Cobalt Ype	1	2	2	2	— ⅛
80⅛	13	Am Com Alcohol	30	49¾	47¾	49½	+2
6	1	Am Encaus Tile	2	3	1⅞	2	+ ⅛
13	3⅜	Am Europe Sec	1	5¼	5¼	5¼	0
19⅜	3⅜	Am & For Pow	37	8½	7⅞	8¼	+ ⅛
44⅜	7¼	Am & For Pow pf	4	16¼	15½	16½	+1¼
35⅝	6¼	Am&For P 6% pf	3	14⅝	13½	14	+2⅛
27¼	4⅜	Am&For P 20 pf.	2	10½	10⅛	10½	0
16	2½	Am H & Leather	1	7½	7½	7½	+ ⅜
57½	13½	Am H&Leather pf	2	32	31	32	.....
42½	24¾	Am HomePrd 2.40	17	26¼	25½	26	+ ⅜
17½	3⅜	Am Ice	15	6½	6¼	6½	+ ⅛
15¾	4¼	Am International	18	7⅜	6⅞	7¼	+ ⅛
39¼	5⅞	Am Locomotive	7	28½	27¾	28½	+1⅛
63	17¾	Am Locomo pf	6	51	49¼	51	+1½
22⅜	8⅜	Am Mach&Fdy Co	18	13⅛	12⅛	13⅛	+1⅛
23⅝	3¼	Am Metal	4	19½	19	19½	+ ⅜
19¼	4	Am Pow & Lt	38	6⅜	5¼	6½	+ ⅜
35	9	Am P&L 5%pf1¼	11	14	13⅜	14	+2
41⅛	9⅜	Am P&L 6%pf1¼	8	15	14	14⅜	+ ¾
19	4⅝	Am Rad&St San	64	14½	13¾	14¼	+ ¼
31⅜	5¾	Am Roll Mill	46	19¼	18½	19⅛	+1
47¾	20⅛	Am Sat Raz 3		37½	37½	37½	+2
7⅛	⅝	Am Seating	5	4	3⅜	3⅜	— ⅜
4½	⅛	Am Ship & Com		1	1	1	0
53½	10¾	Am Smelt & R	36	44⅝	43⅜	44¼	+1¼
97	31	Am S&R pf 1¾%		96	96	96	+ ⅜
73	20½	Am S&R 6% pf.	1	69½	69½	69½	+ ¼
51¼	32½	Am Snuff 3¼b	1	49½	49	49½	0
27	4¾	Am Steel Fdy	9	20¼	19¼	20¼	+1
47⅜	30	Am Stores 2½b	1	35¾	35¾	35¾	+ ⅛
74	21½	Am Sug Ref 2	8	48	46½	47¼	+ ¾
26	6	Am Sumatra Tob	1	16	15	16	+ ⅛
134⅜	86½	Am Tel & Tel 9	77	111¾	108	111⅜	+4⅜
90½	49	Am Tob 5	3	66¾	64	66¾	+3¼
94⅜	50⅜	Am Tob B 5	25	68⅞	66	68½	+2¼
120	102⅜	Am Tob pf 6	1	107	107	107	+1¾
43¼	10⅜	Am W Works 1	44	18⅝	17⅛	18⅜	+1⅜
80	35	Am W W 1st pf 6	1	53	53	53	+2¾
17	3½	Am Woolen	8	13	12¾	13	+ ⅝
67½	22⅝	Am Woolen pf	8	65⅜	64¾	65	+1⅞
4⅛	⅜	Am Writ Pap ctfs	1	1	1	1	— ⅛
10⅞	2¼	Am Zinc & Lead		6	6	6	+ ⅝
66	20	Am Zinc & L pf		39	39	39	.....
22⅞	5	Anaconda Copper	72	14¼	13¾	14¼	+ ⅝
39¼	8⅛	Arch Cap Cp .60		19⅜	19	19⅜	+1⅞
29¼	9⅜	Archer-D Mid 1	10	26¼	26	26¼	+ ¼
4⅜	1⅜	Armour of Ill A	18	4½	4¼	4⅜	+ ⅛
5	⅝	Armour of Ill B	7	2¼	2¼	2¼	+ ⅛
93	7	Armour of Ill pf	27	56½	55¼	55⅞	+ ⅝
5¼	⅝	Asso Appar Ind	2	1	1	1	0
20	3½	Asso Dry Goods	7	11½	11	11¼	+ ¾
61½	18	As Dry Gd 1st pf	1	50¾	50⅛	50¾	+2¾
80⅛	34⅝	Atch T & S Fe	28	56⅜	54½	56	+1¼
79⅜	50	Atch T&S F pf 3%	3	74¼	73	73⅝	—3⅜
59	16½	Atlantic C Lines	3	40½	39¼	40½	+2
32½	12⅜	Atlantic Ref 1	28	29⅜	28⅜	29¼	+1⅛
39⅛	9	Atlas Powder	10	38¾	37	38½	+2
34⅜	1½	Atlas Tack	20	11¼	10	10½	— ½
84¼	31	Auburn Auto 2	27	55½	53	54	+1½
9⅜	⅞	Austin Nichols	1	6¾	6⅜	6¾	— ¼
16⅜	5½	Aviation Corp	36	7¾	6⅞	7⅜	+ ¼
—B B B—
17⅝	3½	Baldwin Locomo	21	11¾	11¼	11⅜	+ ½
60	9½	Baldwin Loco pf	3	37¾	34	37¼	+2¾
37⅞	8¼	Baltimore & Ohio	28	23⅜	22¼	23	+ ⅞
39¼	9½	Baltimore & O pf	2	25½	25¼	25¼	+ ¼
41¼	20	Bangor & Aroos	23	41¾	39⅞	41⅜	+1⅛
11	3	Barnsdall Corp A	35	8⅜	7¾	8⅛	+ ⅜
52¼	4¼	Bayuk Cigars	1	27	27	27	+ ¾
27	7	Beatrice Cream	6	10	9⅛	10	+1
70½	45	Beech-Nut Pkg 3	1	62	60¼	62	+1
12⅜	3½	Belding-Heming	1	8¾	8¾	8¾	— ¼
101¼	62¼	Belg N R pf 4.09	1	94½	94½	94½	.....
21¾	6⅜	Bendix Aviation	54	17¼	16⅛	17	+ ⅞
15	8⅛	Benef Ind L 1.50	3	14	13¾	14	0
49¼	10⅛	Bethlehem Steel	72	37⅜	36¼	37¼	+1⅛
82	25¼	Beth Stl 7% pf	2	65½	65	65½	+1⅜
19¼	3½	Blaw Knox	1	9⅞	9⅞	9⅞	0
55⅞	9½	Bohn Al&Brass 1	15	56¾	54½	56¾	+1⅞
37⅜	18	Borden & Co 1.60	53	20¼	19⅛	19⅝	+1⅛
21⅝	5½	Borg Warner	71	21¾	20⅞	21½	+ ⅝
30	6	Boston Me R R	1	11	11	11	+1
14⅝	2⅝	Briggs Mfg Co	107	12¼	11⅛	12	+ ½
40½	25	Bristol Meyers	8	27⅜	26⅞	27⅝	+1⅜
41¼	21⅜	Brooklyn M T	21	33⅞	33	33	+ ⅞
9⅜	3½	Brooklyn & Q T	1	5	5	5	+ 1
88½	60	Brooklyn U Gas 5	6	64	62	64	+1⅝
18½	1⅜	Brunswick B Col	4	6½	6⅛	6⅛	— ⅛
12⅜	2	Bucyrus-Erie	1	6½	6½	6½	+ ¼
19⅜	2⅜	Bucyrus-Er cv pf	3	9¾	9¼	9½	0
9⅜	⅜	Budd Mfg Co	11	6	5⅞	6	+ ⅛
5⅜	1	Budd Wheel	3	3½	3⅜	3½	+ ⅛
13¼	2½	Bullard Co	13	8⅞	7½	8½	+1½
5	⅞	Bulova Watch Co		2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	0
5	½	Burns Bros A		1¼	1¼	1¼
3⅜	1	Burns Bros B	1	1¼	1¼	1¼	— ⅛
20⅞	6⅛	Burrougns AM.40	23	15⅞	15⅛	15⅜	+ ¼
8	1	Bush Term	3	2⅛	1¾	2⅛	+ ⅛
7½	1¼	Butterick Co	5	2½	2½	2½	0
43¼	8½	Byers (AM) Co	3	23⅜	23	23¼	+1½
—C C C—
34⅝	7⅜	California Pack	3	19½	19	19½	+1⅜
2¼	¼	Callahan Z & L	3	1	1	1	0
9⅜	2	Calumet & Hecla	4	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	+ ¼
16¼	2	Campbell W&C F	1	8½	8½	8½	+ ⅜
41½	7½	Canada D G A 1	1	25¾	25½	25½	+1½
20⅞	7½	Canadian Pacific	20	12⅞	12⅜	12⅜	+ ½
35½	14	Cannon Mills 1	1	29	28¾	29	+ ½
12½	4¼	Capitol Admin	1	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	+ ¾
103½	30½	Case (JI) Th Ma	18	69½	67	68⅝	+2
29⅜	5½	Caterpillar Trac	13	25¼	24¾	24¾	— ⅛
58⅞	4½	Celanese Corp	74	37¾	35¼	37¼	+2¼
5⅞	½	Celotex Corp	1	2¼	2¼	2¼	+ ⅛
41	14	Cen Aguirre 1.50	8	30	30	30	— ¼
122	38	Cen RR of NJ	1	62¼	62½	62¼	0
44⅝	5⅜	Cerro de Pasco C	13	35¾	34½	35¼	+ ½
25	4	Certain-T pf 7	1	11¼	11¼	11¼	+ ⅝
49¼	24⅜	Chesa & O 2.80	29	40	39¼	40	+1¼
52½	14⅞	Chesa Corp 2.50	3	33¾	32½	33¾	+ ¾
16	1¼	Chi & N West	15	7	6¾	7	+ ¼
34⅝	2	Chi & N West pf	2	13¾	12½	13¾	+2
7⅜	1⅜	Chi Gt Western	1	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	— ¼
14⅜	2½	Chi Gt West pf	4	6½	6	6⅜	+ ⅜
11¾	1	Chi M& St Paul	5	4⅝	3¾	4⅝	+ ¾
18¼	1½	Chi M&St Paul pf	16	7¾	6⅞	7¾	+ ¾
25¼	5¼	Chi Pneu T pf	4	17½	16	17½	+2¼
10⅛	2	Chi R I & P	4	2⅞	2½	2⅞	+ ⅛
15	2⅜	Chi RI&P 6% pf.	1	3⅝	3⅛	3⅝	+ ⅜
10½	2	Chi RI&P 7% pf.	1	4¾	4	4¾	+ ⅞
10⅜	2	Childs Co	2	6⅞	6⅜	6⅞	0
54¾	7⅜	Chrysler Mot .50g	411	55⅞	54	55½	+1¾
25	7¼	City Ice & Fuel 2		16¾	16¾	16¾	.....
3⅜	¼	City Stores	2	1	⅞	1	+ ⅛
105	73½	Coca Cola 6	4	94¼	93	94	+1
22⅜	7	Colgate Palo P	6	10¾	10⅛	10¾	+ ⅛
12	5¼	Colon Beac Oil	1	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛	— ⅛
26	3	Collins & Aikman	4	19⅝	19	19½	+1
17⅜	2⅞	Col Fuel & Iron	6	3½	3¼	3¼	0
71½	23⅛	Col Carbon 2	8	61⅞	59	61⅛	+1⅛
28⅛	9	Colum G & E .50f	175	12⅝	11⅜	12⅜	+1⅛
83	50	Col Gas & E pf 6	2	52½	51⅞	51⅞	+ ⅜
19¼	4	Com Credit	11	18¾	18⅜	18⅜	0
43½	18	Com Inv Tr 2	6	36	35	36	+2
57⅜	9	Com Solvent .60	95	32	30⅛	32	+2¼
6⅛	1¼	Com & South	137	1⅝	1⅜	1⅝	+ ¼
60½	17⅜	Com & So pf 6	16	22⅝	21	22⅜	+2¼
11	3	Conde Nast Pub	2	9	8½	9	+1
27⅝	⅛	Congoleum-N 1a	13	24	23½	23¾	+ ¼
5⅜	1⅜	Cons Film	4	2⅝	2¼	2⅜	— ⅛
14⅜	5⅜	Cons Film pf	2	10⅜	10	10¼	+ ½
64⅛	34	Consol Gas 3	197	37½	37	37⅛	+1⅜
99	81⅛	Consol Gas pf 5	5	83	82¾	83	0
15⅜	5	Consolidated Oil	82	10⅞	10¼	10½	+ ⅜
10⅜	1½	Cons RRot Cubpt	1	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	— ⅛
3¼	⅛	Consol Textile	7	1	⅞	⅞	— ⅛
10¼	1⅛	Container Corp A	1	6¾	6¼	6¾	+ ¼
4½	¼	Container B	2	2½	2⅜	2⅜	+ ⅛
18¾	3	Contin Bak A	5	7½	7½	7½	+1
3½	⅛	Contin Bak B	1	1⅛	1	1⅛	+ ¼
64	36	Contin Bak pf 4	1	46¾	46¾	46¾	+ ¼
48⅝	35¼	Cont Can 2.50	41	75⅝	74	75⅛	+1⅝
17⅜	3⅛	Contin Diamond	1	7½	7¼	7½	+ ¼
36½	10⅛	Contin Insur 1.20	4	23	22⅝	23	+ ⅛
4	1	Contin Motors	13	1¼	⅞	1⅛	+ ⅛
19⅜	4⅛	Contin Oil	31	17⅜	16¼	17⅛	+ ⅛
90⅝	45⅜	Corn Prod Ref 3	12	75½	73¼	75⅛	+1½
1½	2⅜	Coty Incorp	4	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	0
39½	23	Cream of W 2½b	4	28¼	28	28	+1
14⅜	2¼	Crosley Radio	1	7¾	7¾	7¾	0
65	14⅜	Crown C & Seal	4	30⅜	29	30⅜	+1½
38½	24½	Crwn C&S pf 2.70	1	36	36	36	0
8½	1	Crown Zellerbach	1	4	4	4	+ ⅜
37½	9	Crucible Steel	15	23⅛	22	23⅛	+2⅜
4⅜	½	Cuba Co	11	⅞	⅞	⅞	0
11½	1⅜	Cuban-Am Sugar	4	3¼	3⅛	3⅜	+ ¼
59½	20⅜	Cudany Pack 2.50	2	37½	36¾	37½	+1½
32¼	6½	Curtis Publish	11	15¾	14	15½	+1½
66	30	Curtis Pub pf		44	44	44	+1½
4⅝	1⅜	Curtiss W Corp	20	2⅝	2¼	2½	+ ¼
8	2	Curtiss W Corp A	5	5⅜	5¼	5⅜	+ ⅛
21	4¼	Cutler Hammer	2	11	11	11	+ ¾
—D D D—
8⅝	1⅜	Davega Stores			5⅝	5¼	5½	— ⅝
4	1	Deere & Co	19	29⅜	28	28½	+ ¾
		Deere & Co pf 20	1	11½	11⅛	11½	+ ⅜
		Del & Hudson	9	55½	53¼	55¼	+3
40	17¾	Del Lack & W	25⅞	24	22¾	23⅞	+1⅜
19⅜	2	Denver RG&W pf	4	5½	5¼	5¼	+ ⅛
91½	48	Detroit Edison 4	1	61½	59½	60½	—1⅜
29½	17⅝	Diamond Match 1	3	26⅝	26¼	26⅝	+ ⅜
39½	12	Dome Mines 1.30b	13	33¾	32⅝	33¾	+1
26⅝	10½	Domin Stores 1.20	1	21	21	21	+ ½
18¾	10¼	Doug Aircraft .75	7	13⅝	13¼	13⅜	+ ⅛
10⅜	2¼	Dresser Mfg Co B	2	5¼	5¼	5¼	— ⅛
14⅜	⅜	Dunhill Internat	1	5¼	5¼	5¼
95⅜	32¼	Du Pont de N 2	92	95⅞	92⅜	95	+3
—E E E—
89¾	46	Eastman Kodak 3	12	81	78½	80⅞	+2
18	3¼	Eaton Mfg Co .80	7	14	13¾	13⅞	+ ⅛
5¼	⅝	Edington Schlg	3	1¼	1¼	1¼	0
4⅜	1	Elec & Mus Ltd	32	4½	4¼	4¼	0
7½	10	Elec Auto-Lite	29	20	19	20	+1⅜
8¼	1	Electric Boat	14	4⅜	4	4⅜	+ ⅛
15⅜	3⅝	Elec P & Lt	25	4½	4	4⅜	+ ⅛
36½	7½	Elec P & Lt pf	14	9½	9⅛	9½	+1⅛
32⅜	6½	Elec P&Lt 6% pf	3	8	8	8	+ ⅛
54	21	Elec Stor Bat 2	2	44¼	43¼	44¼	+1
6	⅜	Elk Horn Coal pf	1	1¼	1¼	1½	+ ⅛
14⅜	4	Engineers P S	4	4⅞	4¼	4⅞	+ ⅛
17	11	Engineers P S pf	3	12¾	12½	12⅝	+ ⅛
16	11	EPS 5½s% pfww	1	13	13	13	+1
55	12	Eng P Ser 6% pf	2	14	14	14	+1
13⅜	6½	Equit O Bldg 1	1	9⅜	9¼	9⅜
25⅜	3⅝	Erie R R	7	14¾	13¾	14¾	+ ⅛
18¼	3	Eureka Vacuum	5	7¼	6⅞	6⅞	+ ⅜
10	⅜	Evans Products	8	9⅜	8	8⅜	+1¼
—F F F—
14½	4¾	Fed Lt & T	1	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛	+ ⅛
11¼		Fed Motor Truck	1	6¾	6¼	6¾	+1⅛
4⅜	⅜	Fed Screw Works	2	2	2	2	+ ¼
6¾	1½	Fed Water Serv	9	1¾	1⅜	1¾	+ ⅛
30	7½	Fed Dept St 60	1	22	22	22	0
36	10¼	Fidelity-P F 1.20	1	20½	19	19½	+ ⅝
31½	9⅛	Firestone T&R .40	16	19½	18½	19½	+1⅛
70⅜	43	First Nat S 2.50	2	55½	54½	55½	+1
23	4½	Foster Wheeler	1	14	13½	14	+1
25⅜	2	Foundation Co	1	14½	14¼	14¼	+1
26½	17	Fourth N 1a 1.10	3	19½	18⅜	19	+1½
19	12	Fox Film	18	13⅞	12¾	13⅞	+1¼
49⅜	16⅛	Freeport Texas 2	7	44	42¾	44	+1½
—G G G—
12	2⅜	Gen Am Inv	8	7⅝	7⅛	7⅜	+ ⅛
43¼	13¾	Gen Am Tk C 1	18	34⅜	32½	34⅛	+2
27	4⅜	General Asphalt	4	16	15⅝	15⅝	+ ¼
20⅝	10½	General Baking 1	4	11⅜	11	11⅜	+ ⅛
10½	2¼	General Bronze	1	6¼	6⅛	6⅛	+ ⅛
11½	1¼	General Cable	1	3¼	3¼	3¼	— ⅛
23	2¼	Gen Cable A	1	7	7	7	0
46	6½	Gen Cable pf	1	16	16	16	+ ½
48⅝	24½	General Cigar 4	1	25⅜	25⅜	25⅜	— ⅛
30¼	10½	Gen Elec .40	169	19⅝	18⅝	19½	+ ⅝
12¼	10⅜	Gen Elec Spc .60	15	11¼	11¼	11½	+ ⅛
39⅞	21	Gen Foods 1.80	53	33¼	32⅜	32⅞	+ ¾
2⅞	⅜	Gen G & Elec A	13	⅝	½	½	0
71	35½	Gen Mills 3	9	63	61⅞	62½	+1½
35⅜	10	Gen Motors 1	655	35⅜	34⅝	35⅛	+ ½
95	65½	Gen Motors pf 5	7	91	90⅜	91	+ ⅜
10½	2½	Gen Outdoor Adv	5	3¼	3¼	3¼	.....
8¼	2	Gen Pub Service	2	2½	2	2⅛	+ ⅛
49½	13¼	Gen Rail Sig 1	.....	34¼	33½	33¾	+1¾
4⅝	⅜	Gen Realty & Ut	1	1⅜	1¼	1⅜	+ ⅛
22⅜	5½	Gen Rt&Ut pf ww	3	18	17½	18	+1
19¾	2½	Gen Refractories	8	9¾	9¼	9⅜	+ ⅛
20¼	7⅝	Gillette Saf Raz 1	57	8⅞	8⅞	8⅝	+ ⅝
75	45½	Gillette S R pf 5	1	48½	48½	48½	+1
7⅝	⅝

SCIENCE SEEKS WAY TO END SLUMP

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics, New York University

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—Here in Philadelphia the economists and statisticians of the country are having their annual meeting. Naturally one of the chief topics of discussion is the depression and what can be done about it.

The scientist's approach to the subject is based upon a study of business cycles, and this raises the question whether the present cycle has been essentially different from others. Of course, the thought is that if it is much the same, we will get over it in similar ways.

One speaker emphasizes the idea that in this business recession there has been more trouble with "capital goods" and with luxuries. His thought seems to be that more than ever before we have been confronted with over-capacity of plant and equipment, which makes the difficulty with the so-called "heavy" industries.

He also suggests that we have multiplied luxuries which can be dispensed with.

INITIATIVE USELESS

The result is that the economic system has become more sensitive, because the consumption of capital and luxuries can be drastically curtailed. Thus, as recession goes on, surpluses of industrial equipment and building accumulate to such an extent that individual initiative cannot cope with the problem.

This, he argues, brings us to a "critical point," where social planning is called for and government credit must be used to start business up.

Other experts say that we have always had over-investment and over-building in past cycles. They argue that capital goods accumulate simply because we over-discredit the future when we imagine that boom times are going to last forever. And they add that part of the trouble lies in the over-valuation or over-capitalization of plant and equipment, which is carried over from the preceding inflation.

These experts argue that the only way to deal with the problem is, first, to write down the value of capital goods to a figure at which earnings can be shown; and, second, to get the prices of the products down to levels at which people can buy. Then production can be resumed, and the increased volume will mean lower costs.

MORE PRIVATE DEBTS

These thinkers argue that if the government undertakes to extend its credit for the purpose of (1) lending money to consumers and (2) stimulating production, we will just pile public debt on top of private debts. Thus, they say, we will never get relief from the debt burden — unless the government finally repudiates its debts.

On only one thing do all economists agree, namely, that it is necessary for the state to provide "relief" for all needy unemployed as long as the depression lasts.

The only question on this point is whether the "relief" should be mixed up with attempts to "stimulate" business. Some consider that attempts to relieve by creating industrial employment before equilibrium is restored, must result either in high costs or further overproduction.

OPINION OUTLINED

After mixing here with my fellow economists, I would say that three shades of opinion may be distinguished:

1—Some favor temporary government leadership for stimulating industry, and look for some revolutionary changes in this respect to become permanent.

2—Some hold that we have no assurance that government leadership would be in the right direction, since it would simply represent the ideas of some politician, and would increase debt. They see no basis for business revival except in less debt, a definite monetary standard, and prices determined by supply and demand.

3—A few are convinced that a revolution is occurring and that collectivism is going to replace individualism. They look for permanent social control.

I would say that the great majority fall between the first two groups, the younger men leaning to the first and the older ones to the second.

Those who believe in the "commodity dollar" are so few as to be unimportant.

Continental Motors In Market for Loan

DETROIT, Dec. 28.—Stockholders of Continental Motors Corporation at the annual meeting, January 17, will vote on a proposed loan of 5 million dollars for a term of three years at 6 per cent interest, to be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon the entire assets of the company.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Following is the official transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded in, omitted in sales column of stock list, or omitted in sales column of bond list:

STOCKS

Sales		High.	Low.	1:00
	—A—
1	Aerol. Wire, vtc	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
30	Ala. Power 7% pfd	26½	26⅜	26⅜
3	Allied Mills	7¼	6¾	7¼
2	Am. Cit. P&L A	25½	25	25
1	Do. B	1	1	1
1	Do. pfd	2½	2½	2½
225	Am. Cyan. B	1-16	1-16	1-16
61	Am. Cyan. B	16⅛	15⅞	16⅛
18	Am. Gas & El	20½	19⅝	20
*225	Do. pref	70½	68⅝	70⅛
5	Am. Laund. & T	10⅝	10⅜	10⅝
1	Do. pref	18⅞	18⅜	18⅝
24	Am. Superpower	2⅞	2¾	2⅞
2	Arcturus Rad. Tube	9-16	9-16	9-16
4	Ark. Nat. Gas	1	1	1
1	Do. pfd	2½	2½	2½
11	Assn. G&E, A	5-16	5-16	5-16
1	Assd. Tel. Ut.	5-16	5-16	5-16
1	Atlas Corp.	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝
1	Do. pfd A	39½	39½	39½
1	Atlas Ply.	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
	—B—
1	Blue Ridge	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
5	Brax T. & L.	11	10⅞	11
6	Brit. Am. Tob. B	29	29	29
1	Brown Form. Dist.	15⅞	15⅞	15⅞
*25	Bunk. Hill & S.	49⅝	49⅛	49⅛
1	Butler Bros.	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
	—C—
1	CAM Co. vtc.	1-16	1-16	1-16
2	Can. Ind. Ale A	18	17⅝	18
3	Do. B	18	17	18
11	Can. Marconi Wire	2⅛	2	2⅛
1	Carib. Syn.	3	3	3
2	Cen. St. El.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
20	Cities Service	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
1	Do. pfd.	10	10	10
2	Claude Neon Lts.
4	Cleve. El. Ill.	25⅞	25⅝	25⅞
*50	Colum. G. & E. pfd.	70	69½	70
1	Commwlth. Edis.	33½	33	33
27	Consmith & S. warr.
2	Comm. Wat. Svc.	8	8	8
2	Cons. Aire	8	7⅞	8
7	Cons. G.E. Bal.	53½	52½	53½
1	Cord. Corp.	6	6	6
1	Courtaulds	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
1	Creole Pet.	10⅜	10⅛	10⅜
2	Cresson Gold	11-16	11-16	11-16
2	Crown C. Pet.	1¼	1¼	1¼
28	Cusi Mex.	1	1	1
	—D—
4	Derby Oil	2	1⅞	2
1	Detroit Aircraft	3-16	3-16	3-16
8	Dist. Co. Ltd.	20½	20½	20½
9	Dist. Corp. Seagr.	21½	20⅞	21½
1	Dow Chem.	72½	72½	72½
1	Dubilier Con.	7-16	7-16	7-16
	—E—
*50	E. Sta. Pow. A. pfd.	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜
2	Easy Wash. M. B.	8½	8½	8½
77	El. Bond & Share	11⅜	11	11⅜
8	Do. pfd.	51	50	51
1	Do. 2nd pfd.	28½	28	28
1	El. Pow. As.	4	4	4
1	Elec. Sh. pfd.	34½	34½	34½
2	Equity Corp.	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
	—F—
2	Fidelio Brewing	1⅜	1	1⅜
27	Fisk Rubber	9⅛	8⅝	9⅛
*50	Fla. P&L 7% pfd.	11	11	11
8	Ford Mot. Can. A	15	14⅝	15
1	Ford Motor Ltd.	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
	—G—
1	Garlock Packing	13½	13½	13½
1	Gen. Invest.	⅝	⅝	⅝
1	Glen Alden	11	11	11
1	Gold Seal Elec.	¼	¼	¼
1	Gorh. Mfg. etc. ext.	12	12	12
30	Gt. Atl. & P. tr.	122½	122½	122½
2	Guard. Invest.	⅞	⅞	⅞
	—H—
12	Hecla Min.	6½	6½	6½
3	Helena Rubin	¾	¾	¾
33	Hir. Walker	49⅝	47⅞	49⅛
8	Do. pref.	17½	16⅝	17½
1	Holling. Gold	11½	11½	11½
25	Horn & Hard.	16½	16½	16½
4	Hudson Ray M&S	9	8¾	9
3	Humble Oil	101	101	101
27	Do. new	33⅜	33⅛	33⅛
2	Hydro El. Sec.	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
	—I—
1	Imp. Chem. Ind.	8¾	8½	8¾
1	Int. Hyd. El. vtc.	15	15	15
2	Internat. Pet.	19½	19½	19½
1	Inter. S. Raz. B.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1	Inter. Util. B.	9-16	9-16	9-16
	—J—
*10	Jones & Lau. Stl.	38	38	38
	—K—
2	Lake Shore M.	44¾	44¾	44¾
	—L—
6	Long Is. Lt.	3½	3½	3½
	—M—
1	Mapes Cons.	31	31	31
4	Marion St. Shov.	2½	2½	2½
2	Mavis Bott. A.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
4	M.S.L. Sugar pfd.	5¾	5¾	5¾
1	Mid. West Util.	1-16	1-16	1-16
9	Molybdenum vtc.	5½	5	5
1	Mort. Bank Col.	2¼	2¼	2¼
	—N—
5	Nat. Bellas Hess.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
1	Nat. Fuel Gas.	14½	14½	14½
3	Nat. Investors.	2⅜	2	2
1	Nat. P&L. pfd.	34⅜	34⅜	34⅜
*125	Neisner Bros. pfd.	32½	29	32½
1	Neptune Met. A.	3½	3½	3½
5	Newmont Min.	51	50½	51
2	NY. Shipbd. Pd.	11⅛	10	11⅛
5	Niag. Hud. Pow.	5⅛	4⅞	5⅛
2	Do. war.	⅝	⅝	⅝
1	Nitrate B.	⅝	⅝	⅝
2	Nor. St. Pow. A.	15	15	15
1	Novadel-Ag.	55½	55½	55½
	—O—
*25	Ohio Brass B.	12	12	12
2	Ohio Copper.	3-16	3-16	3-16
	—P—
2	Pacific Eastern.	1⅞	⅞	1⅞
1	Pantepec Oil.	⅞	⅞	⅞
20	Pennroad.	2⅜	2¼	2⅜
*10	Pet. Milk pfd.	98	98	98
1	Phoenix Sec.	1	1	1
1	Do. pfd.	19½	19½	19½
1	Pines Winterfront.	⅞	⅞	⅞
2	Pitney-Bowes.	4¾	4¾	4¾
*150	Pitts. Pl. Gl.	37⅜	37	37⅜
17	Prod. Roy.	⅝		5-16
*20	Pug. Sd. P. 5 pfd.	9⅜	9⅛	9⅜
*10	Do. 6 pfd.	5¼	5¼	5¼
	—R—
2	Reiter-Fost.	⅝	⅝	⅝
1	Relian. Intls. A.	3	3	3
1	Revbark. Inc.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
1	Rich. Oil. pfd.	⅞		⅞
10	Rossia Intl.	⅛		⅛
	—S—
*25	Safety Car. H&L.	43⅜	43⅜	43⅜
14	St. Regis Pap.	2⅜	2	2⅜
1	Salt Crk. Prod.	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
1	Segal Lock.	1	1	1
3	Sterling Rub.	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
3	Selected Indus.	1¾	1¾	1¾
17	Seton Leather.	8⅜	8	8⅜
*250	Sherwin-Wms.	47½	47	47½
1	So. Am. G. & P.	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
8	Stand. Oil Indiana.	32⅝	32½	32⅝
*50	Stand. Oil Ohio.	27	26¾	27
1	Stand. Silv-Lead.	5-16	5-16	5-16
9	Swift & Co.	13⅝	13⅜	13⅝
5	Swift Internl.	27½	27¼	27½
	—T—
1	Tampa Elec.	24	24	24
9	Tastyeast A.
1	Tung-Sol Lamp.	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
	—U—
1	Unit. Aircr. war.	12⅛	12⅛	12⅛
13	Unit. Corp. war.	1½	1½	1½
17	Unit. Founders.	11-16	9-16	11-16
14	United Gas.	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
5	Do. pfd.	15½	15½	15½
16	Un. Lt. & Pow. A.	2	2	2
10	Do. cv. pfd.	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
1	Un. Molasses. Ltd.	8	8	8
1	Unit. Shoe M.	58⅝	58⅝	58⅝
1	U. S. & Int. Sec.	1¾	1¾	1¾
1	Do. pfd.	52	52	52
6	U. S. Elec. Pow.
1	U. S. Foil B.	6	6	6
1	U. S. Hoff. Mg. Cd.	17	17	17
1	U. S. Radiator.	1¾	1¾	1¾
3	Unit. Verde.	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
2	Utility Equities.	1½	1½	1½
1	Util. Power & Lt.	⅞	⅞	⅞
1	Utility & Ind.	⅞	⅞	⅞
	—V—
2	Venez. Mex. Oil.	5¾	5¾	5¾
	—W—
1	Wagner Elec.	10⅜	10⅛	10⅜
1	Wayne Pump.	¾	¾	¾
1	West. Air. Exp.	13⅞	13⅞	13⅞
4	Wright Hargr.	6½	6⅜	6⅜
	DOMESTIC BONDS
5	Alabama Pwr. 5s 46.	65	65	65
8	Do. 5s 48.	53¾	53⅜	53¾
16	Do. 4½s 57.	48	47½	48
13	Aluminum 5s 52.	95½	95	95½
1	Am. E&E 6s 27. A.	10	10	10
13	Am. G&E 6s 2028.	74	73	74
1	Am. G&P 5s 53.	13	13	13
5	Am. P&L 6s 2016.	41	41	41
3	Am. E. Mill 5s 48.	70¾	70½	70½
4	App. El. Pwr. 5s 56.	75	75	75
5	Ark. P&L 5s 56.	55	54½	55
1	Ark. Pr. & L. 5s 53.	22½	22½	22½
2	B. & G&E 5½s 38. IC	12⅞	12⅞	12¾
37	Do. 5s 50.	12⅝	11⅝	12
22	Do. 5½s 27.	12	11	12
24	Do. 5s 68.	12	11½	11⅝
2	Do. 4½s 48.	10¼	9⅝	10¼
28	Do. 4½s 49. C.	10	9¼	9⅝

Try to Keep Congress 'In Line'

By B. C. FORBES

WHAT should be the supreme objective of Congress when it convenes next week?

Expediting the healthy recovery of business, agriculture, industry, employment.

Mr. Forbes

THERE WILL be temptation to institute punitive legislation. Confessedly, there have been revelations which incite a thirst for vengeance, a determination to enact laws to curb the powers of influential individuals who placed their own aggrandizement ahead of the public interest and ahead of business ethics.

Our law-makers, however, should first of all concentrate upon whatever measures the Chief Executive recommends for favorable consideration and action.

Recovery must take precedence over retribution.

THE POPULARITY of the President still is such that it is hardly likely a majority of legislators will attempt to block whatever plans he submits for approval.

On the whole, the nation is distinctly better circumstanced than it was when Franklin Roosevelt took office on March 4. We have climbed some appreciable distance from the depths both materially and mentally, both statistically and spiritually.

MY GUESS is that considerable radical steam will be let off early in the session, but that little or no legislation absolutely antagonistic to President Roosevelt's program or policies will actually be forced on to the statute books.

I ASKED a student of politics to summarize the main measures confronting Congress, and here is what he submits:

1—The 30-hour week. A. F. of L. is campaigning for it.

2—The Tugwell Bill, which would give Department of Agriculture bureaucrats extraordinary regulatory powers over the sale and advertising of foods, drugs and cosmetics.

3—Currency inflation. Much noise but little action expected.

4—Income tax revision, increase in gift and inheritance taxes. An excess profits tax on large-scale business may be passed.

5—Minor revisions of Securities act are likely.

6—A. F. of L. will try to have Industrial Recovery Act's famous labor clause 7 (A) written permanently into federal laws. AAA's temporary business-licensing powers will be continued.

7—Regulation of exchanges. Some kind of legislation is certain.

8—Congress undoubtedly will extend the RFC beyond January 23, when many of its powers expire. Loans to industry, to farmers and to individuals may be authorized.

9—Bank deposit insurance. The 1933 law proably will be neither modified nor elaborated until it has had a fair trial.

10—Public works. New appropriations are almost certain.

11—Mail contracts may be overhauled, with some possibility of direct subsidies to steamship lines partly replacing mail contracts.

12—Attempt will be made to amend the federal bankruptcy laws.

13—The 15 per cent cut in federal salaries is likely to be repealed.

14—Senator Norris is expected to sponsor new anti-utility legislation.

15—Communication. New set-up is likely.

16—Federal control plan of liquor industry will be passed.

17—Legislation affecting railroads, motor and water carriers is in the wind.

18—Tariff changes are likely to be few.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT certainly cannot complain that he has been thwarted by business or financial interests thus far.

Is it illogical to reason that members of Congress will offer any obstreperous, stubborn, unyielding opposition to whatever further steps President Roosevelt may conclude are essential to hastening the return of better times?

IF CONGRESS exercises similar open-mindedness, similar amenableness to reason as the President has shown, 1934 should see the United States quickening its pace along the path towards prosperity.

(Copyright, 1933, B. C. Forbes.)

Standard Oils

(Reported by Kay, Richards & Co.)

	Bid	Ask
Borne-Scrymser Company	6	7
The Buckeye Pipe Line Co.	31	33
Cheshbrough Mfg. Co., Cons.	117	123
The Eureka Pipe Line Co.	30½	33
Do. pfd.	100	102
Indiana Pipe Line Co.	4¾	5¼
International Petroleum	19⅝	19⅞
Imperial Oil, Ltd.	12½	12⅝
National Transit Co.	7⅝	8⅛
New York Transit Co.	3	4
Northern Pipe Line Co.	4½	5¼
Ohio Oil Co.	31	31½
Southern Pipe Line Co.	3	4
South Penn Oil Co.	18⅛	18⅝
South West Penn Pipe Lines	38	43
Standard Oil Co. (Ind.)	32½	32⅝
Standard Oil Co. (Ky.)	14½	14⅝
Standard Oil Co. (Neb.)	13¾	13⅞
Standard Oil Co. (Ohio)	92½	93½
Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) pfd.	76	79
Swan & Finch Company	2¾	3½

Corporate Earnings

Western Maryland Railroad report for 11 months ended November 30, last, shows net income of $783,997 after taxes and charges, equal to $4.42 a share on 177,120 shares of 7 per cent first preferred, on which no dividends have been paid. This compares with net of $487,983 or $2.75 a share on first preferred in 11 months ended November 30, 1932.

Madison Square Garden Corporation and wholly-owned subsidiaries report for the quarter ended November 30, 1933, shows net loss of $410,106, after depreciation and other charges, compared to net loss of $165,522 in the preceding quarter and net income of $26,011 in the November quarter in 1932.

Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania net operating income in November was $971,058, against $1,015,185 in 1932 and for 11 months $11,096,188 against $11,772,147 in 1932.

Chicago Butter Market.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Butter—Receipts 7,723 tubs; market unsettled; old cars, 2; new, 6. Creamery extras, 17½c; standards, 16½@17c; extra firsts, 16⅜@17c; firsts, 16@16½c; seconds, 15½c; specials, 18@18½c.

Eggs—Receipts, 1,167 cases; market firm; old cars, 1. Ordinary current receipts, 17c; fresh graded extra firsts, 19½c; fresh graded firsts, 17½c; dirties and checks, 10@12c.

Cheese—Twins, 9½@10c; daisies and longhorns, 10@10½c.

Live poultry—Turkeys and young hens, 15c; young toms 14½c; old, 10@11c; hens, 11@12c; leghorn hens, 7@9c; leghorn chickens, 8@9c; roosters, 7½c; ducks, 9@12c; geese, 8@12c.

Potatoes—Receipts, 32 cars, on track 182; U. S. shipments, 233; no trading. Account of cold weather.

Sugar Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Raw sugar was quiet early today and no sales were reported. Sugar futures opened unchanged to 2 points advance and showed additional gains later on continued covering and further outside buying influenced by the steadiness of London and expectations of favorable developments at Washington in connection with the sugar situation at large. The market at midday was about 3 points net higher on most of the active positions.

In refined, prices were unchanged at 4.50c for fine granulated with demand still limited to nearby requirements.

Bank of France.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows these changes in francs (gold decreased 87,000,000; sight balances abroad decreased 2,000,000; bills discounted at home increased 426,000,000; bills bought abroad decreased 14,000,000; advances increased 7,000,000; circulation increased 359,000,000; current accounts decreased 202,000,000. Rate of discount, 2½ per cent.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 28.—The market was due 1¼c higher, opened ⅝ to ¾c up, and at 1:30 p. m. was up ⅝ to ¾c.

Foreign Trade Outlook Best Since 1929

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Foreign trade of the United States for the first time since 1929 began to show encouraging tendencies both in the value and volume of exports, according to figures available at the Commerce Department today.

Exports will amount to about $1,652,700,000 and imports $1,350,687,000 for the year, or a total trade of more than 3,000 million dollars.

This would compare with $2,933,700,000 in 1932.

Foreign trade reached a peacetime peak of $9,640,300,000 in 1929, of which $5,240,995,000 was exports. The year before exports were valued at $5,128,000,000 and exceeded the imports by a billion dollars. In 1930 trade slumped off to $6,904,000,000, and in 1931 to $4,514,900,000.

During this period the reduction in the volume of American sales abroad was substantially greater than the drop in America's purchases abroad. From the billion dollar favorable balance of 1928, the excess of exports over imports went to 841 million dollars in 1929, to 790 million dollars in 1930, 334 million dollars in 1931 and 281 million dollars in 1932. Of recent months American exports have started to show a gain so the favorable balance this year should be larger.

The price tendency for exports have been upward for three months, while import values have dropped in the same period. The export price index has risen about 50 per cent since the low point in February, March and April, while the import index showed a gain of 55 per cent.

The import situation since midsummer has been influenced by the fact that there were abnormal gains at that time, with a consequent abnormal seasonal slump in imports later.

Officials anticipated the export gains of recent months would be maintained and hope was expressed that 1934 would show another gain in American sales abroad.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows (000 omitted in sales column. United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BONDS

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last.
33	Lib 3½s 32-47	100.16	100.14	100.16
15	Do 1st 4¼s	101.13	101.10	101.13
41	Do 4th 4¼s 38-37	101.31	101.29	101.27
8	Do called	101.2	101.2	101.2
1	Do rec.	101.23	101.23	101.23
11	Do called	101	*100.31	101
9	Treas 4¼s 47-52	106.11	106.10	106.11
147	*Do 4¼s-3¼s	99.2	99.1	99.1
111	Do 3¼s 44-54	103.8	103.7	103.13
32	Do 3¾s 40-43	99.14	99.11	99.11
63	Do 43-47	99.6	99.2	99.2
121	Do 41-43 Mar.	99.6	99.4	99.6
23	Do 3¼s 41	98.22	98.21	98.21
51	Do 3¼s 46-49	95.16	95.12	95.16
73	Do 2¾s 60	97.16	97.16	97.16
7	Do 3s 51-55	94.8	94.5	94.8

*4¼s to Oct. 15, 1934; thereafter 3¼s.

CORPORATION BONDS

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last.
3	Abe & S 5½s & 43 xw	93	92	92
39	Alleghany 5s 44	51⅜	50	51⅜
29	Do 5s 50	25½	24⅜	25⅛
5	Allis Chal 5s 37	90	90	90
58	A&F Pwr 5s 2030	36	34¼	35⅜
16	Am Ice Chm 5½s 49	83	83	83
5	Am Metal 5½s 34	99	99	99
1	Am R Mill 5s 38	94	94	94
8	Am Smelting 5s 47	100	99⅞	99⅞
11	Am T&T 5½s 43	106	105¼	106
37	Do col 5s 46	105⅛	105	105⅛
1	Do cv 4½s 39	103⅛	103	103⅛
15	Do 5s 65	103⅛	102⅝	102⅞
6	Do 4½s 39	105⅛	105⅛	105⅛
1	Do 4s 36	102	102	102
3	Am WW&E 6s 75	61	60	61
19	Do 5s 34	96⅜	96	96⅛
8	Arm Del 5½s 43	84⅜	83½	84
7	Arm 4½s 39	86	85⅜	85⅝
2	Armstrong 5s 40	88	88	88
45	AT&SF cv 4½s 48	94¼	94	94
26	Do 4s 95	93⅜	93	93⅜
1	Do 4½s C-A 62	93⅝	93½	93⅝
1	Atl Knox&Cin 4s 55	85	85	85
2	A. C. Line 1st 4s 52	83	83	83
3	Do L&N 4s 52	66	66	66
7	Do 4½s 64	74¾	74¾	74¾
4	Atl & Dan 1st 4s 48	39	39	39
4	Atl Gu&WI 5s 59	52½	52½	52½
7	Atl Refin 5s 37	85½	85½	85½
3	B & O rfg 6s 95	77⅞	77⅞	77⅞
23	Do rfg 5s 95	69⅛	68⅜	68¾
18	Do 5s 96 F	69¼	69	69
16	Do 5s 2000 D	68⅞	68¾	68¾
89	Do cvt 4½s 60	58	57¾	57¾
39	Do 4s 48	88½	88	88
4	Do 4s FLEWV 41	81	81	81
5	B. O. 4s T. C. 59	67⅞	67⅞	67⅞
4	Bell T Pa 5s 48 B	106	106	106
12	Do 5s 60 C	106¼	105⅞	106¼
1	Beth Steel pm5s36	99	99	99
5	Bos & Me 5s 67	72¾	70¾	70¾
6	Do 4½s J J 61	67½	67½	67½
12	Bklyn Ed 5s 49 A	106¼	106¼	106¼
13	Bklyn M. T. 5s 68	95½	95	95
3	Bklyn U. G. 5s 50	97	97	97
3	Buffalo G E4½s81B	100⅝	100⅝	100⅝
36	Buffalo R&P4½s57	60	59	60
4	B. C. R. & N. 5s 34	35¾	35¾	35¾
2	ByllPrd Coke 5½s45	60¼	60¼	60¼
2	Can Nat Ry 5s 70	100¼	100¼	100¼
1	Do 4½s 51	101	100⅞	100⅞
2	Do 4½s 56	100½	100½	100½
2	Do 4½s 57	98⅝	98⅝	98⅝
16	Can Nat Ry 4½s 68	99¼	99¼	99¼
6	Do 4½s 55	102¾	101⅝	102¾
3	Do 5s 69 July	104¾	104¾	104¾
6	Can North 7s 40	105¼	104	105
9	Can Pacific 5s 44	99	99	99
2	Do 4½s 46	75	74¾	74¾
16	Do 4½s 60	70½	70½	70¾
16	Do 4s perp	60¾	59⅝	60⅛
1	Caro C&Oh 6s 52	90⅝	90⅝	90⅝
6	Cen of Ga 5s 59 C	13¼	13	13
3	Do 1st 5s 45	21	20	21
10	Cen Hud Gas 5s 51	104	104	104
3	Cen Ill E&G 5s 51	45½	45	45
4	Cen Pacific 5s 60	64¾	64¾	64¾
1	Do 1st 4s 49	76½	76½	76½
1	CRR&B Ga 5s 37	52	52	52
3	Cen R R NJ 5s 87	52	52	52
6	Certainteed 5½s 48	53½	52	52
9	Ches Corp 5s 47	96	95	96
3	C & O con 5s 39	106	105¾	105¾
2	Do gen 4½s 92	99¾	99½	99½
6	Do rfg 4½s 95 B	90½	89¾	90½
10	Do 1st 4s 89 B&A	92¼	92¼	92¼
12	CB&Q rfg 5s 71 A	95	95	95
10	Do gen 4s 58	92	91½	92
11	Do 4s Ill 49	97	96¾	97
25	Chi & E Ill 5s 51	11¾	10½	11¾
1	Chi I & L 6s 47	46	46	46
2	CM&StP 4½s 89 C	62	61	62
5	Do 4½s 89 E	61⅞	61⅜	61⅜
5	Do gen 4s 89	58	57¾	58
63	Do Pac 5s 75	38	37	38
135	Do adj 5s 2000	13½	13	13½
3	Chi & N W 6½s 36	75	75	75
5	Do rfg 5s 2037	42¾	42½	42¾
56	Do cv 4½s 49	29½	28¾	29
2	Do 4½s 2037	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝
8	CRI&P 4½s 52 A	23	22¾	23
47	Do cvt 4½s 60	9¾	9¼	9¼
20	Do 4s 88	52	51⅞	52
25	Do rfg 4s 34	22¾	21⅝	22⅜
10	Do rfg 4s 34 ctf	20¾	20¼	20⅝
24	Ch Un Sta 4½s 63	100	100	100
4	Ch&W Ind 5½s 62	86½	85¾	85¾
14	Do 4s 52	71¾	71	71
4	Childs Co 5s 43	42	39¾	42
3	Cinn U. T. 5s 2020B	104¼	104¼	104¼
9	Do 5s 57	105¼	105¼	105¼
1	Do 4½s 2020	101½	101½	101½
2	CCC&StL 4½s 77E	64¾	64	64¾
2	Do 4s

BUSINESS GAIN HELD KEY TO FINANCING

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The monetary debate in the United States has died down because it was unrealistic.

Contrary to "sound money" myths, the Roosevelt administration has not relied mainly on inflationary monetary experiments, but has sought rather to adopt a flexible monetary policy which is consonant with the wide array of "new deal" remedies. These, of course, include direct dealing with price disparities, such as the relative inferiority, of agricultural prices, with mortgage relief, with re-employment efforts and a wide variety of stimulants intended to augment the gross volume of business in the United States.

Mr. Rukeyser

The cost of such remedies, it might well be argued, is not great as compared with the still larger social cost of continuing in a distinctly subnormal zone. Specifically, the estimated national income in 1928 exceeded 84 thousand million dollars and fell to about 42 thousand million dollars in 1932, and that decline is an indication of the cost of continuing depression.

INCOME STEP-UP NEEDED

If through the wise expenditure of something within the range already announced, the government, in co-operation with business, could again step up the national income to something like pre-depression standards, the financing of the recovery movement would be relatively simple.

The Federal government could get the funds needed for interest and rapid amortization of the new debt out of the additional revenues which would follow from an augmented volume of general business. In such happy circumstances, there would be no addition to the tax burden. As a matter of fact, under wise fiscal management, there could even be a decrease in the tax burden.

With shrinking national income in the last four years, the rate of taxation per dollar of income was increased. The net yield to the government, nevertheless, fell off. In the recovery phase, enlarged national income increases the taxable base, and increased revenues under existing rates would flow automatically from the expansion in business.

TAX CHANGE ESSENTIAL

But since the necessary premise for all this is business expansion, it becomes of paramount importance for the Federal Government to attune its tax policies, and all other economic policies, to this straightforward objective. In this spirit, an elimination of punitive elements from taxation, and greater reliance on such painless taxes as a federal general manufacturers' sales tax, would be helpful.

The real threat to the national credit would come from fruitless spending on a large scale. Public spending, if wisely directed, could be fruitless only if its beneficent effect were offset by simultaneous mistaken, deflationary policies. That is why it is dangerous to tarry with more or less irrelevant long-term social reform until business itself convalesces more. Only those changes should be stressed which will be helpful to recovery. Later, after recovery, the more permanent patterns can be reconsidered.

TRADE GAIN NECESSARY

The essence of the public credit in the last analysis will depend on the gross volume of business and income in the United States. If the "new deal" measures help to restore the national income above the depression low level, they can be readily financed, and the expenditures, arranged and contemplated, are well within what the country can afford. But if public expenditures are continued on the present scale without a significant improvement in the national income, then something akin to a public receivership may be in order.

In this respect, the United States Treasury is not unlike the typical private corporation, which has already cut operating expenses to the bone and is relying for relief on increased volume.

The great need is to expand effective demand, not only through making merchandise more attractive in quality and in price, but also in resuming the art of stimulating desire through advertising efforts.

If we adopted certain proposals to limit our purchases to what we actually need to keep metabolism going, we should soon drop to a coolie standard of living, and would in such circumstances find ourselves vastly overcapitalized.

(Copyright, 1933, Universal Service, Inc.)

Given 5 Years

HENRY S. FITCH

Convict Fitch, sentenced to five years after a Philadelphia jury took only 10 minutes to find him guilty of scholarship racketeering; taking students' money for scholarships he never delivered. This is a Wide World News Photograph Service picture.

SCHOOL EDITORS HERE HONORED

Schenley High School students took the lion's share of the glory passed out to high schools in this district in the awards announced by the Pennsylvania School Press Association to editors, writers and cartoonists of scholastic publications. The awards, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Philadelphia, were announced today by Miss Gertrude L. Turner, of Philadelphia, director of the contest. The awards were made to individuals and also for merit of the publication as a whole.

Schenley High School's publication, The Triangle, received second place in the class A publications. Miss Mary Libby Cohen, who conducts a column in the publication, received honorable mention for her work as did Miss Patricia Makary, a cartoonist. Herbert Gibson, who contributed an essay to the Triangle also received honorable mention, as did Herbert Parnes for a feature story in the same publication.

Three youths from Carrick High School were honored for their work in the "Carrickulum" and the "Carrickter." Robert Williamson got an award for an illustration, Dan McGibbeny honorable mention for his column and Anthony Cancilla honorable mention for a sports story.

Miss Virginia Faqua, of Coraopolis High School, rteceived honorable mention for a verse and also for a news feature story in "The Question Mark." Richard Milo and K. Patterson, of Wilkinsburg Junior High School, got awards for a column and editorial, respectively.

BLAMES BUDGET LACK ON TAXES

If it had not been for the drastic and unexpected reduction of approximately 100 million dollars in assessed property valuations, coming at an eleventh hour, City Council would not have had to turn an unbalanced budget over to the incoming administration, President of Council Harry A. Little said today. He added:

"The presentation of an unbalanced budget seems to be the order of the day. The federal government, as well as the majority of large cities, are in the same plight, due to the fact that they can't collect taxes.

"In our case we have at the present time, accounts collectable in the shape of delinquent taxes, amounting to approximately 14 million dollars. This is the largest amount ever uncollected in this city. Measures undoubtedly will be taken by the new administration to collect those taxes from those who can pay."

Little pointed out that the new administration will have the opportunity to borrow money by using the uncollected taxes as collateral. Council today was expected to take final action on the 1934 appropriation calling for an appropriation of more than 21 million dollars needed to operate the city next year.

Negro Author Wins Prize for Literature

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP.)—James Weldon Johnson, Negro author, diplomat, song-writer and professor of English literature at Fiske University, was awarded the W. E. B. Du Bois prize of $1,000 for Negro literature yesterday.

This is the first presentation of the award. Johnson receives it for "Black Manhattan," judged the best non-fiction book written by a Negro in the last three years.

Lee to Head I. C. C. For Ensuing Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS.)—William E. Lee, of Moscow, Idaho, today was elected chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, succeeding Patrick J. Farrell. The chairmanship rotates yearly.

Lee, a Republican, was appointed a Commissioner by President Hoover in January, 1930. Although a native of North Carolina, he has lived in Idaho for many years and formerly was Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of that state.

Phillips Favors Dividend Payment

BARTLESVILE, Okla., Dec. 28.—Frank Phillips, president of Phillips Petroleum Company, said today that at the directors' meeting next week he will recommend declaration of a 25-cent dividend.

FILM MAN HOST TO NEWSBOYS

Fifteen hundred happy boys of the Sun-Telegraph home delivery organization were guests of General Manager Harry Kalmine of the Warner Theaters organization at the Davis Theater this morning. It was the annual Christmas theater party for the youngsters.

Manager Kalmine had provided a show that thrilled the youngsters from start to finish.

The feature picture — "Telegraph Trail" with John Wayne—was loaded with excitement. The program was amplified with selected comedies, news reels and short subjects and the boys enjoyed a real holiday show.

It was finished in time for the regular run of "Alice in Wonderland," now showing at the Davis as a Christmas and New Years attraction.

St. Fidelis Benefit To Be Held Tonight

A benefit card party for St. Fidelis Seminary will be held in St. Augustine's Hall, Thirty-seventh and Butler streets, tonight. A lunch will be served.

MUSIC LEADER LAUDS JAZZ

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 28.—(AP.)—Jazz music—if it's good—and the English opera have a staunch defender in Dr. Howard Hanson, Nebraska-born composer and president of a Rochester (N. Y.) conservatory. He is here attending the fifty-fifth annual convention of the Music Teachers' National Association. He said:

"It is stupid to try to give operas in a language people can't understand.

"First rate jazz is as full of harmonic and orchestra interest as it is of rhythm."

Dr. Peter W. Dykema, of Columbia University, said municipalities doubtless would be called upon in the future to furnish music halls and instruments, just as they are called upon now to furnish playgrounds.

Cafe Owner Knifed, Suspect Sought

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Dec. 28.—Police today sought Paul Bates, 25, as a suspect in the stabbing of William Cain, 40, owner of a beer cafe. Cain was slashed when he refused to serve an intoxicated patron.

+ OBITUARY +

Harry E. Simon.

Harry E. Simon, 55, partner of the firm of M. Simon's Sons, planing mill and lumber company, died suddenly yesterday. He was a member of the Suburban Bible Class of the Bellevue Presbyterian Church, Jefferson Lodge, No. 288, F. and A. M.; Allegheny Council, No. 38, R. and S. M.; Allegheny Commandery, No. 35, Knights Templar; Miszpah Royal Arch Chapter, Pennsylvania Consistory; Syria Temple Auto Club, Islam Grotto and Lambskin Club of Bellevue.

He is survived by a brother, William Simon, and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Schmitt and Mrs. Clara Oetting, all of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held from the home of a sister at 219 Waldorf street, North Side, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Highwood Cemetery.

Harry G. Strous.

Harry G. Strous, of 209 Seventh avenue, Carnegie, died this morning.

Mr. Strous was born in old Allegheny and was a lifelong resident of this district. He was a member of Carnegie Lodge, B. P. O. Elks and treasurer of the Men's Bible class of the Carnegie Presbyterian Church. He had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association for a number of years.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore Strous; a son, William H.; three grandchildren and a sister, Miss Marie H. Strous.

Funeral services will be held Sunday evening at his late residence.

Mrs. Celie Little.

Mrs. Celie Silverman Little, 5835 Nicholson avenue, who died Tuesday in Montefiore Hospital, will be buried in Baltimore following removal of the body to Baltimore from the home of her sister, Mrs. Maurice Sneidman, of 2277 Shady avenue.

Mrs. Little was the wife of the late Hyman Little. She is survived by two sons, Merrill H. and Donald S. Little, both of Pittsburgh.

Morris Lytton.

Morris Lytton, 60, will be buried from his home at 5849 Forward avenue today.

A merchant in the Pittsburgh district 30 years, Mr. Lytton leaves three sons, Albert, Samuel and Louis Lytton, four daughters, Mrs. J. B. Cohen and Miss Sally Lytton, all of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Edward Mundheim and Mrs. Milton Jerlein, both of New York.

William Lytle.

Funeral services for William Lytle will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Freyvogle Funeral Home, Oakland. He died Tuesday at Mayview, where he had been postmaster 18 years. He was 78.

He leaves three nieces, Miss Mabel and Miss Eva Weitzel and Miss Jean Lytle, and four nephews, Harold Lytle and John, Frank and Martin Weitzel.

George A. Heck.

George A. Heck, 60, died yesterday at his home, 2328 Valero street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Koub Heck, a daughter, Mrs. Elmer Morgenstern, and a grandchild.

He was a member of Ottowa Tribe, No. 64, I. O. R. M., Mutual Beneficial Association of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Aerie, No. 1520, F. O. E.

Mrs. Agnes S. Frank.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Mrs. Agnes Summerville Frank at her late residence, 1941 Pittview avenue, Mt. Troy. She died Tuesday.

Besides her husband, William F., she leaves two daughters, Miss Pearl E., and Miss Anna Mae.

Mrs. Andrew R. Jackson.

Funeral services for Mrs. Andrew R. Jackson, 82, of 3401 Massachusetts avenue, who died Tuesday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at Cray Brothers' funeral home, 460 Lincoln avenue, Bellevue.

Mrs. Augusta Polke.

Funeral services for Mrs. Augusta Polke, of 1542 Oberlin street, who died Tuesday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the George A. Baker funeral home, 6366 Frankstown avenue.

Charles Rorick.

Charles Rorick, of 138 Nineteenth street, South Side, died yesterday. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the Colligan Brothers' funeral home, 800 Carson street.

Mrs. Amelia Kozemiako.

Mrs. Amelia Kozemiako, 42, of 1402 Spring Garden avenue, died yesterday. Funeral services will be held at her late home Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. K. McKee Mackenzie.

Mrs. Kathren McKee Mackenzie, of New York, wife of E. V. Mackenzie, formerly of Wilkinsburg, will be buried tomorrow afternoon from the Beinhauer Mortuary in South Hills.

She died in Westmoreland Hospital, Greensburg, Tuesday as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident on the William Penn highway, near Delmont.

Besides her husband, she leaves a brother, A. R. McKee, and four sisters, Mrs. Edith McQuaid, Mrs. Olive Signet, Mrs. Isabel Hayes and Mrs. Florence Getze, all of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Mary A. Oehmler.

Mrs. Mary Ackerman Oehmler, 89, widow of Capt. H. O. C. Oehmler, last surviving charter member of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Abe Patterson Post, 88, Grand Army of the Republic, is dead at her home, 2504 Maple avenue.

She co-operated in making with her son, O. A. C. Oehmler, of Washington, D. C., a case and pillow for the Bible of George Washington, which is now on exhibition at the Masonic Memorial, Alexandria, Va.

She leaves a daughter, Ida L. Oehmler, five sons, Charles F., Arthur M., Alfred G., Harry R., and Mr. Oehmler, of Washington.

Death Notices 1

HECK—Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 7:30 a. m., GEORGE A., husband of Elizabeth K. Heck (nee Korb); and father of Mrs. Elmer Morgenstern, aged 60 years, at the family home, 2328 Valera street. Remains at the funeral home of William C. Hirt, 704 Brownsville road at Alice street. Car 53-54 to McKinley. Services will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Friends invited. Interment in Allegheny Cemetery.

BUNZ-LAMBERT—Tuesday morning, December 26, 1933, at 2:55 o'clock, MATHILDA, beloved wife of Charles P. Bunz, of 1307 Alton street, Beechview. Remains at the Beinhauer mortuary, 2630 West Liberty avenue, South Hills, where services will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Friends invited. Interment in Allegheny Cemetery.

DUFFY—Tuesday, December 26, at 10 p. m., at the St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, Mich., FLORENCE DUFFY, beloved daughter of Cornelius and the late Margaret Given Duffy, aged 26 years. Funeral from the family residence, 1054 Center street, East Pittsburgh, Pa. (Bessemer Terrace), Saturday, December 30, at 9:30 a. m. Solemn requiem mass at St. William's R. C. Church at 10 a. m. Friends invited.

JACKSON—Tuesday, December 26, 1933, at 11:30 p. m., JANE LADLEY, aged 82 years, widow of Andrew R. Jackson and mother of Miss Laura M. Jackson and Mrs. E. E. Rinehart. Friends will be received at the home of Cray Bros. Co., 460 Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, where services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. Please omit flowers.

JACKSON—Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 8 p. m., THOMAS A. JACKSON, beloved husband of Ella Arthur Jackson. Funeral services at his late residence, 827 Southern avenue, Mt. Washington, Saturday, December 30, at 3:30 p. m. Friends invited.

JOHNSON—Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 9 p. m., IDA GREGG, wife of M. B. Johnson. Funeral services at her late residence, 139 Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, Saturday at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

KOZEMIAKO—Wednesday, December 27, 1933, AMELIA, beloved wife of Mike Kozemiako, aged 42 years. Funeral service at her late home, 1402 Spring Garden avenue, Saturday at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

LAPPE-WERL — Tuesday, December 26, 1933, at 10 a. m., ANNA WERL LAPPE, wife of Oscar J. Lappe, aged 55 years. Mother of Oscar, Jr., John C. and Carolyn M. Lappe, sister of Mrs. Elizabeth Ludwig; also survived by one grandchild. Services Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at the family home, 1110 Portland street, East End, Pittsburgh. Friends of the family and members of Ladies' Auxiliary of Lincoln Commandery, No. 91, K. T., Syria Ladies' Social Club and the Highland Presbyterian Church are invited.

LYTLE—Tuesday, December 26, 1933, at 6 a. m., WILLIAM LYTLE. Funeral services at the funeral home of John A. Freyvogel, 3406 Fifth avenue, Friday, December 29, at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

MACKENZIE-M'KEE — Accidentally, at Greensburg Hospital, on Tuesday afternoon, December 26, 1933, at 5:45 p. m., KATHREN M'KEE, beloved wife of E. V. Mackenzie, of New York, formerly of Wilkinsburg, daughter of the late George and Rebecca Hattman McKee, sister of A. R. McKee and Edith G. McQuaid, Olive Signet and Isabel Hayes, of Great Falls, Mont., and Florence Getze, of Carlsbad, Cal. Remains at the Beinhauer Mortuary, 2630 West Liberty avenue, where services will be held on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Homewood Cemetery.

McMURRAY — Thursday, December 28, 1933, at 8:10 a. m., JOHN, husband of Annie Gordon McMurray. Funeral from Acheson's chapel, East North avenue at Sandusky street, North Side. Services Saturday at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

MUTH—At the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, Aspinwall, Pa., Thursday, December 28, 1933, at 2:20 a. m., JOHN ANTHONY, aged 47 years, son of Louis and Sarah Campbell Muth. Funeral from the home of his parents, 617 Taylor avenue, Avalon, Saturday at 8:30 a. m. High mass of requiem at the Church of the Assumption, Bellevue, at 9 a. m. Friends invited.

PURNELL—Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 8:30 p. m., CHARLES F. PURNELL, in his 68th year, beloved husband of Louisa Greiner, father of Mrs. Ethel Rohrmann, Charles G. and Joan G. Purnell, at his home, 1823 Locust street. Notice of funeral later.

RENWICK—Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 8:20 a. m., JAMES S. RENWICK, husband of Ethel Cooper Renwick, in his 35th year. Funeral services Saturday, December 30, at 2 p. m., at his late home, 307 Negley avenue, Turtle Creek, Pa. Friends invited to attend. (Philadelphia, Pa., papers please copy.)

RICHARDS — Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 10:30 p. m., EMILY D. RICHARDS, wife of the late T. Frank Richards. Funeral services at her late residence, 41 Crafton avenue, Crafton, Pa., Friday at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

RORICK—Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 9:30 a. m., CHARLES RORICK, husband of Cecelia Cleary Rorick, son of Mrs. Libbie Hall Rorick, and brother of Frank Rorick, Mrs. Sadie Gwyer and Mrs. Elsie McBride. Remains at Colligan Bros. funeral home, 800 Carson street, South Side. Funeral Saturday, December 30, at 2 p. m. Friends invited.

ROSENFELTER—At St. Petersburg, Fla., Tuesday, December 26, 1933, HENRY P. ROSENFELTER, husband of the late Sara Frew Rosenfelter. Services at the home of the T. B. Moreland Co., North Highland avenue at Rippey street, East End, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Arrival in Pittsburgh Saturday morning.

SCHEUBLE—Thursday, December 28, at 6:30 a. m., Mrs. MARY A. BOYLE SCHEUBLE, widow of Charles A. Scheuble and mother of Margaret, Edward and Mrs. J. Reardon. Funeral from McDermott Bros., 531 Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks, Saturday, December 30, at 9:33 a. m. Solemn requiem mass at 10 St. Francis de Sales Church at 10 o'clock. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery, McKees Rocks. Friends invited.

Death Notices 1

SIMON—Suddenly, Wednesday, December 27, 1933, at 9:50 a. m., HARRY E. SIMON, son of the late Michael and Mary Veip and brother of William Simon, Mrs. Emma Schmitt and Mrs. Clara Oetting. Funeral from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Clara Oetting, 219 Waldorf street, North Side, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. All Masonic bodies and friends are invited.

STEWART—ROBERT C., beloved husband of Agnes Dalzell Stewart. Funeral from the family home, 4626 Torley street, on Friday, December 29, at 2:30 p. m. Friends invited.

STROUS—Thursday, December 28, 1933, at 4:30 a. m., HARRY G. STROUS, husband of Elizabeth Moore Strous. Funeral services Sunday, December 31, at 8 p. m., at his late home, 209 Seventh avenue, Carnegie, Pa. Friends invited. Interment Monday morning in Chartiers Cemetery.

THACKER-SPARGROVE—At Erie, Pa., December 26, 1933, ANNA JUDSON SPARGROVE, wife of William B. Thacker. Interment at Murrysville, Pa., Friday, December 29, 1933, at 2:30 p. m.

WINTERBURN—Tuesday, December 26, 1933, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Bessie T. Cornelius, 4112 Haldine street, WILLIAM H., husband of the late Mary C. Winterburn (nee Fisher), aged 82 years. Funeral services at the Fisher & Owen funeral home, 126 Hazelwood avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Thursday afternoon, December 28, at 2 o'clock. Members of Carpenters' Local, No. 142, Jr. O. U. A. M., and friends invited.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY MEMORIAL PARK
INFORMATION PHONE ATLANTIC 9847.
MOUNT ROYAL MAUSOLEUM
Entombment space available. AT 3629

Funeral Directors 1-D

FUNERALS COMPLETE
FROM $100 UP
Grime & Blair
4112 Main St. Schenley 3000.

NO director can serve you better or for less money. John Taylor, Penhurst 3134

Lost and Found 2

CHOW—Red female, ans. to "Fu." Reward, HI 4614-J. 4746 Mossfield st., E. E.

FOUR diamond rings lost; liberal reward to finder. Locust 0867-R.

KEYS in leather case lost; reward. 1415 Union Bank Bldg. CO 6800.

LOST—Scotch collie, color sable and white, name "Glenn." Owner's name and former address on collar, R. H. Scheffler, 1339 Lowrie st. Present address 1741 Kieber st., N. S. Reward. LI 4639-W.

LOST Christmas day in Carrick, dog, white, long hair, 3 black spots on back, brown head; answers to Toodles; child's Christmas gift; liberal reward. CA 0144-R.

LOST—White Spitz dog, male, answers to name Fluffy. Call Lehigh 8896. Reward.

MAN'S gold watch and chain on Friday in Forest Hills; initials S. F. R. Rew. PE 0747.

WALLET, black, lost; papers and cash; valuable to student; rwd. Wexford 24-R-4

WATCH, gold; J. R. L.; Harvard fob; lost Murray ave., nr. Forbes; rwd. HA 1671.

FOUND ON STREET CARS AND BUSES FRIDAY, DECEMBER 22.
Purse, Washington car.
Bracelet, route 22-85.
Glasses, route 56.
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23.
Purse, route 22-85.
Wallet, route 42.
SUNDAY, DECEMBER 24.
Purse, route 88.
Necklace, route 75.
MONDAY, DECEMBER 25.
Purse, route 75.
Wallet, route 75.
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 26.
Money, route 88.
Information concerning these articles may be had by calling Pittsburgh Railways Company Lost Department, Grant 7450. Ask for Extension 148.

Personals 3

CASH For Old Gold. Bridgework, Silver and Diamonds. Sell direct to GOVERNMENT. LICENSE NO. 1946.
Cooper Gold Refining Co.
304 CLARK BLDG. ATLANTIC 4646.

COLVIN APPLIANCE CO.
301 Ferry St., Court 0470
WASHER REPAIRS - PARTS
WRINGER ROLLS

CASH FOR OLD GOLD, SILVER, GOLD BRIDGE WORK. AT 4518.
PGH. GOLD REFINING CO.,
ROOM 302, CLARK BLDG., PGH.

JOHN MITCHELL—One-armed notion peddler around Pgh., about 80 yrs. old, died Dec., 1928, anyone knowing of his family or relatives communicate with Ralph W. Carson, 1012 Park Bldg., Pgh., Pa.

DIVORCES in Mexico; 10 days; free information. International Law Office, 441 1st National Bank Bldg., El Paso, Tex.

SHOP Sears for after Xmas values. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 328 N. Highland ave.

Travel Opportunities

DRIVING Miami via Jacksonville; new Plymouth 6; room for 4. Write 2335 Arlington ave., Mt. Oliver.

MAN will join party going to Miami for season; good business proposition. MA 7261.

Male Help Wanted 4

Selling Ability

Do you have the courage to call on 10 people every day and explain the facts about one of the best income paying investments in this country. If you possess real determination and courage you will earn an income far above the average. If you show organization ability, we have a salary and commission open.

This corporation is one of the best known in the United States. Its 7% preferred shares are widely advertised; over 40,000 investors; never missed a dividend; present earning power several times dividend requirements. You must furnish good references, own a car and be willing to follow our routine.

HEARST CONSOLIDATED PUBLICATIONS, INC.,
618 Grant st.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Male Help Instruction 4-A

WELDERS needed. Learn all branches. Path. School of Trades, 405 Penn ave.

U. S. GOV'T. JOBS—$105-$175 mo. Men, women, 18-50; qualify for coming Pittsburgh exams.; exp. usually unnec.; full partic.; list pos. free. Write today, Franklin Inst., Dept. 411 C, Rochester, N. Y.

Female Help Wanted 6

GIRL—White, general housework; references. MA 4153.

WHITE maid for gen. housework; must understand cooking; 2 adults; small apt. Call HA 8700, Apt. 424, Morrowfield Hotel.

WHITE GIRL—General housework; small family; $3 week. Lehigh 0564-J.

Female Help Special 7

MARCELS FREE
Thurs. and Fri., Dec. 28-29, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. 439 Penn ave., Second Floor.

Work Wanted 10

CURTAINS, Made to order, including material; $1 pair. CH 3225.

JAZZ Piano, 10 lessons, easy method, 50c. Radio Artist Freddy Ross, 830 East Ohio st. CE 2261.

PAPERHANGING $2.25 r. trim both edges paper for sale. H. H. Hunter, FE 3040-J.

PITTSBURGH ASSN. IM. OF POOR Free Employment Bureau.
SKILLED MECHANICS, HANDY MEN, Carpenters, Painters, Plumbers, Electricians, etc. Coal Carriers, Housemen, Orderlies, Handy Men Farmers, Pick and Shovel, etc. Capable, dependent family men personally known to us. Help us find these men work. Free Employment Bureau, 428 Duquesne way. Atlantic 4183.

Situations Wtd., Female 11

COLORED housegirls, cooks, couples, chefs, porters, Imperial Emp., At 2787.

HOUSEKEEPER desires position in motherless home; good home pref. to high wages. Mrs. E. Jacobs, 4 Sylvania ave., Beltzhoover, City.

NEAT exp. colored girl wishes gen. housework; small family; ref. HI 7019-W.

Sale, Business Opportun. 12

FRUIT store, gd. loc., sell cheap, reas. rnt. Must lv. city. 2856 Broadway, Dormont.

Moving and Storage 19

STORAGE
For Furniture
FIREPROOF WAREHOUSES
Haugh & Keenan
STORAGE & TRANSFER CO.
Center and Euclid Aves.
Montrose 6700.

MOVING, STORAGE
SHANAHAN
3460 Fifth Ave. 7535 Penn Ave.
Mayflower 7800 Penhurst 7201

HASLEY BROS. TRANSFER & STORAGE WANT LOAD OR PART TO NEW YORK CITY, ABT. END OF MO. FA 6104.

Ed Werner Storage and Transfer. Fireproof wrhse. CA 4425.

WANTED—Return load from Chicago St. Louis, N. Y. C. Thos. James, Jr. MA 4174

BLANCK'S Moving, Storage. 6344 Penn ave. Hiland 0466.

ACCEPT saleable furniture for mov. charge. Belmar Mov. & St. Co. CH 3164.

Coal, Coke and Wood 21

PANHANDLE LUMP
Lump $3.75, run of mine, $3.35; stained run of mine $2.95; nut slack $2.60; best analysis.
McHUGH COAL MINING CO.
Carnegie 1071. Walnut 0700.

Mine Run Coal, $1.75 Ton
ON TRUCKS AT MINE.
DELIVERED, $2.75.
Valley 817. AT 6550 Eves.

$3.60 LUMP COAL, THREE
$3.25 STOVE COAL, TON
$3.25 RUN O' MINE, LOTS
BLACK DIAMOND COAL. LO 1678.

$2.75 Red Run Mine. PE 1573.

$3.10 Best furnace; $3.50, best Pittsburgh vein lump. HI 2408-M.

A A A Best clean furnace nut, $3.10; immediate delivery. SC 7880.

$3.50 Furnace lump; $3.90 Pittsburgh big lump. HA 7659.

A.A.A BEST CLEAN FURNACE COAL, $3.25
SC 1212. TO 3.

$3.10 Furnace, Lump, $3.75. Egg, $3.60. Ton or more delivered. SC 6344.

$3.65 Best double screen lump; M. R., $3.40, del. MO 2440; PE 7798.

Good Lump Coal $3.40 WA 3267-J.

BUSINESS WANTED
INDIVIDUALS AND FIRMS LISTED HERE ARE OFFERING BETTER SERVICE AT REDUCED PRICES

Blinds

BLINDS CLEANED Acme-Pro. CH 1910.

Detectives

DETECTIVE MORSE — Secret investigations. Carrick 1407. Box 644, Pgh., Pa.

Fur Cleaning and Repairing.

FUR coats made a jacket as low as $15; fur jackets cleaned, $2; plain fur coat and lining cleaned, $3.50. FIRTKO, 426 Penn avenue, near Horne's, second floor, opposite Hotel Mayfair.

Furnace Repairing

SMOKING furnaces corrected with asbestos cement, $7. Repairs for all makes; work guar. Free inspection. LE 1626. CH 5207.

FURNACE cleaned, $1; reset, $6; parts for all makes; inspect free. LI 2156-J.

Old Gold Wanted

CASH FOR OLD GOLD Bridgework and Silver Plates and Diamonds.
H. & L. GOLD REFINING CO.,
515 Clark Bldg. AT 0621.
Federal license P-212.

Taxidermist

DEER heads mounted, $15. Masters, 2319 Forbes st., nr. Brady. GR 4445. Op. eve.

FOR RENT Furnished Rooms 30

DORMONT—Newly furn. rm., next bath; furn. ht.; ½ block 42 car. LO 2373-J.

EVANGELINE Residence, 425 Biv. Allies—Girls, women only; every rm. h&c wat.; tub, shwr., swim. pool, gym.; $3.50 wk.

NEGLEY AVE., N., 316—Large, attract. rm., water, steam ht., $4.50. MO 1864.

IF YOU do not find what you want in this column phone Rental Service, Grant 5400 for additional listing of furnished rooms.

Unfurnished Rooms 31

N. S., 106 MILROY ST.—3 rms., bath, yard, cellar, gar., $15; first floor. Artsberger Art School. FA 6072.

PHONE Rental Service, Grant 5400, for additional listing of unfurnished rooms.

Housekeeping Rooms 32

WILK., 912 Wallace—3 conn. rms., sink, range, $20; also 3 rms., 1st flr., pri. entr.

Apartments, South Hills 37

GEARING AVE., 401—6 rms., bath, 3rd floor, exceptionaly low rent to desirable tenant, immediate possession. AT 4360

Apartments, North Side 38

26 WATSONIA BLVD.—4-room apt., front and rear porches, $25. FA 6958.

City, Suburban Houses 39

FIRST WARD—3 & 5 rm. brks., handy to town. Forbes at Marion. MA 2110.

Loans on Furniture

FAMILIES keeping house now may borrow $300 at 2½ per cent per month, a substantial saving. Regular rates on loans below $300. Quick, private service. No inquiries of friends, relatives, or merchants. Only husband and wife sign. Monthly repayments arranged to fit income. Cost figured only for the actual number of days each dollar is kept. Come in, write or 'phone for full information.

RATE CUT on $300 LOANS

COR. 7TH & LIBERTY AVE., 10th Fl. Clark Bldg. GRANT 3178
511 Wood St., 16th Floor First National Bank Bldg. ATLANTIC 1880
4TH AVE. & WOOD ST., 403 Arrott Bldg. COURT 1426
5TH AVENUE AND SMITHFIELD STS., 3rd Fl. Park Bldg. ATLANTIC 5332
EAST LIBERTY 6004 PENN AVE.
12th Floor Peoples East End Bldg. MONTROSE 0106
McKEESPORT: 5th Floor Peoples City Bank Bldg. . . . McKEESPORT 7114
Loans made in nearby towns

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE CORPORATION

FOR RENT East End 40

E. E. HOUSES, APTS., DUPLEXES
HUSS BROS., REALTORS.
5972 BAUM BLVD. MONTROSE 8684.

HOWE ST., nr. Hiland; duplex, 8 rms., 3 baths, gar.; cheap. Court 1371.

Furn. Apts. & Houses 45

Mt. Lebanon's Most Beautiful Apts.
FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED.
THE EMBASSY, 230 Beverly rd. LO 1506

OVERBROOK—3-rm. apt., coal, gas, light; adults; free rent till Jan. 1; $32. CA 0135-M.

E. E., St. Marie—Owner's home, 3-rm. apt. Gentile adults; reas. rent. MO 8689.

N. S., 926 Madison ave.—2 r., warm, el., all conv., cel., dry., pri. suite 5, $7 wk.

COLTART AVE., 216—Mod. 3-rm. apt., bath, frig., light, heat; reas. CE 1080.

HIGHLAND PARK, 3 rms., heat, gas, light, frig., gar., reas. MO. 5818.

Business Properties 47

BAKERY, 1239 Buena Vista st., rear, 2 brick ovens, 4 shelf ovens, mixers, dough brake, pie roller, etc., fully equipped and ready for immediate business. Call Atlantic 4360.

Mortgage Loans 81

WE HAVE PRIVATE MONEY
FOR SMALL MORTGAGES.
WEST. S. BROWN, 407 WALSH BLDG.

SPECIAL FUND FOR 1ST MORTGAGES. QUICK SERVICE. CALL CH 4065.

PRIVATE funds, 1st and 2nd mortgages. Frank J. Sherme, 508 Grant st. AT 1360.

Miscellaneous 85

SHOP Sears for after Xmas values. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 328 N. Highland ave.

Household Goods 86

ROLLS FOR ANY WASHER. PARTS
Result Washers—Many Makes—$12 up. Coffield Service Co., 100 Market st. CO 3197.

SHOP Sears for after Xmas values. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 328 N. Highland ave.

FURNITURE (used), large selection, reas. Belmar Storage, 741 Penn ave., Wilk.

Musical Instruments 87

SHOP Sears for after Xmas values. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 328 N. Highland ave.

Pianos For Sale

MAKE a New Years resolution to see the New Estey Grand Piano. Easy terms and your old piano traded in. Including bench, $445. Fourth Floor, BOGGS & BUHL.

5 RADIOS that have been used as demonstrators. Call Grant 1321.

Automobiles For Sale 94

AUBURN 1930 dark straight 8 sedan, $150; will finance; no trade. LE 8700.

BUICK USED CARS
Keystone Buick Co., Baum and Liberty.

BUICK 1930 sedan—New tires; $115 down. Dormont Olds, 3144 W. Liberty. LE 5400.

CADILLAC La Salle Used Cars.
Eierman Cadillac La Salle, 5607 Baum blvd.

CHEVROLETS and Fords, Coupes, Coaches, Sedans and Roadsters; other makes of cars can be bought as low as $25 down, balance weekly or monthly terms, will trade. Jones Motor, 1317 Carson st., S. S. Hemlock 8100.

CHEVROLET 1933 Coach—New car guarantee; bargain $500. Pinkerton Motor, 1940 Brigton road, N. S. FA 1195.

CHEVROLETS traded cars. Hodson Chev., Inc., 5740 Baum blvd. HI 3268.

CHEV. DeLuxe Coach, 1932; like new; $365. White, 519 Water st. COurt 6200.

CHRYSLER USED CARS
SAMSON MOTOR CO., 4647 BAUM BLVD.

FORD—Late 1933 V-8 2-door sedan, $475; will finance. Lehigh 8700.

FORD 4-dr. sedan, 1929; beaut. looking car, $125. Herman, 5850 Baum blvd. EM 9326.

FORD, LINCOLN, REO USED CARS—McKinley-Gregg Auto Co., 5858 Baum blvd.

FORD '30 sport coupe, $175. Dormont Buick, 2676 W. Liberty ave. LE 9800.

HUDSON ESSEX USED CARS
C. A. REHTMEYER, INC.
5860 Baum Blvd. Montrose 2218

HUP '31 8 sed. Kamin Store, 406 N. Craig, nr. Baum. SC 6214. Down $99

HUP '27 6 sedan, $50 or swap for later rdstr.; in need of repairs. HI 1150-R.

NASH 1931 4-door sedan, $100 down, bal. easy. J. N. Gregg, Irwin. Phone 2119.

OLDS AND PONTIAC USED CARS
Olds Pontiac Retail Stores, Ba

OPERATOR 13

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

(Continued from Yesterday.)

(Republished from Cosmopolitan Magazine and soon to appear on the screen as a Cosmopolitan production made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and starring Marion Davies.)

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

Gail lighted a candle, set it on the hearth inside the chimney fireplace, and touched her flimsy code book to the flame. It vanished like a puff of guncotton. Billy Dix's map went the same way.

Now she dressed swiftly in her riding habit, pocketed what gold she had, and all the Confederate bills; lifted her skirt and buckled revolver to her left leg above the knee.

This was the end of Richmond for her; she knew it, though she did not understand it. What had aroused Vespasian Chancellor's suspicions and brought him into Richmond?

She looked through the lattice again and saw John Scobell ride up, leading her horse. There seemed to be nobody else near. "We've got to go quick."

"If anybody calls," she said to Rosie at the front door, "you may say that I am riding out Chesterfield way to supper and expect to return very late tonight."

"A hour ago," remarked Rosie, "strange man done come to de back do'. Ax is Miss Cleburne to home."

"Did he give any name?"

"No. Say, ax yuh kin'ly ef yuh'd see him."

"You said I was not at home?"

"Yas'm."

"What did he say?"

"Ax me when yuh wuz 'spected. Tole him I dunno."

Goes to Hiding Place

Very cooly Operator 13 described Vespasian Chancellor, collarless shirt, dusty spurred boots, and all.

"Yaas'm, dat de man. Reckon he jes' no-'count trash."

The girl nodded carelessly, stepped to the mounting block and swung herself unaided into the saddle. As Scobell adjusted her skirt and stirrup she whispered. "We've got to go quick, now. Vespasian Chancellor is watching the house."

Not a muscle of the Negro's grave face moved. He gave the girl her bridle, mounted his own horse and followed her down the street under the great trees. As long as they were on the Glendale road she dared not speak to him. As soon as they turned into Malvern road she reined in, told him what had happened and asked his opinion.

"Yaas'm," he said quietly, "we-all gotta skedaddle right smart. I gwine fix you up at de old Henrico Inn; ex yuh kin'ly wait till I run up by de provost an' find out whar de trouble gwine start."

"You are going back to Richmond?"

"Yaas'm."

"Then turn here and go immediately; I'll ride on alone to Henrico Inn. Shall I take my horse into the stable there?"

"Yaas'm. Nobody dar. Yuh ain't git skeered none ef I bide till dark?"

"No, I'll wait."

"Is yuh burnt yuh code book, ma'am?"

"Yes, and Billy Dix's map. There's nothing left."

He touched his hat, swung his horse and galloped away westward; and Operator 13 cantered her nag tranquilly toward Henrico Tavern along the rutty road.

The old hostelry was steeped in solitude, as the girl rode around to the stables, where twittering swallows soared and dipped and huge bees plundered the thistles. The stable door was merely latched and she led her horse inside.

Puzzled Girl

Here she discovered the bucket and the shelled corn that the Negro scout had mentioned; and she watered and fed her horse and wandered about the dim place trying to think out a plausible reason to account for Chancellor's appearance.

She thought about John Gailliard, too, wondering whether Chancellor had consulted him. But that seemed impossible; John Gailliard would have come to the house himself had any question of her identity been raised by Chancellor.

She seated herself in the dim, cool stable to wait. It was tiresome. She went into a box stall, lay down on a heap of brittle hay. The sun sank lower, and when she saddled up again and led out her horse, it was very dusky outside; mist blotted the bushy swamps. After the moon glittered out, the first cat owl whooped and howled with goblin laughter.

The path of the road was the path of the moon, and in its brilliant light she could see shadowy rabbits sporting in elf-like ecstasy. It was now late enough for her to expect the Negro scout; and very soon she heard a horse galloping.

She had mounted and had drawn and cocked her pistol, when John Scobell galloped up and called to her in a guarded voice; and she rode out to join him.

The scout did not mince matters. The train, he told her, had come in at 8 o'clock. From it descended the young lady whose miniature he had seen earlier that afternoon. And, as she set foot upon the station platform, Vespasian Chancellor arrested her.

Mystery Cleared

Then Scobell informed her that Vespasian Chancellor had been on the same train with the real Miss Cleburne; that, learning her name, he had become suspicious; had left the cars, hired a fast horse, and had ridden across country to Richmond to consult the provost's office.

Apparently Gen. Winder had no slightest doubt that Operator 13 was the real Miss Cleburne; and he gave his orders accordingly. So Chancellor met the train in Richmond, and placed the indignant young lady under arrest.

That explained the mystery to Operator 13—and accounted for the prowling of Chancellor around her dwelling.

"I've got to leave, of course," she said quietly. "I couldn't go back and face it out. They'd trip me somewhere."

The scout agreed that they ought to ride on immediately, but with great caution, because, he told her, he had learned that all police patrols had been doubled in the district, and there might even be watchers already along this very road.

"You needn't go with me, John," she said.

"I ain't never quit nobody, ma'am," he replied simply.

"Well, then, it is Mountcastle?"

"Yaas'm."

They have been cantering their horses along the moonlit road for half an hour, perhaps, when Scobell rode up beside her to whisper that there was another tavern ahead—the Red Bird Inn—that they must pass. Even as he was speaking they saw light ahead.

Hard Riding

"Ma'am," said the scout, "I reckon we gotta run our horses or git ketched. I see two pickets mounted an' more a-settin' on the veranda. Cock yuh pistol, ma'am, an' ride over them! Now, ma'am!"

As they rushed out of the night into the lantern glare ahead, the girl saw Vespasian Chancellor spring to his feet on the veranda and run for his haltered horse; then Scobell's horse hit a mounted man and knocked horse and rider halfway across the road; another rider jerked his mount out of the way as she hurled her galloping horse straight at him. Darkness swallowed them before the first pistol shot flashed behind them.

They had a long ride before them to the Federal pickets, and they settled down to it.

It was a flat, misty, moonlit country, forest-set and with few cultivated fields and fewer houses. But farther on the land became more uneven and rolling, with fewer woods and more cultivated stretches; and it was then that they heard the gallop of pursuit.

And now Operator 13 and John Scobell really began to ride.

So near now, was the pursuit, that those who followed them fired on them now and then. Now they were galloping in the path of the moon again, along a narrow, sunken road with high grassy banks, and Scobell called out to her that the pickets were two miles ahead.

As he spoke his horse stumbled and fell, and the Negro rolled free of the kicking creature, sprang up, and tried to catch his bridle; but the horse wheeled and galloped straight back toward the pursuers. When the colored scout fell, Operator 13 turned to aid him.

"Get up behind me, John!"

"No, ma'am," he panted; "if yuh gwine help me, ride on to de Union picket line!"

"I'm not going to leave you."

"Fo' Gawd's sake ride, ma'am! I kin hold 'em."

"No," she said, "I'll stay."

Gailliard Captured

Through the moonlight came riders running their horses full speed; and John Scobell's pistol spat flame. Operator 13 fired at the same time; and down crashed two horses together, blocking the road.

Into this kicking obstacle galloped the three other horsemen, unable to pull in and avoid the impact; and Scobell, firing coolly, knocked two more from their rearing horses. The other rider whirled his frantic animal and fled.

There were three dead young men lying there in the moonlight and two dead horses and another horse in the ditch with a broken leg. The fourth man, who wore a new gray uniform, lay near the suffering animal. He was seated in the ditch and he kept passing his hands across his forehead as though dazed.

John Scobell walked toward him and shot the wretched horse. Then he looked at the wounded man. Operator 13 had now dismounted, and she also drew nearer to look at the wounded man, who looked dumbly back at her.

The man was John Gailliard. Whether or not he recognized her the girl couldn't tell.

"John Gailliard," she said.

He merely looked at her. After a moment Scobell struck a match and held it close to Gailliard's open eyes. The fixed pupils of the eyes remained dilated.

They lifted him between them, carried him to her horse, got him into the saddle and held him there. The Negro scout said there was a house about half a mile ahead.

"Who was the man who escaped?" she asked.

"Chancellor, ma'am."

(Continued Tomorrow.)

(Copyright by International Magazine.)

"Operator 13" is the type of story that appears regularly in Cosmopolitan Magazine.

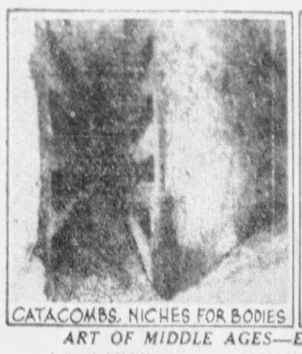
PICTORIAL EDUCATION

Compiled by ALBERT B. and MARY DE SALARDI for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

FOR SCHOOL PUPILS

DECEMBER 28, 1933. (For Section B.)

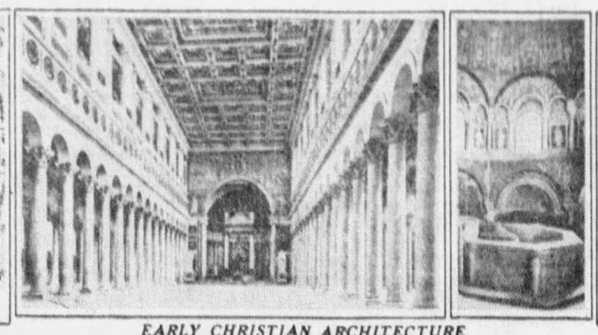
Approved for Pittsburgh City Schools, Allegheny County Schools and Parish Schools of Pittsburgh Diocese



ART OF MIDDLE AGES—EARLY CHRISTIAN ART

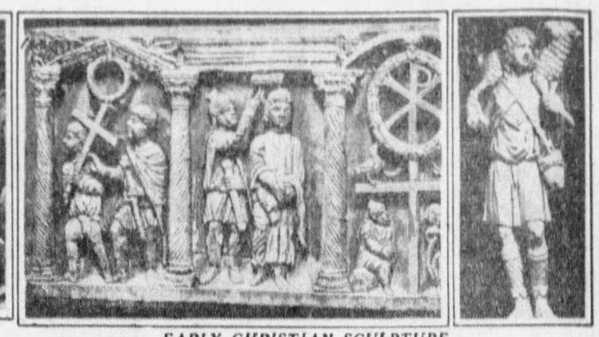
Art of Middle Ages is divided into Early Christian, Byzantine, Arab, Muscovite, Romanesque and Gothic.

Catacombs, first Christian cemeteries (about 45 near Rome, 550 miles long) show infancy of Early Christian Art; it lasted up to the tenth century. Starting as simple ornaments—decadent Roman Art in humble form—became symbolic expression of Christian ideas.



EARLY CHRISTIAN ARCHITECTURE

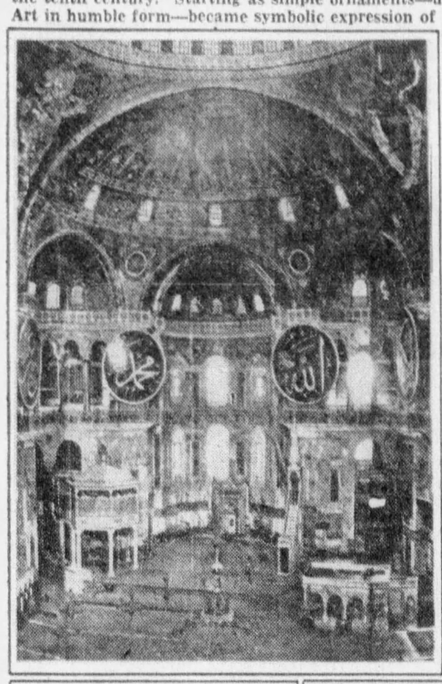
The basilica, same as that of the Romans—timber-roofed, three-aisled, bewindowed, plain-walled—and the baptistry similar to the round thermae were the types of churches. The arch over columns was introduced. Paintings and mosaics of religious nature embellished the whole. A bell tower was erected, separated from the main building. One of the greatest basilicas is "St. Paul's Beyond the Walls" in Rome (above). Baptistry, Ravenna shown at right.

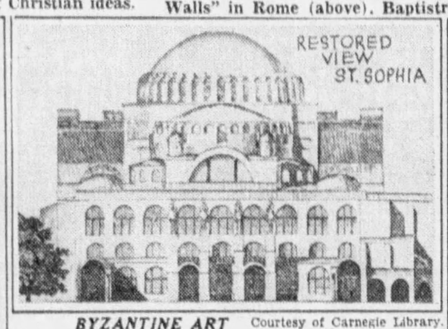


EARLY CHRISTIAN SCULPTURE

The Christian belief destroyed paganism and also prohibited its representation in art (in the beginning).

Sculpturing—except sarcophagi (above), carvings in ivory for book covers, crucifixes—became a lost art. An exceptionally charming figure of the Good Shepherd, one main subject of Christian statuary, is shown above, right. (Lateran Museum, Rome).

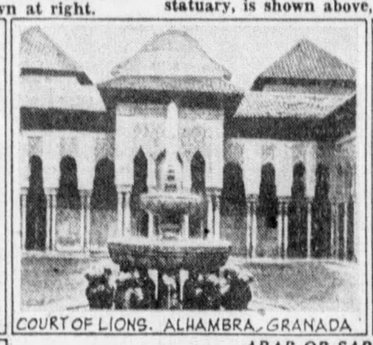




BYZANTINE ART Courtesy of Carnegie Library.

From Hellenistic, merged with Oriental, developed Byzantine art in the Eastern Roman empire in the fourth century. It reached its height under Justinian (527-565 A. D.). Chief characteristics of Byzantine architecture: Dome with pendentives over a square space, decorated cube form of capitals (right), marble panels. Pictorial art is done in mosaic; its figures are lifeless, typified, executed with great splendor and glitter. St. Sophia basilica, Constantinople (built 532-562; front view above; interior left) is a supreme representative.

FINE BYZANTINE WORK



ARAB OR SARACENIC ART

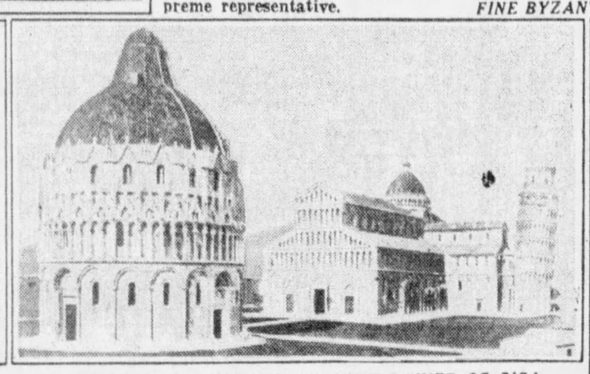
Arab art developed from the Byzantine art in the seventh century, lasting to the fifteenth century, and up to present day in Mohammedan countries.

Characteristics: Pointed or horseshoe arch from Persia, minaret; no human or animal forms as ornaments, an open court surrounded by arcade, linear patterns of wood carvings, latticed windows. Example: Alhambra, Granada (above, left).

In India, Arab merged with Buddhist art develops bulbous domes and decorations of grotesque animal and human forms. Example: Taj Mahal, a mausoleum.

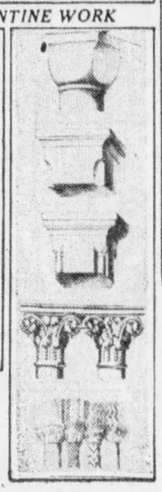
MUSCOVITE ART

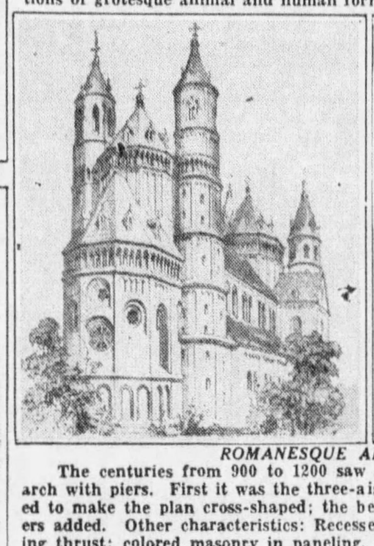
It is a mixture of Byzantine, Arab, Tartar and Indian. Above: The Cathedral of St. Basil of Moscow, built at command of Ivan the Terrible.



BAPTISTRY, CATHEDRAL, LEANING TOWER OF PISA

They are impressive examples of Italian Romanesque with absence of massive towers and interior vaulting; elaborate decorative traits in profusion. Romanesque capitals shown at right.





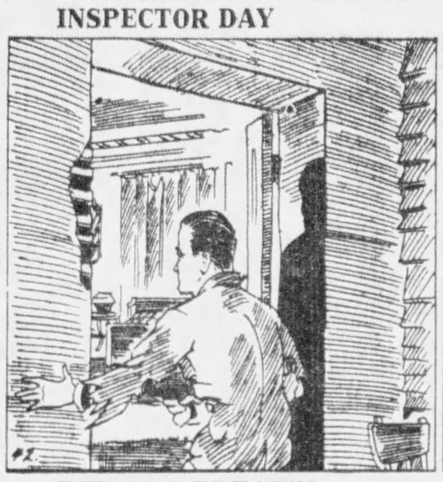
ROMANESQUE ARCHITECTURE

The centuries from 900 to 1200 saw a return of Roman style, including the arch with piers. First it was the three-aisled basilica; soon the transept was added to make the plan cross-shaped; the bell tower rose over the crossing, more towers added. Other characteristics: Recessed, decorated doorways, buttresses carrying thrust; colored masonry in paneling, porches projecting, walls arcaded, freezes of small, round arches, galleries of columns, stained glass. Northern Romanesque: Domes are covered with pointed exterior roofs; so also the heavy square towers. Example: Cathedral of Worms, Germany, built 1100-1181 (above, left).

Romanesque was introduced into England after the conquest by the Normans; hence it is called Norman Romanesque. Example: Tower, London (C. 1080, right).

DURING CHRISTMAS VACATION THE SUBJECT OF PICTORIAL EDUCATION IS ART HISTORY

INSPECTOR DAY



THIMBLE THEATER Popular "Popeye" Appears On Screen in "Season Greetinks" at the Stanley Theater Now Showing—"The Girl He Can't Forget"

MY GOSH! THERE'S JEB BRUISER FIGHTIN' WITH AN OLD WOMAN!
I KNEW HE WAS LOW, BUT I DIDN'T THINK HE'D PICK ON AN OLD LADY
I CAN'T UNDERSTAND HOW YOU WAS ABLE TO KNOCK ME DOWN - IF YOU WASN'T A WOMAN I'D —
WILL YA PLEASE QUIT WORRYIN' ABOUT ME SEX?
BOO!
FEMALE SEX IS JUS AS STRONG AS MALE SEX.
MISTER BRUISER, YER GO'NER LEARN ABOUT WOMEN FROM ME
SWISH
© 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved
EGAR
12 28

TIM TYLER'S LUCK A Burnt Offering

I AM SAFE AND UNHURT / THIS WILD BEAST HAS SAVED LORRILLAS LIFE /
WE MUST GET AWAY FROM HERE QUICKLY
© 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved
THE SAVAGES OVERCOME THEIR FRIGHT AND RETURN TO SEEK VENGEANCE /
UNCLE HALFORD, SPUD - LOOK / THE GRASS IS AFIRE / AND LOOK — THEY'RE RUNNING OUR ELEPHANT AWAY AND TAKING REX PRISONER /
THE SCOUNDRELS —
THEY'VE SET FIRE TO THE FIELD ALL AROUND US / WE'RE TRAPPED — WHAT'LL WE DO, UNCLE HAL?
LYMAN YOUNG
12 28

THE JUNIOR PATROL What Can This Be?

YESTERDAY WE LEFT JUNIOR AND SPIKE WAITING FOR A PACKAGE SENT TO SPIKE BY HIS BROTHER BILL WHO IS WITH THE U.S. NAVY IN SOUTH AMERICA.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.
HERE YOU ARE, BOYS, AN' I'M GLAD TO GET RID OF THIS THING!
WHAT IS IT, SPIKE?
GEE, GOSH! LOOKEY, JUNIOR!
HANDLE WITH CARE.
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
I HOPE HE DOESN'T REACH OUT AN' BITE ME!
HE CAN'T BOTHER US AS LONG AS HE'S IN THIS BOX, JUNIOR!

BRINGING UP FATHER

SAY! ARE YOU GONNA GIVE THIS PARTY OR NOT? YOU'VE CHANGED YOUR MIND THREE TIMES SO FAR.
IT'S ME WIFE'S MIND THAT CHANGES. BUT IT'S ALL FIXED NOW.
I RESERVED ALL ACCOMMODATIONS ON THE TRAINS SO SHE CAN'T GIT OUT OF THE TOWN SHES IN - AM I CLEVER?
I'LL SAY-
WHAT'S THIS? A TELEGRAM UNDER THE DOOR - AH' IT'S FROM MAGGIE-
SHE SAYS SHE CAN'T GIT TRAIN ACCOMMODATIONS SO SHES COMIN BACK BY AIR-PLANE-
GEO MCMANUS
12-28

TILLIE THE TOILER

GOOD MORNING, MR. WORMWOOD
GOOD MORNING
GRUMPH
HE MUST HAVE PUT HIS FACE IN COLD STORAGE
I FEEL A SOCK IN THE JAW CREEPING UP AND DOWN MY ARM
YOU KNOW, MAC I DON'T KNOW WHETHER IT MAKES ME MORE NERVOUS TO HAVE OLD WORMWOOD SPEAK TO ME OR NOT SAY ANYTHING
HOW SO?
WELL, WHEN HE SPEAKS I'M AFRAID HE'LL GET TOO FRESH AND WHEN HE'S SILENT I'M AFRAID HE'LL FIRE ME 12-28
CONTINUED
RUSS WESTOVER

MICKEY MOUSE

AN' THAT'S TH' DOPE! TH' HAIR AN' RED FLANNELS WERE USED T' MAKE ALL THIS COUNTERFEIT MONEY!
BY GOLLY, MICKEY! THAT WAS TH' SLICKEST BIT O' CASE-SOLVIN' I EVER SEEN!
DON'T KID YOURSELF! THIS CASE WON'T BE SOLVED UNTIL WE CAPTURE TH' CRIMINALS!
12-28

THE NEBBS

Revenge

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

IT BEING IMPOSSIBLE TO TELL OUR STORY IN ONE DAY, YOU WILL REMEMBER IT IS THE DAY AFTER CHRISTMAS - RUDY AND GREGORY ARE STILL IN JAIL AT COLFAX WHERE THE DUMB MOTORCYCLE COP PUT THEM
12-28
YOU LOCKED THESE MEN UP? WHERE'S THE COMPLAINANT? WHY, THAT'S THE CHIEF OF POLICE OF NORTHVILLE - LET THEM OUT!!
HE TOLD ME HE'D BE BACK AND PROSECUTE.
YES, AND I'LL TELL YOU SOMETHING ELSE - I'M GOING TO SUE THE COUNTY FOR FALSE ARREST UNLESS THEY PUT YOU BACK ON THE END OF A PLOW WHERE YOU BELONG!!
YES, WHERE'S THE COMPLAINANT? HE DON'T DAST SHOW HIS FACE - HE TALKED A POOR WIDOW OUTTA HER LIFE'S SAVINGS - HE SHOULDN'T HAVE NO TROUBLE CONVINCING THIS DUMB COP
THEY CAN'T STICK ME IN THE COOP OVER NIGHT AND GET AWAY WITH IT! - AND I'LL GET THE DICKENS FROM FANNY. SHE ALWAYS TOLD ME TO MIND MY OWN BUSINESS BUT IT NEVER SEEMED LIKE IT WAS ENOUGH FOR ME TO DO
AND IT AIN'T NO FUN NEITHER - US COPS IS JUST GOT TO PEEK INTO OTHER PEOPLE'S AFFAIRS - I'D GET OLD, DUMB AND STALE IF I ONLY LOOKED AFTER MY OWN AFFAIRS!
W. A. CARLSON
(Copyright, 1933, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

THE BUNGLE FAMILY

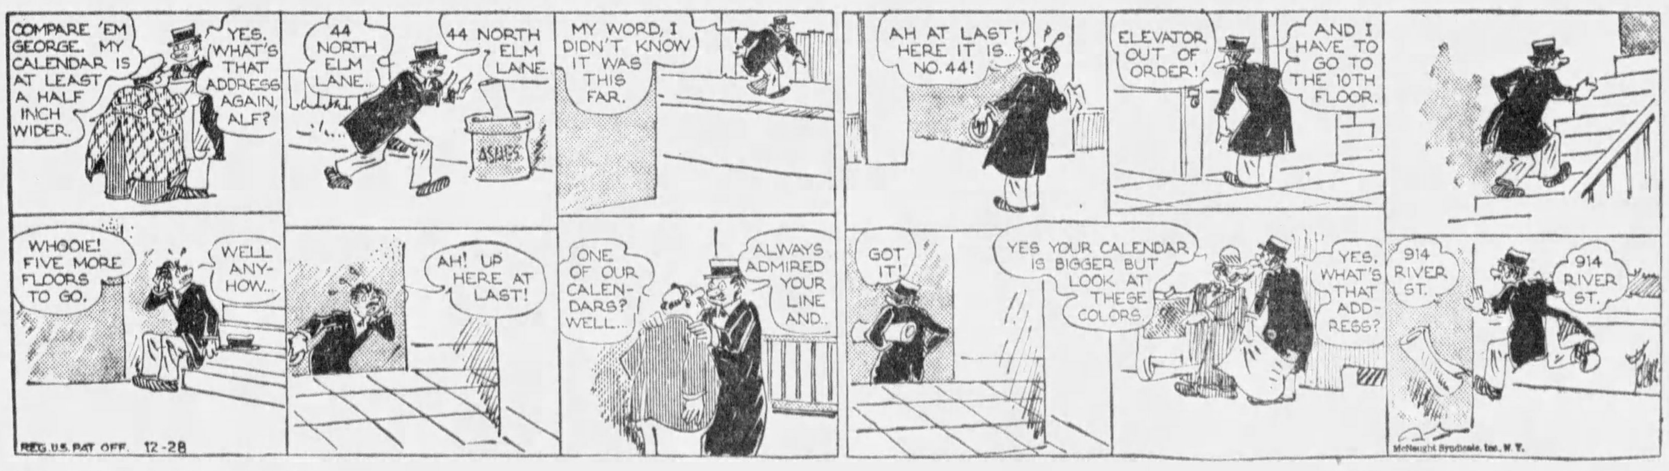
ATTA BOY, ZERO - HONEST, YOU'RE STRONGER THAN A GREAT BIG HORSE - I GUESS THEY AIN'T A POOCH IN THE WHOLE WORLD KIN PULL A SLED LIKE YOU KIN
CORN POPPERS
© 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

SEE, ZERO, YOU MADE IT - NOW WE'RE AT THE TOP - GOIN' DOWN HILL IS A CINCH - AN' COMIN' HOME, THE SLED WILL BE EMPTY - SO YOU SEE - YOU AND ME AIN'T GOT NOTHIN' TO WORRY 'BOUT NOW.

HOW MANY TIMES HAVE I TOLD YOU NOT TO YELL AT ME WHEN YOU SEE ME TALKIN' BUSINESS TO SOMEBODY? I CAN'T EVER GET A GOOD JOB IF FOLKS THINK MY MA IS A WASHWOMAN - I AIN'T PROUD - BUT BUSINESS MEN IS KINDA FUNNY ABOUT THOSE THINGS.
SMOKY JOE'S
DARRELL McCLURE
12-28

THE BUNGLE FAMILY

Calendar Week



COMPARE 'EM GEORGE. MY CALENDAR IS AT LEAST A HALF INCH WIDER.
YES. (WHAT'S THAT ADDRESS AGAIN, ALF?
44 NORTH ELM LANE.
44 NORTH ELM LANE
ASHES
MY WORD, I DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS THIS FAR.
AH AT LAST! HERE IT IS.. NO. 44!
ELEVATOR OUT OF ORDER!
AND I HAVE TO GO TO THE 10TH FLOOR.
WHOOIE! FIVE MORE FLOORS TO GO.
WELL ANY-HOW..
AH! UP HERE AT LAST!
ONE OF OUR CALEN-DARS? WELL..
ALWAYS ADMIRED YOUR LINE AND..
GOT IT!
YES YOUR CALENDAR IS BIGGER BUT LOOK AT THESE COLORS.
YES, WHAT'S THAT ADDRESS?
914 RIVER ST.
914 RIVER ST.
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF. 12-28
McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N. Y.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Charity Begins at Home

Turn to the Prudence Penny Prize-Winning Recipes for Suggestions for the Table

Something Else to Worry About

Between Two Fears

The Invisible Men

A Reputation at Stake

Bugs Baer

Make Way For Old Doc Spratt

We are pleased to announce that Old Doc Spratt will contribute 10 articles to this column. Old Doc will write on economic recovery.

You remember that Old Doc went to Washington to save the country and left for the same reason.

He is the gypsy fortune teller of the inexplicable, monarch of the unexplainable and lookout man for the inscrutable.

Providing that he is able. But only in the last two syllables.

His first article will be, "What I Don't Know About Things."

This will be a book length thesis.

His second contribution will be, "What I Know About Anything."

This will be a very short treatise.

After that, the Old Doc will bear down and fire at will. We don't claim you will understand an Old Doc article. But it makes a good razor wiper.

Old Doc will elaborate on the inflated dollar, the deflated dollar and the dollar souffle. He knows everything about a dollar except where it is.

The other seven artices will explain the first three.

Old Doc is a genius in parenthesis. He knows his mathematics. Figures are like wax in his hands. He's almost a window dresser.

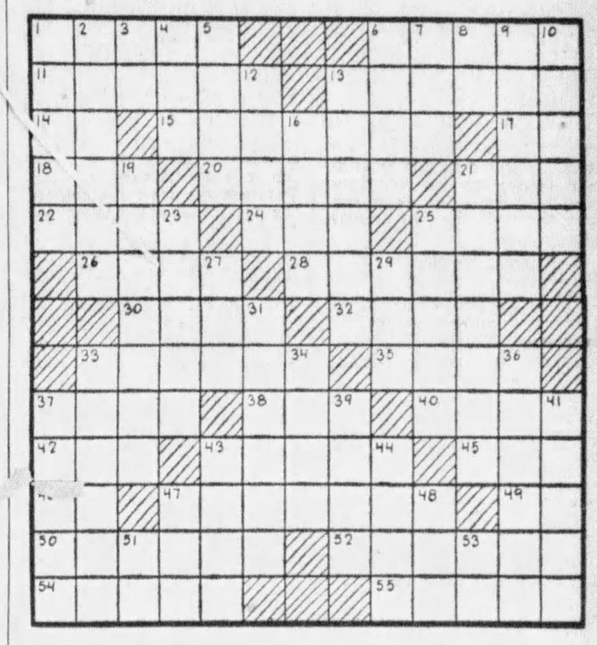
Don't face the problems of the new year without first reading Old Doc's magnificent fiscal acrobatics. He steams up a fine goulash of sixes and sevens.

Monetary and economic problems melt butterishly under the scorching acteylene of Old Doc's concentrated reasoning. Among his many successful achievements are the salvaging of one million whiffle-trees from the old hoss cars and his historic series of weather predictions for the Arctic Circle. When Old Doc prophesied, "Cold, cold and colder," the world's hitch-hikers swung their sensitive thumbs in the other direction.

We expect this financial wizard to turn in his first article next week. At the present, he is at home doing a neat job of sewing his pearl-buttoned spats to his carpet slippers.

(Copyright, 1933. Distributed by Universal Service, Inc.)

Today's Crossword Puzzle



HORIZONTAL

1—Cylinder.
6—Who was the founder of the Mogul Empire in India?
11—What is the second largest city in Spain?
13—Entirely.
14—Correlative of either.
15—What channel, an arm of the Atlantic, is between Wales and Southwest England?
17—Behold!
18—Gratuity.
20—Penetrate.
21—Wager.
22—Elder son of Isaac.
24—Digit.
25—Possessive pronoun.
26—Suggest.
28—What is the capital of the "Empire" State?
30—Gentlemen.
32—Win by effort.
33—Satiated.
35—Back of the foot.
37—Part of "to be."
38—Cut grass.
40—Boil slowly.
42—Beam.
43—Religious ceremonies.
45—Artificial elevation.
46—Like.
47—What city of Prussia, just southwest of Berlin, was the site of former royal residences?
49—Concerning.
50—In what city of Italy is the Bridge of Sighs?
52—Breathed noisily.
54—Prepares for publication.
55—Wares.

VERTICAL

1—Struck.
2—Subdivision of a county.
3—Hypothetical force.
4—Sphere.
5—Italian coins.
6—Crude fellow.
7—Everything.
8—Have existence.
9—Masculine name.
10—Peasants in India.
12—Force.
13—Who was the famous collaborator of the English essayist, Addison?
16—Portico.
19—What burgh in Renfrew County, Scotland, is noted for its shawls?
21—What English novelist wrote "Clayhanger?"
23—What college is at Schnectady, N. Y.?
25—Timid rodents.
27—Attempt.
29—Exclamation of contempt.
31—Descendant of Shem.
33—Stopped.
34—Minute points.
36—Looked at contemptuously.
37—Courageous.
39—Marries.
41—Injurious plants.
43—Fabulous birds.
44—Chanted.
47—Hole in the ground.
48—Sound made by the cow.
51—Symbol for nickel.
53—Proposed language.

Herewith is the solution to yesterday's puzzle.

A	P	R	I	L		P	O	O	P	S
R	E	A	D	Y		L	A	P	E	L
P	R	E	T	E	R	N	A	T	U	R	A	L
T	O	R		S	E	A	T		S	I	V	A
A	Y	E	S		S	T	O	A		L	E	T
H	O	S	T	S		R	O	P	E		R	E
		S	E	A	S	O	N	I	N	G
F	A		M	A	L	L		S	I	L	O	S
E	R	R		R	A	I	L		D	O	G	E
A	R	A	B		S	T	O	P		A	R	T
T	E	T	R	A	H	E	D	R	I	T	E	S
	S	I	E	G	E		G	O	R	E	S
	T	O	W	E	D		E	W	E	R	S

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

The yeast pack is recommended for the purpose of renovating pores that are loaded with sebaceous substances and atmospheric dust. Crumble up two cakes, add enough milk to dissolve them, producing a paste the consistency of whipped cream. Spread over a clean skin surface. Cover the eyes with pads that have been dipped in witch hazel, lie down until the pack begins to flake. Use tepid water, skip over the skin with ice, dry, put on your roses.

A callous on the outer side of the big toe is a common trouble. Don't treat it with a knife; you're likely to get into trouble, especially if you make a wound. Rub with mineral oil, cover with gauze. Next morning bathe the foot in warm soap suds, rinse and dry, treat with the smooth side of a pumice stone. Repeat until the thickened cuticle has vanished. And get wider shoes.

Have you heard about the permanent blush? It is formed by tattooing with rose colored ink. No, madame reader, we do not recommend this form of beautifying, we're just telling you about it. So that, when somebody at the bridge party mentions it, you can sneer and say, "Oh, yes, I've known about that for ages and ages."

WHY PITTSBURGH IS GREAT
Has Some of Largest Commercial Coal Plants in United States

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

BE A PITTSBURGH BOOSTER
To Your Friends in Other Cities

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1933

Established 1927, by Pitt Publishing Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. President, William Randolph Hearst; Publisher, Wilmer M. Jacoby; Assistant Publisher, Charles B. Joseph; Treasurer, A. W. Clark; Managing Editor, Dwight Fee; Business Manager, McHenry Browne. Entered as second class matter in the postoffice at Pittsburgh, Pa.

National advertising representatives Paul Block and Associates, 247 Park avenue, New York; Palmolive Bldg., Chicago; General Motors Bldg., Detroit; Little Bldg., Boston; Guarantee Trust Bldg., Philadelphia; Russ Bldg., San Francisco; 1151 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for re-publication of all news credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of re-publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

New League Enticements

Senators Should Beware of Propagandists' Efforts to Get the United States as a Member

Walking delegates for the League of Nations have started a new campaign to entice the United States into accepting membership in the League.

These League propagandists on American soil are attempting to obtain from United States Senators opinions as to what changes in the organization of the League should be made in order to obtain the United States as a member.

These propagandists seek in this way to commit a group of Senators hitherto opposed to the entrance of this country into the League in favor of American entrance under certain conditions.

Senators in Congress and high officials of the administration will be well advised if they refuse to make any commitments whatever concerning American membership in the League of Nations.

The American people have settled this question for themselves at the polls. They have repeatedly affirmed the action of the Senate in refusing to ratify the Treaty of Versailles which contained the covenant of the League of Nations.

Reorganization of the League of Nations is now the subject of a European quarrel. Great Britain and France and Italy advocate fundamental changes in the League's structure in the hope of inducing Germany to return to the League.

France and her allies are opposing any change in the League's organic law lest their grip on the machinery of the League is weakened.

With the United States, Russia, Japan, Germany, Turkey, Mexico and several South American countries either out of the League altogether or on their way out, the European governments which rule the League and those which are attempting to rule it, are looking abroad for allies.

This explains the new campaign on the eve of another session of Congress to lure United States Senators into answering questions concerning the future of the League that can later be interpreted as commitments in favor of American entrance into the League.

It is a cunning scheme, like other machinations of the League and its propagandists, to entangle the United States in the political quarrels of Europe against which all the counsels of the Farewell Address were directed and against which all the experience of the American people from the time of George Washington until now are a warning.

Any Senator in Congress and any administration in power that would declare at this late date in favor of involving the United States in the wreck of the League of Nations on any terms ought to be and doubtless would be derided out of office at the next election.

Better Housing Outlook

The Legislature's Refusal to Help Will Not Frustrate The Slum Clearance Movement

Sidney A. Teller, director of the Irene Kaufmann Settlement, informs us that a group of Pittsburghers interested in improving the habitations of slum dwellers are trying to arrange for a housing conference during the second week of January, at which some national and international experts will speak.

It is evident that the Legislature's refusal to help is not going to be permitted to frustrate the slum clearance movement.

Mr. Teller calls attention to the National Industrial Recovery Act and its liberal provisions to aid housing projects. The Public Works Administration stands ready to grant 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials to public bodies that will replace slum dwellings with clean, comfortable, sanitary houses for people in modest circumstances.

Pittsburgh should create a municipal housing authority to take advantage of the opportunity for federal aid. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Los Angeles and other cities have already done so.

The sympathy shown by Mayor-elect W. N. McNair for the slum clearance movement augurs well.

It is to be hoped the conference proposed by Mr. Teller and his associates will materialize. The time is ripe for action.

Pioneer Iron Works

There Is Much That Is Picturesque and Romantic in Our Early Industrial History.

The Sun-Telegraph suggested on Tuesday that our pioneer iron works should be the subject of one of the pictures of scenes from Western Pennsylvania history that are to be painted on the walls of the courtrooms in the new Federal Building.

As if in answer to that suggestion the Western Pennsylvania Historical Magazine came out yesterday with a reproduction of a lithograph of the Great Western Iron Works, erected at Brady's Bend, Armstrong County, about 1840, as a frontispiece. It is an interesting picture.

The picture accompanies an article by Arthur Cecil Bining, of the University of Pennsylvania, on "The Rise of Iron Manufacture in Western Pennsylvania." Dr. Bining tells us that soon after the arrival of white men in these parts "iron works of different kinds arose amidst the shadows of deep green forest glades, where Indians still lingered." More than a dozen iron works were established in Fayette County before 1800.

There is much that is picturesque and romantic in our early industrial history, and it is gratifying that this, as well as the deeds of our soldiers and statesmen, is receiving the attention of historians.

Clothes Hoarders

Don't Be One.

A clothes-hoarder is a man who keeps his old suits and overcoats and hats hidden away in a closet, year after year. He never wears them. He may have forgotten all about them. And there they remain, doing nobody any good but the moths.

With winter here and several hundred thousands of men in the city jobless, hungry and threadbare, how about digging out these old garments—if you're a hoarder—and passing them on to somebody?

Almost any charitable organization will distribute them for you, while the Salvation Army always has a demand for them.

Anyway, it's an idea.

Hoarded clothes don't keep anybody warm, as long as they're hoarded.

Keep It Out of His Reach!

(Copyright, 1933.)

In getting rid of prohibition, the purpose of the people was to get rid of the EVILS of prohibition without permitting the old evil of the saloon to return.

Speakeasies must not be tolerated. They must be destroyed—first, by law enforcement; second, by making it convenient for the drinking public to drink decently in respectable, regulated restaurants and hotels; and third, by public opinion—good citizens must boycott speakeasies and bootleggers, and patronize only the licensed, tax-paying establishment.

Likewise in the wholesale trade racketeering must be sternly repressed. Such frauds as the misuse of import licenses call for stern action by both State and Federal Governments.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The headline pitch the sad-eyed Peter Arno gives his career is baffling to those who have watched him zoom across the social latitudes. Handsome, in a collar ad. way, he's the last person one would suspect of indulging socks to the jaw and pistols for two.

His manner is tinged with self-immolation and restraint. With the voice of a church verger, he is chock-full of airs and graces, the sort old ladies adore. His ribald etchings are even limned with a bland innocence. During early days of his marriage to Lois Long he always sat in far away corners at parties.

But with success he began to acquire form and coloring. Several times the tabloids gave his didoes a twirl. Arno's real name is Curtis Arnoux Peters, his father being Supreme Court Justice Peters, of a family long distinguished in Knickerbocker history.

At Yale he was a glee club enthusiast, playing the piano well. Later, as a member of Gilda Gray's shimmy orchestra, he was a nonentity. Then Harold Ross discovered him as an artist through his "Whoops Sisters." He is considered one of the town's best dressers.

* * *

A very gracious and learned lady instructor of English chides me for not keeping my participles on straight. It seems in almost every column I leave one, or more hanging. "You are," she tradelasts, "one of the most zestful columnists, but I urge you to nail down your wavering verbs." Then she reverses her ex-cathedra in a revealing twinge: "Sometimes I wonder why we do not go through our grammars and unsparingly cull out the needless rules, the over ambitious phrasing that children never understand and oldsters only half understand themselves!"

* * *

I feel the same way about writing. While generally faintly conscious of edging a participle over the cliff to dangle helplessly, I write almost wholly by ear and to me the chief effort should be to make the paragraph gripping, let split infinitives fall where they may.

* * *

Mrs. Vera Corbett, widow of the famous pugilist, is inconsolable over loss of her husband. She sees only a handful of intimates and then only occasionally. Once a week or so she takes a short afternoon motor ride, but most of the time she sits alone and staring in the room of her Bayside home where Corbett breathed his last. Corbett, incidentally, aside from the home, left a quarter-million dollar estate.

* * *

The old-fashioned iron skillet is bringing backwoodsey charm to smart cafes. Certain dishes are brought, hot and smouldering like flax, through the dining rooms in these receptacles for diners to behold before serving. George Lamaze is credited with the revival.

* * *

Will Rogers, in a speech at a dinner for Emil Ludwig, was comparing peek paragraphing to Ludwig's brand of literature. "When one gets as prominent," said Rogers, "as Dr. Ludwig, the keyhole is not needed. They let you lay under the bed. And that's why Ludwig writes books instead of paragraphs."

* * *

Thingumabobs: Carveth Wells, globe trotter, has a country place in Connecticut . . . Jos. V. Connolly, in dining out, invariably adorns his lapel with a gardenia . . . Theodor, long of the Ritz, is now "directeur du restaurant" at Pierre's . . . Louis Bromfield does not smoke . . . Florence Reed is a walker around the park reservoir . . . The Hamish McLaurens were received by Gandhi in India . . . Ewing Galloway is an agnostic because no religion to him offers a satisfactory heaven for dogs . . . Eddie Peabody, banjoist de luxe, and Gary Cooper are firmest of pals . . . Fay King has lived in the same hotel during her career in New York . . . Nazimova likes to see plays from the balcony.

* * *

I'm up to the chin in a swell jam. A neighbor's 5-year-old called and left on my desk a Prussian soldier, fashioned of figs and dates with a chocolate hat and marshmallow knapsack. That was two hours ago, now he's in the other room again inquiring for it. And I've got to call my wife to one side, hang my head and with a cat swallowing the canary grin, confess: "I et it!"

(Copyright, 1933, McNaught Synd., Inc.)

OUR RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

Love's Slave

I cannot bid love come or go, at will,
As though it were a light switched off and on.
Instead of some great orb whose glories spill
Across life's threshold with the glow of dawn.
Nor am I Joshua, to command the sun
Stand still in heaven for a full day's space;
So when love wills, it comes, and so is gone
While I am panting, still, for its embrace.

There have been those who planted careful seeds
And said: "When April comes then love will bloom;"
So versed were they in all its ways and needs,
For them it flowered, yielding rare perfume.
However much of prayer or care I gave,
I have not been love's master, but love's slave.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

Why Should They Respect Us?

I'd been giving young Jim, aged 17, some tips about life.

Since I'm fond of young Jim, I was doing the best job I could. Since I'm also fond of Elsie, I was secretly handing the old girl a lot of credit. Imagine then my surprise when, at my beaming conclusions, young Jim looked me over and drawled:

"Sez you!"

Mad? Of course I was. The disrespectful, ungrateful young puppy! Talking to an older person like that! Why, if I'd done that at his age! A good, sharp calldown—that's what he needed, to teach him some manners. I'd show him!

Then, suddenly, even as the words boiled—came realization.

Why shouldn't Jim answer me like that?

Hadn't I, and every other member of my generation, given him the right to answer me like that?

Here we are, lecturing and advising Youth—telling Youth to follow our example; to do as we have done—AND WHAT HAVE WE DONE?

WE'VE RAISED CAIN—THAT'S WHAT WE OLDSTERS HAVE DONE!

We've taken the beautiful, abundant earth which our fathers had won for us, and the honor and glory and power of the nation they'd built for us—and we've made a mess of it all!

We've let little children work like slaves in mines and factories and fields.

We've let millions of other little children and their mothers die from neglect.

We've let a whole army of human beings grow up as illiterate and vicious as wild dogs.

We've let trembling old people starve in gutters and freeze in attics and be overrun by vermin that their poor old hands could no longer fight.

We've let our schools be junked—and our laws be mocked—and our homes be turned into booze dives.

We've let the diseased and the simple-minded breed until their awful spawn endangered human life and laid waste on human decency.

We've let all these things—and infinitely more shameful things—happen to the earth which we inherited, which these children must inevitably inherit.

And we didn't do it because we had to—because we were weak, or even because we were deliberately crooked or cruel. We did it because we were silly and sentimental, lazy, cowardly and indifferent.

YET WE EXPECT THEM TO RESPECT US!

We expect them to respect us after we've spoiled everything for them—messed up all their chances—smeared their young dreams—shattered their young ambition!

Respect us? Never yet have I seen a young person who wasn't willing—yes, eager—to respect true honor and courage, tenderness and wisdom, in an older person.

But there never was a young person who respected an older person just because he was old. We were forced to PRETEND such respect in our youth, you and I. And because of that, the stupidity and selfishness of old age went unchecked.

But that time has gone forever. YOUTH, TODAY, WILL RESPECT YOU ONLY WHEN AND IF YOU DESERVE RESPECT!

YOUTH, TODAY, WILL NO LONGER TAKE YOU AT YOUR FACE VALUE — WILI NO LONGER HONOR YOU MERELY BECAUSE YOU ARE A FATHER OR MOTHER, A LEADING CITIZEN, OR A SEVENTY-YEAR-OLD BUNCH OF BONES.

YOUTH, TODAY, LOOKS AT THE RECORDS—AND KEEPS ITS TONGUE IN ITS CHEEK, UNTIL IT SEES THEM.

And I, for one, thank God for it!

Now, maybe, Mamma and Papa and the other Pillars of Society will shake off the moth balls and show a little real action!

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

By S. H. Connolly

Fill each blank:

1. "The fool doth think he is wise, but the ——— man knows himself to be a fool." Shakespeare, "As You Like It."
2. "As he died to make men holy let us die to make men ——— While God is marching on." Julia Ward Howe, "Battle Hymn of the Republic."
3. "The only way to have a friend is to be ———" Emerson, "Of Friendship."
4. "Ye shall know them by their ——— Do men gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles?" Bible.
5. "Who pants for ——— finds but short repose A breath revives him or a breath o'erthrows." Pope, "Second Book of Horace."

Do you know:

6. What is meant by "half-breeds?"
7. What is an accomplice?
8. When were the Philippines ceded to United States?
9. Among what three countries was Poland partitioned from 1772 to 1918?
10. What are "Gabriel's hounds?"

Match correctly:

11. Paul Claudel	American astrologer.
12. John Hancock	French poet and diplomat.
13. James Oppenheim	American statesman.
14. Evangeline Adams	British biographer.
15. Lytton Strachey	American author.

Answers to Today's Tests:

1. Wise. 2. Free. 3. One. 4. Fruits. 5. Glow. 6. Children of parents of different races, particularly of white and American Indian parents. 7. One in some way connected with the commission of a crime. 8. 1899. 9. Germany, Russia and Austria. 10. A spectral howling pack supposed to foretell death. 11. French poet and diplomat. 12. American statesman. 13. American author. 14. American astrologer. 15. British biographer.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy

Too often parents forget that their adult children have grown up.

They pay no more attention to their ideas and desires than they did in the early teen age.

Having lived longer, the parents want to impress the idea that their judgment is better and their opinions more nearly correct than the children's could be.

Experience is a great teacher and years should add to soundness of judgment; and there is a degree of respect due parents, of course.

But parents expect too much when they seek to control the thoughts and establish the opinions of the younger generation.

Developments in recent years have changed things so much that it becomes necessary for older people to revise their ideas and modernize their thoughts and themselves.

The basic principles of right and wrong, good and bad, are the same.

But methods of business, lines of attack, social and financial, are entirely different, and often not approved by the older generation.

There should be no temporizing with principles to be preserved.

But great changes have taken place, and there may be a better way to attain the desired result; the young clearer head may very well lead.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Text for Today Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.—John, xi:25.

(Today's text is suggested by the Rev. Dr. Thomas H. Newcomb, pastor, Eighth United Presbyterian Church, North Side.)

Bank Deposit Insurance Begins With New Year

By James T. Williams, Jr.

WITH the new year will begin a nationwide experiment of intense interest to many millions of bank depositors of whom all too many have suffered losses in bank failures during the last decade.

This experiment is authorized by Congress under the terms of the Glass-Steagall Act, approved at the last session of Congress. It provides for a Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The purpose of this agency will be to safeguard the assets of national banks which have been closed and the assets of state banks which are members of the Federal Reserve System. It also will insure the deposits of all banks entitled to the benefits of insurance under the act.

The temporary federal deposit insurance fund will insure bank deposits up to $2,500 from the beginning of the new year until the new fiscal year begins on July 1, 1934.

On the latter date, the permanent provisions of the Glass-Steagall Act go into effect. Under these provisions one hundred and fifty million dollars will be appropriated from the Treasury to pay for the capital stock of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Every bank which is or which becomes a member of the Federal Reserve System on or before July 1, 1934, is required to take all the steps necessary to become a class A stockholder of the Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Member banks will hold class A stock that will be authorized to pay dividends out of net earnings.

* * *

Bank Examination Must Be Thorough

ONLY Federal Reserve Banks will hold class B stock, and these will not be entitled to any payment of dividend.

Banks which are members of the Federal Reserve System will be required to apply to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for class A stock in an amount equal to one-half of 1 per cent of their total deposit liabilities.

The new law requires that the banks must be thoroughly examined to determine the adequacy of the assets of the bank to meet all of its liabilities to depositors and other creditors.

More than 7,000 banks have already been examined under the deposit insurance provisions of the new law, and the examination will be completed as rapidly as it can be conducted effectively.

After July 1, 1934, when the permanent deposit insurance plan goes into effect, the following classes of insurance will apply to deposits in banks insured under this plan:

One hundred per cent insurance on deposits not exceeding $10,000; 75 per cent of the amount, if any, which exceeds $10,000, but does not exceed $50,000; and 50 per cent of the amount, if any, by which such sum exceeds $50,000.

Considerable criticism of the permanent provisions of the Glass-Steagall Act has come from bankers in various parts of the country. This criticism will not deter the Roosevelt administration from carrying out the plain intent of Congress to give the full measure of protection to bank deposits for which the Glass-Steagall Act provides.

* * *

Chairman Jones' Reply to Critics

SPEAKING for the administration, Chairman Jones, of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has repeatedly informed bankers who have criticized the new law that if they think they are going to get rid of this law at the next session of Congress they "simply do not know the Congress."

Furthermore, Senator Fletcher, chairman of the Senate Committee on Banking, recently announced that the deposit insurance features of the Glass-Steagall Act will be strengthened at the coming session if further examination shows any weak spot in the existing law.

There is nothing particularly new in the protection for bank deposits written into the Glass-Steagall Act at the last session. Many bankers have forgotten that when the Federal Reserve Act passed the Senate in 1913 it included a provision inserted by Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, long a conservative leader of the Democratic party, to guarantee bank deposits from the profits of the Federal Reserve System. This provision was stricken out in conference upon the ground that, as the Federal Reserve System was in the nature of an experiment its initial operations might be embarrassed by including at the outset the guarantee provision proposed by the late Senator Williams.

For the last 10 years Congressman Steagall, of Alabama, has fought hard for federal protection for bank deposits, and the Roosevelt administration is firmly resolved to give the experiment a fair trial.

Human Side of the News

The Battle of the Dollar and the Leaders on Both Sides—Farley a Genial Soul

By Edwin C. Hill

THE historian of these times will give a prominent place to the Battle of the Dollar. Daily it rages, to the puzzlement of the politician, the delight of the doctrinaire and the confusion of the masses. The great regret is that it approaches a crisis at the moment when business seems rarin' to go and when, for the first time in years, the country has begun to read with happy surprise that great industrial corporations have emerged from the red, and that the common thing today is to declare a dividend, instead of passing one, which had been the general practice since the winter of 1931.

A million words have been spilled thus far in the general melee. Al Smith shouts "Boloney Dollar," and Gen. Johnson retorts, "It's the soundest dollar in the world." Fess, of Ohio; Reed, of Pennsylvania, and Mill, of New York, unlimber the batteries of the Old Guard and fire a salvo at the Brain Trust. The fiery McKellar, of Tennessee, lets go with both barrels at Wall street. Dr. Fisher, of Yale, o. k.'s the President's gold policy. Dr. Sprague, of Harvard, n. g.'s it.

Prophets are few in the land and of sadly tarnished repute. But the eminent statistician, Col. Leonard P. Ayres, of Cleveland, did prophesy on the last day of last year that 1933 would be the year of the great debate on dollars and debts. Little use to review all the arguments and backtalk. The one thing you may be sure of is that the boys down in the Grand Canyon of Money, Wall street, won't be hurt much.

Wall street knows the game all the way. If wheat, coal, copper and onions are to be more valuable, you will find them putting their money into wheat, coal, copper and onions. It's the small business man and the wage earner who must watch their steps if unchecked inflation lands on us and all the dire things happen that the gold standard people say will happen if it does land. But are they going to happen? Is there to be such a grand whoopee of inflation?

* * *

Roosevelt Keeps His Pledges

THE one point which seems to have been overlooked is that Franklin D. Roosevelt has a way of keeping his pledges. He pledged us beer, and we got it. He pledged us repeal, and we got it. He pledged a reduction in government costs, and down they have come. In his inaugural address, and subsequently, he pledged us a sound currency. He knows as well as anyone that his administration must stand or fall on this money question.

Those closest to him have said to this writer that there is no real cause for alarm. The deflating of the gold dollar was necessary. It is being brought about with the least possible shock to business. Business is on the upturn, without a doubt, and confidence in the government's credit is displayed by an enormous over-subscription of the last offering of bonds.

Through it all the President seems pretty calm and self-contained, like a man who knows where he is going and who will let us in on the destination when he gets what he is after. Well, he hasn't failed us so far on one major promise, I, for one, don't think he's about to start.

* * *

Farley Hates To Disappoint

JAMES ALOYSIUS FARLEY, Postmaster General of these more or less United States, while a sojourner recently in that gay Paree was planning soon to start for home to assuage the anguish of politicians who yearn for federal jobs for the faithful. Having chatted with the Pope and jested with Mussolini, on the first vacation he ever had in his life, the tall and genial James posted to Ireland to discover the old Farley Castle. Going to Europe, he made his first trip on anything bigger than a Jersey ferryboat.

As Dave Lawrence or one of his young men remarks in the United States Weekly, General Jim, wherever he travels, always has the captain's table laughing the second day out, and knows all about the steward's new baby. The one thing that Big Jim hates, and the "big" applies to heart as well as the six-feet-three of him, is disappointing people. He has done very little of that in his life, and that's why he is where he is today.

One of the greatest salesmen that ever walked in shoe leather, he sold Franklin D. Roosevelt to the American people. Spare and hard for all of his 200 pounds, with the swinging walk of Jack Dempsey, employing assets worth millions—the Farley handshake and the Farley smile—he sits in the seat of Benjamin Franklin and has done better than any other Postmaster General in decades to make the postal service pay for itself.

In his youth he carried a torch for William Jennings Bryan, and now he has got as far as the Great Commoner ever got himself—to a seat in the cabinet. In his life he has held one elective office, and that, State Assemblyman in New York, just once, and no more.

His hardest job, when he comes sailing back from the Emerald Isle, will be to deal out 150,000 jobs and still keep a million five hundred thousand people thinking well of the Democracy and the New Deal. Few men are really closer to the President than this same James Aloysius Farley, who speeds our mails.

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Wise Words

Brevity is the soul of wit.—Shakespeare.

Too low they build who build below the skies.—Young.

There is one antidote only for coquetry, and that is true love.—Deluzy.

He that invents a machine augments the power of a man and the well-being of mankind.—Henry Ward Beecher.